MR. TREVOR'S SECRETARY.

AN IDYLL OF TORONTO.

Arthur Montgomery, having recovered from an attack of fever, and being permitted to sit by the window and indulge in the luxury of a cigarette, was reflecting:

"Here we are again," he said to himself, as he blew a fragrant cloud out of the little back window, and watched it float away over housetops and chimneys toward the bit of pink sky which showed that the sun was setting: "Here we are again—dead broke, and not the sign of a cent, nor of any work. I have sent notes to every city editor in town, and they all have more than they want now. I have written to every magazine and story paper in America, and they can't give me an opening for three months. In the meantime, the problem to be solved by my rather worn brain is how the deuce to live on wind and my own self-esteem. I don't precisely see the answer. Let X equal the unknown quantity. That's good algebra, as far as it goes; but I don't see any more data to work on. Now, what am I going to do about it."

And he blew out another cloud, watching it intently, as if its gyrations would afford some clue to the answer of the question which was troubling him.

Arthur Montgomery had reached the age of twenty-six, and was a journalist and litterateur by force of circumstances. He had been born the son of very wealthy parents. His mother had died when he was only a child, and, being his father's only care, he had been brought up accustomed to every luxury that money could purchase. He had been educated at McGill College in Montreal, had taken a fellowship at the age of twenty, and had gone abroad to study two years at the University of Berlin. He was a thorough musician, playing both the piano and the violin; he drew and painted exquisitely; and he spoke French and German very well. With such accomplishments, according to the commonly accepted ideas of life, he ought not to have found it a difficult thing to get employment. Nevertheless, when he returned home from Germany, just in time to witness his father's ruin and almost immediate death, and to find himself cast out into the world, penniless, at the age of twenty-three; he found it impossible to get any employment, save that which he sought as a last resort, namely, reporting for a daily paper.

For three years he worked like a dog, knocking about from one paper to another, sometimes earning forty dollars a week and sometimes ten, always living from hand to mouth, and always dissatisfied with the world and himself. Occasionally he aroused enough ambition in his soul to write a magazine article or a story for some American or English publication, and his work always paid him well. But he was at best a lonely and unhappy fellow, his only comfort being his pipe and his stories, at which he sometimes ground away until they assumed proportions that rivaled the works of Smollet and Sterne.

Carelessness and a season of overwork had broken down his health, and if it had not been for the kindness of his landlady and the friendship of his doctor, a young man, he would have been the inmate of a hospital at the time when this story opens. As it was, he found himself without a dollar in the world, friendless and weak. He had sought for work, but had found none. Still, Arthur Montgomery was not the man to sit down and weep over his misfortunes. Something of that courageous philosophy which his father had possessed before him enabled him to sit at his window, smoke a cigarette, and look his difficulties in the face. The more he looked at them, the more he disliked their appearance. There are times in a man's life when the obstacles in his way seem to grow larger as he approaches them. There are times when it seems as if all the faith in the world would not enable a man to see the chains that bind the lions in the path. Arthur had arrived at one of these periods, and he was obliged to confess that the prospect was anything but encouraging.

He gazed up into the sky and saw a single star. In spite of his melancholy feelings, a remembrance stole across his mind that lightened his thoughts. He arouse, spread out his arms, and declaimed in solemn tones at the star:

"Roll on, thou ball, roll on!
Through seas of inky air,
Roll on!
It's true I've got no shirts to wear;
It's true my butcher's bill is due;
It's true my prospects all look blue;
But don't let that unsettle you!
Never you mind!
Roll on!"

"It rolls on!" he continued, laughing: "Good; the star don't worry, why the deuce should I? Something must turn up."

Then, after a moment or two of silence, he said:

"No; that will not do: things don't turn up. Guess I'll have to go in on the Schiller plan:

'Only courage with success pursueth,
When the prize is beckoning o'er the field;
Only strength the power of fate subdueth,
While the weakling has to yield,'

That's the proper racket. Mrs. Boggs! Oh, Mrs. Boggs!"

"My gracious!" exclaimed the landlady, appearing to answer to his call; "you're improving—at least, your lungs are."

"Indeed they are. Have you this evening's Telegram?"

"Yes."

"Will you get it for me, please?"

"That I will, bless your heart!"

The paper being procured, Arthur sat down to study the columns of advertisements for men. At last he found one:

WANTED—A YOUNG MAN TO ACT AS PRIVATE secretary; must be a good stenographer and understand French and German. Only a gentleman need apply. Address, J. T., Box, 2222, Telegram Office.

"Exactly the thing!" exclaimed Arthur. "Mrs. Boggs! Mrs. Boggs!"

"What now?" the landlady called from the floor below.

"Will you lend me a sheet of paper, and an envelope, and a pen and ink, and a cent stamp?"

"Heaven befriend us! Is there anything else?"

"Not that I can think of just now."

"I'm glad to hear it."

In a few moments Arthur had his writing-materials, and sat down to write a note to "J. T."

"I suppose this is pretty late in the day, and some other fellow will get in ahead of me; however, it's worth a trial.

And he easily persuaded the kind old landlady to go out and mail the note. The next afternoon he received the following answer:

000 KING STREET,
October 20th.

Dear Sir:

Call this evening at my house, No.— St. George Street, at 7.30 precisely.

Yours, etc.,
JOHN TREVOR.

Mr. Arthur Montgomery.

"By Jove!" exclaimed Arthur: "that looks like business. Now, what the devil can I wear to impress the old gentleman? I guess I have to wear my dress suit, as I have nothing else fit to be seen.

Accordingly, at precisely half-past seven Arthur rang the bell of an elegantmansion, in St. George Street, and was admitted by a servant in livery, who conducted him to the library. In that room sat a fine-looking man of about fifty-five, who turned his head sharply as Arthur entered.

"Mr. Arthur Montgomery, I suppose?" he said.

"Yes, sir; have I the honor of addressing Mr. Trevor?"

"That is my name; sit down. Why do you wear a dress-suit when you come to call upon a gentleman on business?"

"I have nothing else to wear, sir."

"Humph! You are honest."

It is needless to detail the conversation between the two men. Suffice to say that Arthur was engaged as private secretary to John Trevor, merchant and politician. The terms of the engagement were that Arthur should live in Mr. Trevor's house, attend to all his political correspondence, accompany him to the warehouse and attend to his business letters, and assist him with what ever work he might have to have to do in the evening, which, Mr. Trevor said, would not be much.

"While I employ you as a servant, Mr. Montgomery," said the merchant, "I do not wish to place you in the position of one. Therefore, I give you a room in my house and a place at my table. You will keep yourself informed on the political and business questions of the day, and be ready to act as a sort of ready reference-book to me."

"I shall do my best," replied Arthur.

"When can you come?"

"To-morrow, if you wish it, sir."

"Very well; come here to-morrow afternoon at half past four, and you can then be settled before dinner time."

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Obituary.

The Examiner announces with deep regret the death of Mr. John Smith, of Ashburnham, of which place he has been a respected resident for the past thirty years, having removed thither from Toronto about 1859. Mr. Smith has been in bed health for a year, but has not been confined to his bed till within two months. This morning at 10.30 death released him from his sufferings. He was a highly respected member of the community. In religion he was a member of the Methodist church, and in politics a staunch Liberal. He was also a leading and representative member of the Orange order, having been an office bearer in subordinate county and district lodges continuously for over a quarter of a century. Mr. Smith leaves behind him a wife, three sons and three daughters, all grown up, well connected and occupying honourable and responsible positions. The funeral takes place on Thursday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, and will be conducted under Orange auspices. It will doubtless be also largely attended by the general public, for Mr. Smith's sterling Christian character won for him the respect of all who enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance.

A New Degree.

The following from the Michigan Christian Advocate, with reference to Rev. Dr. Willoughby, a former pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, will be read with interest:—"Last year Albion College conferred the honorary degree of doctor in divinity upon two Michigan pastors; this year upon Rev. Nicholas R. Willoughby, M. A., of the Guelph conference, Ontario. Dr. Willoughby is one of the very ablest ministers in the Dominion. He is a graduate of Victoria University, a careful student, and remarkably successful in ministerial work. He is about fifty-seven years of age, and his entire ministerial career has been marked by wonderful revivals and church upbuildings. At Guelph, his present charge, more than three hundred souls have been added to the church within a year. He is an earnest, capable man, and his brethren have honoured him with all the offices within their gift, among others, that of the presidency of Toronto conference. To the praise of Albion College, be it said that she has shown a disinterested and broadly Christian spirit in honouring this Christian scholar of another country with the doctorate. Our home college is not provincial nor lavish, but does show a disposition, within suitable limitation, to recognize merit wherever found."

The Proposed Market Building

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—There has been considerable discussion over the new market buildings. I should like to give my views In the first place, I do not think the council did wisely in breaking ground till the money was voted. Secondly, the town needs that part of the square for the market, as the town is growing larger. Instead of cutting off any of the square, it should either be left as it is or if possible enlarged. As it was, the market was a good advertisement to the town and very beneficial in that way. My idea would be to have enlarged the old market house by adding a wing to the west and north, taking up room that is really of no use for any other purpose, thereby leaving the square as it was. The plausible idea that the new buildings will not cost the town a cent may be true, but I believe it will cost the town thousands of dollars, indirectly, as the farmers will not have the accommodation that they had; and they may pooh-pooh the farmers, but without a good market what would Peterborough be to-day? I would therefore, say, by all means let the councillors who took the responsibility of going on with the work, put the market square as they found it and at their own expense. It would have one good effect, it would make them more careful how they rushed things. As to the market being upstairs or down stairs if it was as I suggest it could then be on the ground floor.

Yours, etc.,
Fidelis.

Moulders on Strike.

Sixteen of the Lock Works Moulders Quit Work—The Manager Refuses their Demands.

A meeting of the Peterborough Moulders' Union was held last night in Labor Hall, when the principal topic of discussion was the rate of wages paid by the Peterborough Lock Works Company to the moulders. It appears that 2c. per mould is being paid for a certain class of work and 2½ for another class. The men ask for an increase of a quarter of a cent all round, so that the rates would 2½c. and 2½c. The contention of the men is that they are not receiving a fair amount of wages for the work done, especially considering the alleged large profits of the works.

This morning a conference was held with the management lasting two hours, without any satisfactory solution of the difficulty being arrived at. Sixteen of the men quit work at nine o'clock, and say they will remain out until the increase asked for is given.

A meeting of the moulders is being held this afternoon for the discussion of the situation.

MANAGER BROOKS' STATEMENT.

The Examiner called at the Lock Works and saw Mr. Thos Brooks, the manager. Mr. Brooks said the first intimation he had that the men were not satisfied with their wages was this morning, when they came in and demanded an increase. This was not granted because, he says, they are receiving more money than any other moulders in town. For instance, the men employed in the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co.'s Works get only from $1.75 to $2.10 per day, while those in the Lock Works received from $2.25 to $2.75 and some nearly $3 per day. In view of this fact, Mr. Brooks said, they did not feel like paying more than they were, and did not intend to yield to the men's demands. Mr. Brooks said he thought most of the men were satisfied with the price, and that the strike was organized by a few who have just come there, but being strangers have not yet got accustomed to the work and do not make as much as they think they should.

Police Court.

Tuesday, July 16.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien, who lives just outside the southern town limits, was before the magistrate charged with allowing his cow to run at large. The charge was not proven and the defendant was dismissed.

John McIntosh was charged with furious driving. Discharged.

SAWDUST IN THE RIVER.

This forenoon several millowners on the Otonabee river were before the magistrate to answer to a charge of emptying sawdust and mill refuse into the river, contrary to the statute in that behalf. The defendants were Messrs. R. C. Strickland, J. M. Irwin, T. G. Hazlitt and Geo. Hilliard. Mr. A. P. Poussette conducted the defence.

In all of these cases the plaintiff, Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Fishery Inspector, stated that last Wednesday and Thursday he had visited the mills and watched the sawdust and refuse coming down the tail races leading from the mills in large quantities for an hour or two at a time.

All the defendants and some other witnesses testified that every possible means was adopted to prevent the sawdust from getting into the river, and very little if any of the refuse was allowed to escape. They all stated that in the year 1886 the Deputy Minister of Fisheries had examined their mills and found them satisfactory, and since that no more sawdust had been let off than could possibly be avoided. Their appliances for carrying off and disposing of the refuse were as perfect as could be. Reeve Casement, Councillor Nelson and Clerk Dr. Bell were examined regarding the completeness of the appliances in Mr. Strickland's mill.

The magistrate said Mr. Gilchrist was acting under instructions, and the intention of the law in this respect was to prevent rather than punish. It appeared that the defendants had made all reasonable efforts to prevent the refuse from their mills getting into the river, and he did not think the government wished to prosecute them if it was shown that they were doing the best they could. He would therefore take the privilege of himself examining the mills that he might be able to use his personal judgment in rendering a decision.

Tribute to Leading Liberal Ladies.

The last issue of the Dominion Illustrated, of Montreal, contains a full page of portraits that will prove of much interest to the majority of our readers. It bears the title of "The Ladies of the Reform Party," all of whom have during the past two years assisted in the Saturday evening receptions or "conversaziones" given by Madame Laurier and Mrs. Mackenzie while the Dominion Parliament was in session, and which, as our Montreal contemporary says, have been among the most enjoyable of the social gatherings of Canada's capital. Commenting on these receptions the Illustrated says:

These receptions are held at the Grand Union Hotel, where Hon. Alexander Mackenzie makes his home during the session. Madame Laurier, the wife of the eloquent leader of Her Majesty's Opposition, is a charming hostess. An excellent musician, clever, witty and vivacious in conversation, and thoroughly well informed, she makes friends of all who frequent her society, and will render valuable assistance to her husband, should he ever be called upon to fill the position of Premier of the Dominion. Mrs. Mackenzie, the wife of the ex-Premier, is a fine motherly lady, charming in her manner and conversation, thoroughly democratic in her ideas, and devoted to her husband. She is exceedingly popular, both with political friends and opponents. Her greeting is always warm, and her guests are never neglected. At their receptions Madame Laurier and Mrs. Mackenzie are usually assisted in entertaining their visitors by Mrs. Dr. Wilson, wife of the member for East Elgin; Mrs. Jones, wife of Hon. A. G. Jones, M. P. for Halifax; Mrs. Innes, wife of the member for South Wellington; Mrs. Davies, wife of Mr. L. H. Davies, M.P. for Queens, P. E. Island; Mrs. George E. Casey, Mrs Dr. Platt, Mrs. Lewin, of St. John; Mrs. Senator Grant, Mrs. and the Misses Scott, of Ottawa, wife and daughters of Senator Scott; and other prominent ladies in sympathy with the Liberal party. The reunions, at which the regular visitors meet all the principal Liberal public men, Dominion and Provincial, are always pleasant and enjoyable. The photograph, reproduced in the Dominion Illustrated, is one of a group of Reform ladies, in which the five eastern Provinces are represented—Ontario by Mrs. Mackenzie and Mrs. Wilson, Quebec by Madame Laurier, Nova Scotia by Mrs. A. Jones, New Brunswick by Mrs. Lewin, and Prince Edward Island by Mrs. Davies.

Keene.

From Our Own Correspondent.

One day last week our picturesque little village was visited by an excursion from Coldsprings, per steamer Beaver. There were on board about seventy-five persons, who behaved themselves very well. After leaving the boat the party had a promenade through most of the principal streets, and when the whistle blew for returning, they very reluctantly tore themselves from the beautiful sights they were enjoying and hurried back to the boat and departed as peaceably as they came.

The Glorious Twelfth.—The Orangemen of this place assembled at their hall, and, forming a procession, marched over to the Presbyterian church, where the Rev. Mr. Andrews favored the audience with a very interesting discourse pertaining to William III., Prince of Orange, after which the members of the Order formed into a line again and paraded the principal streets headed by Professor Smith with the Highland pipes. They then went back to the hall and resumed the order of business. Long may they live to celebrate the glorious battle of the Boyne!

A Brave Act Rewarded.

In the autumn of 1674 Thomas Kelk of Worksop, England, who had been a soldier, went to Stockton-on-Tees in his regimentals to have his photograph taken. He noticed a carriage stop in one of the principal thoroughfares. The coachman got down from the box, but had scarcely reached the ground when the horse dashed off at a terrific pace, dragging the carriage behind it, in which was seated a girl six years of age. It was evident that unless the horse was stopped the child would be killed. Kelk walked into the middle of the road, waited till the advancing horse reached him, and then sprang at its head. He was carried about 100 yards hanging on to the horse's neck, but succeeded eventually in stopping it. The child, who was very much frightened, thanked the man again and again, took his address, and told him that she could not reward him for his bravery then, but would do so when she came of age; and told him he would hear from her in the future. True to her promise, on attaining the age of twenty-one a few weeks ago, she made inquiries as to the whereabouts of Kelk, but her efforts for a time were unavailing, until a commercial traveler happened to know a carter named Kelk at Worksop, and promised to make inquiries. His investigations proved the Worksop man was the one wanted. Kelk received a letter asking him to go to a station near Manchester. He did so, and was met by a carriage and pair, and taken to the home of the child—now a woman—whose life he had saved. Arrived there he was hospitably entertained, and before leaving was presented with a handsome gold watch, a gold guard and seal, and $500 likewise in gold. The watch bore the following inscription: "Presented to T. Kelk for his bravery at Stockton-on-Tees in 1874."

HAIR DYE AND WAGE EARNERS.

Mature Workingmen Driven to Use it in Enormous Quantities.

There is now going on a mighty struggle which is almost essentially a question of age. Yet it is one which affects thousands and thousands of men and women, who are toilers and bread winners.

On all sides preference is given by employers to youth over more advanced years. Absalom, in the vigor of his juvenility, is content to receive 20 to 30 per cent. less money than his more mature rival. In wholesale warehouses, in public companies, in retail establishments, in the street, on the road and the rail, men and women who are still hale and hearty in mind and body, have been set adrift to make room for the younger—and cheaper—generation. They are willing to work for the same wage, but the masters will have none of them.

In their distress they turn to a comforter—hot to the workhouse, if they can avoid so doing; not to the charitable institutions, nob to the trades unions, but to Figaro himself, the perruquier, the hairdresser, the barber. The amount of hair dye used by artisans and laborers of all sorts is not only enormous, but increases day by day. It is not vanity which impels them to the practice, it is life, for which it is well worth dyeing.

The testimony on the subject is undeniable. A knight of the razor in the north of London testifies that he is going a tremendous trade in hair dye with workingmen for the reasons given above. They take it home," he said, and get their wives to lay it on. In many cases it is an absolute necessity with female employees. Proprietors of big millinery establishments won't have women with gray hair on the premises.

"You've no idea what misery I've been aware of in families from gray hair. I knew a man, a father of six children. All of a sudden, from illness, I think, his hair whitened, and his employer took the earliest opportunity of 'giving him the sack,' and getting a younger man in his place. He couldn't obtain another situation anywhere, and the more trouble he had the older he looked. At last, when he was at his wit's end, some one told him to get his hair dyed, and, what's more, lent him the money to have it done. Well, he's got another place. It's less money; but you'd hardly know him again. I've seen scores like him. Your young folk may sneer at dye and crack jokes on the subject, but it's as true as I'm not a Dutchman its been the salvation of many hard-working men and women." A lady dealing in human hair near St. Pancras, when sounded on the subject, admitted the practice, and allowed that she dealt very largely in dye, nearly all vended to those earning their living in large commercial establishments.

The same tale was repeated by one who did a good bit of traffic in this way with ladies of the theatrical persuasion. "Lor' bless you," he exclaimed, "without hair dye some of those women would be nowhere. What would you say, if you was a manager, if a girl with gray look came to you and wanted an engagement? I expect you'd show her the door pretty quickly. I'm not talking of those vain, proud young females who turn black to gold or red to brown. I mean the cheriater of 35 to 40, still good-looking, but who is beginning to show the powder puff on her head. There isn't one, there isn't twenty, there isn't a hundred, but I'd like to bet there's a thousand or more in the United Kingdom. Their great-grandmothers had to wear wigs; their descendants are a deal more comfortable with a little harmless coloring matter on their own hair." And so the story runs ad infinitum.—London Telegraph.

General Sherman's Son.

On June 31st Archbishop Ryan ordained to the priesthood Rev. Thomas Ewing Sherman, the eldest son of Gen. Sherman. He was born in Lancaster, Ohio, in 1856. He was graduated in elementary studies at Georgetown College, D.C., in 1875.

After his classical course he entered Yale and took a two years scientific course. He then began the study of law at the request of his father, and after he was graduated he went abroad with his father. In England he entered the noviate of the Society of Jesus at Rochamption. According to the constitution of the Society of Jesus the candidate on entering the novitate is given a period of two years to reflect on the career upon which he is about to enter. At the end of this time, if the candidate still wishes to persevere, he is allowed to make his first vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. He then devoted five years to study and several years to teaching.

Mr. Sherman, from Rochampton, came to Woodstock, the leading Jesuit house of studies in the United States. He was subsequently sent to the Jesuit College at Detroit, where he was professor of physic and chemistry. He was then sent to St. Louis University as professor of literature for one year and then returned to Woodstock. There he has remained for two years. He will now spend two more years in the study of theology.

His mother was noted for her generosity to the poor, and the one great longing of her life was to see her favorite son Tom a priest.

Words cannot express the gratitude which people feel for the benefit done them by the use of Sarsaparilla Long-standing cases of rheumatism yield to this remedy, when all others fail to give relief. This medicine thoroughly expels the poison from the blood.

You're mistaken; it is not rolling thunder, but the tramp of customers hurrying to get a 5 lb. caddy of tea for $1 at M. R. Kidd's. dw

Card of Thanks.

Peterborough, July 8, 1889.

J. E. Perchard, Esq., agent of the Ontario Mutual Life, Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—You will please convey my thanks to Mr. Hendry, the manager of your company, for the very prompt payment of two thousand dollars, the full amount of claim under policy 6,195 on the life of my late husband, Geo. V. Walker.

I remain, yours very truly,

The Deadly Picnic Ice Cream.

At a Kingston picnic the other day, the hot weather invited a liberal consumption of ice cream, and soon after a deathly sickness overtook the picnicers, due to the ice cream, and only by the timely aid of two doctors were lives saved. However one sure way to allay thirst safely and delightfully, too, is by using only Hawley Bros. choice teas—the pure leaf of the tea plant, properly matured, properly cured, and properly secured at the lowest prices in large lots, and properly insured to the public at the lowest prices in the district. For first class fresh fragrant teas and pure coffees go to Hawley Bros. George street Peterborough.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness More economical than the ordinary kind and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in Cans. Royal Baking Powder, No 106 Wall st reet N Y 1y21w

A Contest For Four Millions.

San Francisco, July 15.—The contest over the property of the late Thomas H. Blythe was commenced in the Probate Court to-day. The property is valued at $4,000,000, and the claimants number over 200. The most prominent of these are Florence Blythe, who avers she is Blythe's illigitimate child, and Alice Dickerson, who claims Blythe when living recognized her as his wife.

Wanted to Kill a Policeman.

Chicago, July 15.—James Kamera, an Anarchist, arrived here from Europe a few days ago. He raised a disturbance in a disreputable house last night just to get a chance to kill some policemen, and when two officers came he tried to shoot them. Several times his revolver was pressed against the heads and breasts of the policemen, but as Officer Storn held the trigger Kamera could not fire it. Kamera was locked up.

A Double Murder.

Empire City, Ore., July 15.—Mrs. Estenhover and child were brutally murdered on the farm of John Gilman, near Coquille City last Thursday night and buried in a gulch, where they were found to-day. The husband was arrested on suspicion.

The English Flour Syndicate.

Minneapolis, July 15.—The rumors about the purchase by English capital of a big interest in Minneapolis flour mills are becoming more definite. Options were given on the Pillsbury and Washburn mills as a result of a thorough examination of the properties by experts. These options expire July 25 and though it was at first believed the deal would go through there is now understood to be considerable doubt about it. The scheme provides that the property, including mills with a daily capacity of 12,000 barrels or two-thirds of Minneapolis' capacity, is to be capitalised at $10,000,000. A controlling interest is to be sold to the English syndicate.

A Toronto Boy Drowned at Belleville.

Belleville, July 15.—A small boat in which were three quarrymen from Point Ann upset on Saturday night near the point. Thomas Yates of Toronto, aged 19, was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered.

Fired by Electricity.

Ottawa, July 15.—An incipient fire in the Rideau Club Saturday night was caused by an electric spark conveyed to the flooring by a telephone wire during the storm. Nearly all the electric lights in the city were put out.

Two More Johnstown Victims.

Johnstown, Pa., July 15.—The Board of Inquiry to-day issued orders for relief to those entitled to it. Two bodies were found near the Morrell Institute to-day.

Manitoba Malefactors.

Winnipeg, July 15.—A verdict of manslaughter has been found against Frisk, the Calgary murderer.

An attempt was made to burn Gillies' store at Boissevain this morning, but people sleeping over the store smelt smoke and extinguished the flames in time.

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day's a groat a year,
A penny saved is twó pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL. IX. NO. 14. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the sub-treasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which I propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

MISS TIBBITTS' ENTIRE INNOCENCE ESTABLISHED.

An Ent Flambore Farmer's Unhappy Fate —Arrest of a Swindler at Toronto— Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M.

MONTREAL, July 16.—The preliminary examination into the case of Miss Tibbitts, who was arrested Saturday on an old warrant on the charge of conspiracy to kill in connection with the noted marriage in a cab sensation, took place to-day. Crowds gathered around the Courthouse doors long before 2 o'clock. It was then announced that the enquete would be private and that not even members of the press would be admitted, but before the enquete was finished Judge Dugas ordered that the reporters be admitted.

Miss Tibbitts' mother and President Harrison of the New Brunswick University swore that the young lady was at home all winter attending college and was not in Montreal last March when the alleged crimes were committed. Miss Tibbitts denied all knowledge of the parties and the case.

Mr. St. Pierre, on behalf of the Mulcahys, expressed the sorrow they felt for the occurrence and paid a high tribute to the young lady's sense and learning. Miss Tibbitts was then discharged.

TORONTO TOPICS.

An Agitation for Sunday Street Cars—An Important Arrest.

TORONTO, July 17.—The World is agitating for Sunday street cars. The project appears to meet with general favor and Senator Frank Smith of the Street Car Company says if the people want a Sunday service they can have it. The length of the street car mileage in the city is fifty-seven. They pay to the city $600 per mile for repairing the street between the rails, making a total cost of $34,200 a year.

W. A. Wilcott, flour and feed merchant of this city, who failed the other day, offered to compromise at 25 cents on the $1. The offer was rejected and it was ordered to wind up the estate.

Mrs. Edmunds, the woman who threw herself into the bay Monday night was before the Police Magistrate yesterday and was sent to jail for 20 days.

The Eclipse Manufacturing Co., of this city, has got into financial difficulties. They have made an assignment to A. Bradshaw for the benefit of their creditors.

The C. P. R. is still filling in towards the new Windmill line. President McMillan has warned the company that it is taking this action at its own risk.

Detectives Burrows and Watson yesterday morning made an arrest that may lead to a knowledge of the particulars and the punishment of the perpetrators of a great swindle. Several days ago Detective Inspector Stark consulted prominent local bankers about certain advertisements appearing in local papers, having reference to transactions in wheat, and bearing the name of E. H. Horner, New York. Bankers gave the opinion that the whole affair was a swindle, and the result was the arrest of Edward Van Horst of 387 Ontario-street. The prisoner is a stylishly dressed man, and denies all knowledge of any fraud. He says he is simply the agent of Horner, whom he has never seen.

AN OLD MAN'S HARD LUCK.

He is Deserted by His Young Wife and Killed by a Train.

HAMILTON, July 16.—The police authorities received a telegram from Port Hope today stating that an old man had been killed on the Grand Trunk near that place, and a letter had been found on him, addressed to Mrs. Malvany Harris. Detective Reid started out to make inquiries and unearthed quite a story about the old man. The deceased was about 75 years of age and was a wealthy East Flamboro farmer residing near Waterdown, where he owned a farm. He had been married several times, and his last matrimonial venture netted him a comparatively youthful spouse of 35 summers, who also had a son ten years of age. Harris deeded his farm over to his wife and started a sort of temperance hotel on the town line in East Flamboro. About three weeks ago the wife left him and came here. She obtained employment in a James-street hotel, and it is alleged that she sold the farm for $400 and a few days ago went to Buffalo. The old man came here and was in the old men's home for a few days, but left there and probably was walking on the track when the train struck him. The detective could find no person in this vicinity who cared to send after the body or have anything to do with the old man's remains.

This morning Joseph Jacoba, the horse-thief, who stole a horse from Frank Belton of Toronto on Friday last, and traded it with Frank Atkinson of Burlington, met Constable Wark in Stuart-street and gave himself up. He admitted that he stole the horse and said he would sooner kill himself than be caught by the detectives.

Henry Lawson, the Stony Creek butcher who was arrested several days ago for assaulting his wife, has been liberated from jail. After being brutally assaulted Mrs. Lawson wrote to the police magistrate asking for her husband's discharge. They have been married fourteen years and it was the first time Lawson ever abused her.

The congregation of All Saints' Church decided last night to erect a chapel in the west end.

A row of sheds in rear of East-avenue north was burnt last night; loss $500, insurance $300.

Grand Lodge of Canada A.F. and A.M.

OWEN SOUND, July 16.—The thirty-fourth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A.F. and A.M., will commence here to-morrow. The various committees have been in session yesterday and to-day examining reports and preparing the work of the session. The reports on the above are said to be of a most satisfactory nature, revealing a condition of increased prosperity. The sessions will be held in the Town Hall, Grand Master M. W. Bro. B. T. Walkers, Q.C., presiding, and 400 or more delegates are expected.

LONDON'S LATEST MURDER

A MUTILATED BODY FOUND IN WHITECHAPEL YESTERDAY.

Lord Salisbury on Imperial Federation—Timothy Healy Says the Parnellites' Withdrawal Will Please the Irish.

LONDON, July 16.—The community has been startled by another murder thought to have been committed by "Jack-the-Ripper." The body of a woman mutilated in the usual frightful manner was found to-day in Castle Alley in the Whitechapel district. There is no trace of the murderer.

Lennox, the assistant of Higgins the parachutist, was killed at Manchester to-day by the collapse of a balloon in which they had ascended. Higgins escaped without injury.

T. W. Russell, Unionist M.P., to-day declared the only reason for opposing inspection of the affairs of the Irish Loyal and Patriotic Union was that hundreds of persons had subscribed to the movement under a pledge of secrecy. He said Houston, secretary of the union, asked him in 1887 whether a letter which he showed him was in the handwriting of a certain member of parliament. He replied he thought not and after that neither he himself nor the other members of the Committee of the Union to his knowledge knew anything about the matter until a fac-simile of the letter was published. In November, 1888, he cautioned Houston against dealing with Piggott, of whom he had never heard any good.

Warlike News from Rome.

LONDON, July 16.—Some warlike news is telegraphed from Rome, where L'Opinione in an article evidently inspired warns the Italian people that the French War Minister has perfected the details of a march across the Italian frontier, and it is merely necessary to give the word and the border provinces are at the mercy of the invader. The article calls upon the Government to no longer delay measures for the proper protection of the frontier.

Servia Arming the Reserves.

BELGRADE, July 16.—The Servian Government is preparing to arm the second reserves in the autumn.

Gen Grenfell's Messengers Beaten.

CAIRO, July 16.—Gen. Grenfell sent messengers to Nad-el-Jumi with a proclamation summoning him to surrender. The messengers were severely beaten, but Nad-el-Jumi read the proclamation to the assembled Dervishes. The result is not known. It is believed the chiefs are inclined to desert Nad-el-Jumi. All the villages in the vicinity profess loyalty to the Khedive.

The Parnellites Withdraw.

LONDON, July 16.—Upon the opening of the Parnell Commission this morning Sir Charles Russell, counsel for Mr. Parnell, stated that after full consideration of the situation, Mr. Parnell had instructed him and Mr. Asquith, also of counsel, to no longer represent him before the commission. Messrs. Reid and Lockwood, counsel for other members of Parliament against whom charges were made by The Times, then also withdrew from the case.

After counsel for Parnell and the other members of Parliament had retired, Justice Hannen said the scope of the inquiry would not be altered by their action. The persons hitherto represented by counsel could appear in their own defence if they desired.

James O'Kelly, M.P. for North Roscommon, was called. He declared he had no statement to make. On cross-examination he admitted that he was a member of the Irish Republican Brotherhood from 1866 to 1870. In 1871 an attempt to arrest him was made when he was leaving Ireland under the name of John Smith. Letters were found in his luggage from an agent who was shipping arms to Ireland.

Sir Henry James, of counsel for The Times, produced several letters partly written by Mr. O'Kelly, in invisible ink, in which reference was made to the shipment of arms and the doings of Fenians. One of the letters, referring to a remittance of $21,500 from America, contained a passage reading: "We are ready to take the field when the proper orders are issued to the regimental commanders."

Witness admitted that the letters were authentic. While witness was in America he joined the Clan-na-Gael. This organization sent him to Ireland as a military officer to organize the men. He received $6000 towards his expenses. He did not effect the object, finding that the agents in Ireland would not co-operate with him. He therefore considered his mission ended and went to France. He sent his resignation to America and returned $8000. Since that time he had no connection with the Clan-na-Gael or the Fenians. During his career in Parliament he had received no money from America. He denied spending $10,000, which had been entrusted to him, for election purposes.

Matthew Harris, M.P. for East Galway, testified that he joined the Fenians in 1865. The death penalty to traitors was not an essential feature of the Fenian constitution. Mr. Harris instanced the case of Informer Kickham and said the society after discussion decided he should not be shot.

Presiding Justice Hannen: "The fact that there was such a discussion implies much."

The witness said the Fenian Council of 1881 was held in Paris for the sake of security. Mr. Davitt had been arrested and they did not know whose turn would be next. It was therefore thought better to meet out of Ireland. He admitted saying in a speech that he did not go about from platform to platform caterwauling over the death of Lord Frederick Cavendish. His language was used in the heat of controversy and was not meant to justify murder. He had qualified the speech made by him in which he said he should not mind seeing landlords shot down like partridges.

The Withdrawal Will Please the Irish.

DUBLIN, July 16.—Timothy Healy, M.P., presiding at a meeting of the National League to-day, declared the withdrawal of Mr. Parnell and his colleagues from the Commission Court would greatly please the Irish people. For the report of the commission the Parnellites did not care a rush. Mr. Healy said the Tenants' Defence League would put new life and vigor into the old movement.

Salisbury on Imperial Federation.

LONDON, July 16.—Lord Salisbury in a speech at Mile End to-night told his hearers that they must not expect the day would ever come when the colonies would be come a federation in the same sense as the United States, but he hoped that by a common agreement the present difficulties would be removed.

Regarding Irish affairs he said it was appalling to think that years hence their sons and grandsons might still be discussing the Irish problem with nothing new to say on the subject.

The Queen's Prize Winner

LONDON, July 16.—The winner of the Queen's prize in the rifle shooting at Wimbledon was Private Reid of the First Lanarkshire Regiment, who made a score of 281.

The Indictment Against Boulanger

PARIS, July 16.—A copy of the indictment against Gen. Boulanger was formally delivered at his residence here to-day. Several papers will publish the text of the indictment to-morrow, although they will thus render themselves liable to a legal penalty. Gen. Boulanger, M. Rochefort and Count Dillon are summoned to appear within 10 days. If they do not appear within 20 days they will be declared outlaws and their property will be confiscated until they surrender. It is stated that the trial has been fixed for Aug. 4. The judgment will be final, no appeal being allowed. The indictment charges the accused with instigating the issue of manifestoes against the Government in July, 1887, at Lyons and Paris, and in December, 1887, in Paris.

LONDON, July 17.—The Queen has been suffering acutely from lumbago and sciatica for the last ten days and had very great pain at night, which prevented her from sleeping. Indeed, some nights she was hardly able to go to bed from the increase of the pain. It has weakened and tired her and she is much pulled down. But she takes drives and does her work during the day.

"ELECTROCUTION."

Experts Differ—Evidence in the Kemmler Reference—They Tried it on the Dog.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The Kemmler electricity execution reference was continued to-day in the presence of a large number of electrical experts. Dr. Frederick Peterson, a specialist in nervous diseases, testified to dissecting dogs killed by electricity. He was positive an electrical current could be produced that would cause death without pain in every instance. By machine application the current would be diffused throughout the entire system. Dr. Peterson said after he had cut open some dogs their hearts beat for 36 minutes, although it was no indication of life. In some experiments he witnessed the dogs seemed to suffer great pain. This was not noticed in those performed in Edison's laboratory. The resistance he found varied, but he was confident the resistance could be accurately measured at any given time. In varying the resistance decreased instead of increasing. Dr. Peterson thought 1500 volts were necessary to kill. He knew one of the dogs experimented upon offered a resistance of 200,000 ohms and there might be human beings with even greater resistance. If the human skin was thoroughly wet he was positive the resistance could not be over 200,000 ohms.

J. H. Noble, an electrical expert, testified that he fell on a machine of 1050 volts (the same force as the instrument of execution) with both hands on the poles. He was severely burned and had an extreme nervous shock which lasted several hours. Mr. Noble did not know of any current that could be considered absolutely fatal and by experiments he found the resistance increased instead of lowering.

Warlike News from Rome.

LONDON, July 16.—Some warlike news is telegraphed from Rome, where L'Opinione in an article evidently inspired warns the Italian people that the French War Minister has perfected the details of a march across the Italian frontier, and it is merely necessary to give the word and the border provinces are at the mercy of the invader. The article calls upon the Government to no longer delay measures for the proper protection of the frontier.

An Airship's Trial Trip.

NEW YORK, July 16.—At Williamsburgh to-day "Prof." Hogan made an experimental trip with Campbell's airship. A large crowd witnessed the ascension and cheered Hogan and a friend who accompanied him. The airship consists of a silk cigar-shaped bag with a cigar-shaped receptacle beneath. An electric battery connected to several propellers made of canvas gives the propelling power. The body of the ship was filled with gas. Shortly after the rising of the machine the occupants could be seen working excitedly, and a few minutes later one of the propellers fell to the ground. After that the ship appeared to be in trouble. It twisted about in every manner and spun about like a top. Several times it appeared to stand up on one end threatening to dump the occupants out. The occupants were from all appearances attempting to descend, but acted as if they could not. One of the men was seen to climb to the top and then return to his companion. Directly after that the ship darted upward and disappeared in the distance. When last seen the occupants were undoubtedly in trouble.

A Candidate for the Cat

KINGSTON, July 16.—Charles Milsap, a mulatto, charged with having committed a criminal assault on Mrs. Cole on the evening of July 12, was brought before Peter W. Freeman and H. H. McKim, J.P.s, on Monday. When the charge was read the prisoner pleaded guilty and was committed to jail to stand his trial. Mrs. Cole is the wife of William Cole, of Murvale, and lives besides a lonely road. Milsap drove to the house in company with another young man, M. Raymond, who did not leave the buggy. Mrs. Cole is an old, feeble woman of about 70 years. Milsap, who is 22 years of age and has been married six months, is an adopted son of Charles Milsap of the Township of Kingston, who says that he has had to get him out of several bad scrapes and is disgusted with him.

New Quebec Incorporations.

MONTREAL, July 16.—Letters patent have been issued incorporating Thomas Frederic Clark and Charles Almerin Tinker of New York; James Nelson Morris, St. Lambert; William Hayes and Edmund Charles Pease of Montreal for the purpose of building, acquiring and operating one or more telegraphic lines in the Province of Quebec by the name of the Mutual Telegraph Co., with a capital stock of $40,000. Letters have also been granted to the White Asbestos Company of Quebec, and the Laurie Spool Company, with a capital of $15,000, for the purpose of manufacturing spools, bobbins and wooden ware.

Three Anxious Men.

MARSHVILLE, Ont., July 15.—Three old schoolmates of Newton Flicks went over from here to Buffalo to see him on July 12. They found him lying on the bed with his pantaloons on, but complaining of high fever and terrible headache and pains in the back. They stayed for a couple of hours chatting with him, thinking that he was only troubled with malaria. Imagine their surprise yesterday when they read in the Buffalo papers that he had been removed to the smallpox pest house. They at once got re-vaccinated and are waiting through the period of incubation with considerable anxiety.

The Peeping Toms of Kingston.

KINGSTON, July 16.—It was learned today that one of the postoffice clerks suspended yesterday had two months ago read the contents of an unsealed drop letter sent to a merchant, by a girl, asking him for money. Other clerks, however, who have not yet been suspended, were parties to this affair. They listened to the letter being read, and commented upon its contents.

The other clerk suspended is charged with opening a sealed letter sent to a gentleman by Sir John Macdonald. The contents of the document bore upon the business of the postoffice, and treated of the appointment of a deputy postmaster.

Notes From the Capital.

OTTAWA, July 16.—Hon. Mr. Foster and Mrs. Foster will leave for the seaside on Thursday.

Sir Augustus Adderley and Lady Adderley of England are in the city.

A body of a woman was found last evening in the Ottawa River on the Hull side of the river. The condition of the body showed it must have been in the water for some months. So far it has not been identified.

Mr. McLeod Stewart, ex-Mayor of Ottawa, who has been in London, Eng., since last summer in connection with his Northwest coal mines, sails for home to-morrow.

Struck by a Train.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., July 16.—William Coleman, a deaf mute who was employed as a farm hand, was struck by a passenger train on the Central Railroad near Lockport Junction to-day while walking on the track and quite seriously injured. He has been taken to the County Almshouse.

A Paper Mill Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—The Schuylkill paper mill at Manayunk owned by Frank McDonald was burned to-day, loss $80,000.

Not Yet Identified.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Small progress was made yesterday toward identifying the young woman who died after taking carbolic acid on Saturday at No. 152 Third-avenue. Only three persons besides reporters called to examine the features through the plate glass end of the black draped icebox in the little undertaker's shop opposite the Morgue in Twenty-sixth-street, where the body is to lie as long as the $10.75 found in the dead girl's purse will pay for keeping it there.

A young woman whose facial likeness to the dead girl was remarked called during the afternoon, viewed the face and departed, saying that she would visit the late abode of the suicide. Her likeness to the dead was remarked both by Mrs. Charles Morris and a young woman who has rooms in her house. The visitor, who claimed to be from Toronto, said that she was now assured the body was not that of her sister, as her sister was 18 and had never been a mother, while the suicide, according to the landlady's description, had been a mother and was 26.

There is a slight, white, woolike swelling to the left of the bridge of the suicide's nose which may lead to her identification.

Could Not Endure Exile.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—D. J. Creighton, ex-State Senator, who was convicted of jury bribing here nearly two years ago and escaped before sentence, arrived here from Victoria last night and surrendered to the police. Creighton has been in Mexico, England, Australia and Honolulu. He could not endure his exiles and came home so that he could be near his wife and children.

A BIG RAILROAD SCHEME.

THE UNION PACIFIC SEEKING A CANADIAN CONNECTION.

Maritime Provinces and New England Points Will Be the Gainers at the Expense of New York.

NEW YORK, July 16.—A conference was held in this city yesterday which may result in diverting a large share of the Union Pacific traffic across Canada to the seaboard. The conference was for the purpose of considering the advisability of building a line southwest in Wisconsin from a connection with the "Soo" line, properly known as the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company, to Sioux City and Council Bluffs, Ia., which will give the Union Pacific a direct line to a connection with the Canadian Pacific. This will make a route to the seaboard shorter by several hundred miles than the present route by way of Chicago.

The new road is known as the Sault Ste. Marie and Southwestern, and in the conference it was represented by N. C. Foster of Fairchild, Wis., who is the President of the company, and James McIntyre of Eau Claire, Wis., both of whom are wealthy lumber merchants in their State. The negotiations are being conducted in Europe as well as here.

The original object of the promoters of the scheme was to give an outlet to the Southwest for Wisconsin lumber, which now has to pay a heavy tribute to the Chicago roads, but the Union Pacific people were quick to jump at the plan, seeing the benefits that would accrue to them by reason of their getting a short line to the most independent entirely of Chicago.

The "Soo" line has long been a thorn in the flesh of the Granger lines, and indirectly of the trunk lines. It has a direct line across Wisconsin to a junction with the Canadian Pacific at Sault St. Marie, with which it has a traffic agreement, and it has persistently declined to accept any allotment of the business in its territory, claiming to be entitled to all it can get. Having a shorter line to the ocean than any of the Chicago roads, it commenced to reduce rates, and the Baltimore and Ohio, in its recent cut in grain rates, gave as an excuse that its grain traffic was being diverted by this line across Canada instead of coming down to Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Now, however, there is a strong probability that the powerful Union Pacific Company will throw a large amount of traffic over this new line to shipping ports in New England and Canada, and that New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore will get even a less percentage than heretofore. Boston has claimed for a long time that the trunk lines did not give her a fair show, and in recent years, by means of the Eastern connections of the Canadian Pacific, she has caused trouble several times in the trunk-line situation.

The Union Pacific is a Boston road. Charles Francis Adams, its President, is a prominent citizen of the "Hub," and possibly there is a bit of local pride in backing a plan that will benefit Boston and the cities adjacent to her, and with which she is more closely identified than with the other ports. At all events the development of the plan will be watched with interest.

The Tariff War.

CHICAGO, July 16.—The western roads today agreed to modify their tariffs on live stock from the Missouri River, confining the reduced rates to Kansas City. The Chicago and Alton 22 cent rate on cattle will be met only at Kansas City and 25 cents will be charged from St. Joseph, Omaha and Council Bluffs and 27 cents from Sioux City. The 25 cent basis on hogs will be maintained at all points, even at Kansas City, against the Alton's rate of 18 cents. By this action they surrender the live hog traffic from southwestern Missouri river points to the Alton. The object of confining the cut rates to the southwestern territory is to keep them out of Iowa as the local rates on live stock in that State can be held firm.

REFRESHING SHOWERS.

Manitoba Crop Prospects Brightened—Catholic Clergy in Council.

WINNIPEG, July 16.—Refreshing showers all throughout Manitoba to-day, materially improving the crop prospects.

D'Alton McCarthy, M.P., has written that he will visit Manitoba in August, and meetings will be arranged for him to address.

The first assemblage of the Catholic clergy of the Northwest, at which there is a large gathering, was held at St. Boniface to-day.

A boy named Temple, recently from England, was drowned in the reservoir at Regina yesterday.

Eight hundred and eighty-four immigrants arrived during last week.

Winnipeg's rate of taxation this year is 19.35.

Conflicting evidence was given in the Lewis kissing case to-day and judgment reserved till to-morrow.

Unwhipt of Justice.

GRAND FORKS, N.D., July 16.—There has been much excitement here during the trial of Aldermen Ryan for fraud in miscounting ballots for Martin Walsh, Superintendent of the Waterworks, and giving him office. Six aldermen swore they voted against confirmation while Ryan and Kennedy as tellers did only three were against him. The case was to-day taken from the jury by the court and the defendant discharged on the ground that the ordinance under which the indictment was drawn was never published. This puts the city in another awkward position, all the business under the revised ordinances transacted during the past two years being illegal.

Gov. Lowry Means Business.

NEW ORLEANS, July 16.—John Fitzpatrick, referee of the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, to-day telegraphed to Stakeholder Cridge at New York to pay over the money to the Sullivan party. Fitzpatrick, Pat Duffy and others will go to Purvis, Miss., Thursday and give bail for their appearance to answer at the November term of the court for abetting the fight. Fitzpatrick says there is no doubt as to Gov. Lowry's earnestness in the matter and he thinks the safer plan for all concerned would be to surrender to the authorities of Mississippi and thereby avoid future annoyance.

Booby Farming.

(Witness.)

It is common for parents who have a son who is not accounted clever, to say that they will have to make a farmer of him. This may often be wise, because a boy who is not quick at his books is often very clever in the use of his five wits, and because no life is more likely than farming to develop faculties which have been kept dormant through unnatural conditions. But the notion which generally lies at the bottom of such a judgment, namely, that anyone will do for a farmer, is the reverse of correct. There are, indeed, few occupations for which more education is necessary, as there are few which demand the exercise of more faculties. This delusion that anyone will do for a farmer is shared equally by the farmer who sends his clever son to college and keeps the stupid one at home, and by the city man who thinks that when he has made money he has nothing to do but buy a farm and live out his days in rural bliss. The clever city man who, with the help of books and papers, tries this last experiment, unless his early circumstances have been such as unconsciously to educate his powers of observation and his practical faculties, will almost certainly make such a fool of himself as not only to have a little pleasure in it himself but to make the real farmers about him look upon book knowledge as incompatible with practical success as a farmer. The reason of his failure, however, far from being too much education and too much ability, is too little. In the most essential education of a farmer he is a mere booby. In what we call education we almost wholly ignore those faculties of observation and handling things which are of all others the most essential to practical success in life. With these undeveloped, all the books and chemistry in the world would not make a man a farmer, but having these let not the farmer think on account of the failure of what are called gentlemen farmers that he will not be immensely the gainer by learning through books all he can both of the application of science and of the experience of others. The fact that some half pay officer, who did not know B from a bull's foot, as the saying is, and at his age could not learn, has made a mess of his agricultural venture is no reason why a farmer should think he can keep his farm in heart without knowing something of the plant foods he is exporting from his soil until his grain, his animals and his very children are starved by the lack of some essential element of sustenance The time has been in Canada when, once the stumps or stones were out, all that was necessary was to tickle the ground, and it would smile in harvest. This is, however, a condition of things which exists no longer, and the mere pioneers who thus lived on the bounty of nature must give way to trained farmers who have learned how really to farm their land. This exchange of ownership would be going on just now with remarkable rapidity, when so many farms are, through the failure of the old process, being thrown upon the market at low prices, but that there are so few really trained farmers to enter in and possess these worn-out farms. Attempts have been made to train our farmers' sons by opening agricultural colleges for them, but these have had little success. Few students flock to them, and those who do are seldom the sons of farmers. The only result of this must be that the land must, sooner or later, pass largely out of the hands of those whose fathers have redeemed it from the wilderness into those of strangers, or else farmers must be taught practically by the good results of the farming of educated farmers in their neighbourhoods. The latter will, we trust, prove true, but it is a slow process and many industrious men will be sacrificed.

The process may not be so slow, perhaps, as the Witness fears, if the advantages for imparting practical farm education, presented by the establishment and operation of Farmers' Institutes, are sought by that class of farmers most in need of such instruction. But, unfortunately, it is only the practical, wide-awake, successful, farmer that, as a rule, attends the meetings of these Institutes and takes part in the discussion incident to them. The poor farmer—poor not so much in purse as in spirit and enterprise—fights shy of them as though he feared he would be in danger of learning something. However, a great advance in being made. Through the media of agricultural exhibitions and Farmers' Institutes, great strides are being made forward by the farmers generally. The fact that over-cropping has so impoverished the soil that farmers are compelled to devote some attention to the study of means to restore the lost fertility, is designed to neutralize the effects of careless tillage in former years. While thus engaged the farmer will develop a new interest in his calling and will be apt to extend his study and investigation to all the other branches of his business, and lead himself to take that interest in his vocation which will suggest the necessity of careful and intelligent study of its needs. For, farming, of all occupations, can not be successfully prosecuted by the rule of thumb. It refuses to yield success to the application of general principles; every individual farm needs specific treatment, and in the pursuit of the proper treatment, the farmer must intelligently investigate, observe and study and intelligently apply the results of his researches.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has long held the first place as a hair dressing, in the estimation of the public. Ladies find that this preparation gives a beautiful gloss to the hair, and gentlemen use it to prevent baldness and cure humors in the scalp.

"THE eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth," said Solomon. The Dominion Government, says the Montreal Witness, while doing its best by means of prohibitory tariffs and restrictive laws to prevent the people of Canada from buying and selling with the people of the United States, from whom they are separated only by an imaginary line, is sending its members to the antipodes to induce the people of Australia, who are separated from Canada by a whole Pacific Ocean, to buy and sell with these people. "What fools these mortals be," Shakespeare makes one of his sprites say.

CRIME seems to strike in spots, and particular crimes seem to seek certain places. Now bigamy, wife desertion and that sort of frisky iniquity seems indigenous to Belleville, that city keeping up its record with enterprising regularity. Kingston's specialty seems to be of a higher grade—the sinners seek the highest possible position and revel in sifting Her Majesty's mails. No sooner is a clergyman safe in the penitentiary, than Kingston post office clerks are caught pilfering from the Kingston post office. Peterborough's specialty in crime is yet an unknown quantity.

The Deadly Picnic Ice Cream.

At a Kingston picnic the other day, the hot weather invited a liberal consumption of ice cream, and soon after a deathly sickness overtook the picnicers, due to the ice cream, and only by the timely aid of two doctors were lives saved. However one sure way to allay thirst safely and delightfully, too, is by using only Hawley Bros. choice teas—the pure leaf of the tea plant, properly matured, properly cured, and properly secured at the lowest prices in large lots, and properly insured to the public at the lowest prices in the district. For first class fresh fragrant teas and pure coffees go to Hawley Bros. George street Peterborough.

The Electric Light

is a matter of small importance compared with other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficent power. Nerviline, pleasant to take, even by the youngest child, yet so powerfully far reaching in its work, that even the most agonizing internal pain yields as if by magic. Neglect no longer to try Nerviline. Buy to-day a 10 cent trial bottle and be relieved from all pain. Sold by druggists and country dealers everywhere. 6dw29

A Close Call.

AFTER suffering for three weeks from Cholera Infantum so that I was not expected to live, and, at the time, would even have been glad had death called me, so great was my suffering, a friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which acted like magic on my system. But for this medicine I would not be alive now.

ITCHING AGONIES.

Every Night I Scratched until the Skin was Raw.

Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. An awful Spectacle. Doctors Useless. Cure Hopeless. Entirely Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in five Weeks.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied by itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

BYAM'S
Improved "Common Sense"
• SASH BALANCE.
LOCKS AND LIFTS.

The only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No window rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

MUNCASTER'S

MR. TREVOR'S SECRETARY.

AN IDYLL OF TORONTO.

As a natural consequence, the next afternoon Arthur took his departure from the house of Mrs. Boggs, with many blessings from that good-hearted old lady, and many promises soon to cancel his indebtedness to her, and betook himself, with his few worldly possessions, to the St. George street mansion. A charming little room was shown him, and he felt quite elated at his prospects.

"Here is a change, indeed," he said: "blest if I'm not lucky after all."

He had carefully made some inquiries of the servant who took him to his room, in regard to the customs of the house, and learned that he was to dine with the family, and that Mr. Trevor always wore full evening dress at dinner.

"Mr. Archie, the only son, sir," said the servant: "is travelin' in Europe, and you'll be pleasing the old man, if you wear evenin' dress."

"Thank you," said Arthur, as he closed the door.

He then carefully arrayed himself in his "purple and fine linen," and prepared to take his first dinner in the Trevor house. In due time, the bell rang, and he descended the stairs with some trepidation in his heart. It seemed so long since he had sat down to a table where refinement existed, that he was not sure that he remembered how to comport himself. He had been knocking about the world so loosely for the past three years; sometimes he had possessed money enough to dine at the expensive restaurants, and, with true Bohemian spirit, he never kept a dollar any longer than he could help. Hence, it was more frequently his lot to dine on corned-beef and beans; and, to do him justice, it suited him just as well as the other. But now he was going to dine in state, with a genuine city "swell." Somehow, as he went down the stairs, the memory of bygone days stole into his soul, and he felt that he was in the atmosphere to which he belonged.

"Yes," he muttered: "I feel very much as I imagine Satan would, if he were taken back to heaven; only, like him, I know that I have been kicked out of the place once, and am now admitted in a humiliating manner."

He entered the library, where Mr. Trevor was standing with his back to the fireplace.

"I was waiting for you, Mr. Montgomery," he said, kindly: "you might feel a little bashful at entering a strange dining-room alone."

"You are very kind, sir," said Arthur.

"It's only common decency, sir," answered the old gentleman.

He entered the dining room, Arthur following. Our young friend was by no means a bad-looking fellow. He had wavy flaxen hair, that refused to be anything but disorderly, a peach-like complexion, a pair of big, dark blue eyes, a very handsome mouth, and milk white teeth, over which rested a silken, blonde mustache. In his evening dress he was decidedly handsome, and he was perfectly easy and graceful in all his movements. Consequently, Mrs. Trevor and her daughter, Florence, having drawn themselves up very stiffly in the expectation of being forced to meet an ill-looking and awkward fellow, manifestly out of place—a prospective proceeding which had outraged their feelings, and made them grumble anew at what they called "father's eccentricity"—were somewhat taken aback when Mr. Trevor introduced this handsomely-clad stranger, looking so proper in his evening dress and so thoroughly at ease, as his new private secretary.

Arthur ate his dinner in profound silence; for, as no one spoke to him, or, indeed, appeared to notice him, save for the occasional quick glance with which Miss Trevor observed him, he deemed it best to say nothing. He ate a very good dinner, and made a very thorough study of the two ladies. Mrs. Trevors was a fine-looking old lady, with a certain arch in her eyebrows and a peculiar turn of the corners of her mouth, which gave her a rather supercilious appearance, and which made Arthur think that she was the proudest woman he had ever seen. There was the same amount of pride in the daughter's face; and it was heightened, if anything, by her great beauty.

Florence Trevor was the belle of the season. She had been the belle of the last season; and she bade fair to be the belle of the next. Nothing like her had been seen in years. That was the unanimous decision of the young masculine leaders of society, who knew her only to worship her. She was just twenty, and was full of the budding beauty of young womanhood. Her hair was a deep, rich brown, which, in the sunlight, had a tinge of gold in its high lights, while in its shadows it was almost black. Her forehead was low, broad and white as snow. Her eyes were "deeply, darkly, and wonderfully," brown, and so tender, so soft, so expressive, that no man ever failed to admit their magnificent beauty, while many remembered it to their sorrow. Her nose was small and straight. Her mouth was perfect, and her complexion dazzling. As she sat at dinner on the evening of our friend's arrival at her father's house, she was a perfect picture of a proud, patrician beauty.

"By Jove!" thought Arthur, as he found himself unconsciously gazing at her: "that's the most beautiful girl I ever saw, and whew! isn't she proud! She looks like Lady Clare Vere de Vere.

'The daughter of a hundred earls,
You are not one to be desired.'

Perhaps, though, the pride isn't so thick as it looks. There never was a woman yet who didn't have a vulnerable spot, if only a fellow knows how to find it. However, that is no business of mine in this case."

Dinner being finished, Mr. Trevor requested Arthur to go to the library with him, and write one or two letters which must be sent by the early mail in the morning.

"Mamma," said Florence, after they were gone: "I don't like the new secretary; he's too handsome and too polished; he doesn't look like an inferior, and, I am afraid, he will not know how to act like one. His manners are quite as refined as those of any man I know."

"My dear," said her mother: "if he forgets his position at any time, he must be reminded of it."

That point being settled, opportunities were sought for reminding Arthur of his position. But they never were found. He was quiet and respectful; and, though showing himself to be a perfect gentleman, never presumed to put himself upon a footing of equality with the members of his employer's family. In a very few days he became a favorite with the clerks at Mr. Trevor's warehouse. His easy, Bohemian manners, were charming to them, and the perfect good-nature with which he agreed to any of their little plans about lunch won their hearts. As for his employer, he was simply delighted with his secretary. He never told Arthur so, but he showed it in his treatment of him. He occasionally took Arthur out to lunch with him at the Toronto club, and even went so far, once or twice, as to ask our friend's advice as to the wording of some of his letters. He was pleased with the good sense of the young man, his pleasant manner, and his constant remembrance of the respect due his employer.

At the Trevor mansion, Arthur spent all his time either in the library with Mr. Trevor or in his own room. He was engaged in a big undertaking in the literary line. Arthur had long felt that he ought to do something more serious than his magazine work and his page-filling stories; and now, thanks to the large number of evenings he had to himself, he was writing a Canadian novel. At the table he maintained the same dignified and respectful attitude towards the wife and daughter of his employer.

But, although he maintained the same appearance, he did not preserve the same feelings. Poor fellow! he, too, had yielded to the irresistible witchery of Florence Trevor's eyes. He was deeply, hopelessly madly in love with her. He bitterly cursed his fate.

"What business," he reflected: "has a fellow in my position with a heart? What right have I to see the beauty of this woman, whom I can never hope to address, save in the words of an inferior, and who doubtless looks upon me as little better than a menial!"

A Solid Fact.

Freely Used.

MR. WM. MAMM, of Ottawa, Ont., writes:—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in my family with the very best results. I recommend it to my friends and think it the best medicine in use for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, etc. 2w27

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

The Otonabee Schools Outing.

The outing of the Otonabee union schools on Tuesday was a delightful success. About one hundred persons including several from town, went down to Jubilee Point on the Golden Eye. Doucet's orchestra accompanied the party and after a delightful day at the Point, the party returned home in good time.

Prentice Boys.

W. J. SANDERS,
Rec. Secretary.

Belleville Cheese Board.

At the regular meeting of the Belleville Cheese Board there were boarded 1,531 boxes—817 white and 714 colored, the total representing twenty-one factories, an average of 72 boxes per factory. There were 586 boxes at 8¾c. and 8¼c.

Councillors Excursion.

The councillors returned from their trip up the lakes last night. They were unable to reach Pigeon Creek bridge on account of the heavy sea they encountered, which was too much for the little yacht. They, however, inspected the site of the Gannon's Narrows bridge.

Civic Holiday Excursions.

There are already three excursions billed for civic holiday, whenever that may be, probably August 12th. The 'Prentice Boys run an excursion to Jacob's Island, the Sons of Canada go down the river to Jubilee Point, and Court Little John, No. 92, Foresters, to Niagara Falls.

A Pleasant Outing.

The excursion of St. Paul's church choir Tuesday was a most enjoyable affair. About 75 people were aboard the steamer Cruiser, and the day was spent in sailing about Stony Lake with a short halt at Burleigh. The party returned to town in the basses about nine o'clock, all delighted with the success of the days outing, which in its pleasant social features is designed to intensify the esprit de corps and harmony that particularly distinguish the choir of St. Paul's.

Belleville Races.

The races at the driving park on Thursday and Friday, of this week, are anticipated with much interest by horsemen and lovers of this sport. The entries will close at eight o'clock to-night. The free-for-all trot will be hotly contested. Those which are expected to take part are as follows, with their records:—Bay g. Little Jim, 2.26; chestnut g. Sorrel George, 2.25; b. m. No Trouble, 2.29½; b. g. Maxy Cobb, 2.29½; b. g. Billy W., 2.30½; and bl. g. Harry Parker, 2.25. A large number of entries are also anticipated in the other classes, and the meet will, the Belleville sports fondly imagine, be one of the most successful ever held there.

An Age of Progress.

The statutes require that certain legal notices even to persons in town have to be registered. Under Postmaster General Haggard's brilliant management a simple drop-letter (one cent) stamp won't do, there must be a 3-cent stamp and a 5 cent registration stamp as well. This is modern progress with a vengeance.

The Moulders' Strike.

Affairs are, at this writing, in the same condition as yesterday. No arrangement has been arrived at between the strikers and the Lock Works. The striking moulders are having a meeting this afternoon, but up to the hour of going to press there has been no decision arrived at. The present indications seem to be that the men and management of the Lock Works are far apart in their views.

Foresters' Excursion.

Remember that the annual excursion of Court Peterborough Foresters takes place to Jubilee Point on Thursday, July 25th. Calcutt's steamers and palace barges; there will be no crowding. Peterborough Fire Brigade orchestra will furnish music for dancing on both the round trip on the boat and at the grounds. The committee will furnish, free, hot water, tea and sugar on the grounds. Dinner at the Point hotel 25 cents. Return tickets only 50 cents; children 25 cents Canoes carried free. Steamer leaves Peterborough wharf at 7 a.m., calling at Ashburnham.

Hotel Improvement.

Next week will see the commencement of an extensive alteration and improvement in the premises of the City Hotel, Mr. Wm. Clancy, proprietor. The ground floor will be entirely remodelled. The arcade will be built up and the bar-room moved into it, the office taking the place of the present bar-room, and the dining room being brought forward to the site of the present sitting room. The sitting room will be where the dining room now is. Upstairs, as well as down, the painter, carpenter and paper-hanger will be at work, and when the repairs are completed Mr. Clancy will have one of the best equipped hostelries in town.

Stony Lake News.

Among those who went up to the lakes this morning were Mr. J. B. McWilliams and family and Miss Flora Lech.

Fishing is reported unusually good in Stony Lake. Bass and lunge are being caught in abundance.

Messrs. Murray & Fraser have begun quarrying granite on Eagle Mount. About 100 men will be employed during the summer.

A number of new cottages have been erected. Messrs. A. and R. Hall have each built new houses, as well as Mr. Hillier of Lakefield. Mr. Thos. Bradburn will erect a summer residence on Boschink.

Congratulatory.

The EXAMINER congratulates the volunteers of Canada on the great victory scored at Wimbledon to-day by their representatives, the Canadian Wimbledon team. That a team selected from five millions should beat teams selected from about forty millions, is no small triumph. The Kolapore cup, which is of solid silver and about the size of a farmers' churn, will cross the Atlantic again for the fifth time. Canadians hold their own in every sphere of action where skill and endurance are factors. We need ask odds of no other nation in the matter of good climate, good country, good form of government, or go-ahead-ativeness and grit—and the more Grit we have the better. All honour to the Wimbledon winners and the sturdy volunteers they represent.

Personal.

Mr. T. S. Cole, travelling secretary for Ontario of the Y.M.C.A., and family are domiciled for the heated term with Mr. Charles Davidson, at the Bertram farm, Smith.

Mr. —— Hughes, inspector for Ontario of the Ætna Insurance Company, of which Mr. Charles Cameron is agent, is in town adjusting a claim.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, July 17.

Last night the police, from 10.30 to 11, bundled into quod three drunks—simple drunks—too drunk to be disorderly. They were rolled in in a limp condition, like three casks of liquor—which they were. The police magistrate assessed $2 or ten days in all three cases.

News Nuggets.

—Lindsay Oddfellows will hold Decoration Day next Friday.

—The band played in the park last night and as usual there was an immense crowd to listen to their delightful music.

—The Midland Railway employees' picnic is to take place at Sturgeon Point on Saturday, July 20th, and will be the event of the season.

—For the past few nights a lot of young men out for an evening's fun have been ringing the door bells of houses on north Water street. They had better desist or trouble may follow.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Miss Hettie Bennett, daughter of Mr. H. Bennett, is spending her holidays with friends in Guelph, for which place she left on Tuesday morning.

The Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, rector of St. Luke's preached at the anniversary services of the Church of England Temperance Society, Grafton, on Tuesday evening. He will return to town this evening.

Mr. J. Fawcett has three or four lots in which he has pease sown placarded with notices to keep boys out. This, however, will be scarcely enough to scare the average boy who has a longing desire for green pease.

The river drivers left Little Lake to-day. Many of the small boys will be sorry as they invariably get something good to eat from the cook.

A great many people are anxiously enquiring when the new town hall is to be commenced.

Canada Captures the Kolapore Cup.

Canadian Marksmen Win this Trophy for the Fifth Time.

LONDON, Eng., July 17.—In the rifle contest at Wimbledon to-day the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup was won by the Canadian team.

This cup was presented by the Rajah of Kolapore and has been contended for at Wimbledon eighteen times. Thirteen times it was won by Great Britain and, including the present meeting, five times by Canada—in 1872, 1875, 1881, 1884 and in 1889. Good for Canada!

What is a kiss? is a question which has agitated the world for centuries. The great problem is solved at last! Dr. Henry Gibbons, in a recent lecture at San Francisco, described a kiss as "the anatomical juxtaposition of two orbicularis oris muscles in a state of contraction." There!

Presbytery of Peterborough.

Official Minutes of the Adjourned Sederunt

At Peterborough, and within St. Paul's Church, there the 9th day of July, the which day and place the Presbytery of Peterborough met, pursuant to adjournament, and was constituted by Mr. McEwen, Moderator pro tempore. There were present, besides the Moderator, Messrs. Cleland, Ewing, Andrews, Bennett, Sutherland, Cameron, Bell, Torrance, Carmichael, Thompson, Mitchell, Hay, Hyde, MacWilliams, Gilchrist, ministers, and Messrs. John Stewart, J. F. Clark, Horsburg, Miller, Wilson, Kidd, Graham and James Clark, elders.

Commissions were received on behalf of Messrs. J. F. Clark, of First, Port Hope; John Clark, Campbellford; W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood; John Carnegie, St. Andrew's, Peterborough; and Walter Riddle, Cobourg, as representatives of their respective Kirk Sessions, and their names were added to the roll of Presbytery.

The minutes of the adjourned meeting in Peterborough on the 16th April, of the meeting in Bowmanville, of the special meeting in Peterborog for the licensing and ordination of Mr. Orr Bennett, and of the pro re nata meeting in Port Hope on June 4th, were read and, with the correction of slight inaccuracies, were sustained.

Mr. Mitchell was heard in reference to an alleged irregularity in the proceedings of the pro re nata meeting in Port Hope. A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Bell, Carmichael, Gilchrist and Hay, ministers, and Mr. Kidd, elder, to consider the grounds of the complaint and to report at a future sederunt.

A docket was read, to which it was agreed to adhere as the order of business.

There was then considered the call from the congregation of Cobourg to the Rev. John Hay, B.D., of Campbellford. It was found that all the parties considered had been duly cited to appear for their interests at the present meeting.

Reasons for translation were read. Replies to these reasons were also read. There was read also the minutes of a congregational meeting at Campbellford praying earnestly that Mr. Hay be permitted to remain with them as their pastor.

Messrs. Russell, McNaughton, MacCallum and Carruthers, from Cobourg, were heard pleading for the translation and Messrs. Hume, Manning, Porte and Owen from Campbellford pleading that the translation be not granted.

Mr. Mulholland, from Cobourg, was heard in reply to the delegates from Campbellford. Mr. Hay was heard on his own behalf. He stated that he had great difficulty in coming to a conclusion as to what was the course of duty in the case and would like a little farther space for consideration and would be prepared to give an answer in the afternoon.

Presbytery then adjourned to meet again at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon and the sederunt was closed with the benediction.

Same day and place at 2.30 p.m. the Presbytery met according to adjournment and was duly constituted.

Sederunt same as in morning. The minutes of the morning sederunt were read.

There was read an application from the congregation of Havelock for leave to mortgage their new church to the extent of $1,500. Mr. Wm. Matthieson was heard in support of the application. The request of the congregation was granted.

Mr. Bennett read the report of the commission of Presbytery appointed to act in concert, with a similar commission of the Presbytery of Whitby in the completion of the union of the 1st and 2nd Cartwright congregations. The report was to the effect that said union had been happily completed and that proclamation of the same had been made on the 9th day of June last, by the Rev. J. A. Carmichael of Columbus.

The clerk reported that Synod had granted leave to transfer the mission station of Kinmount to the care of the Presbytery of Lindsay and the congregation of 1st Cartwright to the care of the Presbytery of Whitby.

An extract from the records of the assembly was read showing that the assembly had granted leave to the Presbytery to retain Mr. Oswald under their care and superintend his studies reporting to the general assembly from time to time."

The following appointments were made of delegates to visit mission fields before next meeting of Presbytery, who are instructed to dispense sealing ordinances and to enquire into all matters affecting the interests of the fields, viz: Mr. McEwen, to visit Havelock and Stoney Lake; Mr. Thompson, to visit Chandos and Burleigh; Mr. Orr Bennett, B.A. to visit Harvey.

There was read a communication from Dr. A. M. Rosburgh, of Toronto, on the subject of Prison Reform. The communication was received and sympathy expressed with the object referred to in it.

The clerk submitted the scheme adopted at last meeting of assembly for the guidance of Presbyteries in the case of probationers and vacancies.

It was resolved that the convener of the Home Mission Committee and the Committee on Vacancies be instructed to adhere as far as possible to all the regulations in the scheme just submitted.

The committee appointed to consider the complaint of Mr. Mitchell regarding the irregularity of the proceedings at pro re nata meeting in Port Hope, gave in their report through Mr. Bell, the convener. The report was to the effect that there had been irregularity in the transmission of papers, and that, considering all the circumstances of the case, the committee recommend that "the matter be now allowed to take end." It was moved that the report be adopted. It was moved in amendment, that it be not adopted. The amendment was carried. Mr. Bell craved leave to enter his dissent on the ground that the action now taken was contrary to the laws of the church.

The report of the committee appointed at last meeting on the re-arrangement of stations was given by Mr. Carmichael. It was to the effect that nothing had been done in the way of effecting any changes in the relationship of stations.

There was read a communication from the congregation of Ballyduff, asking for leave to dispose of their interests in the manse property at Blackstock, and asking what steps are to be taken in order to give them church service on the Sabbath. Mr. Clark was heard in support of the applications.

It was agreed to lay the request for leave to dispose of the manse property on the table until a future meeting.

Mr. Carmichael was appointed to visit Janetville and Pontypool at an early date with the view of opening new stations at these points to be united to Ballyduff.

Next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, on the third Tuesday of September at 9 o'clock.

Bills for expenses in the doing of church work were presented, and such as were approved were ordered to be paid out of the Presbytery Fund.

The Clerk was instructed to write to congregations in arrears to the Presbytery Fund and to urge immediate payment of all claims.

The Clerk was further instructed to write to the congregation of Ballyduff in reference to a claim of Mr. Windell for pulpit supply, and to ask the people to settle the claim.

The committees appointed to examine Session Records gave in their reports. On the recommendations of these committees the following records were ordered to be attested, as on the whole, correctly kept, viz.:—Centreville, Norwood, Millbrook and 1st Port Hope.

Messrs. Sutherland, Thompson and Carmichael were appointed a committee to draw up rules and regulations for the keeping of session records especially in connexion with the celebration of the supper, so as to secure greater uniformity in the manner of keeping session books.

On enquiry it was found that many of the brethren had complied with the recommendation of last meeting to preach a sermon every three months on the subject of missions and the schemes of the church.

The Presbytery resumed consideration of the call to Mr. Hay. Mr. Hay stated that after due and prayerful consideration of the call, he had come to the conclusion that the hand of Providence directed him to accept of the call.

On motion of Mr. Carmichael, seconded by Mr. Torrance, the translation was granted.

Mr. Thompson was appointed to declare the Campbellford pulpit vacant on the 28th July, and to be Moderator of the Session during the vacancy.

Mr. Hay's induction into Cobourg congregation was appointed to take place on the 30th July, at 2.30 o'clock. Mr. Cleland was appointed to preside, Mr. Lord to preach, Mr. Carmichael to address the ministers and Mr. Gilchrist the people. Mr. Sutherland was appointed to expound Presbyterian polity.

Mr. Carmichael was associated with Messrs. Thompson and Cleland as a committee to have in charge the supply of the pulpit of Campbellford during the vacancy.

The meeting was closed with the benediction.

WM. BENNETT,
Pres. Clerk.

The World's Crops.

A Bad Prospect in India and Eastern Europe—Dakota Short 30,000,000 Bushels—Drought in the Canadian Northwest.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The Times' London cable says:—The weekly report from Bombay by cable settles the fact that the Indian wheat crop is going to be no factor at all in the question of the world's food supply this year. English specialists believe the situation a few months hence is going to be fully as bad as it was last year. One or two say they expect it to be worse. Of course the state of European crops is still susceptible of certain fluctuations, and cannot be accurately mapped out until the annual Seed Fair at Vienna, which, owing to the general anxiety this year, has been advanced in date to August 24; but while climatic contingencies may injure good crops, they will be able to do little to improve those already doomed, and the condition in October is more likely to be worse than better. The demand for wheat in the big purchasing countries of Europe bids fair to be smaller than usual.

England and France promise harvests considerably better than last year. As the fields and stacks now stand, the yield of these two countries is expected to be forty million bushels in excess of last year. Spain also will be above the average, and Italy only a trifle under. Germany, east of the tenth parallel, is almost good, perhaps the present weather will make her quite as good, as last year, but there the favorable picture stops. Indeed, the tenth parallel may be taken as fairly dividing the good from the bad. East of that line wheat crops have gone to pieces. Two great exporting countries—Russia, and Austro-Hungary—will this year find it difficult to feed themselves. Russia, which had big harvests the last two years and forced the market to get rid of all its grain in order to float loans, now confronts a rather serious situation. Her big granaries, like those at Odessa, have never before been so empty of wheat, and the present crop in many large districts is a complete failure. The long drought and then the cyclonic storms, which destroyed the wheat and oat prospect in Russia, have done the same for wheat, rye and barley in Austro-Hungary, Roumania and Eastern Germany. The shortage here will be so great that the market will be more at the mercy of the United States than ever before.

Dakota 30,000,000 Bushels Short.

CHICAGO, July 16.—A special to The Inter-Ocean from Grafton, Dakota, says: The wheat crop of Dakota is 30,000,000 bushels short. The total production for the territory cannot, under the best possible condition from now until harvest, which will begin in the north by July 25, exceed 20,000,000 bushels, and to put it that high is a liberal estimate. The greatest detriment to a successful crop this year has been the exceedingly dry season, and only along the streams will there be any crops at all. Along the main line of the Northern Pacific, the once bonanza farm district, the elevators are closing up and the count tributary to Bismark is as a barren sand hill. The Jim River valley will barely feed its people, and, in short, nowhere in Dakota will there be any wheat for export save along the main line of Manitoba from a point 30 miles north of Fargo. The cry of famine that was raised last winter in the western part of Walsh county will find its echo all over the territory the coming winter. Aside from the impoverishing of the people by the failure of the wheat there is another danger which will be felt almost as severely, and that is the want of fodder for stock. The oat crop is bad and the meadows away from the river bottoms are as parched as the prairie. A trip through Montana reveals the same state of affairs. The range cattle will not find enough to live on until cold weather, and a prominent railroad official told the correspondent that all the extra cars of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba roads had been ordered to Montana to clear out the steers as soon as the lack of feed necessitates a reduction in stock.

Drought in the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, July 16.—Hon. Joseph Royal, Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories, is in the city. He has just completed an extensive tour throughout the Territories. He says drought prevails all over the Northwest and has greatly damaged the crops. His Honor visited the scene of the rebellion and found instances of profound suffering, especially among the widows of men who were killed in the fights.

Millbrook.

Following is a list of successful candidates for entrance to High Schools, at the examination held at Millbrook on the 4th, 5th and 6th of July, 1889. Twelve candidates wrote and nine were successful. Total marks, 735; required to pass, 367. The school in which each candidate was prepared for the examination, the teacher and the total marks made by the candidate, are given:

William Creba—4, S. Monaghan; John Stephens; 534.

Beaver VanHonirigh — Millbrook; D. Hampton; 527.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

"Othello" in the Sultan's Harem.

During his recent stay in Constantinople the Italian tragedian, Ernesto Rossi, had the honor of performing twice before the Sultan—once in "Othello" and once in "Sullivan." The theatre at the harem is described as small, but tastefully decorated, and is lighted by electricity. The ladies of the harem were in the boxes, but were hidden from the public gaze by gilt cross-bars. The stalls were occupied by Court dignitaries. The entrance to the theatre was guarded by police agents, armed with sticks and revolvers. The actors were driven to and from the theatre in closed carriages and were accompanied by a police escort. The Sultan was much pleased with both performances and presented Sig. Rossi with the Order of the Osmanie, besides a handsome gratuity.

A Pleasure Trip to Ireland.

PARIS, July 16.—The Right Rev. T. J Dowling, Bishop of Hamilton, will start in a few days on a visit to Ireland. He will be accompanied by Vicar-General Keough of this town. Very Rev. Father Keough says that the visit has no connection with church matters; His Lordship goes simply on a pleasure trip and his mission is altogether devoid of ecclesiastical significance. A Jesuit father from Guelph, Rev. Father Cote, will act for Vicar-General Keough in this parish.

K. of L. Executive Board.

CHICAGO, July 16.—The meeting of the Executive Board of the Knights of Labor began here to-day with General Master Workman Powderly, General Secretary Treasurer Hayes, J. J. Holland of Jacksonville, Fla., A. W. Wright of Toronto and John Davlin of Detroit present. The board decided that the next general assembly should be held at Atlanta, Ga., on the second Tuesday of next November.

Convicted of Being a Common Scold.

JERSEY CITY, July 16.—Mrs. Mary Brady was convicted here to-day of being a common scold. She is liable to fine and imprisonment. This is the first trial of a common scold recorded in the books of the County Court.

Once More the "Angelus."

PARIS, July 16.—M. Proust announces the withdrawal of the request to the Chamber of Deputies for a credit for the purchase of Millet's "Angelus." The painting will therefore become the property of the American Art Association.

Col. Vincent Placed Under Arrest.

PARIS, July 16.—M. de Fercinet, Minister of War, has ordered that Colonel Vincent be placed under arrest for thirty days for publishing the evidence given in the Senate Court in the case of Gen. Boulanger.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a great a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

AT
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

SALVATIONISTS IN JAIL.

EXCITEMENT IN A SUBURB OF THE QUEEN CITY.

A Painter Arrested on a Charge of Bigamy —A Horse Thief Sent to Penitentiary for Five Years.

TORONTO, July 18.—The Salvation Army has been a source of trouble and annoyance to the people of Eglinton during the last six months. The special point of attack has been Oulcott's hotel, and time and again have the red-shirts swarmed upon Mrs. Oulcott's grounds, beating their drums and apparently making as much noise as possible. The late Mr. Oulcott ordered them off when he was ill, but the crowning insult came on the evening after the deceased's funeral, when they surrounded the house and in hearing of those sorrowing within, made remarks that were, to say the least, uncalled for. For this they were threatened with legal proceedings, but the magistrate, Mr. Henry Dosl, not wishing to have any trouble, went to Commissioner Coombs in regard to the matter. The latter promised that an ample apology should be made and that the affair would not occur again. Mrs. Oulcott generously accepted the apology and allowed the matter to drop. Last Tuesday evening, however, a detachment of Salvationists about 16 strong sallied out in search of excitement and Oulcott's hotel seemed the most inviting spot. Thither they wended their way and immediately commenced a red-hot Salvation meeting. Mrs. Oulcott complained to Reeve Wilson who was eating supper in the hotel at the time. Mr. Wilson went out and ordered them to stop, explaining at the same time that it was not a matter of religion but disorderly conduct. They paid no attention to his remarks and after being ordered to leave two or three times, Constable Brown arrested two of them. They were at once tried and pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct, but not having the money to pay their $5 fines they were sent to jail for 10 days, ample time for them to cool off.

Charles Hubert Edgar Collett, of Collett & Lounles, painters and plumbers, is charged with bigamy, it being alleged that he has a wife in the United States in addition to another whom he married lately here. The complainant was a man named Cudding, of Toledo, O., who formerly was the husband of Mrs. Collett No. 2. The latter had obtained a divorce from him. Collett denied the validity of the first marriage and was remanded for eight days. All the parties are from the States.

Joseph Jacobs yesterday pleaded guilty to horse-stealing and admitted that he had been convicted seven times previously. His latest offence was in going to the stable of George H. Bolton at Bloor and Yonge-streets on the evening of July 12 and driving off a valuable horse. He took it to Burlington and traded it for another animal, which he drove to Waterdown and sold. He was arrested in Hamilton on a telegram from Toronto. He will serve five years in the Penitentiary.

John H. Ferguson of King was charged before Judge Macdougal with having placed ties on the railway on the night of July 4. He elected to be tried by jury and his bail was fixed at $2000 for himself and $1000 for each of his two sureties.

William Hannon pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of having embezzled sums of money, amounting in all to $36.35, from the Canada Mattress Company, West Toronto Junction. He was sent to jail for one month.

The Union Depot was the scene of a funny incident last evening, the sequel of which will be witnessed in the Police Court today. Catharine Nolan, rather a fine-looking type of the New York Yankee, is matron of the Monroe County Insane Asylum. Yesterday she arrived in Toronto in charge of a female patient named Alice Devlin en route for Owen Sound, where the latter resided. Accompanying the outfit was a young man who gives his name as Charley Brown, Rochester. Through some mistake the party missed connections, and while waiting round the Union Station Matron Nolan got intoxicated. The patient finding nobody watching her made her escape, and the last heard from her was that she was seen walking up York-street escorted by a G. T. R. brakeman. Meanwhile Matron Nolan and Mr. Brown were enjoying themselves at the depot. Detective Slemin happened along, and suspecting Brown of intending to rob his companion arrested them both and locked them up in Headquarters. The matron is in the women's cell on the ground flat, while Charley is among the male drunks in the basement. Matron Nolan was perfectly sobered up by 10.30. She took her imprisonment sadly to heart, but appears to feel more for Charley than for herself or her patient. Up to a late hour last night the police had found no trace of the Devlin woman.

Scared Into Sobriety.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Mrs. Rose Hutt created great excitement in the Third precinct police station, Newark, at an early hour yesterday morning. Mrs. Hutt had been arrested a few hours before for being drunk, and had been sleeping off the effects of the beer and the whisky she had taken. When she recovered her senses she found she was in the same cell her husband occupied a few months ago, when he hanged himself to the cell door. She screamed with fright and implored the officers to remove her to another cell, as the one she was in was haunted by her husband's ghost. Her fright was a genuine one and she was transferred to another part of the prison, completely sobered by the scare.

High License in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 18.—The Legislature met yesterday in adjourned special session to enact a license law. A bill was reported in joint special session providing for the wholesale license fees to be from $500 to $1000, determined by the License Commissioners and retail fee $400 in Providence, running down to $250 in the towns, according to population. There are no sub-classes of licenses provided for in the bill, and everybody who wants to handle liquor of any kind must pay either the wholesalers' or retailers' fee.

JACK'S TWELFTH MURDER.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE LONDON ATROCITY.

The Unhappy Parmelite Family Denouncing Each Other as Well as the Landlords—General Cable News.

LONDON, July 17.—The scene of Monday night's atrocious murder is a low part of Whitechapel called Old Castle-street. A large mass of clotted blood and traces of a desperate struggle bear testimony that Jack the Ripper has again resumed his deadly work of cutting up the bodies of the unfortunate women who have taken to the streets for a living. Four months ago the extra force of policemen and detectives who had been on duty specially for the purpose of trapping the assassins were withdrawn, as it was thought that there would be no more of such terrible outrages committed. But it seems that the cruel-hearted, unnatural beast is still living. The scene of the crime is in the same restricted area and once again the murderer is able to shield himself from discovery so as to leave no trace.

The body was discovered by a constable who was walking leisurely down his beat at 1.30 Tuesday morning. He noticed the form of a woman lying in the shadow of a doorway. He was about to rouse the woman when he was horrified to discover that she was dead and that there was a gaping wound in her throat. The body was lying in a pool of blood, which had run in streams from a terrible gash in the stomach, evidently inflicted by a sharp knife or razor. The dead woman's entrails were strewn about the passage, and thick clots of blood bespattered the door. An alarm was raised and a crowd of detectives were instantly on the spot. The horribly mutilated body was conveyed to Commercial-road police station, where a physician, who had examined the remains of the victims of Jack the Ripper, stated that he had no doubt that this latest murder had been committed by the same hand. The murdered woman was about 40 years of age, and belonged to the most depraved class of Whitechapel unfortunates. She was known as Kelly and was a servant to Mrs. Smith, the keeper of baths in Castle-alley.

Just where the murder occurred there was room for a man to stand out of sight. The theory of the police is that the man and woman entered Castle-alley from Petticoat-lane. As they were passing an unoccupied building he thrust a knife into her neck below the right ear. The woman apparently fell on her face, as there was mud on the front of her dress. The murderer then turned her over and inflicted frightful gashes across her stomach. The police are, as usual, reticent when they know nothing.

The woman's throat was cut to the spine. No part of the body was missing. Warm blood was flowing from the wound when the body was discovered. A policeman, who with the watchman of an adjacent warehouse must have been within a few yards of the spot where the murder took place when it was committed, heard no noise. Policemen have been placed at fixed points in Whitechapel since the murders of this character began there, and since the murder preceding that of last night officers have been stationed at a point within a hundred yards of the scene of the latest tragedy. An old clay pipe smeared with blood was found alongside the body. It is supposed by the police that this will furnish a clue to the murderer, although it may have belonged to the victim. Several arrests of suspected persons have been made, but they were discharged, there being no proof against them.

On Sept. 9 last news of the murder and horrible mutilation of a dissolute woman in the Whitechapel district of London was cabled all over the world. Three weeks later came the news that two other women of similar character had been mysteriously murdered and mutilated in the same manner. The first on Sept. 30, and the next day all Christendom was shocked with the announcement of two more such lives sacrificed to some unknown demon in human form. The death of the eighth victim was flashed over the wires on Oct. 3, and that of the ninth and last in 1888, on Nov. 10. One more victim fell early this year, and only a few weeks ago fragments of a woman's body were fished out of the Thames which may or may not have been the eleventh. Z Chalked upon a board surface near some of the murdered women were notices signed "Jack the Ripper," announcing that a specified number had been slain, and that when the fifteenth had dyed the murderer would announce his identity and surrender to the authorities. The throat of each was cut and slashes forming a cross upon the abdomen were made in each case. One of the organs, too, had been removed in each case.

Several arrests were made, but the perpetrator of this most astounding series of murders on record has not been apprehend. Since these crimes came to light similar deeds have been reported in France, Germany, Cuba, Texas and other places, while the "Whitechapel fiend" has chased unprotected women in Boston and numerous other cities and towns of the United States.

Devoy Denounces Davitt.

NEW YORK, July 17.—At a meeting of the municipal council of the Irish National League here last night John Devoy attributed the appointment of the Parnell Commission in London to Mr. Davitt's "unwise and unauthorized action in moving the libel suit of O'Donnell against The Times." Devoy declared that Davitt's evidence before the commission was a tissue of falsehoods, made up to puff himself and boost his friends. Referring to the new Irish defence league, Devoy said the National League was good enough for them and they should hesitate about joining any other organization.

The Canadians Win the Kolapore Cup.

LONDON, July 17.—In the rifle contest at Wimbledon to-day the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial challenge cup was won by the Canadian team. The score of the Canadians was 887, British 883.

The cup is given for competition by the Rajah of Kolapore, and has been shot for since 1871, this being the fifth time it has been won by Canada. The years and scores are as follows: 1872 with 437 points, 1875 with 635, 1881 with 669, 1884 with 665. The first three times it was won with the Snider rifle and in 1884 and this year with the Martini-Henry. The scores made for the cup also decide the prizes given by the Corporation of the City of London for competition by the Indian and Colonial teams. There are fifteen of these prizes; one, a cup valued at £31 10s, and the balance cash, the total value being £157 10s. The Canadians, therefore, win these prizes.

The Massachusetts Riflemen.

LONDON, July 17.—At Wimbledon to-day notwithstanding a heavy storm, rain, hail and thunder, the Massachusetts riflemen showed the style of their skirmish drill. The whole camp assembled to witness the manœuvres. The members of the team were drawn up in line 600 yards from the target. They then advanced, halting at intervals for 15 seconds, until they were within 150 yards of the target. The best scores were: Huddleston out of 47 hits 191, Doyle 52 hits 166, Hinman 33 hits 123, Hussey 31 hits 114, Sergeant Bull 26 hits 98. Ten halts were made. The rapidity of the fire and the accuracy of the shots excited the cheers of the spectators.

The Labor Congress.

LONDON, July 17.—M. Allemane, French delegate, and Mr. Brown, an American delegate, have been jointly elected to the presidency of the Labor Congress. The Marxists have declined to amalgamate with the Labor Congress unless they are received unconditionally.

The Boulanger Indictment.

PARIS, July 17.—The newspapers most inimical to General Boulanger condemn the indictment against him as wordy and ineffective. The only serious charge is that of embezzlement which the General declares is easily refutable.

A Chicago "College of Science."

CHICAGO, July 17.—A United States marshal is looking for W. M. Edeschaft, charged with violating the postal law. It is said Edeschaft is running a "College of Science," which for a small consideration grants diplomas to servant girls. He has used the mails extensively and many poor domestics complain that they have been swindled.

Oshawa Notes.

OSHAWA, July 17.—This being Decoration Day in Oshawa the Oddfellows, preceded by the town band, marched in procession to the Union Cemetery and decorated the graves of their friends and relatives. Over 200 marched in the procession.

G. H. Giverson and Samuel Sacks of East Whitby cut barley to-day. The crop is a good one. It is estimated the yield will average from 35 to 40 bushels to the acre throughout the township. The hay crop is nearly secured and is a heavy one.

120 Horses Burnt to Death.

LOWELL, Mass., July 17.—The large stable of the Lowell Horse Railroad was burned here to-night with 120 horses, 30 cars, 5 carloads of hay and straw, etc. The Hotel Belmont was damaged and a boarding-house over the stable was gutted. Several families living back of the stable were burned out. The loss to the car company is $120,000. The other losses are not heavy. A fireman had his arm burn and a boy his leg broken. Other accidents are reported.

EXCITING SCENES AT A FIRE.

A Brave Engineer Prevents an Explosion —Electric Wires Threaten Life.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., July 18.—The large factory of the New Milford Button Company was destroyed by fire last night. The building was of wood and burned very rapidly. Had the fire broken out a few hours earlier, when the mill was full of girls, great loss of life might have resulted. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is about $40,000, covered by insurance.

A large crowd was watching the flames when the electric light poles caught fire and the wires were in danger of falling on their heads. The officers of the Fire Department rushed here and there warning the people of their danger, as the insulating material had been burned off the wires. Scarcely had this danger been averted when the cry came that the fire had reached the boiler house and that there would be an explosion. Suddenly there was a loud report, and sparks and firebrands shot high into the air. The spectators expected that the next minute would see the boiler explode, when suddenly the engineer rushed through the crowd into the boiler house, tore open the safety valve and filled the boiler with water, at the risk of his life.

The Alien Labor Law.

CALAIS, Me., July 17.—Yesterday a deputy U.S. marshal served a writ on Henry F. and Charles H. Eaton, owners of the American House, Calais, for violation of the Alien Labor Law. The writ alleges that the Eatons contracted with a plumber from Canada. This will be made a test case and the result is awaited with great anxiety. Probably 300 to 500 Americans work in the mills in Milltown, N. B., and a large number of provincials come to Calais daily to work on the wharves and vessels. St. Stephen people threaten to retaliate if the law is enforced. It is feared great damage to people on both sides of the river will be the result of the Government gaining its case. Employers of labor in Calais and St. Stephen are seriously considering the advisability of discharging all foreign help. Calais would undoubtedly suffer the greater loss if such steps were taken.

Four Lost their Lives.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 17.—This afternoon a watch was dropped in a cesspool here and several men endeavored to recover it. They dug a large hole at the side of the pool. This hole was filled with water by the rain. One man stood on a ladder above the water and made an opening into the cess pool. The foul air and gas rushed out and overcame him and he fell into the water. A friend went to give aid and was likewise overcome. Others came to help and one by one seven men fell into the water, which by this time was full of muck and slime from the vault. Three were rescued by men who afterwards perished in attempting to save the others. The following lost their lives: James Crawford, Albert Kunkler, John Cleary and Frank Maloney.

A Train Demolished.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 17.—At 11 o'clock to-day a Cairo and Vincennes passenger train met with almost complete demolition two miles south of Mount Carmel, Ill. Twelve to fifteen passengers were seriously injured. The train was rushing along at 35 miles an hour and was composed of a freight car loaded with fruit, a baggage car and two passenger coaches. The freight car jumped the track and threw the remainder of the train down a 10-foot embankment. The passengers were thrown in every direction and a perfect pandemonium ensued. Nearly all those on the train were more or less injured. Most of the passengers were extricated only by cutting into the coaches with axes. The engine did not leave the track.

The Baily Smash.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., July 17.—This evening a train on the Pennsylvania Railway carrying 200 miners to their homes was wrecked near this place. John Roush and Aaron Shipe were killed. Twenty persons were badly, some of them probably fatally, injured. A number of others were slightly hurt. The train was running at regular speed, when miners standing on the back platform saw two freight cars detached at some colliery running wild down the heavy grade. The miners shouted to their companions to jump, which many did from windows and platforms, but the runaway cars overtook the train before all were out, telescoping the cars.

Murdered as They Slept.

DUBUQUE, Ia., July 17.—John Elkins and wife were murdered last night in Elk Township. Elkins' second son, aged 11, slept in the barn and states that he was awakened about 3 o'clock by a rifle shot. Going into the house he found his father dead on his bed with a bullet through his brain and his wife also on the bed with her head smashed in. A babe was still sleeping between them. Suspicion rests on the boy and his elder brother, aged 24, who both had a grudge against their step-mother. Elkins was 50 years old and his wife 27.

Surplus of Wives and Debts.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Three wives and a number of creditors in Brooklyn mourn the disappearance of Edward W. Stewart, lately connected with the electric light plant at Sea Beach, Coney Island. He has been missing since last week, and since his burried departure peculiar revelations concerning his domestic life have come to the surface. Stewart has, it appears, no less than three wives, and, if reports are true, there are two others whom he deceived. He was employed as canvasser for the concern, but reported himself as manager, and managed to get possession of a considerable sum of money.

Legally Dead, But Still Alive.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 18.—A month has passed since John Pickett expiated the crime of murder on the gallows. The memory of the event has been reawakened in a remarkable manner. A report comes from Sumpter County that Pickett is still alive and living in that portion of the State; that after the hanging his body was taken in charge by friends, who worked successfully at resuscitation. The story has created a good deal of interest in this city, for if Pickett is still alive and is apprehended the question is whether he can be further punished. He has been declared legally dead and the case will prove one unparalelled in the history of the State.

Stealing a Railway Ticket.

MONTREAL, July 18.—Thomas Dube, aged 28, was for some time G.T.R. ticket agent at St. Henri, but his services not giving satisfaction he was discharged. Out of a job the idea that he would like to visit Oregon obtained possession of him, but not having the necessary funds he broke into his old place of business and stole a ticket for Oregon, filling it out in the regular manner. The loss was soon discovered, and Detective Boaz, of the G.T.R., arrested him just as he was boarding a train to start on his projected journey.

New Panama Canal Scheme.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Contractor Slavin, who did a good deal of dredging for the Panama Canal Company, says he believes the American Contracting and Dredging Company, of which he is president, will soon complete arrangements to finish the canal. His company is backed by enormous capital and is favorably regarded by the French people. Mr. Slavin sailed for Paris yesterday to take part in the final conference on the subject. He says the canal can be completed by the company in four years.

Kansas Hogs Can Ride Cheap.

KANSAS CITY, July 17.—The freight department of the Trans-Missouri Railway Association to-day decided to reduce the rate on shipments of hogs from Kansas City to Mississippi River points to 12 cents. The differential to Chicago is 5 cents, making the total from here to Chicago 18, or 4 cents below the through rates. It was agreed that the old rate of 22 cents Kansas City to Chicago should be maintained.

GRAND LODGE A. F. & A. M. IN SESSION AT OWEN SOUND.

The Grand Master's Address—Miss Tibbetts to Sue the Municipality for Damages for False Arrest.

OWEN SOUND, July 17.—The thirty-fourth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada A. F. & A. M. was opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Town Hall, which is tastefully fitted up for the occasion. Grand Master M. W. Bro. R. T. Walkem, Q.C., was in the chair. On his right was Deputy Grand Master R. W. Bro. John Ross Robertson of Toronto and on his left Past Grand Master Henry Robertson, LL.B., of Collingwood. On the platform were M. W. Bros. J. A. Henderson, Q.C., Hugh Murray, Col. James Moffat and Otto Klotz, Past Grand Masters; R. W. Bros. Dr. Freeman, Col. Wayling, W. Smeaton, W. J. Morris, D. Taylor, Col. S. W. Wray, W. S. Calver, John Boyd, George Monkman, R. Mahoney, H. J. Wilkinson, B. Shorsly, J. A. C. Anderson, District Deputy Grand Masters; J. A. Wills, Grand Senior Warden; Joseph Beck, Grand Junior Warden; J. J. Mason, Grand Secretary; Edward Mitchell, Grand Treasurer; Dr. D. H. Martyn, J. H. Burritt, John Creasor, Q.C., J. F. H. Gunn, R. B. Hungerford, Dr. G. G. Rowe, J. E. Harding, T. Sarvant, Donald Ross, L. H. Henderson, D. McLellan, Allan McLean, Dr. L. Secord, J. C. Hegler, E. T. Malone, Fred C. Martin, J. S. Dewart and many Past Grand Lodge officers. Nearly 500 brethren were in attendance.

Addresses of welcome were read from the municipal authorities and local brethren, to which the Grand Master responded, after which he delivered an address giving a comprehensive retrospect of the important events of the year affecting the Order and suggesting matters requiring the attention of Grand Lodge. "We find ourselves to-day," said the Grand Master, "in a most enviable position amongst the Grand Lodges of the world. We are free from internal troubles; our relations with foreign Grand Lodges are satisfactory; the brethren throughout our jurisdiction are loyal, happy and contented; we have an ample benevolent fund as our disposal which is freely dispensed; and the administrative work undertaken by Grand Lodge is, I believe, being well and effectively performed."

The address then alluded fittingly to the many well-known brethren whom death had removed during the year and to the official visits paid by the Grand Master. Speaking of the necessity of education of the brethren in the history of the craft a high compliment was paid to D. G. M. Robertson's lectures on "Craft Masonry."

The Grand Master next referred to the differences existing between the Grand Lodge of Quebec and the Grand Lodge of England, the task of mediating which he has entered upon and is hopeful of carrying to a successful issue. Regarding the benevolent fund the Grand Master said:

"Grand Lodge had, on May 31, 1888, a capital of $69,243, of which $60,000 was invested. I observe that from 1868 to 1888, a period of twenty years, our capital has been increased from $30,340 to $69,943. The interest on the invested capital, $60,000, for the year ending May 31, 1888, amounted to $3006. During the last thirty-one years the sum of $171,319 has been paid out of the funds of Grand Lodge in grants to widows, orphans and needy brethren. The direct grants for benevolence, given by Grand Lodge amounted in 1858 to $40, in 1859 to $100. The grants for the year 1888 amounted to $10,805, and the average for several years past may be said to be $11,000. There are now upon our list of pensioners 325 widows, 55 orphans and 31 needy brethren."

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."
G. H. NEESE,
Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. EDMAND, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 67 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

Ontario Government Building.

Progress of the Work on the New Structure.

Toronto News.

Through the trees in Queen's Park is neither hammer nor axe, nor any tool of iron heard, nor through the thick leaves, scarcely stirred by the niggard zephyrs of these red-hot days, is seen much of the great building that is being set up to be the home of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. But when you have left the avenue and passed behind the green screen you see how the great pile is growing, how at its foot cluster cottage and workshop, a little village, and shapeless piles of bricks and stones, and how all over the building workmen swarm as thick and busy as ants. It is said that if you will follow closely the walls of the building in all their indentations and protuberances you will go nearly a mile before you reach the place where you made the start. And all about this circuit are the workshops and the little railway tracks and trucks for the easy moving of heavy loads. There the workmen and their overseers pass the long summer days hauling and cutting, and hewing and hauling again, and raising and laying, until the building seems almost to grow before your very eyes.

And yet, since the buildings were commenced, two years or more have flown and the builders have come only to the broad stone coping that marks where the ground floor ends and the first floor, or, as it is known to the architects, the Mezzenine story commences. This coping, too, has not been reached at all points of the wall. The front, for instance, scarcely shows above the ground, and at other points there are breaks in the coping yards long and feet deep.

The present contractors, Messrs. Carroll & Tick, to whom, at the decease of Lionel Yorke, his contract for the stonework, masonary, and brick work was assigned by the Government and the Yorke estate, lay the blame of the action to this. That they cannot get stone. With an appreciation of the sentiments of the people, the Government decreed that the material for building should be drawn, as far as possible, from the quarries and mines of the Province itself. The Valley of the Credit was to furnish the stone, and so it would if nothing but stones of a size for ordinary building purposes were required. But the splendid magnitude of the design of the building makes necessary the quarrying of stones larger than the Credit Valley can furnish at long notice. Smaller stones may be quarried and furnished at the will of the quarrymen, but nature's inexorable law demands that the foundation underlie the superstructure. So this smaller stuff cannot be used until the great stones shall have been laid in place.

Take an instance.

It has been said that the face of the building has not begun to appear yet. The architect's design for the portico is of great magnificence. As foundations for the three pillars that must support the two majestic archways stones of great size are needed. When the foundation stones were laid the first contractor gave the order for the supply of stones suitable for that purpose. The order has not been filled entirely. It was only last week that saw its partial filling. Then arrived two of the stones. Their dimensions are about 6 feet by 5 feet by 3 feet speaking roughly, and each weighs about six tons. Two similar stones have been discovered, after much prospecting, in the quarries of the Credit, and will be at the foot of the pile next week. Work will be commenced on them by the stonecutters immediately on their arrival. But again the richness of the architect's detail steps in and enjoins the sculptors to grave in the face of the rocks devices of exceeding great beauty. So that many weary days will waste away before the face of the building will commence to take on that aspect which it must wear for life.

And so it is in many other parts of the walls, enough to speak generally the ground floor is finished.

The scarcity of stone accounts for the seeming paucity of the laborers, but the folly of putting on more is obvious. The stone on hand having been set in place, the work would be stopped for a time and the sunshine and the rain would make havoc of the unfinished task.

But there are bricks by millions in all four. The piles of them are great enough to make a laggard flinch with horror at the thought of compulsion to carry them off and pile them elsewhere one by one and without assistance. The greatest pile is in the quadrangle in the north side of the building.

The contractors for the ironwork and carpentering have had to wait also. But they have been able to finish the work of putting in the great joists and rafters in the ceiling of the ground floor. The iron pillars for the first story, too, have been set in place quite recently. Little now can be done until the completion of the walls to the height of the next story. If stone was forthcoming when required the masonry could be finished in two years. Failing that happy event, five years may run away before the carpenter may proceed to clap on the roof. And after that much more time may fly before the floors will be laid and the walls plastered and adorned, and the ingenuous devices of the plumber and heater set in place, and the painter's and glazier's adept hands stayed and the pampered officials deign to pronounce favorably on the work of the house-furnisher and the Legislative Assembly of Ontario move into its new home.

TICKETED TO TORONTO.

Buffalo's Missing Grain Man Supposed to Be in the Queen City.

BUFFALO, July 17. Wilson H. Sherman, of the Sherman Bros. & Co. grain firm, and associated with his brother in the management of the associated elevators, where a loss of $250,000 has recently been discovered through manipulation of receipts of grain, is believed to have reached Toronto this afternoon. He has not been heard of until to-day since the discovery of the crooked transactions. To-day he and his wife were seen at Niagara Falls, Ont., where Sherman had purchased tickets for Toronto. Wilson H. Sherman's story of the trouble is an unusually sought, but he has so far managed to elude interviewers as well as creditors.

Sherman is about 35 years old, of medium height and rather slight build. His features are small and regular, of Grecian cast, and his complexion light. He wore his dark blonde hair trimmed neatly, not cropped short, and a sandy mustache. He speaks in a slightly jerky manner with an almost imperceptible lisp and tenor voice. He is not pronounced in dress, yet neatly attired, and often wore clothes of lightish shade.

A Burglar's Haul—Getting Ready For the Carnival—Wedding Bells.

HAMILTON, July 17.—The arrangements for the military parade during the carnival are just getting into shape. It is proposed to have the Queen's Own, Royal Grenadiers and Governor-General's Body Guard of Toronto, the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, Seventy-seventh Battalion of Wentworth, the Burford and Grimsby Troops of the Third Canadian Cavalry, the Thirteenth Battalion and Hamilton Field Battery.

Two pairs of pantaloons, valued at $15, $200 in cash and a silk neck-scarf were stolen out of the bedroom of Mr. Albert King's house, No. 72 James street north, yesterday.

James McCleary, the tailor who drove away with Robert Hunter's horse and buggy on July 10, was sentenced by the Police Magistrate this morning to six months in the Central Prison.

The many friends in Toronto of Mr. Andrew Leitch, senior partner of the well known firm of Leitch & Turnbull, elevator manufacturers of Toronto and Hamilton, will be pleased to learn that he united his life and fortune with Miss Aggie Moore of Hamilton last evening. Both he and his fair young bride are well and favorably known in Toronto. Rev. Mungo Fraser, D.D., conducted the ceremony, after which the happy couple boarded the train for the west.

MUNCASTER'S

MR. TREVOR'S SECRETARY.

AN IDYLL OF TORONTO.

So he carefully avoided seeing her any more than was absolutely necessary. Of course, he had to meet her at the table, but there he never spoke unless, called upon to do so. He contented himself with stealing furtive glances at her, when he thought she was not looking. One evening she caught him; their eyes met; she blushed ever so little, and Arthur almost dropped his fork upon the floor. The next evening she looked around again, and saw him gazing at her with his peculiar wistful expression, and it occurred to her how lonely his life must be. She pitied him just a little, proud as she was, and for a moment that pity shone in her eyes. And then she smiled, only a faint little bit of a smile; but it set Arthur's heart bounding so furiously that he could not write a line that night, and he lay awake, tossing restlessly in his bed, until a late hour.

Day by day his love grew; and day by day how utterly mad was his passion. But he could not master it; it swayed his very being; it had its roots in the very foundations of his soul, and could not have been destroyed without the destruction of the soul. Once he thought that he would give up his position, go back to the drudgery of daily newspaper work, and try to forget her. But he was not strong enough for that; he could only wait there, and let the light of her eyes burn into his heart, making scars there that could never be effaced. Then for the first time he bitterly railed against fortune. If his father had lived, or left him the wealth he once possessed, he could have pressed his suit proudly and without fear of scorn. But now—he was only Mr. Trevor's private secretary.

"Est et fideli tuta silentio Merces."

He quoted those words of Horace's often, and wondered if his faithful silence would ever be rewarded. He saw that she often looked at him with an enquiring expression in her eyes; but he thought it was because she wondered how he had come to be under the necessity of accepting a subservient position.

His employer daily became more friendly to him. The old gentleman not only found his secretary useful, but companionable.

"Montgomery," he said, one day: "why don't you come down to the drawing-room in the evening sometimes?"

"I should not have presumed to do so without an invitation, sir. You have been very kind to me, but your wife might not—"

"My wife will receive you there, Montgomery; she has seen that you are a gentleman."

"Thank you, sir. It is long since I was in a drawing-room."

"Tell me something of your life, my boy," the old gentleman said, kindly. Sometimes he was very gentle, at others remarkably gruff.

"Oh, there's nothing to tell, sir," Arthur replied, laughingly: "I have seen better days, but that is the history of many men."

Mr. Trevor did not press the question; for, despite Arthur's laughter, he saw that the subject was painful to him. But that evening he sent a servant up to Arthur's room to ask him to come down to the drawing-room.

Only Mr. and Mrs. Trevor were in the room when he entered; Florence was in the adjoining reception-room, entertaining a gentleman. Arthur sat down, and was soon engaged in conversation with his employer, while Mrs. Trevor sat near by pretending to read, but in reality listening. Mr. Trevor had made some remark about Berlin, and Arthur, forgetting his silence in regard to his past life, had launched into a discussion of German life and politics.

Presently Florence and the gentleman, one of her numerous suitors, entered the room.

"Mamma," said Florence: "Mr. Lawrence has brought me a lot of new music; I am going to try some of it here. Will it annoy you and papa?"

"No, my child."

Mr. Trevor arose and, with a quiet dignity which showed the esteem in which he held his secretary, introduced Arthur to Mr. Lawrence.

The gentleman acknowledged the introduction very stiffly, and then, bending over the piano, immediately forgot Arthur's existence.

"Oh, pshaw!" exclaimed Florence, after a while: "this is too hard; I can't play it. I want to do so, too, for I think it is good. I wish I could play it. Why can't you play, Mr. Lawrence?"

"Really, Miss Trevor, I never studied music."

Arthur saw an opportunity to pay back Mr. Lawrence for his contemptuous manner. Bowing very respectfully to Florence, he said:

"Miss Trevor, perhaps I can be of service to you; will you permit me?"

"Yes," she replied very coldly, rising from the piano: "if you have nothing else to do just at this moment."

Arthur bit his lip, and his hands trembled just a little; but he sat down to the piano. The music was the Hungarian march from "la Damnation de Faust." He had not touched a piano during the three weeks he had been in the Trevor mansion, but he had been in splendid practice before that. He played the march as it can be played only by a thoroughly good pianist, and he was a master of the instrument. When he finished, he arose from the piano and bowed again very formally to Miss Trevor.

She was looking at him with the light of genuine pleasure in her eyes. She was passionately fond of music.

"Oh, thank you" she said: "I did not know that you could play like that, Mr. Montgomery. That was beautiful. But now I shall ask you to play some more."

"I am afraid," said Mr. Trevor, smiling: "that you have got yourself in for plenty of work, Montgomery."

"It is very pleasant to do such work," he answered: "and for Miss Trevor," he ventured to add.

She immediately became cool again, and gave him a surprised and offended glance.

He regretted his rashness, and recoated himself at the piano. Then a sudden inspiration came over him; he had offended her by his speech; he would touch her heart and win her forgiveness by his playing. He struck a few chords softly, choosing the inexpressibly tender and melancholy key—D flat minor. Then he ran through a few modulations, and glided into Chopin's beautiful funeral march. As he sat there the memory of the days when he had sat before the old familiar instrument in his father's house came over him—the days when he might have met this woman as his equal, and have told her of the love which was growing in his heart—and he played with a depth of feeling that astonished even himself.

When he finished they were all sitting in perfect silence. Even Mr. Lawrence had a curious expression of respect mingled with the annoyance in his face, while Mrs. Trevor looked surprised, and Florence had a suspicious moisture in her eyes.

"You must come down-stairs and play for us often," she said: "we rarely hear such music."

"Thank you," he answered, with a sigh: "I love to play; the music is interwoven with the sweetest memories of my life. But I prefer my violin; it is capable of more expression."

"You play the violin" asked Mr. Trevor.

"Yes, sir."

"We should all like to hear you play some night."

"I shall be happy to do anything to please you, sir."

A little later Arthur went up to his small room, and sat down to work at his novel.

"My music reached her heart," he thought: "at any rate, I have the satisfaction of knowing that I have touched what other men have failed to find. Oh, for the days of my father's wealth! If I could only tell her—if I only dared to show her; but she will never, never know what a wealth of love there is for her in my heart.

'And the tender grace of a day that is dead
Can never come back to me.'"

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

The Orange Funeral.

The funeral of the late John Smith, of Ashburnham, took place this afternoon with Orange ceremonial. In the afternoon he consecrated the R. C. cemetery.

A Boundary Dispute.

This morning Mr. Thos. Pratt, a resident of Simcoe street, was arraigned before the magistrate this morning charged with the use of bad language towards Mr. T. A. McMurtry. The case was the result of a dispute over a fence in dear of their premises, which adjoin each other. Pratt took down the fence to drive through, and Mr. McMurtry had it put up again. It was pulled down a second time by Mr. Pratt, and so on, until it was said the latter became very angry and was guilty of profanity. For this he was fined $2. Mr. Pratt said he was not at all in the habit of swearing, but his passion overcame him and he might have said something pretty hard. All he wanted was to be let alone and he wouldn't interfere with anyone.

The Excelsior Excursion.

Several things have led many at last to select the Excelsior excursion as the one they intend to take. First, it is under the auspices of the ladies. Then the choice of destination. If persons only wish to go to Toronto, they can have two days there, or if they wish to only spend a few hours in Toronto they can cross the lake and spend a day and a half at the beautiful Chautauqua, and hear Bishop Vincent's grand lecture, and also Miss Jessie Hall Wade, the New York songster; or, if preferred, half a day and the above named attractions can be taken in at the park, and half a day spent at the Falls. But the price is what is astonishing. Toronto $1.90, Chautauqua $2.15, the Falls $2.25, children half price. These inducements must make this excursion a grand success. d

The Situation Unchanged.

The Lock Works Moulders Still Out—A Statement of Their Claims.

The situation in the moulders' strike has not changed. The men are still out and express their determination to not return till their demands are acceded to. The management of the Lock Works are equally determined, but are willing to leave the matter to arbitration. This was proposed yesterday, and the managers of the works agreed to select a man from the factory and allow the moulders to choose another for the purpose of arbitration, but the committee refused to settle the matter that way. They claim that their demands are just, and deny the statement that the strike was brought about by a few of the men. They say it was unanimous, as was shown by the action of the men in walking out together. The moulders also say that Mr. Brook's comparison between the wages paid them and the men in the Wm. Hamilton works was unfair, as the latter are paid by the day and the former by the piece. Everyone knows what a difference that makes in the work.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Brooks, manager of the Lock works, told the EXAMINER today that he had seen eight of the striking moulders, and they all told him they were sorry the strike had occurred. They were satisfied with their wages, and did all they could to prevent it, but of course when the majority of the Union (not of the men of the shop, but of the moulders all over town) decided in favor of a strike they had to obey.

Mr. Brooks reiterated his previous statement as to the way he believed the strike was brought about, through the workings of a few discontented men. That the majority were satisfied with their wages, he thinks, is shown by the result of his morning's talk with the men. Mr. Brooks is, he says, ready to abide by the Union, but he considers the present strike is illegal, and was sprung on them unfairly. He telegraphed to Mr. P. J. Fitzpatrick, Cincinnati, President of the International Moulders' Union, regarding the strike, and received reply that that gentleman had heard nothing of the affair, but would investigate.

THEIR TERMS.

Yesterday afternoon the striking moulders held a meeting and made out a statement of their claim, which they presented to Mr. Brooks, as follows:

That there shall be no mould made in this shop less than 2½ cents single sprue job; that there shall be no two sprue job made less than 2½c; that we agree to make all single sprue jobs at 2½c. that are not over that now, and we agree to make all two sprue at 2½c. that are not over that now.

Mr. Brooks showed the statement to the EXAMINER and said that to the public generally a raise of a quarter of a cent might not appear very much, but when it was known that a moulder put up an average of 140 molds a day, it would be seen that their demand amounted to a raise of 12½ per cent or about 35c. a day. This was more than they were prepared to give, as the men made from $2.50 to $3 and over a day now.

In reply to a question as to how long the strike might last, Mr. Brooks said the company could hold out as long as they liked. They could run for some time yet and would then have to bring what they wanted from the other side. They could do it about as cheaply as they could make their own stuff.

An Elm Street Wedding Event

Nuptials of Mr. M. Eno and Miss Mary Cronin.

On Tuesday last, Miss Mary Cronin, eldest daughter of Mr. John Cronin 70 Elm street, was united in marriage to Mr. Michael Eano. The ceremony was preformed at St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. Father Dube. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Cronin and the groomsman Mr. Michael Whelan. The bridal party after the ceremony drove out to Lakefield, and returning to the home of the bride's father, the wedding dinner was partaken of by a large number of guests, and the evening passed in the usual festive and social manner, dancing continuing till 6 o'clock in the morning everybody sharing in the enjoyment the occasion afforded. The popularity of the bride is shown by the large number of presents received, of which the following is a list—Wine set, Miss Melane; parlor lamp, Mrs. J. Dwyer; glass set, Mr. J. Lynch; silver butter cooler, Miss Grace Gibson; stained glass water set, Miss Eliza Gibson; silver cruet stand, Mrs. V. Guerin; toilet set, Miss D. Archambault; Miss A. King, stained glass finger bowl and pitcher; pair vases, Miss Mary Jane McQuaid; glass water set, Mrs. Geo. Ahern; dozen goblets and glass pitcher, Mrs. C. Archambault; cheese dish, Miss Eliza Kane; cheese dish, Miss Ellen Hickey; glass water pitcher, Miss Mary Hoolihan; glass bread plates, Miss Mary Daly; silver butter cooler, Miss Alice Morrissey; dozen silver knives and forks, and alarm clock, Miss Nelly Cronin; china tea set, Miss Jane Cronin; glass dish, Mrs. Thomas Hickey; white bed-spread, Mrs. Thos. McQuade; table linen, Miss Nellie Casey; dozen linen towels, Mr. John Hickey; dozen table napkins, Mr. John Craig; parlor lamp, Mr. Thos. Cronin; five o'clock tea set, Mrs. McManus, and a large number of other presents. Mr. and Mrs. Eno have taken up residence on George street north and their numerous friends wish them many years of wedded prosperity and happiness.

News Nuggets.

—About twenty persons, detached members of camping parties, a good many of them strangers, went out to Stony Lake this morning.

—The city bill poster is sad. The large bill board on Simcoe street, next the Phelan House, one of the largest in town, has been torn down and is being replaced by a six foot fence.

—One case of diphtheria, the only one in the town or village, has been discovered in Ashburnham. Dr. Clarke, medical health officer, has taken prompt steps to prevent the spread of the contagion.

A medical man, from the window of the EXAMINER sanctum, regarded with great interest the unloading of a carload of water melons at a fruit store opposite, and rubbed his hands with glee, as he thought of the probabilities of midnight calls involved in the consumption of the consignment.

The Human Breath a Poison.

The Paris correspondent of the Medical Press and Circular reports that at the last meeting of the Academies des Sciences Prof. Brown-Sequard referred to some experiments he had conducted with a view to determine what, if any, were the toxic effects of the human breath.

In condensing the watery vapor coming from the human lungs, he obtained a poisonous liquid capable of producing almost immediate death. This poison is an alkaloid (organic), and not a microbe or a series of microbes, as might have been imagined.

He injected this liquid under the skin of a rabbit, and the effect was speedily mortal. The animal died without convulsions; the heart and large vessels were engorged with reddish blood, contrary to what is observed after ordinary death, when the quality of blood is moderate and of a dark color.

In conclusion, this eminent physiologist said that it was fully proved that respired air contained a volatile toxic principle far more dangerous than the carbonic acid, which was also one of its constituents, and that the human breath, as well as that of animals, contains a highly-poisonous agent.

The Market Building.

Is it Necessary to Raise $25,000 for the Purpose?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—This is a most important question for the ratepayers to consider and I have read with great interest the different letters which have appeared in the papers regarding the proposed market, and there is but little doubt, some have been written either by councillors themselves, or by someone speculating or bargaining for one of the contemplated stores on the ground floor of the building, but who as an excuse, accuse those who think differently to themselves, with unmeetness and laziness, not to be able to go once a week up stairs, when they have to go up and down stairs every day in their own homes. If such a plea will help their scheme along, I think at least the majority of the ratepayers will look at it in a different light. There are things in our daily life which money cannot make avoidable, and we are to submit to them with the best grace possible, and even the sick and infirm have to make their way at great inconvenience up and down stairs. But, fortunately, we live in an age where all provide themselves with comforts according to their means, and why should not the ratepayers in a community do so, not only for their own general benefit, but as well as for those who bring their produce to the market, often almost worn out by heat and inclemency of the weather. Peterborough wants a market building but not such a one as our council has proposed to build, asking the ratepayers to vote $25,000 that they may speculate in building stores and make the market question of secondary consideration. I hardly think the ratepayers will submit to such a scheme on the promise, by our council, of a good revenue to the town. Surely if Peterborough's trade suffered for the want of stores, some of our men who sit in our council chamber would as private individuals soon find means to supply such a want. It is unfortunate, and it may cause our council some inconvenience to have been in such a great haste about the selection of the site for the market building, as I maintain, and no doubt most others will agree with me, that a market building should have no connection with any other building and have an entrance from each side; and such a building the ratepayers could have for less than half of the amount asked for. In conclusion, if our council succeeds in carrying out their project which they have commenced before taking a vote of the people, then voting may well be dispensed with for the future, concerning money matters.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, etc.,
WM. LECH.

A Wife's Crime.

She Murders Her Husband with Rat Poison—She Refused to send for a Doctor—Left Her Husband to Die Alone like a Rat in its Hole—A Verdict of Wilful Murder.

The Globe of to-day has a two column and a half report of a terrible murder near Brighton, (which by the way is a clean scoop on the other Toronto dailies). It appears that on the 7th of May last, George Breeze, a man aged 60 years, died, without any of his intimate friends or neighbors being aware of his illness. His wife—a second wife, and considerably younger than the husband, accounted for his death by the statement that he had taken rat poison. Suspicion was aroused that her story was not true—a coroners' jury was empanelled, and after patient investigation the truth has come to light. Mrs. Breeze has a step daughter aged ten years, very shrewd for her years. It appears that she was under the terrorizing influence of the step-mother since the poisoning, but the Coroner succeeded in eliciting the truth from her, and on Saturday last she told an awful story of female depravity which is corroborated by other facts. The heartless wife told the child she intended to "fix him," meaning the father and husband. She mixed rat poison in some fruit for the father, of which she did not eat nor allow the child to eat. The father was, of course, taken ill. He asked the wife for a drink which she gave him, putting in a little more poison. Successive does of poison were given, and during all the agony the husband was suffering the wife refused to send for a doctor. He was left alone at night and the little girl going upstairs in the dark found her father dead. He was out of bed leaning on the window. The child in her evidence stated that the woman left the bottle of poison in a cupboard in the husband's room so that if it were found the conclusion would be that the man committed suicide.

The coroner's jury found that "George Breeze, at the Township of Murray, on the 7th day of May, 1889, came to his death by arsenic poison administered to him by Ellen, alias Nellie Breeze, and that the said Ellen, alias Nellie Breeze on the 7th day of May, 1889, at the said Township of Murray, did feloniously, wilfully and of malice aforethought, kill and murder the said George Breeze."

A warrant was immediately issued, and the accused woman, Nellie Breeze, was arrested and lodged in Cobourg gaol. The bottle containing the deadly poison, which Lena Breeze said her stepmother had hid in a little cupboard in the dead man's bedroom, so that if discovered it might leave the impression that he had poisoned himself, was found by one of the jurors on Saturday night exactly where the little girl said it was. The fact that the "murder is out" at last is largely due to the ability and astuteness of the Coroner and Crown Attorney, who were determined to probe to the bottom for the truth, the whole truth, of this shocking case.

Obituary.

The Late John Thorn.

The oldest settler in the township of Cavan, Mr. John Thorn, died on Monday, July 1st, 1889, in his 92nd year. Mr. Thorn was born in Davenport, England, and left there on Christmas Day, 1815, and landed in Savanah, Georgia, in February. In the fall of 1817 he settled in Cavan, drawing the land from the Government in that year, where he has lived ever since. Mr. Thorn on first settling in the township took an active part in everything that was for the future welfare of the fine locality he selected for his permanent home, being the first Reeve of Cavan, and continued to represent the township in this capacity for twenty-five years. Any stranger, on taking a trip through this locality can everywhere see the effect of his foresight and ability, as a representative of the people. He was one of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for over 40 years, and any evil doers who were ever brought before him always got their just deserts. His word was as good as his bond during life, and no person ever questioned his word. He held the commission of Captain in the Militia in the early part of his settlement here, and took an active part in the Mackenzie Rebellion in 1837. He was married in the year 1821, to Ellen Redmond, who died in the year 1884, being 83 years of age. This staunch old couple raised 12 of a family—eight sons and four daughters—of whom four sons and one daughter are now living, George, William—who lives on the homestead John who lives in South Monaghan; and Robert, who lives in the township of Ops. Mrs. Thorndyke, mother of the Deputy-Reeve of Cavan, is the surviving sister. Mr. Thorn, by hard work and great ability, accumulated a large amount of this world's goods, and leaves a large estate behind him. He was also a Conservative, the Right Hon. Sir John Macdonald being a close personal friend of his. He was a member of the Church of England, and by his liberal bequests, is remembered as one of the earliest and strongest supporters of this church. He was buried in St. Paul's (Front) Church Burying Ground, Cavan, on Wednesday, July 3rd, the funeral being the largest ever held here.—Millbrook Reporter.

Sports and Pastimes.

Peterborough Defeats Lakefield at Cricket—Sporting Notes.

Yesterday an eleven of the cricket club captained by Mr. J. H. Barnham went out to Lakefield to try conclusions with the village club. It resulted in a regular Waterloo for the home team, who were defeated by an innings and 93 runs.

Peterborough went to bat shortly after eleven o'clock, and the runs began to come quickly. Attewell and Sam Ray led off, but the latter was unfortunately caught on a well played ball, after he had made 14. Hamilton's stumps were shivered before he could "get his hand in" or a single run made. Stirling then joined Attewell and together they ran the score up to over a hundred by careful but rapid work with the willow. Both showed good form, and when Attewell was clean bowled for 53, the top score of the day, he was deservedly applauded. Salisbury and Stirling continued the run-getting till about half-past one, when an adjournment was made for lunch. By this time the score had been run up to 143 runs for a loss of only three wickets.

After lunch Stirling and Salisbury resumed, but the very first ball, an underhand "skew" from Cooper, took Stirling's wickets, and he retired with a well-earned 46. Gower and Salisbury next made a stand, each scoring 25 by steady play. After this the wickets went down in rapid order, and the eleven went out for an even total of 200.

The Lakefield bowling was indifferent, while their fielding was worse. Cooper with his underhand "creepers" was the most successful. Mansfield, Brown, R. H. Strickland and P. Strickland also took a turn at trundling the ball.

Lakefield's two innings only netted 107 runs. Of this Mr. Percy Strickland got 36 in the first innings by heavy hitting and a liberal share of good luck. The Peterboroughs' fielding was not up to the mark, either. Attewell and Hamilton bowled both innings, honors being about equally divided. In Lakefield's second the field braced up and some good catches were made, notably Minore's left-hander at short leg and Salisbury's one-hand catch of a high liner at mid-on.

In the appended score only the Peterborough bowling analysis is given, the record of the other being incomplete.

Mr. W. J. Green acted efficiently as umpire for Peterborough.

Sporting Notes.

This evening the Association and Athletic Ashburnham nines meet on the P. A. A. A. grounds. Both clubs will put on strong teams and a good game is expected.

Next Monday the first eleven of the Peterborough Cricket Club starts out on a three days' tour. On Monday they play Toronto at Toronto, on Tuesday Hamilton at Hamilton, and on Wednesday Guelph at Toronto. If they win these three matches their percentage will go up.

The Millbrook baseball club intends holding a baseball tournament about August 10th. The Peterborough club has been invited to participate.

A meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse club is called for to-morrow evening at the Phelan House. A large attendance is requested as matters affecting the club's welfare will be discussed.

To-morrow night at eight o'clock a meeting of the P.A.A.A. will be held at Schofield's drug store for the purpose of electing a lawn tennis committee.

Personal.

Mr. J. E. Jaques, of St. Thomas, late organist of the St. Luke's church here, is in town on his holidays. St. Thomas in his opinion does not compare with Peterborough.

Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, conducted confirmation services in the Catholic church at Campbellford, the Herald says, on Sunday morning last. About fifty persons took their places before the Bishop to receive the blessings of the sacred ceremony. The church was crowded, and many in the congregation had to stand throughout the service. Quite a number of persons of other denominations were present.

Mr. J. G. Foster is in town soliciting orders for a new work entitled, "Living Leaders of the World." This book is beautifully illustrated and comprises graphic biographies of the men of the greatest eminence, influence, wealth, power or fame in the world of commerce, science, literature or art. The price is reasonable, and, the work being one of great value, Mr. Foster will doubtless secure orders in town for a large number of copies.

A Singular Recluse.

LISTOWEL, July 17.—There is a singular character residing in the township of Wallace. He lives in a shanty about 10 by 12, and the stove he uses is in as many pieces as there are days in the month, and attached to it is a piece of stove pipe, but the smoke does not go out of it, as it finds readier egress by the many cracks in the stove. One day last week the township officials were notified that he was unwell and it was feared in want. A committee of two visited him, and found a state of affairs that most beggars description. The man was dressed in three articles of attire—a pair of pants so short in the legs as not to come below the knees, the remains of a shirt, of which half of each sleeve and the greater part of the front were missing, and a bit of black silk, like part of an old necktie, round his neck. His feet and legs were so black that but for his face he might have been taken for an African. The floor of his hut was strewn so thickly with the remains of food and the ashes from the stove that it was impossible to tell if there were boards beneath their feet or whether the visitors stood on an earthen floor. Arrangement, were made for having his immediate wants provided for and the place cleaned out. The most strange part of the story is that the occupier and owner of the hut is a clergyman of the Church of England in good standing and holds the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the University of Cambridge, England. Dr. Standish has informed the township council that the man is not fit to be left alone.

The Deadly Picnic Ice Cream.

At a Kingston picnic the other day, the hot weather invited a liberal consumption of ice cream, and soon after a deathly sickness overtook the picnicers, due to the ice cream, and only by the timely aid of two doctors were lives saved. However one sure way to allay thirst safely and delightfully, too, is by using only Hawley Bros. choice teas—the pure leaf of the tea plant, properly matured, properly cured, and properly secured at the lowest prices in large lots, and properly insured to the public at the lowest prices in the district. For first class fresh fragrant teas and pure coffees go to Hawley Bros. George street Peterborough.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tnfw

The markets are at there dullest now—the farmers being in the midst of their busy season. There is almost no movement in grain. The tendency of the outside markets is to strengthen the local market.

London Electric Soap will not injure the hands or clothes, and do more work for the money—try it.

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"
"No."
"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low prices."
"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."
"Yes you do. Just look at this one! What better would you want than that?"
"That is good. Who took it?"
"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar.
"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."
"Every bit. Oh, Mr. Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

YOUR FEET!

This is THE roasting weather that tries and sells upon the feet. Are you experiencing that foot agony and torture of wearing the "Culled" grades of so-called Summer shoes sold elsewhere? Well, you have our sympathy, but you'll never cure corns or bunions with "sympathy." But, really, we can't consistently pity you much when you can get perfect ease and save money by using John McNaughton's

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED,

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL. IX. NO. 16. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape and they will not crack. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

A CRIME IN A CHURCH.

THE BODY OF AN INFANT FOUND HALF CREMATED.

Fatal Quarrel at Montreal—An Epidemic of Murder in the States—Dr. McDowell's Peculiar Punishment.

BRIGHT, July 18.—A diabolical crime was perpetrated in the Mennonite Church, five miles north of this place, last night.

A person was seen coming out of the church at 9 o'clock at night. Immediately after fire was seen to emanate from the chimney.

Mr. Menno Bean went into the church this morning, and on examining a stove found the head of a child with the body cremated.

It had been saturated with coal oil.

A Montreal Murder.

MONTREAL, July 18.—Last night the harbor police arrested two men, Joseph Drouin and Joseph Belleau, for fighting on the wharves. They were taken to the station and lodged in the cells, but after a few hours Drouin was found dead. One of those who witnessed the fight says that he first observed Belleau knock Drouin down, who in falling struck his head on one of the rails of the track. He, however, got up and Belleau knocked him down again, and when the police arrived he was still lying there. Drouin came from Quebec and is about 50 years of age, while his assailant, Belleau, is about 21 years of age and resides in St. Paul-street.

A Deserted Wife's Crime.

PITTSBURG, July 18.—Early this morning the bodies of Mrs. John McGregor and two children were discovered in ten inches of water in a creek near Youngstown. The woman had first drowned her children and then herself. Her husband had left her in destitute circumstances, and yesterday she had to beg for food.

A Wild Western Murder.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., July 18.—A. W. Cullen shot and killed Ron J. Charles and Frank Work at his mining camp at Orofino Monday evening. Cullen has been arrested, but will only say he was justified in killing the men. Witnesses say Charles and Work attempted to drive Cullen from his mining claim when he shot them. Cullen was formerly a member of the Kansas Legislature.

The Gamblers' Revenge.

COFFEYVILLE, Miss., July 18.—Jim Gilman, a negro of Graysport, at the last term of the court in Grenada County, reported quite a number of parties for gambling, for which they swore vengeance. Last Thursday night Gilman was murdered and his body thrown into the Yallabusha River, where it was found Tuesday. Several arrests have been made.

A Carolina Murderer's Punishment.

CHARLESTON, S.C., July 18.—Dr. McDow, the slayer of Captain Dawson, was expelled from the South Carolina Medical Society today for immoral, unprofessional and ungentlemanly conduct.

Beat His Mother-in-Law to Death.

MORRISTOWN, N.Y., July 18.—Yesterday at Hibernia, a mining town, Martin Boyvan brutally beat his wife and his mother-in-law. The latter died in a very few hours. Boyvan was arrested. It is supposed he also robbed his mother-in-law.

Death of Thomas McIntyre.

ST. CATHARINES, July 18.—Thomas McIntyre died here this evening. Mr. McIntyre was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of St. Catharines. He was head of the firm of McIntyre & Sons, undertakers. Mr. McIntyre leaves a large family, all grown up, amongst whom is Mayor J. B. McIntyre of this city. Mr. McIntyre was about 86 years old and a native of Scotland.

Sir Julian Off for England.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, to-day bade the State Department officials adieu for a season. He sails from New York on the Etruria for England. He will return here in October, bringing his family.

Old Maids' Lives Not Worth Living.

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., July 18.—Angetta and Miriam Borgs, maiden sisters living just over the line in Jackson County, committed suicide Tuesday by taking arsenic. They left a letter signed jointly saying there was nothing in life for old maids and they were tired of it. They were in fair circumstances.

Mexican Pleasantries.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 18.—To-day the anniversary of the death of ex-President Juarez was celebrated by the Liberals by a grand procession to the cemetery where Juarez is buried. The students in the procession yelled "Death to the Clergy!" "Death to the Conservatives!"

A TORONTO TRAGEDY.

A MADMAN AT THE ASYLUM KILLS A FELLOW PATIENT.

Hector Macdonald a Victim of Richard Potter's Insane Delusion—Two Missing Men—A Fatal Fall.

TORONTO, July 19.—About 1:30 yesterday morning as Night-watchman C. Clarke was pacing the corridors of the Asylum he heard a noise in the northwest dormitory of Ward No. 4. He immediately ran to the spot whence the sound came. On the floor was Hector Macdonald with the blood pouring from a gaping wound in his neck and over him stood Richard Porter with the night-pail in his hand. When he saw the watchman at the door he sprang at him, threatening to dash his brains out. Other attendants, however, were summoned and Potter was locked up in a cell by himself. Examination showed that Macdonald's throat had been cut from ear to ear. A piece of sharpened hoop iron was found in the room, which Potter afterwards admitted he had picked up in the yard. Dr. Clarke was seen at the asylum and gave this statement of the tragedy:

"Richard Potter, the man who did the killing, you can't call him a murderer—has been an inmate here for nine months. He came from near Whitby, and was a quiet, inoffensive patient, with a religious mania. He imagined that the Almighty was constantly telling him to do things. His victim was Hector Macdonald, from the County of Grey. He has been here since 1875.

"From what Potter has told us to-day I think that he had become possessed of the delusion that God had ordered him to kill two other men and then himself, the two others representing the two thieves who were crucified and he representing Christ. A few days ago, while walking around the grounds, he picked up a piece of iron hoop about three inches long, and sharpened it on the brick wall. This he concealed in his ward. He slept in a room with six other patients. About 1 o'clock in the morning he got up with the idea of killing the men who slept on each side of him. Macdonald was one of them and Potter cut his throat, making a frightful gash. The blood poured out on the bed and ran down on the floor, making an awful mess. The noise attracted the night watch, and when he came in Potter attacked him. Potter is a very strong man, and the guard saw that he could not overpower him alone. He ran down to call assistance, and when he returned with more attendants Potter had attacked the man sleeping on the other side of him, but had not had time to do him any injury. The weapon was taken away from Potter and he has quieted down, but does not realize what he has done."

At the inquest held by Coroner Duncan at the asylum last night a verdict of death with blame attachable to no one was returned.

A very serious accident, which in one instance at least has resulted fatally, occurred at the new Rose-avenue school yesterday afternoon. About 3.30 a cross bar supporting a scaffold gave way, precipitating those on it, three in number, to the ground. One of them Alexander Carney, residing in Church-street, near Carlton, was killed outright, and Coroner Duncan will open an inquest on the body at 11 p.m. to-day. The other two, Samuel Garland, 93 Boulton-avenue, and John Cowdy, 111 Sherbourne-street, were seriously hurt, both being removed to the Hospital in the ambulance. A bricklayer's laborer named Adam Colter also sustained several injuries but refused to be taken to the Hospital.

Dr. E. H. Dewart of The Christian Guardian presided over the 31st annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association yesterday. The gathering was at the Rosain House, and there were present members of the association from all parts of Canada. These officers were elected: R. V. Somerville, President; Andrew Pattullo, 1st Vice-President; H. P. Moore, 2nd Vice-President; W. R. Climie, Secretary-Treasurer; J. B. Trayes, Assistant Secretary. Executive Committee—H. Hough, D. Creighton, L. C. Jackson, L. A. Davidson, J. S. Brinsly.

At the meeting of the council this evening, the treasurer will present a message advising that preliminary steps be taken towards making Ashbridge's Bay the east end entrance of Toronto harbor. This scheme, besides giving Toronto about 5 miles more lake front, involves the reclaiming of several hundred acres of land.

Baggageman James McLachlan appeared in court yesterday morning to prosecute G.T.R. Constable William H. Dixon for attempting to murder him on the 13th of last month. After his evidence the Police Magistrate committed the prisoner for trial, refusing to accept bail.

The Mayor and Treasurer will sail from Liverpool for home a week from Saturday.

A well dressed young woman named Mrs. Cameron, was charged before the Police Magistrate with vagrancy yesterday morning. She pleaded not guilty being remanded till to day. Six years ago she married Mr. Cameron at Collingwood. She afterwards became stage struck and joined a dramatic company. The concern failed, and her husband, who was manager, disappeared. The present action is taken to compel Mrs. Cameron to disclose the whereabouts of her young sister whom she enticed from home.

John Zuill, of the firm of Zuill & Harvis, left his home on Tuesday morning ostensibly to go to his place of business. Nothing has been heard of him since, and as he had between $200 to $300 on him at the time his friends fear foul play. His friends in Hamilton were communicated with but they know nothing of him.

Johanna Smith, a young woman, was sent to penitentiary yesterday for two years for larceny.

President McMillan has been in communication through a mutual friend with a big syndicate which intends erecting a mammoth iron smelting establishment. The choice of a site rests between this city, Montreal and Hamilton.

William Rowe of Seaton Village has been missing since Dominion Day. He was standing with his wife and children at King and Yonge-streets when the procession approached. He told his wife that he wanted to see a man across the road and would be back in a few minutes. He has not been seen since.

With reference to a Chicago dispatch stating that a Mrs. Robinson of Chicago had obtained a decree of divorce from her husband, Dr. H. Robinson of this city, upon the alleged ground of cruelty in compelling her to live with his paramour, it has been learned upon enquiry that Dr. Robinson never heard of this charge until it was brought under his notice in the newspapers relating thereto and has had no opportunity whatever of defending himself in court or of opposing the granting of the decree, and in fact claims that he does not know what the charge is supposed to refer to. He characterises the whole thing as a wicked slander invented for a base purpose.

U.S. Teachers "Enthused."

NASHVILLE, July 18.—Secretary Canfield aroused much enthusiasm in the National Educational Association to-day by informing the convention and President Marble that a great grandson of "Old Hickory" Jackson was yesterday born at the Hermitage, and the child had been named Albert Marble Jackson in honor of the Presidents of the Association. A committee composed of a delegate from each state and territory and Canada was appointed to call upon Mrs. James K. Polk and convey to her the respects, congratulations and compliments of the association. A committee was appointed to consider the needs of the United States in a bureau of education and to memorialize Congress on the subject.

A 4-Year-Old Child's Lonely Journey.

PORT HURON, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln of Port Huron went to Central Africa to do missionary work. Mrs. Lincoln soon sickened and died and Mr. Lincoln started for the coast, hoping to return home. After journeying six weeks he died as the Zulu station and a local missionary who corresponded with Mrs. Lincoln's father, Rev. Israel Mudge of Smith's Creek, determined to send Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln's only child home. So a huge tag was sewed to the clothing of the little 4-year-old orphan, on which were written the necessary directions and she was started towards America in March last. On Tuesday she reached Port Huron and friends safe and sound, having traveled 6000 miles alone.

300 PERSONS EVICTED.

On the St. Paul Levee Without Shelter—A Syndicate Wanted the Land.

ST. PAUL, July 18.—The Oppenheim Syndicate, consisting of half a dozen millionaires resident in St. Paul and New York, yesterday completed the wholesale eviction of squatters on its property, known as the Upper Flats. As a result of the evictions upward of sixty families, numbering about 300 persons, are now located on the levee, without shelter of any kind, guarding their small possessions and appealing to the city for either work or food. The city aided the syndicate agents in clearing the property of squatters and razing their houses. A force of twenty men of the Engineers' Department, protected by Police Lieut. Cook and a squad, was employed in locating the streets and removing the shanties which were within street lines.

Some of the squatters have lived on the flats as long as fifteen years, but the continual presence of the officers cowed them and there was no show of resistance. The women pleaded and cried in vain and the men stood by stoically and watched the destruction of their shanties. The syndicate plat, the ground and the streets will be graded and the property, over which there has been so much dispute, will be put on the market for sale.

DETECTIVE NORRIS TALKS.

Why He is Anxious to Arrest Mitchell—80 Men to be Indicted.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Detective Norris of Mississippi to-night said he had informed Governor Lowry that he had been refused warrants for the arrest of Mitchell and Donovan. The Governor telegraphed in reply:

"You need not arrest and detain parties as fugitives from justice of this state as you suggested. We will wait the investigation of the grand jury. Ascertain facts as instructed and report to me."

Norris said he has been getting names, addresses and all possible information about the participants in the fight from the principals down. He denied that he was to get $250 for taking the Kilrain party safely through Mississippi to New Orleans. Norris said he would be sorry to see Muldoon get into trouble, as the wrestler did him a favor years ago. Norris remarked:

"The reason I want to arrest Mitchell is that he is an Englishman intending to leave the country. I have looked for him for two days." Norris said nothing further could be done in the matter until the Mississippi grand jury meets in September. Then about 80 men will be indicted. It is said to-night that Muldoon is still at Long Branch.

IS THERE A DEAL ON?

Reported Purchase of the Chicago and Alton by the Missouri Pacific.

NEW YORK, July 18.—All day Wall-street was keps busy with reports of conferences of railroad officials and bankers. After the close of the exchange it was asserted that the sale of the Chicago and Alton to the Missouri Pacific had been completed and the first deposit of the purchase money, amounting to $2,000,000, had already been made. Neither Vanderbilt, Peabody & Co., nor Drexel, Morgan & Co. would admit they had any knowledge of the deal. The probability that Missouri Pacific would control the Alton caused a sharp decline to-day in Richmond Terminal. The latter extended the Georgia Pacific connection with the Gould system on an understanding that it would be given all the business east of the Mississippi.

The Alton Not for Sale.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Officials of the Chicago and Alton road assert there is no truth in the rumor that negotiations are in progress for the sale of that property. They declare the road is not for sale.

The Muskoka Poet Killed by a Train.

PENETANG, July 18.—Asa Gildersleeve Churchill, the Muskoka poet, was killed by a train one day last week on the N.Y., P. & O. railway, at Corming, N.Y. Over 30 years ago he left his home in Pennsylvania for a visit to Canada, intending to return in a month or two. He visited Niagara Falls and then wandered around till he struck Collingwood, where he fell in love with a widow and married her—he being a widower when he left the States. From Collingwood he went to Parry Sound and located a farm there, and he made that his home till his second wife died. Twelve years ago he went to Huntsville, where he married another widow, but she followed the other two a couple of years ago. The old man made his living by writing postical effusions about small towns, villages, lumber camps and business ventures. He always traveled on foot and several times passed through Penetang. He left Huntsville about six weeks ago to walk to his old home in Pennsylvania, to pay his children a visit, as he had not seen them or written home since coming to Canada. This was a great undertaking for a man over 90 years of age. The poor old fellow was run down by an express train while footing it along the ties on a Pennsylvania railroad almost within sight of his old home.

One of Burns' Victims.

KINGSTON, July 18.—A widow woman in this city placed about eight years ago over $400 in the Postoffice Savings Bank. She never drew a cent and did not even send her book to Ottawa. As she could neither read not write a friend asked to see her book. It had $25 marked in it as drawn. The figures were very small. The Postmaster-General was communicated with and this morning the widow received a letter stating that $250 had been withdrawn by her. She says she never got a copper out of the bank. Mr. Burns handled her book.

Britishers Invade the U. S. Whisky Field.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The representative of a British syndicate in this city has just completed a deal for the purchase of all the land, buildings and brick he longing to Wahl Brothers of Blue Island for $150,000. The syndicate will immediately proceed to construct additions to the present buildings and convert the big brickyard into a model distillery equal to any in the West. The newcomers will not join the Whisky Trust and a lively war between English and American capital will be the result.

Settlement in Council.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The semi-annual meeting of the Eastern Association of Glass Bottle Manufacturers was held here to-day. William Brookfield of New York, president of the association, presided. The demands of the workmen both regarding wages and the limitation of apprentices, the association decided strenuously to resist. The meeting also decided that hereafter manufacturers shall insist that American boys be allowed to learn the trade instead of importing foreigners when there is a scarcity of workmen in the country.

Struck Against a Reduction.

PATERSON, N.J., July 18.—In all the principal silk throwing mills here notices were posted to-day ordering a reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of winders, doublers and dauters. The reduction is attributed to dull business; 300 operatives struck at once and 200 more are expected to strike Monday. If the strike continues a great many soft silk workers will also be thrown out of employment. Nearly all the operatives are girls from 16 to 20 years old.

Sale of a Colorado Road.

DENVER, Col., July 18.—The Denver and South Park road was sold last night under a foreclosure of a $1,500,000 mortgage held by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. The road was purchased by representatives of the old stockholders for $3,000,000. It is under stood the road will be under the management of the Union Pacific.

C. P. R. Earnings.

MONTREAL, July 18.—The traffic returns of the Canadian Pacific Railway from July 7 to July 14 were $286,000, an increase over last year of $33,000. This does not include earnings on the Southeastern Railway.

The Peru Contract.

LIMA, Peru, July 18.—The first seven clauses of the Grace-British bondholders' contract with Peru have been approved by the Chamber of Deputies. The seventh requires Peru to pay to the British bondholders' committee $80,000 annually for thirty-three years. It is believed the acceptance of the remaining articles is assured.

The Montreal Corporation will probably resist Miss Tibbett's claim for damages for false arrest in the Mulcahy case.

THE MARKET BUILDING BY-LAW.

At this season of the year, when business is, to a large extent, dormant and the energies of the people generally are devoted to keeping cool, it is a difficult matter to arouse public attention to the point of taking an active interest in public matters. Yet there are, however, two important by-laws awaiting the decision of the ratepayers and as they are important both from the fact of their involving the raising and expending of considerable amounts, and in their effect upon the public interests of the town, it is to be hoped that the apathy of the people will be laid aside and that a large vote will be recorded. As is already known, the market building by-law provides for the issue of debentures to the amount of $25,000 for the purpose of erecting a new market building worthy, not only of the town in its present condition but one that will remain worthy of it in the improved condition which the present indications are it will arrive at with the steady and rapid progress of improvement now prevailing. That such a building is necessary, is generally admitted. The old structure, which has for years so inefficiently and discreditably answered the purposes of a market building, can disappear none too soon. The space it now encumbers can be used to far better advantage. While we are building a new market building we might as well have a good one that will answer the purpose for years to come. That the general plans now under consideration will meet this requirement is not seriously denied, although there is legitimate ground for difference of opinion as to the propriety of placing the market room on the second floor, the advocates of this plan claim that the market room thus placed will be of large extent, suitable for all possible needs; it will be well warmed and in all respects comfortable, and a great contrast to the venerable brick barn in which farmers' wives and town housewives have heretofore been compelled to transact their business. It is objected in some quarters that there are stairs to surmount to reach this room. There force in this objection, but the second floor party says the solid advantages which would have to be sacrificed, would not warrant the placing of the market room on the first floor. It is proposed to have a series of shops for rental on the first floor, and, it is claimed on one hand that the revenue derived therefrom will more than meet all charges upon the funds borrowed for the construction of the building. This is however a question that may very properly be left to the people for decision, for the people alone, after all, are interested and should be allowed to decide. If they decide that the second floor is what they want, then the present plans can be carried out in their entirety, if they wish to have the market room on the first floor it will have to be placed there, and the plans will require to be changed accordingly. The by-law to be voted on Monday, the 29th day of July next, provides for the issue of debentures to the amount of $25,000, but it is not probable that the whole of this sum will be required for the construction of the building, in which event the by-law provides that "no greater amount of debentures shall be issued than shall be required" to complete the building. The council claims that the rental of the shops will, at the outset, cover the amount required for interest and sinking fund, with the certainty that, as the town grows, the increase of rental values will more than suffice to meet all possible changes, and yield a surplus beyond what is required to extinguish the debentures on their maturity, thirty years hence. And any surplus, of which it is claimed there is pretty sure to be no small sum, will be applied to the reduction of the general debenture debt of the town. It does not appear that the construction of the new buildings can be otherwise than for the good of the town. A large well-built, handsome and imposing structure will occupy what is now practically unused ground, which is, now, seldom if ever required for market purposes, the eastern and southern sides being ample for all market uses. A handsome clock tower will adorn the new building, which will be of a character and style which will favourably impress visitors to the town arriving by any of the railway lines. The building will be a credit to the appearance of the town, it will supply ample and creditable market accommodation. That the market building is needed is conceded, but the matter of details admits of difference of opinion. The advocates of a first floor market room bring many strong arguments in its favour, but all of their arguments will fall flat if they are not expressed in a formal manner at the polls. As before said the people are alone interested and the people alone can decide this question. It is to be hoped that sufficient public interest will be aroused to give the matter full consideration. The matter should not be allowed to go by default either way.

SIX MEN DROWNED.

Fatal Voyage on a Raft in the Upper Ottawa—The Victims' Names Unknown.

OTTAWA, July 18.—Joseph Boivin, who arrived in the city yesterday on a raft of square timber from the Upper Ottawa, reports that six men were drowned on the way here. There were three different accidents. The first occurred at Recline Captaines, four men losing their lives through the breaking up of a crib on which they were while passing through the rapids. At the Joachims the second accident occurred, where another man lost his life through the parting of a crib. Calumet was the scene of the last fatality, where a man was drowned off the crib while running the rapids. The names of the men are not known, but it is thought they belong to Quebec. They were returning from the shanties where they had been working for the last six months.

A Farmer for Queensland.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Last December the Chief Secretary at Brisbane, Queensland, requested the Department of Agriculture here to nominate to that Government a person to be appointed Instructor in Agriculture. Secretary Rusk to-day appointed Professor Edward M. Shelton of Manhattan, Kas., to the position. Professor Shelton has for many years been Professor of Practical Agriculture in the Kansas State Agricultural College. He has also been connected with the Michigan Agricultural College and engaged in teaching and practising agriculture under the auspices of the Japanese Government.

A Multiplicity of Causes.

HARRISBURG, July 18.—The following is the verdict of the jury in the coroner's inquest relative to the death of Thomas Kinney last Saturday evening. The shock we find to have resulted from a variety of causes—first, the deceased was pushed out of barroom of the Mansion House by one Alfred Durham and afterwards fell upon the platform; second, from intense excitement, as exhibited by him during the day because of a legal decision regarding a liquor license in the village; third, from the amount of liquor he drank and from the excessive heat of the day; fourth, from the affected state of his heart, as shown by the evidence of four medical witnesses.

How to Get Rid of a Husband.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Wilhelm Feintuch of No. 76 Willett-street took a trip to Germany last February for the benefit of his health. He didn't wish to go, but his wife persuaded him and bade him an affectionate farewell. He returned June 28 last and was amazed to learn that during his absence his wife had obtained a divorce and was living with Simon Hartman, who had been a boarder with them. The case had been heard before Referee Frederick W. Diehl. Hartman swore that he had served the papers in the suit on Feintuch, who had fled to Germany. Yesterday Mrs. Feintuch and Hartman were arrested on a charge of perjury and held for examination. Feintuch is still in love with his wife and would forgive her if she consented to set aside the divorce, but she says she hates him.

The Electric Light

is a matter of small importance compared with other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficent power. Nerviline, pleasant to take, even by the youngest child, yet so powerfully far reaching in its work, that even the most agonizing ginternal pain yields as if by magic. Neglect no longer to try Nerviline. Buy to-day a 10 cent trial bottle and be relieved from all pain. Sold by druggists and country dealers everywhere. 6dw29

A Close Call.

AFTER suffering for three weeks from Cholera Infantum so that I was not expected to live, and, at the time, would even have been glad had death called me, so great was my suffering, a friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which acted like magic on my system. But for this medicine I would not be alive now.

25 REASONS FOR DRINKING ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all must own the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

BYAM'S Improved "Common Sense" • SASH BALANCE. LOCKS AND LIFTS.

THE only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are simply out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

MUNCASTER'S

MR. TREVOR'S SECRETARY.

AN IDYLL OF TORONTO.

He bowed himself to his labor, and wrote on into the waning night until his brain reeled, his eyes burned, the letters danced before his eyes, and his nerveless hand refused to hold the pen. Then he went to his bed; but only to dream of those queenly eyes and that proud head, crowned with the corona of gold brown hair.

Time passed on, and Arthur's novel was nearing completion. He had said to himself a hundred times, that when it was finished, he would resign his position at Mr. Trevor's, go back into the busy world and try to crush out the passion which had grown to be a part of his life. But the days sped on; the last page was written; the book was put into a publisher's hands; the contract was made for its publication; and still he tarried; for the chain of roses was stronger than the iron bolts of resolution.

One evening he returned from business about half past four, and had barely reached his room, when a servant came and told him that Miss Trevor wished to see him in the parlor. His heart beat fast as he went down the stairs. She was sitting at the piano when he entered the parlor.

"You wished to see me, Miss Trevor?" he asked.

"I hope I have not taken you away from anything, Mr. Montgomery?"

"No, I was not busy."

"Then will you kindly assist me with these passages in the 'Semiramide' overture?"

"I am only too happy to have an opportunity of serving you."

"Thank you," she said, a little coldly. It annoyed her that this man could not speak like a servant; that, with all his respectfulness of manner, his words were such as might have been used by any of the "society" men who visited her. Then she thought how foolish and ungenerous she was to be annoyed at a man who never forgot his position.

"I wish," she said, more pleasantly: "that you would show me how to finger these passages; I am afraid they are too hard for me."

"I think not," he answered: "they are simpler than they look."

He bent over her and illustrated the fingering, and then watched, in mute admiration, her long, fair fingers, as they glided over the keys. In a very few moments, interested in the music, they were chatting as pleasantly as a couple of old friends; and Florence could not help confessing to herself that this man was far more entertaining, clever and intelligent than any of the men she knew. His manners, too, were so polished and elegant, that she could not, if her life depended on it, treat him as an inferior.

"Don't you find your life rather lonely, Mr. Montgomery?" she asked.

"No; I can't say that I do. Why do you ask?"

"Papa has told me that he thinks you were—that is, that—that—pardon my bluntness—that you have seen better days."

"Very true, Miss Trevor; but I have seen very much worse ones."

"When?"

"When I was doing the dog's work of a reporter on a daily paper. Out at nights, in all sorts of weather, tramping the streets to police-stations, when other men were in bed, writing long articles, at a lightning ... in the close, confined atmosphere of a ...department-room; all those things were unpleasant. Then, when I broke down, and lay sick with a fever, with no friend in the world, save my landlady and physician, my fate was not more enviable. When I recovered, I had not a dollar in the world; and it seemed as if every avenue of employment was closed to me. When I found your father's advertisement, and secured my position here, I had every reason to think myself very fortunate."

"Indeed your life has been a lonely one. What were you before you became a newspaper reporter?"

"The only son of a kind father. My mother died so long ago that it sometimes seems to me as if I never had a mother. But I beg, Miss Trevor, that you will not refer to these days again."

"I ask your pardon; it is very unkind of me to sacrifice your feelings to my my idle curiosity. But your life is so interesting. Play something more for me."

Arthur dashed into one of those brilliant waltzes of Chopin's which, in spite of their grace and rapidity of movement, always have something melancholy in them, so like his own life at the present moment.

"Are you contented here?" she asked, when he had finished, looking at him with compassionate eyes.

"Very much," he said, earnestly; "too much so."

"Too much?" she said, her eyes dropping before his meaning glance; "I don't quite understand."

"I am too contented here because I am—possess my health is good now, and I should be back at my old business."

"But why go back to it? You are contented here; why not stay?"

"Because I dare not."

He would have given his soul to recall those words; but it was too late. She stood looking at him with amazement pain and anger in her eyes. All the pride of her blood had sprang to life at his words. For a minute there was silence between them; and then as she saw the sadness in his face, her eyes gradually dropped, the anger fading from them, and the pink suffusion of a blush stole into her cheeks.

"Mr. Montgomery," she said, her hands trembling a little: "I fear I have detained you too long. Pray pardon me; I must bid you adieu—till dinner."

Arthur bowed very low and left the room. At dinner he saw her again, but she did not look at him. How he repented his madness! She was angry at him; he could have torn his tongue out for offending her. He retired to his room after dinner, and sat down to smoke and reflect. In an hour, however, a servant came and handed him a note from Mr. Trevor, requesting him to go down into the parlor and play the violin for them.

He took the instrument from its case, where it had lain neglected since he entered the Trevor mansion and descended to the parlor.

"Arthur," said Mr. Trevor, as he entered: "you have told us that you play the violin; we want to hear you."

"I shall be most happy, sir, if Miss Trevor will do me the honor to accompany me."

"Certainly she will," answered Mr. Trevor: "Florrie will do anything to please her father."

Without a word Florence arose and went to the piano. There had sprung up a strange and unnatural constraint between her and Arthur. She opened the music he had placed upon the music-stand and began to play.

"A little more slowly, if you please," said Arthur.

She merely bowed her head and retarded the tempo. Then Arthur began to play. For an amateur he was a remarkable player. The selection was a Chopin nocturne, arranged for the violin by Vieuxtemps, and was a bit of music that Arthur loved. On this night its sadness stole over his mind like an echo of his thoughts. He forgot where he was, who were around him; he played as his feelings swayed him, and his music was filled with the voice of tears. He did not remember himself or his surroundings until the cessations of the notes of the piano awoke him to a knowledge of his surroundings; then he saw that Florence had bent her head forward over the keys, and was choking with a storm of sobs.

He made an movement as if to speak to her, but she arose and left the room.

"I fear something has annoyed Miss Trevor," said Arthur.

"Why, I never saw Florrie behave so before," said Mrs. Trevor: "your music has affected her nerves."

And the old lady arose and followed her daughter. Arthur was silent for a moment after she had gone. Then he spoke to an employer.

"Mr. Trevor," he said; "I want to thank you for all your kindness to me since I have been in your house; believe me, sir, I feel it deeply. But I must leave you."

"Leave me! Nonsense! Why, my dear boy, I can't do without you at the warehouse."

"I am glad I have been of service to you, sir; but I must go."

"Oh, pshaw! why should you? Ah, I see how it is: you have a little pride of your own, and you feel your position here in the house. Well, sir, you may give up your services in the house and your room; but you must remain in my employ, and continue your work at the warehouse. Seriously, Montgomery, I need you there."

"Well, sir, let it be so. But I must leave your house."

"You will, of course, do as you please; but you are welcome to stay here. My own boy is away, and you do much to lighten our evenings. I thought, too, that we had made things comfortable for you here; but no matter."

A Solid Fact.

THREE years ago I had liver complaint and indigestion. Nothing did me any good until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, three bottles of which cured me. I shall use B.B.B. as my medicine. JOHN FLOYD, Barnesville, N.B. B.B.B. regulates the liver. 2w27d

MR. WM. MAMM, of Ottawa, Ont., writes:—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in my family with the very best results. I recommend it to my friends and think it the best medicine in use for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, etc. 2w27

SCROFULA

Tumors, Erysipelas, Canker, and Catarrh, Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

No Contract Let.

The board of the George street church met last night to award the contract for the erection of the new tower. Several tenders were in, but as some other contractors asked an extension of time to allow them to get some necessary figures, the letting of the contract was deferred till some day early next week.

District Populations.

Population of a few towns and villages to the south of us:—

Bailliseboro, 200; Baltimore, 350; Benefort, 150; Bewdley, 100; Frazerville, 100; Gore's Landing, 100; Harwood, 400; Hastings, 1,000; Hoard's Station, 100; Plainsville, 75; Roseneath, 100; South Monaghan, 75; Warkworth, 850.

Willow and Wicket.

Following is the full team of cricketers selected to represent Peterborough in its series of matches next week—Monday at Toronto, Tuesday at Hamilton and Wednesday at Toronto against Guelph:—Messrs. Stratton, Rutherford, Rogers, Ray, Attewell, Logan, Hamilton, Gower, Salisbury, Parker and Strike.

Death of the Town Baby.

The infant found about a month ago, at St. Peter's Cathedral, and left in the care of Mrs. Archambault, died last night. The boy was named Moses Churchyard—so called because it was found in a basket in the church yard. The body was maintained and and will be buried at the town's expense.

Moonlight on the Lake.

The moonlight excursion on Little Lake last night was a success. The night was warm and pleasant, and the twenty-five couples aboard danced to their heart's contents. The excursion was under the auspices of the Peterborough orchestra, who furnished first class music. Mr. Jas. Coughlin acted efficiently as floor manager. The boat returned to the wharf at twelve o'clock after an exceedingly pleasant evening of enjoyment.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c, and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

Camp Officers.

At the regular meeting of Hiawatha Encampment of Oddfellows last night, the officers were elected. These with the appointed officers will be installed on July 26th. The officers elect are:—

C. P.	M Mowry
H. P.	Wm J. Early
S. W.	Richard Calvert
Scribe	Thos Armstrong
Treasurer	J. W Batcher
J W	W. F. Green

P.C.P. Dr Bell was elected representative to Grand Encampment.

The Thistle Nuisance.

Here is something that everybody doesn't know. People who allow the Canada thistle to grow on their premises unmolested are liable to a fine. It is the duty of every property owner to see that the thistle is exterminated on his own premises as far as it is in his power to do so. The town is equally liable concerning the growth of thistles on the streets. The police are keeping their eyes open for offenders against this law.

Died of Old Age.

To-day an old man named Wiggins, of Rawdon township, Hastings county, drove into town with a horse more ancient looking than himself. He has been driving the animal about the country putting up hayforks. The faithful old beast could stand the wear and tear of its long life of hard work no longer, and while being driven down George street, it toppled over and expired in the harness.

Complimentary Comments.

The Lindsay Warder thus refers to Peterborough's representatives at Lindsay on the 12th:—"Peterborough county had several fine bands, and turned out in magnificent style. The Nassau lodge, 150 strong, is unsurpassed in Canada. Every man wore a neat silk (plug) hat, black coat, white vest and uniform regalia. As an old military gentleman remarked he would like to have a regiment of such fellows. They were a gentlemanly looking lot, and reflect honor on Nassau."

A Big Yield of Hay.

A correspondent from Otonabee writes:—"I have heard a great deal of blow about tall rye of Fowler's Corners, but I did not hear anything about hay. One of my farmer neighbors has cut and saved thirty-nine tons of hay from a field a little over eight acres in size. Just beat this who can.—A Pitcher and Volunteer." This is very gratifying, as the indications of the early summer were that the hay crop would be a failure. But it has improved wonderfully during the past month, and the hay crop will better all expectations.

Fell From a Car.

Ed. Elliott is a brakeman on the Midland Railway, and was on a special freight that left Peterborough a little in advance of the noon train yesterday. Between Perrytown and Garden Hill he by some means slipped and fell off a car. The accident was noticed but on account of the mail train following him train the conductor could not stop to pick the unfortunate brakeman up. He was noticed by a woman living near the place of the accident, who succeeded in rolling him of the track and flagging the mail train, which stopped and took Elliott to Port Hope. No bones were broken, and, no injury received barring the severe shaking up. It is thought he will be all right again in a day or two.

The Lock Works Strike.

The lock works strike still continues. The men are in earnest, and in this respect the management seems to meet them half way. It is difficult to secure perfect satisfaction, and there is only one place in town where perfect satisfaction is given, and that is at Hawley Bros.' tea store. They always give the best of satisfaction in their choice teas. The very finest brands always in stock. Doing so large a business exclusively in teas, their stock is rapidly cleared out and new stock brought in. This makes their teas always fresh and choice. Buying in big lots they get cut prices, and these are in turn given out to their customers. Remember when you want to get really first class teas or the best of coffees or the cheapest and choicest glassware, go to Hawley Bros., George street, Peterborough.

Sporting Notes.

The Riverside Lacrosse club meets to-night.

All members of the P. A. A A. interested in lawn tennis are requested to meet this evening at 8 o'clock at Schofield's drug store, for the purpose of organizing for the season and begining practice.

The Norwood lacrosse club has protested against the match played there on the 12th of July being awarded to Beaverton on the ground that the latter violated the rules of the C. L. A. by having a number of outsiders on the team. The Register says:—"It is alleged that Beaverton only claims six of the dozen players as bona fide residents of Beaverton; the other half-dozen reside anywhere between Montreal and Toronto.

The Belleville races took place yesterday and to-day. No Peterborough horses were entered in the first day's races, but those in to-days events are as follows:—3 minute trot, E. Brown's s. m. "Maud B"; free for-all trot, A. P. Morgan's b.m. "Mayflower" and F. J. Daly's b.g. "Willie W."

The Act of Drowning.

For the benefit of those who cannot swim, but who persist in going upon the water at all times and in all kinds of crazy concerns, we publish the following interesting description of the various movements performed by a person while in the act of drowning. The specific gravity of the human body is so near that of water that a comparatively slight effort will suffice to bring a sinking person to the surface again. In a case of real drowning the individual first sinks to a certain depth, and then ascends to the surface of the water, where, if he be not a good swimmer, he struggles to clear his lungs and mouth and to obtain fresh air. As water is generally taken in with the inspired air, he sinks for a short distance, and then by his exertions again succeeds in reaching the surface. These struggles are repeated until the lungs and stomach are filled with water, with the result that the general specific gravity of the body is increased. The body then sinks to the bottom. The duration of this contest for life will vary according to the age, sex, strength and general condition of the individual. The drowning person who does not struggle, and succumbs to cramp or exhaustion sinks at once.

An Orange Funeral.

The funeral of the late John Smith, Ashburnham, Thursday afternoon was quite an imposing affair. Deceased was a member of Peterborough Lodge No. 80, L.O.L., and was besides Past Master, Past District Master and Past County Master. He was also Past Junior Deputy Grand Master of the Royal Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario. The brethren of Peterborough and District turned out in large numbers to show their respect for the deceased. The funeral cortege was led by the band and following them came King William Lodge of True Blues, Jubilee Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, Nassau Lodge of Orangemen, and the two Peterborough Orange Lodges. Beside the hearse walked the pall-bearers, Bro. R. Waram, P.C.M., Lakefield L.O.L. No. 122; Bro. R. Weir, P.C.M., Peterborough L.O.L. No. 49; Bro. A. Hamilton, C.M., Nassau L. O.L.; Bro J. H. Campbell, P.D.M., Nassau L.O.L.; Bro. —. Hamilton, P.M., Nassau L.O.L.; Bro. J. H. McWilliams, P.M., Peterborough L.O.L. No. 80. The remains were followed to the grave by a long procession of carriages. Arrived at the cemetery the impressive burial rites of the Order were performed by Bro. C. W. Sewers, who acted as Chaplain. After the corpse was lowered into the grave four stalwart Orangemen seized the spades and covered the remains of their deceased brother with the earth.

A Rose Jar.

Now is the time to gather rose leaves for the pretty jar you had last Christmas, says the Boston Beacon. Various recipes are given for its preparation, and they differ but little from each other. The leaves should be gathered when dry and put in a dish or jar that has a cover in layers with salt between. Bay salt, which comes from Bavoune or the bay of Biscay, is recommended, but the common fine table salt will answer. Whenever fresh leaves are added a fresh layer of salt must be added also. After two or three days mix them with spices such as cloves, allspice, cinnamon, mace, all rather coarsely ground, an ounce perhaps of each, also an ounce or two of orris root, broken in small pieces, some bay leaves, lavender flowers and rosemary, a few drops of the oil of rose and one gill of brandy. Add more brandy after a time if the mixture gets too dry. Some moisten with lavender water, cologne and bergamot, but these essences soon lose their quality and injure the perfume of the flowers. Any sweet-scented leaves or flowers may be added, such as sweet clover, geranium or orange flowers, but they should be perfectly dry when added. This should all be kept covered, stirred occasionally and not put in the rose jar for two or three months. Then the perfume will be well blended, and by opening the jar for a short time every day the room will be pervaded by a delicious odor.

A Funny Piece of Business.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR—Doesn't it seem to you to be a most unbusiness like thing for our Town Council to have proceeded with so much of the work on the contemplated new market buildings, involving the expenditure of so much public money, and now stop to submit a by-law in order to ascertain whether they shall have the consent of the property holders to complete the work?

If the by-law is carried, the councillors, I suppose are personally safe. Their action so far will then have been legalized. But supposing the by-law is defeated, what then? Who will "pay the piper," for the work already done? The people having refused to assume the expenditure, will not the councillors themselves be personally responsible? If not, let them go on and finish the work without the bother of submitting a by-law? Or can the council do as they like about such matters?

Yours enquiringly,
FREEHOLDER.

P. S.—I'm not a councillor; have no stores to let; don't live on Water street; nor am I a farmers' wife.—F.

Green's Grand New Gallery.

A New Photographic Premises on Hunter Street—One of the Finest in the Province.

Mr. P. H. Green, photographer, has occupied his new gallery on Hunter street, about half way between the post office and Taylor & Macdonald's corner. The entrance is marked by a couple of glass cases at the door, in which samples of his photographic art are shown. The gallery is situated on the second flat, and two flights of carpeted stairs lead to the new premises. The rooms are most conveniently laid out and thoroughly equipped. The entrance is first into the sitting room, a large and pleasant apartment furnished elegantly. To the left is the printing room, which has been fitted with glass lights specially for the purpose. A door in the rear of the sitting room leads into the gallary, which is supplied with skylights on the most approved plan. Here also a quantity of new scenery has been added, all of which will materially aid Mr. Green in turning out the excellent photographs for which he is noted. Off the gallery are the dark room and the printwashing room.

Between the parlor and the gallery is a wash-room and closet for the use of patrons. Altogether the new premises are most completely equipped and attractively finished by the painters and paper-hangers.

Mr. Green is to be congratulated upon having obtained such elegant new quarters, and no doubt the public will show its appreciation of his enterprise by a liberal patronage. His gallery is probably the finest in the district as well as in the town.

On the Diamond.

The Association Baseball Team Score Another Success.

The ball game on the P.A.A.A. grounds last night had rather an unsatisfactory conclusion. The Association nine played a team of the combined Athletics and Ashburnhams, and again came out ahead, though there was not time to play to a finish. At the end of the fourth innings the Association nine wanted to quit, but the others pressed them on and they took their half of the fifth, which resulted in a blank. Then some of their men refused to play further, and the game was stopped, the umpire declaring it "no game," as the five innings were not completed.

This will probably put an end to night games between the two clubs, as they have always been unsatisfactory, particularly Thursday nights. The game was characterized by more wrangling and "kicking" than any other match of the season, and the next time the teams meet it will be in an afternoon game, when the question of supremacy can be settled without interference.

Cameron pitched the first innings for the Association nine, and not a hit was made off him, the Athletics getting their runs through errors of their opponents. Cameron was accidentally hit by a bat and disabled. Turnbull took his place in the box and the team was shifted about, Parker being added to centre field.

McCabe and O'Brien, the Astonishers' battery, were in the points for the Athletics. There has been considerable rivalry between the two teams, and the Athletics were bound to win if possible, but the fates were against them.

Mr. —— McCue umpired the game and gave fair satisfaction.

THE SCORE IS:

Hon. Mr. Foster's Marriage.

The Organ of the Church of Which He is a Member on the Subject.

Considerable newspaper comment has been published in reference to the marriage of Hon. Geo. E. Foster to Mrs. Chisholm, and, the latter being a divorcee of a Chicago divorce court, great diversity of opinion is expressed regarding the legality of the union. Regarding its moral aspect, the Canadian Baptist, the organ of the Baptist church in Canada, speaks as below. Hon. Mr. Foster is a communicant in the Baptist church, worshipping at the first Baptist church in Ottawa. The Baptist says:

"The matter is a delicate one to speak of but the religious press would be recreant to duty if it did not join with the secular in deploring the fact that a member of the Dominion Cabinet has contracted a marriage of questionable propriety and legality. It is at least doubtful whether the divorce obtained in a Chicago court by Mrs. Chisholm, who was recently married to Hon Mr. Foster, has any legal force in Canada, seeing that it was not granted for the one cause which alone is regarded by Canadian law as a sufficient ground for divorce. Whatever the legal aspects of the case the moral effect cannot fail to be bad, as tending to weaken by the force of a high example, that regard for the sanctity of the marriage covenant which is happily characteristic of our people and laws."

A New Surgical Triumph.

A small tumor was removed from an important nerve in a patient's arm, and in the course of the operation some of the nerve itself was taken away: this was naturally followed by loss of sensation in the part of the skin to which the nerve was distributed. After forty-eight hours the surgeon, having obtained a piece of healthy nerve from a leg which had been amputated, proceeded to restore the continuity of his patient's nerve with the borrowed piece of tissue. The result was that sensation returned in thirty-six hours, and there was every prospect of a complete recovery.—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

Got Him in a Box.

"Did you give that man money?" was asked of a citizen who had just parted with a man who walked with a limp. "Yes—a quarter." "He's a chronic beat," "Well, perhaps." "But you should discourage such characters." "Yes, I know; but when a man comes up to you, and calls you Colonel, and says he was right behind you when you charged that battery at Antietam, how can you go back on him?" "But you were not at Antietam." "No." "You were not a Colonel." "No." "You didn't even enlist in the late war." "No, and do you suppose I'm going to own it up for the sake of saving a quarter? Not much! I've got a half-dollar for the first man who calls me General."

The Excelsior Excursion.

Several things have led many at last to select the Excelsior excursion as the one they intend to take. First, it is under the auspices of the ladies. Then the choice of destination. If persons only wish to go to Toronto, they can have two days there, or if they wish to only spend a few hours in Toronto they can cross the lake and spend a day and a half at the beautiful Chautauqua, and hear Bishop Vincent's grand lecture, and also Miss Jennie Hall Wade, the New York songster; or, if preferred, half a day and the above named attractions can be taken in at the park, and half a day spent at the Falls. But the price is what is astonishing. Toronto $1.90, Chautauqua $2.15, the Falls $2.25, children half price. These inducements must make this excursion a grand success. d

Ambitious City News.

HAMILTON, July 18.—Ellen M. Eaves, a plump, tolerably good looking and decidedly English accented young woman, stood in the witness stand at the Police Magistrate's tribunal this morning undergoing cross-examination in a charge of using indecent language brought by her against Mrs. Mary Simmons. Miss Eaves, who came to Canada under the protection of Miss Rye, by the death of distant relatives in England come in for a share of a very large fortune. The estate, it is asserted, has been through the hands of the executors and Miss Eaves' share is $30,000, which sum is in the possession of her brother, who is on his way to this country to deliver it over to her. The charge against Mrs. Simmons was dismissed.

Louisa Park, the woman who was tried at the police court a couple of weeks ago for cruelty to a child, was brought up on remand this morning. The evidence given at the preliminary examination showed that the defendant had shamefully neglected a child left in her charge by a young girl who got into trouble. The woman was committed for trial.

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not crack. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

JOHN HACKETT

A TERRIBLE CLOUDBURST

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE AND DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

A West Virginia Village Swept Away—No Chance of Escape Given the Inhabitants—Steamers Wrecked.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 18.—The greatest disaster which ever befel Little Kanawha Valley came last night in the shape of a cloud burst which has completely flooded the county, destroying many lives, carrying off thousands of dollars worth of property and ruining crops for many miles. Mrs. Isaac H. Tuckor, Martin Lawless and an unknown man were drowned. Above the destruction is still greater. At Chesterville, a small town about ten miles above, half the residences were carried off bodily and left in corn fields. Big Tygart Valley is completely ruined. In Clay district a fine church and three dwellings were wrecked. The steamer Oneida is reported wrecked and sunk at Enterprise and the steamer C. C. Martin sunk at Burning Springs. The Little Tygart Valley is also reported completely ruined but no lives are reported lost there as yet.

The worst story of all comes from Morristown, a small village near the head of Tucker Creek, where the cloud burst concentrated all its fury, coming down on the village about midnight and totally destroying it with many people. The first report gave the loss of life as 11, but later news seems to increase it. The houses are said to have been picked up and hurled against each other in such short space of time that no chance to escape was given.

It is impossible now to estimate the loss even in this city, as the river is still rising and tearing everything loose. A family boat containing three or four persons went out during the night and it is believed all are lost. A freight train went through a trestle, which was washed out at Harris Ferry, wrecking the train and killing a man. It is reported that lock No. 1 above the city on the Little Kanawha has given way before the flood.

Chicago's Storm.

CHICAGO, July 19.—In the town of Lakeside a residence was struck by lightning during last night's storm and with two other houses consumed, entailing a loss of $10,000.

At the Stock Yards the packing houses of Armour & Co. and of McNeill & Libby were damaged by lightning to the amount of $18,000.

Halifax News.

HALIFAX, July 20.—Yesterday morning while two men were rowing in the vicinity of H. M. S. Bellerophon they noticed a small bundle floating in the water. They picked it up and on examining the contents found the body of a female infant well developed but considerably decomposed. The clothes and the body appeared as though they had been for some time in one of the drains and the theory is that the body was thrown down a sewer and was washed into the harbor where it was found.

Permission has been granted to the American schooner Ida May, which put in here for repairs, to sell her fresh halibut, the permission not to be taken as a precedent. The Ida May has not got a license and if she had it would not give her the privilege.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education of Ontario, left this morning for St. John via Annapolis.

Five Were Killed.

CHICAGO, July 19.—It is supposed five men instead of three were killed in the explosion at the mill at the R. B. Stone Lumber Co. yesterday. When the coroner went to the morgue to-day to hold an inquest it was discovered that the bodies supposed to be those of Engineer King and Laborer Doller were the remains of unknown persons. King and Doller are missing and their bodies are supposed to be in the debris. The body of one of the unknown men was subsequently identified as that of John Pavel. At the time of the explosion the body of a man was seen to fly through space and drop into the river. This, it is believed, was the body of Engineer King.

The Salt Trust Incorporated.

ALBANY, July 19.—The Northern American Salt Company filed articles of incorporation in the Secretary of State's office to-day. The capital is $10,000,000. They state that they are to manufacture and sell salt and salt products in their various ramifications. The principal part of their business will be located in Warsaw, N.Y., but they will also carry on business in Ohio, West Virginia, Kansas, Texas and Michigan. Thirteen trustees are appointed who shall manage the business for the year.

An Ottawa Residence Burnt.

OTTAWA, July 19.—The old Hill Mansion on the Bank-street road was destroyed by fire early this morning. Miss Ryan, the only occupant, had a narrow escape. She is a daughter of Mr. Dennis Ryan, the St. Paul millionaire. The loss is $6800, fully covered by insurance.

Boodler McQuade Acquitted.

BALLSTON, N.Y., July 19.—The jury in the McQuade trial retired at 7 p.m. At 8 they returned to the courtroom and rendered a verdict of not guilty. McQuade was one of the alleged boodle aldermen indicted in connection with the Broadway surface railway franchise.

No Cut in Steel Plates.

PITTSBURG, July 19.—Chairman Abbott of Carnegie, Phipps & Co. emphatically denies that his firm have reduced the price of steel plates $5 a ton or made any cut whatever in the selling price of their products.

Fatal Accident at Grimsby.

GRIMSBY, July 19.—While driving this afternoon Mrs. Carpenter, a widow living 1½ miles east of here, was thrown from her carriage and instantly killed.

The Slugger too Drunk to Talk—Latest Sporting News.

NEW YORK, July 19.—John L. Sullivan arrived at Jersey City at 8 o'clock to-night with two friends, who got him into a carriage and across the ferry to New York. Sullivan was intoxicated and unable to talk sensibly.

The Touring Cricketers.

LONDON, July 19.—The game between the Philadelphia cricketers and the Gentlemen of Surrey was continued to-day. The Americans finished their first game with a total of 456, against 204 made yesterday by the home team.

ONLY A DRUNKEN LUNATIC

AND NOT THE RIPPER IN SPITE OF HIS "CONFESSION."

England's Attitude in the Event of War Between France and Italy—Boulanger Issues a Manifesto.

LONDON, July 19.—An Englishman was arrested this morning on the charge of having murdered the woman whose body was found on Tuesday morning in Castle-alley, Whitechapel. After being taken into custody the prisoner confessed that he had killed the woman. He said the weapon he used to accomplish his purpose was an ordinary pocket knife. He carried no other weapon. He declared he lived nowhere, and that he had just arrived from abroad. The prisoner is six feet tall, of fair complexion, and carries himself with a military air. His actions indicate that he is insane.

The identity of the man is carefully concealed for the present by the authorities. He has confessed that he murdered all the women whose bodies have been found in and about the Whitechapel district. He gave the names of his victims, the dates upon which he killed them and all the ghastly and indecent details connected with the crimes. The police believe he is a lunatic, but that possibly the story he tells is true, and that he is the man for whom they have so long been seeking.

Yet Jack the Ripper.

LONDON, July 19.—The man arrested on suspicion of being the Whitechapel murderer is not Jack the Ripper. The police to-night say he is only a drunken lunatic and they attach no importance to his confession. He will be arraigned to-morrow on the charge of vagabondism.

In the Shadow of the War Cloud.

LONDON, July 19.—Disquieting reports from Vienna regarding Servian affairs are coming in which are likely to give a new impetus to war rumors and preparations. It is still officially a profound secret, but I have reason to believe that when the naval manœuvres are over here in September, it has been arranged to hold another series immediately following them at the Straits of Gibraltar, involving a considerable number of vessels now here, and these will then quickly join the Mediterranean squadron. This of course is a counter move to the French resolve not to hold any manœuvres at all, but immediately to reinforce the Levant squadron. There is enough on land to warrant a good deal of fresh uneasiness as well. Russian officers by dozens have for the past few days begun openly to take drill charge of the Servian troops and Vienna is quite ready to go into a panic again over the danger to European peace.

Here just now there is a disposition not to expect immediate trouble, largely because the Russian grain crops are a failure. This big wheat shortage seriously prejudices Russia's chances of raising new loans, and accordingly official reports are now being circulated from Moscow and Warsaw that the crops are not so bad as reported. All private and commercial advices received here though agree that the Russian crop is the worst for fifteen years.

England's Attitude.

LONDON, July 19.—In the House of Commons to-day Henry Labouchere asked what truth there was in the statement semi-officially published in L'Opinione of Rome that there was a definite entente that the English and Italian navies would act together in the event of a war with France, and also that a year ago when a French attack on Spezzia was feared the British Mediterranean squadron was held in readiness to assist Italy.

Sir James Fergusson, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, replied that the action of the Government in case of a war between France and Italy would be guided by circumstances. England was under no engagement fettering her liberty. The Government had never had any grounds to attribute to France a piratical design to try to capture Spezzia.

A Parliamentary Election.

LONDON, July 19.—An election was held today in the eastern division of Marylebone to fill the parliamentary seat made vacant by the resignation of Lord Charles Beresford. Mr. Boulnois, the Conservative candidate, received 5779 votes against 2686 for George Lewesen-Gower, Gladstonian. In the last election Lord Charles polled 3101 votes and Professor Beesly, Home Ruler, 1616.

Parnell at Edinburgh.

EDINBURGH, July 19.—Parnell arrived here to-day to receive the freedom of the city. A large crowd at the railway station accorded him an enthusiastic reception. Shortly after his arrival he addressed an open air meeting of working men.

All Delighted But Labby.

LONDON, July 19.—The Parliamentary Committee appointed to consider the allowances to Prince Albert Victor and Princess Louise of Wales will report Monday. It is said the Gladstonians are delighted with the Queen's moderate demands and all the members of the committee, with the exception of Mr. Labouchere, have come to an amicable agreement.

The First Duke of Fife.

LONDON, July 19.—The Earl of Fife, who has been created a Duke by the Queen, takes the title of the Duke of Fife.

A Numerous Candidate.

LONDON, July 19.—General Boulanger has issued a manifesto in which he declares that the law against multiple candidatures in France is a blow against universal suffrage. The measure, however, he says, will not prevent the nation making known its sovereign will. He continues: "As a protest against this odious violation of law the National Committee has decided that I shall present myself as a candidate for the Councils-General in eighty cantons. The verdict of the people of those cantons will be the prelude to the grander triumph that is near at hand. Before long 'the gang' that now dishonors the country will be pitilessly swept away and internal peace be restored."

One of Wissmann's Steamers Wrecked.

ZANZIBAR, July 19.—One of Captain Wissmann's steamers has been wrecked at Pangani.

Hogan May Be All Right.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Prof. Hogan, the missing aeronaut, may be alive after all. The pilot boat Robert Carll sighted the airship yesterday at 2 p.m. out at sea floating a short distance above the water. The Carll was about a mile from the airship. The pilots intended to pick up the balloon and stood toward the airship. Just as they were going to launch their yawl the man in the balloon threw ballast overboard, waved a white flag as if to say he was all right, and ascended again very quickly. The balloon remained in sight about an hour and was sailing well. Two schooners within signalling distance were sailing east in the same direction as the airship. When at 5.30 o'clock Captain Phelan of the pilot boat Caprice saw the air ship dragging in the water there was a man in it. There were two large schooners in sight and it is thought Hogan may have been picked up by one of them.

Not a Success as a Suicide.

ROCHESTER, July 19.—Ada McCormick, a notorious woman who has been arrested and sent to the penitentiary in this city at least fifty times, was arrested last evening for street walking. She attempted suicide by hanging but was cut down. Then she set fire to her underclothing. Her petticoat and dress skirt were not burned, but the rest of her underclothing was destroyed and she was badly burned about the lower part of her body and legs. She is now in the hospital and will recover. This is her one hundredth attempt at suicide in the police station.

Serious Accident at Windsor.

WINDSOR, July 20.—Thomas Howe, an engine driver on the Grand Trunk Railroad, was the victim of a queer accident on Thursday. He was backing up the switching engine of which he has control when the cab struck the corner of a car on an adjoining track and was badly wrecked, squeezing Howe between the boiler and the car. He is badly crushed about the hips and has, it is feared, sustained internal injuries.

COWHIDED BY THE WIDOW.

A New Jersey Lady Creates a Sensation in a Street of Augusta, Ga.

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 20.—Mrs. Lizzie Hansen, an attractive widow only 21 years of age, came to Augusta recently from Orange, N.J. She is a sister-in-law of Dr. Van Pelt, a promising young physician and druggist, who was some time ago defeated by only a few votes for the position of City Ward Physician. Being an attractive young lady, she was soon surrounded by admirers. After a while it seemed that Louis Roselle, a young gentleman of this city, would win the fair Northern prize. He paid her devoted attention and was looked on with favor.

The engagement ring was bought and soon encircled her finger. All seemed to prosper and friends, with knowing looks and quiet whispers, were awaiting invitations to the wedding. Ere long they noticed that there was a coldness between the lovers and young Roselle ceased his visits. The usual lovers' quarrel had sprung up. She returned the ring, but he refused to accept it.

"When I want it," he replied, "I will send for it."

All her protestations and her refusal to longer wear it were of no avail. Young Roselle would not take back the ring, and she, equally determined not to wear it, laid it on a table in the parlor, where it remained without molestation for some days.

Another young gentleman visiting the house saw the rejected token, picked it up, put it on his finger and wore it. Roselle was not long in finding this out. He saw the ring a few days ago on his supposed rival's finger. Revenge was his only thought, and he did not hesitate to seek it. His first step was to sue out a possessory warrant against the young man who was wearing the ring, and the ring was soon in his possession again. But he did not stop here. He circulated damaging reports about the young lady who had jilted him. Dr. Van Pelt heard of them, and told his wife and sister-in-law. He decided that Roselle should be made an example of. With this determination the doctor bought a rawhide and, placing it in the hands of the slandered lady, told her to use it and use it so that her quondam lover would bear the marks of it.

She seemed to enter fully into the spirit of the project for avenging her name. Accompanying Dr. Van Pelt to Roselle's place of business she called him out. Ere a word was spoken the rawhide was plied with all the force of an angry woman protecting that which is dearest to her, her fair fame. Repeatedly was the stinging hide brought down over Roselle's head and shoulders, each time leaving a livid mark. The man once attempted to snatch the whip from her hand, but with the strength of frenzy she jerked it from his grasp, and once more the blows fell in a shower upon him. By this time a crowd had gathered to watch what had never before been seen in Augusta, a lady cowhiding a gentleman; but the spectators did not interfere. Besides a resolute brother-in-law stood by to see that no meddlers stayed the work of the avenger. A party of ladies and gentlemen in a large wagon were returning from an evening's swim in the lake and they drew rein to watch the proceedings. Roselle soon had all that he could bear, and, retreating before the hundreds who were watching, he fled into his store.

What the outcome of this incident will be is only a matter of conjecture. Roselle, it is said, told a friend that he would take the law against his assailant. Dr. Van Pelt also went to see a lawyer to be prepared for any step that Roselle may take.

It cannot be learned exactly what were the words the horsewhipped man used against the lady. Whatever they were they were deemed sufficient by her friends for the course she has taken and her action is upheld. It is not generally thought that the court will be the final resort in the case and it is probable that there may be no more trouble.

CHASING A FAITHLESS HUSBAND.

Mrs Hagan Overhauled Him in Chicago, but He Again Eluded Her.

CHICAGO, July 20.—If George C. Hagan, late of Newcastle, Pa., will send his present address to his wife he will receive the thanks of a much wronged woman, who is after his scalp. Hagan was a leading citizen and wealthy shoe merchant of Newcastle, and his family moved in the creamiest of society. Mrs. Hagan had a handsome face and a small fortune to recommend her on her wedding day 17 years ago, but Hagan has the cash now.

There was not a ripple on the placid stream of their married life until Rachel Vogan, most fair to look upon, was hired to do the housework. Mrs. Hagan woke up one morning a few weeks ago to find that husband and servant had skipped, leaving her nothing but a mortgaged shoe store. The Chicago police found that Hagan had purchased a $35,000 share in a confectionery store on Wabash-avenue, and was passing off his companion as his niece. The deserted wife dropped into the store last Saturday and a "bull in a china shop" scene followed. Mrs. Hagan's rage was spent on Rachel, and Hagan, in fear for the girl's life, had to fight off his wife.

On Monday husband and wife met again, and she believed his soft words of penitence long enough to give him a chance to bolt again with Rachel. Mrs. Hagan thinks she will be able to catch her recreant husband at Omaha, where he must stop to get a draft cashed. She wants to recover some of her money and then return to Newcastle, withdraw from society and get a divorce.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

Port-au-Prince Delirious With Excitement—Foreigners in Danger.

NEW YORK, July 19.—A letter to The Times, dated Port-au-Prince, July 7, says the city is in a state bordering on frenzy. Hippolyte has assaulted the outer works. Legitime is impressing into the ranks every man capable of carrying a rifle. The people are delirious with excitement. The Minister of War has executed some of the prisoners with his own hands. Hippolyte is burning farm houses and villages in sight of the city. All foreigners have been threatened with extermination, but the United States naval force on hand is prepared to take the city if necessary.

The Kearsarge and Ossipee are here. The British cruiser Forward has come in under a full head of steam. She left Jamaica on six hours' notice. The Spanish cruisers Combs and Sanchez have arrived. They report a French man-of-war on the way. The combined forces of the foreign warships are prepared to effect a landing at a moment's notice. A system of signals has been established with the American Consul, and the moment the danger flag is exhibited picked infantry companies from the Kearsarge and Ossipee will jump for boats.

The captain of the British cruiser declares that if one Englishman is touched he will open every gun in his batteries. Hippolyte is within a mile of the city, and his force is reported to be 10,000 men. It is a question of but a few days before the end is at hand. Port-au-Prince knows it, and men, women and children are prepared to die with Legitime. The feeling against foreigners is one of bitter hatred, and it needs but a spark to turn the whole native population into a frenzied mob.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

BRANTFORD, July 19.—Albert Lawrence, a clerk in J. G. Morton's hardware store, while showing Fred Cox, driver of the Dominion Express wagon, some revolvers this morning snapped one to show that it worked all right and shot Cox in the left breast. Cox died a few minutes after reaching the hospital. Lawrence didn't know the revolver was loaded. He was arrested and liberated on bail.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, July 19.—Louisa Park, who was committed for trial by Police Magistrate Cahill for ill-treating a child, was brought before Judge Muir this morning. She elected to be tried by the county judge. Her trial was fixed for next Thursday.

The Spectator this evening contains this unique advertisement:

A CARD.

Julia R. Loomans has secured divorces from her husband, Alexandre F. Loomans, formerly residing at Hamilton, Ont., on the ground (clearly proven and substantiated by many witnesses) of his extreme and repeated acts of cruelty towards her; his brutality; insane jealousy; ungoverned ill temper; violence of language; profanity; constant carrying of concealed weapons; and fiendish disposition generally.

The intense love and devotion which he manifested for her a portion of the time could never compensate for all he made her suffer.

She has the privilege of resuming her former name, which she does with alacrity; and her name now is Searey.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF THE STATE OF TRADE.

Later Wheat Advices from the Northwest More Encouraging—A 2½cts Advance in Coffee—A Flurry in Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report no material increase in the volume of general trade. In a few lines at several cities slight gains are noted but an average demand and moderate distribution appear to be the rule. Later advices from the Northwest are not so discouraging, as to the wheat prospects as earlier in the week. Prices of hogs at western markets are lower on heavy receipts and cattle, all but best grades, are 10 cents lower. An unusually large number of cattle are to be exported within the next three or four months and nearly all the requisite room on Glasgow and Liverpool steamers has been engaged. The cause is the low price here and the shortage of the European cattle crop.

Stock speculation at New York is dull and prices are subject to depression on bear manipulation of an apparently limited character. Bonds are dull with some depression in speculative issues. The New York money market is easy for call loans with a sensitive undertone, call loans 3 to 3½ per cent. Foreign exchange is easy for sterling and high for francs. Demand sterling $4.87½ to $4.88. On Friday $300,000 gold was engaged for shipment to France.

Exceptional interest attaches to the exhibits of net railroad earnings for May and for five months. For May the companies show a gain of 13.2 per cent. in net against 6.6 per cent. in gross. For five months the net increase is 10.7 per cent. against 5½ per cent. in gross.

Reported increased shortages of wheat in Russia, Germany, Austria, Hungary and India, in Dakota and Manitoba, hardening markets abroad, delayed deliveries of domestic new crop and bull manipulation at the west stimulated speculation and prices advanced 4c to 89½c. Late domestic wheat crop reports are less damaging than those issued early in the week. Flour of preferred brands has held its own. Corn has been ½c higher. Wheat gains 3½c on the week and corn ½c.

Exports of wheat and flour as wheat (both coasts) aggregate 1,460,202 bushels, against 1,558,055 bushels last week and 1,462,000 bushels in the third week of July, 1888. Nearly 575,000 bushels of wheat (and flour as wheat) left the Pacific coast this week. San Francisco advices are that a revival of demand for flour by China is expected.

The serious break in beet sugar prices at London last week caused a panic among speculative operators which was checked only when banking houses extended the time for ring contracts to Sept. 15. Prices have recovered some since. The effect on cane sugar was slight beyond checking purchases for a time, prices having eased off but a trifle. There is no change or new discovery in the statistical position of cane sugar to alter the pronounced bullish position of that staple. Raw has been shaded an eighth.

Coffee advanced in speculative markets up to Tuesday about ½ cent per pound on actual demand. Offers from Santos on a parity with New York indicating weakness at primary markets broke the price and a drop at Havre stimulated the reaction. The actual gain on the week is but 1-3 cent.

Iron and steel markets remain strong. makers are indifferent to contracts for future delivery at present prices. Southern iron markets are notably firm. Steel rails are more active. A report of a cut in steel plates is denied. Copper is firmly held by American producers with no break below 12 cents except for casting brands. Visible stocks continue to decrease. Anthracite coal is relatively quiet, the arbitrary advance in prices not having attracted buyers. Stocks remain large.

Domestic dry goods at first hands are only moderately active. Print cloths are 1-16c lower, but other makes of cotton and woolen goods are firmly held, with bleached cottons showing a slight advance. Ginghams and colored cottons are sold up in production. Regular jobbing trade is dull at New York and Boston, but a fair package trade is doing. Movement on orders is fully up to the average. Raw wool is active at Boston, but quiet at other seaboard markets. Prices are firm. Uncertainty regarding prices of manufactured goods renders manufacturers slow to buy. Raw cotton is quiet at unchanged quotations. Crop prospects are good.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet

THE LATE PROF. PHELPS.

The above is a portrait of the late Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College. He was a strong, able man, who stood high in the literary and scientific worlds. It is not generally known, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that Prof. Phelps was the discoverer of what is known to the Medical Profession and Chemists universally as Paine's Celery Compound, unquestionably one of the most valuable discoveries of this century. This remarkable compound is not a nervine, an essence, a sarsaparilla or any derived article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous complications. It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the land, and also by the leading chemists and scientists, that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, debility, senility and even the dreaded and terrible Paresis, nothing has ever been discovered which reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps.

Paine's Celery Compound is now being prepared in quantities, and can be procured at any reputable druggist. An attractive bunch of celery is to be found on every wrapper. It has become specially popular among professional men, mind workers, ladies burdened with exciting social duties and frequenters of the leading clubs.

I ONCE HAD A PLEASANT HOME

Sermon By Layman.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Who can overestimate the blessings of a peaceful and happy home, of its influences over the children in all their after lives, its beneficial effects upon generations, to come. We are told that the sins of the father's are visited upon their children until the third and fourth generations, and so it is with a good or bad home. The children grow up under its influences for good or evil and all their after lives are, as a general rule, made up after the examples of them at home. Few parents, comparatively speaking, seem to know the value of a good home training of their children. They appear to think that they require no careful looking after and no proper training to help them in their after lives. They train them as they would grow up men and women and have them to look after themselves. To go when and where they will, utterly regardless of what is to follow after. They make their homes uncomfortable and unpleasant, drive their children out of the house, little thinking and little caring what becomes of them, with whom they associate, or what habits they form. And it is only at the last moment, and when it is too late, that they see their error and learn what terrible injury they have done. How different all this is in a pleasant and happy home. Where the parents are

THOUGHTFUL GOOD AND KIND,

where their children cannot but feel these blessed influences, and feel that there is no place like home. Where they are carefully looked after and where every effort is made to attach them to home by mildness and gentleness, and where they are made free in all parts of the house, and allowed to invite friends and enjoy themselves with good companions, and where no interference with their sports is indulged in. Under such influences as these it is scarcely possible for children to go astray. They know that they are treated justly and kindly and they are just and kind in return. And they are especially careful to do or say nothing which can give pain to such good parents. And when asked to do something which they are not sure is right, they say that before they consent they must first obtain the consent of mother. I once had a pleasant home—now I have none. I once had a kind father and mother, and brothers and sisters. Now I am all alone in the world, without home or friends. My evil nature has been my ruin. I was wilful and headstrong and obstinate, and I preferred my own waywardness to encouragement and good advice. I thought I ought to know best what to do, and I consequently went wrong, and I pursued my own way until I could go no further. And when troubles came upon me, I sat down and looked back over the weary past and wished I had done better. I thoughts of the warnings and advice of my parents, and thought how often I had disregarded them. I could well remember how often they consulted me, and how often they

PLEADED WITH ME IN VAIN.

And what is the result, look at me and answer. All alone in the world, without home or friends, shunned by those who know me not, I wander on from place to place, always suffering, always sorrowing, always thinking of the past, always thinking of my ingratitude to my ever kind parents, until I feel as if I can live no longer, and yet fearing to die. Hoping ever that the time may yet come when my estrangement will be over and my sorrows be ended. That the time may yet come when my prayers and repentance will be heard and I shall be led back by humble faith over the once weary way which I travelled when my sins and my follies drew me forward into difficulties and dangers, and then, worn out by suffering and care, I was ready to lay me down and forget all in that mysterious future of which I know so little and fear so much. All I can do now is to repent and ask for mercy and wait, hoping and trusting that the Lord will in his own good time bring me out of all my difficulties and put an end to all my troubles, I confess my faults, I confess that I alone am responsible for all my sufferings, but I have faith in the goodness and mercy of my heavenly Father and I feel that He will forgive me and restore me once more to the comforts of my old home, and one which I should never have left. I will then live a life of peace and happiness once more. And I will show my gratitude by rendering to my Creator and to my kind parents a heart now full of the knowledge of my past wickedness and with a determination to live to them alone. And if the Lord preserves me I will try to obliterate from my parents' memory all recollection of my past misdeeds, and I will strive how to make their last days full of happiness and full of forgiveness and peace to me who once brought them so much sorrow. And then when they are gone I will strive so live as to meet them in Heaven, where all our troubles and trials will be ended.

A ONCE HAPPY HOME

There is a land that is fairer than day.
And by faith we can see it afar,
For the Father waits over the way
To prepare us a dwelling place there.
In the sweet by and by
We shall meet on that beautiful shore.

We shall sing on that beautiful shore
The melodious songs of the blest,
And our spirits shall sorrow no more,
Not a sigh for the blessings of rest.

To our bountiful Father above
We will offer the tribute of praise,
For the glorious gift of His love
And the blessings that hallow our days.

Children never know the value of a good home

UNTIL THEY HAVE LOST IT, especially through their own ingratitude and misconduct. They imagine that everything is always to be bright and pleasant and that the world is full of peace and happiness. They can see the sunshine but they will not see the black clouds or sin and despair. They do not prize home as they should. They never think of the storms and the want and misery which lie before them. But when it is too late they realize their ignorance and their faults, and then they think of home as they ought always to have done. And they would fain go back again, for their days are full of trouble and their nights full of sorrow, and they remember the days of their youth and think of their kind parents, whose goodness they have so much abused. And they are ready to go back, and, like the prodigal son, say they have sinned against heaven and them, and are not worthy to be called their children, and to ask them to take them and make them as their servants, praying only to be allowed to remain at home.

Happy Dreams of Home.

Whene'er I sleep and dream of home,
O, then my heart is pining,
Its happy vales again to roam,
And view its waters shine
I sleep and dream of home!

I wander through each pleasant grove,
And hear the wild birds singing,
Where oft the witching smiles of love
A spell was round me flinging:
O, bliss to dream of home!

I seek the well known trysting tree,
That dear old place of meeting,
Where oft I sat, till o'er the lea
The evening shades were fleeting:
O, happy dreams of home!

Thus, when I sleep, and dream of home,
In light again I borrow;
And though I wake, afar to roam,
It lightens half my sorrow
To sleep and dream of home!

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Spillman Family in Trouble—The Scalfold Accident.

TORONTO, July 20. William and Michael J. Spillman of No. 2 Windsor-street where the detectives seized a large quantity of stolen goods, were committed for trial by the Magistrate yesterday on a charge of having broken into the house of William Jarrett, Beaconsfield-avenue, on May 24 and stealing therefrom a quantity of jewelry, and both prisoners were also charged with feloniously receiving the stolen goods. The Magistrate accepted bail in two sureties of $100 each for Michael, but for William bail was refused. On several other charges the two were remanded to July 26, and on a charge of assault, in which the wife is complainant, William Spillman was committed for trial. While the court was in progress Mr. W. G. Murdoch, counsel for Mrs. Spillman, caused to be served on William Spillman, her husband, a writ claiming $10 per week as alimony, charging him with cruelty, neglect, etc.

Robert W. Wallace, the clerk who stole $337.32 from G. F. Rondle, at Grip office last week, pleaded guilty in court yesterday and was sent to the Central Prison for a year. Thomas Morgan, arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the case did not appear, being under the care of a doctor for a nervous disorder.

Coroner Duncan opened an inquest last night on the body of Alexander Carnie who was killed on Thursday last through the collapse of a scaffold. The evidence of the witnesses examined threw little light on the cause of the accident. The inquest was adjourned till July 23.

is a matter of small importance compared with other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficent power. Nerviline, pleasant to take, even by the youngest child, yet so powerfully far reaching in its work, that even the most agonizin ginternal pain yields as if by magic. Neglect no longer to try Nerviline. Buy to-day a 10 cent trial bottle and be relieved from all pain. Sold by druggists and country dealers everywhere. 6dw29

A Close Call.

AFTER suffering for three weeks from Cholera Infantum so that I was not expected to live, and, at the time, would even have been glad had death called me, so great was my suffering, a friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which acted like magic on my system. But for this medicine I would not be alive now.

ITCHING AGONIES.

Every Night I Scratched until the Skin was Raw.

Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. An awful Spectacle. Doctors Useless. Cure Hopeless. Entirely Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in five Weeks.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied by itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

MUNCASTER'S

MR. TREVOR'S SECRETARY.

AN IDYLL OF TORONTO.

Arthur started forward as if to speak, and tell the kindly old gentleman that he had mistaken the reason of his desire to depart; but, on second thoughts, he decided to allow the false impression to remain. It would save the necessity of explanation which he could not make.

Arthur went down to breakfast early the next morning, and, without again seeing Florence or her mother, took his departure from the house and went back to his old room at Mrs. Boggs's. He went to the warehouse every day and attended to his usual duties there. But his nights were lonely. Two or three times he went to the theatre, and once he saw Florence there. She did not see him, but he gazed at her the entire evening, and saw very little of the play. Another day she stopped at the store to get some money from her father. Arthur was in the business office when she entered. She stopped on seeing him, gave a quick glance into his eyes, blushed a little, and then turned pale.

"Do you wish to see your father, Miss Trevor?" he asked, in a constrained tone.

"Yes," she answered.

He led her into the private office, and left her there with the old gentleman. In half an hour she came out. As she passed Arthur, she looked up into his face only a moment, but with a pained, anxious glance. He started forward as if to speak to her, but immediately recovered himself, and bowed respectfully as she left.

The days fled on. His novel was published and was a great success. The critics accounted it the first good Canadian novel ever published. He received letters from several papers asking him to contribute. At last he felt that he was on the high road to success. But, ah! how long it would be before he dared to tell the love that was in his soul! Probably he would never be in a position to do so.

One day he went to the warehouse and felling very melancholy. Mr. Trevor called him into the private office. The kindly old man looked very sad.

"Montgomery," he said: "unless something unexpected happens, the house of Trevor will be ruined to-day."

"My God!" exclaimed Arthur: "don't tell me that, sir!"

"It is true," said Mr. Trevor.

In a few words the circumstances were explained to Arthur. Then the old gentleman went out, leaving him there, buried in painful reflections. He had learned to love this old man who had been so kind to him. Ruin for Mr. Trevor! What a mockery it seemed, when so many knaves were crowned with fortune!

One of the clerks entered and handed Arthur a letter. It was an offer from a publication house to edit one of its weeklies. The salary offered was a better one than that which he received from Mr. Trevor. For a moment he hesitated. Then he resolved that, if the bank failed and he was thrown out of employment, as he might be, he would accept the position; otherwise, he would remain with Mr. Trevor.

A few moments later Mr. Trevor came in. His face was haggard.

"Arthur," he said; "I am a ruined man!"

Arthur did not reply; but as the old man sank down in a chair, he took his hand and knelt beside him.

"Mr. Trevor," he said: "tell me—what can I do to help you?"

"Not one thing, Arthur. Everything will have to go to meet the demands of our creditors."

"Everything?"

"Everything!"

"And Flor—your daughter and Mrs. Trevor?"

"They will be without a dollar in the world."

A fierce joy sprang into Arthur's heart. He did not know whether she loved him or not, but he would at last be able to woo her like a man. Then he thought of this man who had treated him almost like a son.

"Arthur," said Mr. Trevor: "go, leave me; I cannot keep you here now. You can possibly find other work to do."

"I can, sir; but you will let me stay and help you to settle up your affairs here?"

"No; I shall not ask that of you."

"But I ask it of you, sir."

The old man pressed his hand and looked gratefully into his eyes.

"Thank you, my boy—thank you."

And Arthur stayed until the big doors of the wholesale house were closed, and Mr. Trevor, despoiled of every dollar, went out to seek employment whereby he could earn bread for his family.

A month afterward, as he sat at his desk, a note was handed to him. It was from Mr. Trevor, and ran thus:

Dear Arthur:

We are living at No.—Sherbourne Street. Come in and see us, and bring your violin. We have saved the piano from the wreck, and Florrie will be glad to accompany you once more. Your friend, JOHN TREVOR.

Arthur went. He found them in a cosy little house in the east end. Mr. Trevor was looking a little worn, but still kind and gentle. Florence was the same magnetic beauty, but her air was more subdued. She welcomed Arthur in an embarrassed manner.

"Our positions," she said; "are somewhat changed, Mr. Montgomery."

"My feelings are, and always will be, the same," he answered.

He played for them with the same masterly touch as of old. He mended their hearts again, and they went out toward him.

"Come again soon," said Mr. Trevor.

He did so; he went often; and his heart yearned to speak the love that he felt. But he could not read Florence. He knew not whether she loved him or not.

"Mr. Trevor," he said one night, when he and the old gentleman were alone: "I love your daughter."

Mr. Trevor simply smiled.

"I have known that long, my boy," he said.

"And you do not object?"

"Win her, if you can, Arthur," was the only reply.

A few moments later he and Florence were alone in the room.

"Will you play the violin for me?" she asked.

"Yes," he answered.

She sat down at the piano, and he stood beside her. They played one of Chopin's nocturnes, a soft, tender tone-poem. As the music ceased, Arthur saw that Florence's eyes were full of tears. Almost without knowing what he did, he leaned forward and kissed her forehead. She looked up at him with a startled glance; then she bent down again, and her whole form shook with sobs.

"Forgive me," he said; "I am mad; I will go."

He turned to leave her; but she laid her hand upon his arm.

"Don't go," she said, in a very low voice.

"You bid me stay! Florence, you know that I love you, and you are not offended?"

"Offended!" she said, looking up at him, with her great eyes full of tears: "Oh, Arthur!"

He caught her in his arms and pressed her to his heart. Their lips met in the first long, passionate kiss of love.

Three months later Mr. Trevor's private secretary became Mr. Trevor's son-in-law; and the man upon whom Florence at first looked down is the man to whom she will look up, even to the end of her days.

Dirt and Cholera.

Persons who have visited the Philippine Islands are not surprised at the cable reports of the frightful ravages of cholera there. No one who walks about the streets of Manila wonders that cholera and other contagious diseases are so terribly destructive when once they get a foothold. In that city of 500,000 people the sanitary conditions are fearful to contemplate. During the rainy season, when much of the city is flooded, natives amuse themselves by catching water snakes in the streets. All the cities on these big islands, where 7,000,000 people live, are damp, muddy, and dismal for six months in the year. This is the hottest period of the year there, and until the end of May the mercury in the thermometer will linger around 90°, while the humidity renders the heat unendurable. Such conditions as these make cholera in the crowded Philippines a far more terrible calamity than it could possibly be in this country.

SCROFULA

Humors, Erysipelas, Canker, and Catarrh, Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Mo.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Teachers' Examiners.

The examinations for first class teachers certificates, began at Toronto on Wednesday. Among the list of examiners are Mr. J. H. Long, M.A., Principal of the Collegiate Institute, and Mr. John Stirling, headmaster of the South Ward school. Mr. Long is Chairman of the Committee on History and Geography, and Mr. Stirling, Chairman of the Committee on Reading and Orthoepy.

A Bridegroom's Bad Luck.

While Mr. Moore, of Toronto, was being joined in wedlock to a Miss Bliss, of Brock-ave., a few days ago, the ceremony was rudely interrupted by a creditor who called and demanded immediate payment of an old debt and proceeded to thrash the unfortunate debtor, but no sooner had peace been restored and the clergyman was about to conclude the ceremony, than an old lady arrived and declared that Moore had a wife and child living in Peterborough.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c., and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. 3

The Cheapest Excursion Yet.

As announced a few days ago, the Foresters of Court Little John, C.O.F., No. 92, have completed arrangements for a grand excursion to Toronto, Niagara on the Lake, and Niagara Falls, on the coming Civic Holiday. It will be a decided treat to our citizens, as a committee has not forgotten the important matter of fare—the round fare being the very cheapest of the season—$1.75 to Toronto and return, and $2 to Niagara Falls and return. Tickets good for two days. This is the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Further particulars hereafter.

The Railway Picnic.

The employees of the Midland Railway Company are holding their annual picnic at Sturgeon Point to-day. A special train from Belleville brought the excursionists from points along the Grand Junction railway. The train left Peterborough about nine o'clock for Lindsay, where steamer will be taken for the Point. Those from Port Hope went up on a special via Millbrook. A large list of athletic events are to be held at the Point.

Hymeneal.

Mr. A. D. Martin, proprietor of the Hunter street livery stable, is to be congratulated upon having taken unto himself a wife. On Thursday he was married at the village of Roblin, Lennox county, to Miss Mary Woods, a charming young lady of the same place. The whole village was en fete on the occasion, both young people having lived there nearly all their lives, and they consequently had a host of friends. They are now living on Rubidge street, and the friends of Mr. Martin in Peterborough will wish him much joy.

Fined Just the Same.

A week ago Jas. Simpson of Otonabee was arrested for being drunk. He was allowed out on promising to appear before the magistrate Monday. This he failed to do and the case was enlarged till Wednesday. Simpson showed up but the constable who arrested him did not, and again the case was adjourned till to-day. This morning the constable was on hand but Simpson was absent. The officer gave his evidence, however, and the defendant was fined $5, which he must pay or go to jail.

Egg Men in Council.

On Wednesday a meeting was held at Brockville of all the leading egg dealers in Ontario and several from the United States. Among those present were: D. D. Wilson, Seaforth; J. D. Moore, St. Marys; J. W. Curtis, Peterboro, J. B. Oke, Port Hope; E. K. Ostrom, Peterboro; J. W. Flavelle, Toronto; W. F. Flavelle, Lindsay; J. A. Barclay, Belleville; Guy Smith, Ogdensburg; Hon. Geo. E Mitchell, Boston. The meeting was for the purpose of considering some means of regulating the price of eggs, but what steps were taken is kept quiet for the present.

Graceful Acknowledgement.

The official board of the Charlotte street church did a graceful thing the other day. For a length of time past Mrs. William Hamilton, south ward, has profusely and tastefully ornamented the communion table of the church, every Sunday with beautiful plants, ferns and cut flowers. At a meeting of the board the following resolution was passed:—That the sincere thanks of the Quarterly Official Branch, and the congregation of the church be given to Mrs. William Hamilton for her thoughtful kindness and generosity, in so continuously placing beautiful plants, ferns and cut flowers on the communion table of the church.

The Best of the Season.

This applies to the Foresters excursion to Jubilee Point, to be held on Thursday July 25th, because the utmost care has been exercised in its arrangement and will be used in its management. Calcutt's fleet of steamers and palace barges has been engaged and if necessary to prevent crowding, the whole fleet will be used. The splendid orchestra of the Fire Brigade Band will furnish music for dancing both on board and at the grounds. Hot water, tea and sugar supplied to all excursionists free. Meals at the Point hotel 25 cents. Remember a fine programme of sports and games—Remember this great excursion—Return tickets only 50 cents; children 25 cents. Tickets to be had from members of the Court and at the stores of Messrs. John Nugent, T. Hooper sr, and Harry Long.

The Great Excursion.

Going on the Excelsior excursion you travel to Toronto by the C.P.R. then 70 miles of a lake trip to Niagara and return which you can reach a little after noon, and remain until 6 p.m. or can stay and come back next morning at 9 a.m. or 2 p.m. or 4 p.m. or 6 p.m. reaching home the same evening. This trip going and returning is by the Chicora or Cibola. Going to the Falls you take the Michigan Central and pass through the Garden of Canada. You can have then nearly half a day and at home the same day, or a day and a half and home the next. Date July 31st. Fare, Toronto and return, $1.90; Niagara, $2.25, Niagara Fall $2 25. Children half price. Tickets good for two days.

The "A. B. C." Excursion

That means the excursion of the Sons of Canada on Civic Holiday, to Jubilee Point per steamer "Golden Eye" and palace barge, "City of Peterborough." Prof. Doucet's orchestra furnishes music for daning. Hot water, tea, sugar and milk furnished at the grounds. Meals at the hotel 25 cents. Canoes carried free from the locks and return. This is the first excursion of this Society and every loyal Canadian should join it. Tickets only 50 cents the round trip; children, 25c. to be had from members of the committee, Dr. Yellard, J. W. Crosby, T. Rutherford, H. Robertson, Thos. Graham, F. J. Metheral, J. D. Craig and D. S. Harvie.

Belleghem Always Ahead.

It is too hot weather to argue, therefore you might as well give in at once and concede what all the world admits, that Belleghem is the Furniture King of the Midland district. He is king by all the possible claims—by right of conquest—for he conquered the field though he made a modest beginning; yes by dint of doing first class square business, turning out and keeping only first class goods, he got the lead he now holds. He is king by the laws of old—by might. He is able to, and does, keep the best furniture made. He is king because a large kingdom of customers acknowledge his sovereignty—acknowledge that he keeps the best goods, that he makes the best goods, and all at the most reasonable prices of anybody in the Midland District. Go to Belleghem's and you will find his mammoth warerooms filled with first class furniture of every description from the best to the cheapest. Young man, if you are starting in life Belleghem can supply you with a marriage license, and set you up in housekeeping. Belleghem's Furniture shop is the place—Don't forget it.

Personal.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, sr., and wife and two daughters went out to Stony Lake this morning.

Mrs. Knight and Miss T. O'Connor, of Rochester, N.Y., who have been visiting friends in town, left for home this morning.

Miss Reid and Miss Lizzie Reid, daughters of Mr. Henry Reid, of Douro, arrived home on Thursday evening, after three and a half years' visit in Denver, Colorado. Miss Lizzie Reid is much improved in health since she left home, and both young ladies express themselves delighted with the western country they have just left.

Mr. Dixon Best returned home yesterday from his tour around the world. He left home eleven months ago for his health, via San Francisco, and readers of the EXAMINER were treated to several descriptive letters from his facile pen. He left Australia May 4th, and finished his voyage by way of the Suez Canal and London. He returns much pleased with his trip and full of interesting reminiscences of the sights he saw in foreign countries.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Young men's meeting Saturday night at 8 p.m. Address by Mr. A. McCallum, hearty singing led by Y. M. C. A. orchestra. Bible class Sabbath morning from 9:30 to 10:15 for social Bible study.

Freemasonry.

The Annual Meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge.

The annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario was held at Owen Sound Wednesday and Thursday. The Peterborough delegates were Messrs. B. Shortly, D. D.G.M., D. Spence and R. A. Morrow.

The newly elected District Deputy Grand Master for Ontario district is Mr. W. R. Howse, Whitby.

ELECTED GRAND LODGE OFFICERS.

M. W. G. M., R. T. Walkem, Q.C., Kingston.
D. G. M., J. Ross Robertson, Toronto.
G. S. W., James McLauchlan, Owen Sound
G. J. W., Michael Walsh, Ingersoll.
G. Chap., Rev. David Armstrong, D. D., Moorstown.
G. Treas., Edward Mitchell, Hamilton.
G. Reg., F. S. Morirson, Toronto.
G. Sec., J. J. Mason, Hamilton.

It was decided that the next meeting of the Grand Lodge should be held at Kingston.

R. W. Bro. Sargent made his motion:—

That where two or more lodges have concurrent jurisdiction, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of each lodge to notify the other lodge or lodges of every rejected application, giving the name, residence and occupation of the rejected applicant.

It carried without discussion.

But W. Bro. C. C. Robinson's resolution was not so fortunate. It was

That hereafter, all business, except initiating and passing, be transacted in warranted lodges in the third degree, and that a clause to this effect be added to the constitution.

A two-thirds vote was necessary to carry it, and the ballot papers showed fifteen votes short of the necessary number. This was better than last year, and the supporters of the change hope for success next year.

Deputy Grand Master J. Ross Robertson moved his resolutions—That the Grand Lodge celebrate the centennial of Masonry in Canada in 1892, and that the Grand Master appoint a Committee to deal with the matter. It was carried without opposition.

The officers were duly installed and the Grand Lodge closed its session.

The Grand Chapter.

The Grand Chapter of R. A. Masons met Friday. The officers were elected, M. Ex. Comp. R. B. Hungerford, of London, being re-elected Grand Z. The Superintendent of Ontario District No. 9, is Robert McCaw, Oshawa.

In the Grand Z.'s address was an obituary reference to M. Ex. Comp. C. D. Macdonald, P.G.Z., of Peterborough.

Farewell Presentation.

Mr. Chas. Curry Remembered by His Associates on the Occasion of His Leave Taking.

Last night the altar boys of St. Peter's Cathedral and a few other friends assembled at the Murray street school house to present Mr. Chas. Curry with a farewell token of their esteem. Mr. Curry has for some time occupied a position in the Bishop's household, and during his stay in town has been of much assistance to the altar boys in the way of giving them instruction. He was also popular among all his associates, his exemplary life and earnest Christian character winning him many friends. He left this morning for his home in Dundas, Ont., where he will take a few weeks' holidays. At the end of August he will enter the Baltimore College for the purpose of studying for the priesthood.

The formal farewell last night was a pleasant affair. Mr. P. J. Murphy occupied the chair, and upon calling Mr. Curry up spoke a few words on behalf of the others present, expressive of their esteem for him and regret at his departure. Mr. M. J. O'Brien then read a highly complimentary address to Mr. Curry, Albert Hurley presenting him with the handsome gold cross which was to ever serve as a reminder of the warm friends he leaves behind him. The gift was a beautiful one, and inscribed as follows:—"To Chas. Curry, presented by St. Peter's Cathedral altar boys." The cross was procured from Mr. W. A. Sanderson.

Mr. Curry replied as well as he was able to under the circumstances. He was deeply affected by this spontaneous manifestation of the regard of his past associates, with whom he felt sorry to part. He left for his home this morning, and was said farewell to and wished a hearty God speed by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

Sports and Pastimes.

The Turf.

The EXAMINER has to thank the secretary of the Uxbridge Driving Park Association for an invitation to the first annual meeting which takes place on Monday, August 5th, at which $450 will be offered in prizes—in the 3-minute, 2.40 and free-for-all classes. The prizes are respectively $100, $150 and $200. Reduced railway rates have been secured.

The races at Belleville yesterday were postponed on account of the rain.

Lawn Tennis.

A meeting of the members of the P.A.A. was held at Schofield's drug store for the purpose of "booming" the lawn tennis department of the Association. It was decided to establish a couple of courts at once and begin practice, and it is the intention to hold regular meets during the season.

A committee was appointed to carry out the arrangements. The committee are:—Dr. Burnham, President; J. Carlon, Secretary; Messrs. E. A. Peck, W. D. Parker, J. Gower and F. J. Lewis.

Lacrosse.

A meeting of the Riverside lacrosse club was held last night. It was expected some reply would have been received from Port Hope regarding a challenge sent them by the Riversides, for a game here next Friday. No reply had been received at the time of the meeting, but the match will probably be arranged.

The members of the Riversides have been seriously considering the advisability of dropping out of the C.L.A. and not finishing the remainder of the season. But they have decided to remain in the district and play out the series. They have yet to play at Beaverton and Norwood, the former on August 8th.

It is possible the protest entered by Norwood against Beaverton, if allowed, will affect the result of the Checker's game here, as the player protested against by Norwood was also on the team which defeated the Riversides. If the protest is allowed in one case it will also in the other.

Baseball.

Monday afternoon a baseball match will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds between the Association and Athletic teams. The latter are determined to "have it out," with the Association. Play will begin at five o'clock sharp. A small admission fee will be charged at the gate.

County Constable.

Mr. Matthew Scully, J. P. of Douro, had Mr. John O'Brien of Indian River, lot No 2, 5th con, sworn in by His Hon. Judge Weller, as county constable on Saturday last.

A Great Vessel.

A fine model of the steamer "Modjeska," which is to convey the Canton excursion from Toronto to Niagara next Tuesday, is shown at Mills' hat store. Intending excursionists can get an idea of the palatial dimensions and equipment of the steamer from a glance at the model. The managers of the excursion are determined to have the best meant of transfer obtainable.

To dream of a ponderous whale.
Erect on the tip of his tail,
Is the sign of a storm
(If the weather is warm),
Unless it should happen to fail.

Dreams don't amount to much anyhow. Some signs, however, are infallible. If you are constipated, with no appetite, tortured with sick headache and bilious symptoms, these signs indicate that you need Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. They will cure you. All druggists. c

The Lock Works Strike.

The lock works strike still continues. The men are in earnest, and in this respect the management seems to meet them half way. It is difficult to secure perfect satisfaction, and there is only one place in town where perfect satisfaction is given, and that is at Rawley Bros.' tea store. They always give the best of satisfaction in their choice teas. The very finest brands always in stock. Doing so large a business exclusively in teas, their stock is rapidly cleared out and new stock brought in. This makes their teas always fresh and choice. Buying in big lots they get out prices, and these are in turn given out to their customers. Remember when you want to get really first class teas or the best of coffees or the cheapest and choicest glassware, go to Rawley Bros., George street, Peterborough.

Church Chimes.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Roman Catholic, there will be two masses celebrated, the first at 8 a.m., the second at 10.30 a.m. Vespers at 7 p.m.

Free pews and social sunshine.

Obituary.

Death of Mrs. James F. Kennedy, of North Emily.

Last Saturday, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Kennedy, the beloved wife of James F. Kennedy, one of Victoria county's best respected citizens, departed this life. Her maiden name was Sarah McElwain, daughter of one of Lakefield's most honored citizens. Born Aug. 28th, 1846, she was forty-three years of age at her death. Her birth-place was North Monaghan, Peterborough county, where she resided during early girlhood. Afterwards removing to Otonabee where she resided four years, she was wooed and won in marriage by James F. Kennedy upwards of twenty-one years ago, in 1868. The young couple at once settled on con. 14 of Emily, still the family residence. Amid the scenes and hardships, comforts and drawbacks of a new district Mrs. Kennedy lived, ever a strong support and help to her loving and industrious husband. Together they saw ten children grow up, nine of whom are left to mourn an affectionate and faithful mother. The eldest, a young lady, is nineteen years of age, while the youngest is four. The funeral took place on Sunday, the 14th inst., to Salem, Emily churchyard, situated about one mile from the homestead. Rev. Mr. Thomas, Methodist clergyman of Dunsford, conducted the service standing in a buggy in the open. It was really an impressive sight. The clergyman standing uncovered in the carriage, surrounded by hundreds of the relatives, neighbors and friends of the deceased and her family, the monuments and marble stones here and there marking where some former neighbor or friend lay at rest, the solemn, impressive words of comfort, remembrance or counsel uttered by the eloquent divine, all combined to make the scene never to be forgotten. The service over, hymns selected, as a parting request, by Mrs. Kennedy, were sung. The procession marching up the green sward to the grave sang another very sweet hymn, also selected by the deceased. The bearers were Messrs. William Kennedy, David Kennedy, Thomas Kennedy and John Kennedy, brothers of the bereaved husband: Wm Thurston of Dunsford, and Robt. Wilson. The aged parents from Lakefield were in attendance, as were also two sisters, Mrs. Arnott of Lakefield, and Mrs. McWilliams of Lakefield. There were one hundred and fifty-nine carriages in the funeral procession, besides many persons who walked. Many from Lindsay showed their respect for the family by attending. The churchyard is a neat one, well fenced and fairly well kept. There are a number of graves which show that though gone the occupants are not forgotten, among them being that of Miss Gertley, who died last winter. She was the daughter of Mr. George Gertley, of Emily. In Mrs. Kennedy's illness among those who proved true friends in need to Mr. Kennedy were Mrs. Carnaby Thurston, Mr. Gertley, Rev. Mr. Thomas and the relatives and neighbors generally. Her sisters Mrs. McWilliams and Mrs. Arnott, were also unremitting in their attentions. The grave was beautifully dressed in balsam and cedar matting down the sides, white roses decked the ends.—The Warder,

Ashburnham Brevities.

Mr. D. J. Dussenbury, who has been attending the Peterborough Business College for the past four months, left this morning for his home in Grafton.

The south end of Lake street is being graded.

As the work on St. Joseph's Hospital is being pushed ahead many are the expressions of praise of the architecture of the building.

The fall wheat harvest started this morning, Mr. Cummings having commenced to cut this morning.

The first earth was broken this morning in connection with the new town hall. Mr. Craig has a gang of men at work excavating the cellar. Tenders for the erection of the building are being advertised for, and the contract will be let in about a week.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tafw

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

The Ennismore Bridge.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—As a resident of the township of Ennismore, and a ratepayer of years' standing in the County of Peterborough, I beg to call the attention of the Warden of the county, the county Engineer and the caretaker, to the very dangerous condition of the floating bridge at Bridgenorth. It is a standing disgrace to the three parties above mentioned, and an insult to the people of Ennismore that this bridge should be neglected in the way in which it is. That it should be used as a snagging post for booms of logs, as it has this year, is an outrage. That it is left in the unsafe condition in which it is for the greater part of the summer, without any justifiable excuse, is not only unworthy of the county but shows neglect on the part of the officials in not having it repaired. The engineer and caretaker may as well understand first as last that we in Ennismore are not going to submit to such treatment at their hands, and if it is not repaired shortly, and with sound timber too—no culls—we will endeavor to see if something cannot be done to compel a little attention to be given to this matter. This bridge is not going to be killed as was the bridge at the Narrows. If Mr. Kelly doesn't wish to look after it, why don't he hand it over to some one else? Unless prompt action is taken the county may find itself liable for a bill of damages greater than the expense of the repairs would be.

Yours truly,
ENNISMORE.

Ennismore, July 20th, 1889.

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"
"No."
"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low prices."
"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."
"Yes you do. Just look at this one! What better would you want than that?"
"That is good. Who took it?"
"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar.
"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."
"Every bit. Oh, Mr. Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

BERRIES
FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL IX. NO. 18. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, JULY 22, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the sub-treasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all tops. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not crack. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

It Makes You Hungry

"I have used Paine's Celery Compound and it has had a salutary effect. It invigorated the system and I feel like a new man. It improves the appetite and facilitates digestion." J. T. CORNLAND, Primus, S. C.

Spring medicine means more now-a-days than it did ten years ago. The winter of 1888-89 has left the nerves all fagged out. The nerves must be strengthened, the blood purified, liver and bowels regulated. Paine's Celery Compound—the Spring medicine of to-day—does all this, as nothing else can. Prescribed by Physicians, Recommended by Druggists, Endorsed by Ministers, Guaranteed by the Manufacturers to be

The Best Spring Medicine.

"In the spring of 1887 I was all run down. I would get up in the morning with so tired a feeling, and was so weak that I could hardly get around. I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and before I had taken it a week I felt very much better. I can cheerfully recommend it to all who need a building up and strengthening medicine." Mrs. B. A. Dow, Burlington, Vt.

Paine's Celery Compound

is a unique tonic and appetizer. Pleasant to the taste, quick in its action, and without any injurious effect, it gives that rugged health which makes everything taste good. It cures Dyspepsia and kindred disorders. Physicians prescribe it. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, JULY 22, 1889.

A report comes from West Virginia in the United States to the effect that two old maids committed suicide together for the reason that there was "nothing in life for old maids and they were tired of it." This is pessimism gone mad. Unless intolerable physical affliction or some calamitous visitation is suffered, life is just about as full of enjoyment as we choose to make it, whether bachelor or benedict, spinster or matron. But if we set up fanciful ideals—false ideas of the true end of life, we, of course, fail to realise these and, in the chagrin of disappointment, we are quick to declare that life is not worth living. A maiden, be she young or old, if she have a well-balanced mind, that is a decent share of common sense, can easily make life worth living without the encumbrance of a husband. The much discussed question—is marriage a failure? can be answered in two ways. It is a failure with those who by their bad management, bad temper or bad habits make it so; but when the matrimonial craft is fairly well ballasted with common sense, when both skipper and mate agree to take the same course to the port of happiness, the ship is pretty sure to arrive promptly and safely. So with single life; if we do our duty bravely in our station, indulge in no fanciful and extravagant aspirations; if we study and strive after a contented mind, wisely accepting with equanimity a moderate admixture of the bitter and the sweet, have definite aims in life—if we give our better sympathies play, striving earnestly to increase the sum total of good and happiness in the world, we shall find our own happiness and realize that life is indeed very much worth living. If we make our presence in the world worth something, if we make the world better for our living in it, there is no excuse for swallowing arsenic, as the two Virginia virgins did, in order to escape from it. If these mistaken maidens had had the good luck, as they would have regarded it, to have got husbands, they might have been just as glad to get out of the world, as worn and harrassed wives, as they seem to have been as unloved old maids. No old maid has any business to be unloved. She may win the love of persons worth far more than the possibly unstable affection of some man, who would be as likely as not to supplement a few months of marital spooning by a progressive course—adding to indifference, neglect; to neglect, unkindness; to unkindness, brutality. Let the most desolate old maid be content with her corkscrew curls, albeit the grey hairs are all too obtrusive, content with her cat and her solitude, when she regards the thousands of married servants that toil unthanked—the slave in all but manacles of household drudgery and an unloving, if no worse, husband. Being an old maid is a very poor excuse for suicide—in thousands of cases it is better for single women to act upon the suggestion of Hamlet, and rather "Bear the ills they have,

Than fly to others that they know not of."

Which applies to both women and life, to both matrimony and suicide.

For the past month or two the cable has brought in regular batches of bellicose rumors—war in Europe was imminent, liable to break out any minute—if not sooner. We got so accustomed to the cry of "wolf" that it is possible we may some of these days be taken by surprise. With warlike elements stewing and simmering in the war cauldron it would be surprising if their is not, some of these days, a boil-over. Where there is much smoke there must be some fire and when there is so much war talk their may easily be some war work. As it is, all the great powers are in readiness, and the two or three nations seemingly anxious for a broil may precipitate a conflict that will be sure to embroil half a dozen first class powers whether the more peacefully inclined desire it or not. A general war in Europe would be a terrible calamity but the evil would not be an unmixed one. In the first place there is the possibility of some of the national brawlers, which are always fomenting trouble, being so soundly drubbed that they would behave themselves in future, and then, again, such a war would send up the price of breadstuffs and the pockets of farmers on this side of the Atlantic would bulge with wealth. Nobody is hoping for such an event with such a result, but if such an event must take place we can afford to accept the result.

The late Sunday School convention in London was a great success. Upwards of 500 foreign delegates were in attendance, mostly from the United States, and they were right cordially welcomed and entertained by the Lord Mayor. It is not necessary to give any account of the speeches which were of the usual type. The statistics given were very interesting. In Great Britain the number of Sunday School scholars in 1818 was 477,000 in 1833 it was 1,548,000, and in 1889, 5,733,000, or one in five of the population. In Canada the number was put at 476,000, and in the States at 15 per cent. of the population, or between nine and ten millions. It is difficult fully to estimate the force of such statistics.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Summer Carnival Attractions—Jennie White Prefers Buffalo to Hamilton.

HAMILTON, July 20.—The program of the summer carnival is published to-day. It includes the Lake Yacht Racing Association Regatta and Victoria Rifle Club matches on Aug. 19, C. A. A. A. regatta on Aug. 20, games and athletic sports at Dundurn on Aug. 21, trades procession on Aug. 22 and military display on Aug. 23. Besides these special features there will be the merchants' convention, meeting of North America St. George's Union, baseball games, illumination of the city, etc.

Mrs. Seneca Swayzie was sentenced by the Police Magistrate to day to six months in the Mercer Reformatory for keeping a disorderly house.

Jennie White, formerly of Toronto, a young woman against whom there is a charge pending at the police court for stealing some jewelry from John White, is in Buffalo. Part of the stolen jewelry was found in the girl's trunk, but she claimed that it belonged to her. The case was adjourned until the defendant returned by Police Magistrate Cahill this morning.

The Post Clerk "Fully Exonerated."

BRANTFORD, July 20.—At the coroner's inquest to enquire into the shooting accident yesterday which caused the death of F. D. Cox, the jury brought in a verdict fully exonerating Albert E. Lawrence, the clerk who fired the pistol not knowing it was loaded.

Death of a Young Englishman.

QUEBEC, July 20.—A young Englishman named Edward George Tirbutt, who was removed from the steamship Lake Superior on Tuesday in a dying condition, died yesterday in the Jeffrey Hale Hospital. Deceased was on his way home to Nottingham, Eng., where his father resides.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6dw30

For Delicate, Sickly Children

SCOTT'S EMULSION is unequalled. See what Dr. C. A. Black, of Amherst, N.S., says:—"I have been acquainted with Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites for years, and consider it one of the finest preparations now before the public. Its pleasant flavor makes it the great favorite for children, and I do highly recommend it for all wasting diseases of children and adults. Sold by druggists, 50c. and $1.00. w28eod

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

A Big Success.

FOR summer complaints and diarrhœa I can truly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as I have used it in my family with great success and would not be without it. JOHN B. HAVENS, Grimsby, Ont. Never travel without it. 2w30d

The Highest Praise.

I USED a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for my dyspepsia and it proved a perfect cure, and I was blessed the day I got it. I would not be without it now for a good lot. It is worth its weight in gold.

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"
"No."
"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low prices."
"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."
"Yes you do. Just look at this one: What better would you want than that?"
"That is good. Who took it?"
"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar."
"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."
"Every bit. Oh, Mr. Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

25 REASONS
FOR DRINKING
ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

MUNCASTER'S

MRS. GROSVENOR'S COOK.

Mrs. Grosvenor stood dusting the articles on her centre-table, with a contraction of the brows and a pressure of the lips which plainly indicated that something perplexing or disagreeable had occurred—as, indeed, was the case. Two little episodes were about to happen in the family, trivial in themselves; but, as is often the case, it was the combination of the two which caused the perplexity. In the first place, she was without a cook, and it was for this reason that the lady's delicate fingers were carefully wiping specks of dust from the parlor furniture, while the chamber maid, wholly inexperienced in that line of household duties, was preparing a second-hand dinner in the kitchen; and, in the second place, she was expecting "company"! Was not this a combination to try the virtues of any woman, even if she was much more of a saint than our friend, Mrs. Grosvenor?

Somehow, though the Grosvenor mansion was one of the finest in town, the family one of the first, and pay at the end of the month a dead certainty, yet the mistress of it was always having trouble with her servants. She had, within the past month, dismissed one; another had given warning and left the same day, while the third, a ponderous, loud-voiced Irishwoman, failing to be even so considerate, had absconded in the night with a parcel of choice old silver spoons. No wonder, then, that the lady of the house was in despair, and hailed with relief a letter from an old friend in the country, to whom she had related her troubles, who had, in replying, added the following postscript: "If you are not yet supplied with a cook, I can send you one who, I am sure, will be satisfactory. She is the eldest of a large family, which, by the way, is very respectable, and finds it necessary to get a situation in which she may be able to provide for herself, and prefers 'service' to either a shop or a factory. It will be an excellent thing for her to have a home in a nice family like yours; and I can give her the best of recommendations. If you think favorably of my proposition, write or telegraph."

Mrs. Grosvenor had lost no time in telegraphing; but the girl, with what Mrs. G. assumed to be the obstinacy of her class, had, as yet failed to appear.

As to the second item:

Away up among the hills of Vermont lived a cousin of the Grosvenors, whom they had never seen and rarely thought of, until the startling intelligence came that this common-place, neglected person had fallen heir to a fortune of half a million by the decease of her brother in California. And straightway, in the sudden and unaccountable manner peculiar to people suddenly rich, the lady up among the Vermont hills came very much into notice in the circle of her relatives, and especially the Grosvenor family. Mrs. G. carefully looked up the chronology of the family, and came to the conclusion that the hitherto uninteresting cousin must be something over thirty; that her name was M. D. Williams; and this, added to the further fact that, by the recent death of her brother, she was left alone in the world, completed her information as to the personnel of this woman. A maiden cousin, an heiress, and without immediate family, is, it is plainly evident, not to be neglected; and Mrs. Grosvenor, with great delicacy and sympathy, remembered that she must be lonely, and accordingly wrote to her, urging her to leave the pains of her bereavement and make them a visit.

This visit was looked forward to with much anxiety, for who knew what might come of it? Perhaps she would conclude to stay with them, and never marry; women seldom do between thirty and forty—so Mrs. Grosvenor reasoned; besides, Mr. Grosvenor's business had, of late, come to a very critical condition, and perhaps the loan of a few thousands might tide over the critical period. And, now, when a good first impression was so desirable, the cook had deserted, and the new one, looked forward to as such a paragon, had not yet arrived, and this very day the cousin was to come whose presence might be so fateful.

It was quite excusable, then, in poor, infirm human nature, that the lady tied her bonnet-strings with a jerk, and arranged her attire with more impatience than was her wont that afternoon, as she prepared to take her carriage to drive to the station to meet the expected cousin. Mrs. Grosvenor did not always pay this honor to her guests; but in coming to the city from the country one is likely to be confused and lonely, she reasoned, especially when entire strangers to the place and people, so it would be much kinder to an unprotected woman to extend her greetings of friendship as soon as she had arrived.

The day was dark and lowering, and a fine rain was beginning to fall when she entered the ladies' waiting-room, and just as the express train from the north came puffing in on the other side of the station.

The only passenger of any interest to Mrs. Grosvenor were, one an acquaintance, and the other a tall, large, angular woman, who came in behind her, tugging along an ungainly-looking carpet-bag. She entered the room in a nervous, hesitating way, and, after glancing timidly around, paused before Mrs. Grosvenor, saying in a blunt manner, and with a Yankee intonation:

"Can you tell me how I can get to Mrs. Grosvenor's? She lives on Templeton Square."

The lady so addressed looked up, and, with her usual quick perception, took in the situation at once. The cook instead of the expected guest, had arrived. A person of even less sagacity could have surmised that at once: the whole manner and appearance indicated the fact as plainly as though the word "servant" had been branded on her forehead.

She had on a green alpaca dress, with a wide, full overskirt and a flounced underskirt; being rather short, it revealed a pair of large, flat feet, encased in heavy, dusty shoes; a Paisley shawl, the only presentable article about her, was pinned about her throat by a monstrous brass pin, from which dangled a minute chain of the same material, while a bonnet, ornamented with red, full-blown roses, surmounted her head, displaying a scanty stock of reddish flaxen hair drawn back so tightly as to suggest a query whether she would really close her eyes. She had placed the carpet-bag on the floor as she spoke, and looked altogether so verdant and ridiculous that the corner of Mrs. Grosvenor's mouth drew down in spite of her well-bred attempts to avoid a smile, as she replied:

"I am Mrs. Grosvenor," and then, as the new-comer seemed desirous of opening a conversation, she added, as if to cut off any further familiarity: "you are our new cook, I presume, whom I have been expecting? I am glad you have come, for I need you sadly. What is your name?"

"Dorcas—"

"Well, Dorcas," interrupted the lady, not being particular about the last name: "you can ride home with me. My carriage is at the door. Take the front seat with the driver."

Dorcas obeyed, while her mistress turned to speak with the lady she knew, who had arrived on the same train, inviting her to take a seat with her in her carriage. And, chatting merrily as they nestled cosily in the velvet cushions of the back seat, while the rain drove in the faces of the cook and the driver, Mrs. Grosvenor enumerated her woubles with her servants, and expressed the greatest satisfaction that the cook had been the one to arrive first; and both ladies agreed that it was very embarrassing to entertain company, with the household machinery disarranged.

On reaching home, Dorcas was shown by the mistress to a small, low-ceilinged apartment in the third story, scantily furnished with stray articles of furniture which had outlived their usefulness elsewhere. The windows were closed, and the room was redolent with the aroma of stale gin, particularly the bed, which was covered with dirty quilts, probably owing their odor to Dorcas's predecessor—the woman of spoon notoriety.

The supper and breakfast following the new cook's advent were prepared, and cooked with such skill and promptness, that Mrs. Grosvenor was about to congratulate herself on her acquisition, when, happening to look out of the window, she beheld, to her horror, a motley array of bed-clothing swinging gently in the breeze in the back yard, in full view, however, from the street. The dilapidated quilts and yellow, soiled linen formed such a shocking contrast to their surroundings, that Mrs. Grosvenor, full of wrath, repaired at once to the kitchen.

SCROFULA

Humors, Erysipelas, Canker, and Catarrh, Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Band and Canton Excursion to Burlington Beach, Tuesday, July 23rd, by the C. P. R. to Toronto, thence by the Palace Steamer "Modjeska," to the Beach. Tickets good for two days—$2.00. 2d

They Have Arrived.

On Saturday the C.P.R. sent the tickets for the Excelsior Excursion on the 31st, so you had better secure yours at once. Toronto $1.90, Niagara, Lewiston and Niagara Falls only $2.25, tickets good to return on August 1st. The ordinary fare on the Cibola, from Toronto to the Falls, is nearly as much as it will cost by this excursion from Peterborough. Examine the posters, notice the attractions, and take in this trip.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c; and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

To Summer Tourists.

The attention of summer tourists is directed to the advertisement of the Canadian Pacific Railway in another column. A special train with a through sleeper runs from Toronto (via Peterborough) on Tuesdays and Fridays during the summer season. For rapid travelling, sumptuous equipment and comfort, these trains are unsurpassed on this continent, and they bring the tourists to all points of interest in the White Mountains and on the Maine coasts. Full particulars supplied by the local ticket agents—uptown or station.

Paris Green.

Mrs. R. Owens, of Deseronto, had a narrow escape from death by poisoning on Sunday. She had eaten some currants, purchased on the market the day previous, and shortly afterwards exhibited symptoms of being poisoned. Dr. Newtop was summoned and succeeded after some time in giving her relief. It was found that the currants had been sprinkled with Paris Green. This bug and worm destroyer is no respecter of persons, and unless used with care is liable to kill something else than bugs and worms.

Thursday's Foresters' Excursion.

It is only necessary to call the attention of the public to the Foresters excursion to Jubilee Point on Thursday next to insure recognition of its advantages. Plenty of steamboat accommodation, no crowding. Splendid orchestra for dancing both on board the boat and at Jubilee Point. Tea, hot water and sugar provided free for excursionists. Sports and games. Canoes carried free from the the locks and back. And so cheap too. Tickets for the round trip only 50 cents, children half price. Don't forget this excursion.

The Cheapest Excursion Yet.

As announced a few days ago, the Foresters of Court Little John, C.O.F., No. 92, have completed arrangements for a grand excursion to Toronto, Niagara on-the-Lake, and Niagara Falls, on the coming Civic Holiday. This will be a decided treat to our citizens, as the committee has not forgotten the important matter of fare—the round fare being the very cheapest of the season—$1.75 to Toronto and return, and $2 to Niagara Falls and return. Tickets good for two days. This is the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Further particulars hereafter.

The Wheel.

A meeting of the bicycle club is called for to-morrow night. The races Thursday night promise to be the most exciting and interesting of any previous ones. There is a considerable rivalry between some of the wheelmen which will result in hard races. The club will have a run before the races. The big wheelers invite all boys with bicycles or tricycles to join the procession. They will go slowly to allow them to "keep up with the band wagon."

The Moulders' Trouble Settled.

It is understood that the trouble between the moulders and the manager of the Lock Works has been amicably settled. On Saturday the moulders' committee heard it said that Mr. Brooks had stated his willingness to employ the men at day work for union wages. They at once approached him, and Mr. Brooks confirmed the report by saying that he would give them day work. The committee met Saturday night and accepted the offer. This morning a full meeting of the moulders was held, and it is understood they intend to resume work to-morrow, receiving union pay for work by the day.

The Best of the Season.

This applies to the Foresters excursion to Jubilee Point, to be held on Thursday July 25th, because the utmost care has been exercised in its arrangement and will be used in its management. Calcutt's fleet of steamers and palace barges has been engaged and if necessary to prevent crowding, the whole fleet will be used. The splendid orchestra of the Fire Brigade Band will furnish music for dancing both on board and at the grounds. Hot water, tea and sugar supplied to all excursionists free. Meals at the Point hotel 25 cents. Remember a fine programme of sports and games. Remember this great excursion—Return tickets only 50 cents; children 25 cents. Tickets to be had from members of the Court and at the stores of Messrs. John Nugent, T. Hooper sr. and Harry Long.

The Lock Works Strike.

The lock works strike still continues. The men are in earnest, and in this respect the management seems to meet them half way. It is difficult to secure perfect satisfaction, and there is only one place in town where perfect satisfaction is given, and that is at Hawley Bros.' tea store. They always give the best of satisfaction in their choice teas. The very finest brands always in stock. Doing so large a business exclusively in teas, their stock is rapidly cleared out and new stock brought in. This makes their teas always fresh and choice. Buying in big lots they get out prices, and these are in turn given out to their customers. Remember when you want to get really first class teas or the best of coffees or the cheapest and choicest glassware, go to Hawley Bros., George street, Peterborough.

The Maiden Fishers.

The Lakefield Chronicle says:—On Saturday morning three young ladies, early risers, went out fishing on the Katchewanooke. Soon after the rays of the eastern sun kissed the water they received a visit from a denizen of the deep which took the bait they were lazily pulling along. Consternation reigned in the canoe for a few moments, the fair steerer calling for help, but no help came. After a while the fish was brought up to the boat and the sight of it was enough to cause a mutiny on board. Exclamations followed—cut it loose! Oh it's a monster! But no help came from the expected quarter. After drifting around for half an hour or so the lady in the bow hauled in the fish; then a scene ensued as a 10½ pound maskinonge flopped from one end of the boat to the other without regard to dress or persons. Talk of a mouse, it was nothing to it, and imagine the delight of the fair crowd when they hailed the advent of an old sportsman who kindly came to their assistance, and settled the strugglings of their surprise, but not until they had been thoroughly wet from head to foot and arrived at the conclusion that woman's rights are, to use a Yankeeism, not what they are cracked up to be, especially by some of our innocent village damsels.

The Dam Gave Way.

Last night about eight o'clock Whyte's dam in the west end of the town gave way, and for about an hour the creek partook of the nature of the famous Johnstown flood. The break occurred on the south side of the dam, at the old sluice, which has not been used for many years. Several feet of the embankment on either side of the sluice were washed away, and the immense volume of water in the pond above came tearing through carrying every thing before it. Very little damage was done, the only place where the flood known at all troublesome being at Patterson's tannery, where the water forced its way into the building and did considerable injury. At the end of an hour the reservoir above the broken dam was emptied and to-day the pond is only a creek, affording no power at all for the foundry. Mr. Whyte put his men at work this morning to repair the break, but it will probably take another day to make the embankment once more secure. Earth is being drawn and piled against a cedar palisade, which it is expected will make the dam strong as when it was built. The dam is an old one, but the washout came unexpectedly.

Manon Lescaut.

"Manon Lescaut," the masterpiece of Abbe Prevost, has been again translated, and is presented to us fully illustrated with Leloir's unsurpassed sketches and in such a charmingly tinted cover that one might also be tempted to called it an edition de luxe in paper. The translation is by Arthur W. Gundry, of Ottawa, and the treatment is more fluent and terse than Moylan's edition of 1841, which has hitherto fore been accepted as the standard. The mechanical portion of this newest edition is in the very best form by its publishers, The National Publishing Company, Toronto. The popularity of Manon Lescaut has never been disturbed, it is one of the classics of literature, and the purity of its language, the irresistible languor and fluidity of its sentences, has insured it the very front rank in French literary accomplishments. Abbe Prevost was recently named by an eminent authority as the most delicate and thorough master of French among the many great masters who have elevated the world by their grand use of that delightful tongue. To him even Balzac and Dumas must take second place and acknowledge him one of the few upon whom the famous compliment of the accomplished Duchess D'Aguillon fell with justice. Speaking of a volume from his pen the Duchess said:—"You might perhaps have done it better; no one else could have done it so well." This latest translation, comprising nearly three hundred illustrations with lithographed cover in five colors, is issued at the low price of 50 cents. For sale at the PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE.

MRS. ANNA ALLEN.

Information Wanted.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wish sincerely to get some information in respect to the market building matter. The city fathers went to a good deal of expense in making the excavations and building the foundation walls of the proposed market building before they seem to have thought that it was necessary to ask the ratepayers if they would provide the necessary funds. What a way of doing business! Now, I want to know, if the people decline to pass the by-law to raise the $25,000 on July 29th, who will pay the expense already incurred? The council can't go on with the building, and the work already done will be, in that case, a dead loss to somebody. Who will bear it? Will the ratepayers have to do so or will the councillors personally? I should be glad to have some of the promoters of the market building answer this question. I, as well as others, want this point satisfactorily cleared up before I or they can vote intelligently on the $25,000 by-law.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

July 22nd, 1889.

Against the By-law.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

I notice by your editorial remarks on the new market building by-law that you devote considerable attention to the much discussed question of whether the market house shall be located on the first or second floor of the contemplated new building. One would think that it is a foregone conclusion that the by-law is as good as passed, and that the vital question now is on what floor the market shall be located. All your correspondents seem to be in the same mind, and to lose sight of the fact that the by-law has not yet received the assent of the freeholders of the town. If my memory serves me right, the by-law is not to be voted on until Monday, 29th July, and unless I am being misled by what I hear almost every day about this by-law, it's just possible that it will not be carried at all. If such be the case, "better not count our chickens before they are hatched"—better first to make sure that the by law will be passed before calculating so much on position—although "position is everything" in a market as well as in other things.

"The necessity for ample and creditable market accommodation" as you call it, I have never heard disputed. But I'll tell you what I have heard disputed, Mr. Editor:—the wisdom of erecting the market, or any other building, on that part of the market square on which it has been so prematurely planted. Is it not the height of folly, the depth of absurdity, to use up and build upon the most valuable and convenient portion of our present market square, while, at the same time, councillors are talking about the urgent necessity of securing some more ground down near the river in order to have ample market accommodation? You say—

"A large, well-built, handsome and imposing structure will occupy what is now practically unused ground, which is, now, seldom or ever required for market purposes, the eastern and southern sides being ample accommodation for all market uses."

Why, Mr. Editor, I can tell you that what is called "practically unused ground" has been so thickly covered with farmers' waggons almost every Saturday during the months of September, October and November for the past three years that travel was almost blocked on that portion of George street adjacent to the corner of Charlotte street, while the rest of the market square was packed liked sardines in a box. I appeal to the market clerk if I am not stating what is correct. And yet we must build up the best spot on the square, forsooth, to rent stores and have a market building, and at the same time start off on a hunt for some land to increase our market accommodation! Build a market building, by all means, but don't build it there. Enlarge the old "barn" spread its walls out to the north and west if necessary, leave the details in the hands of a few experienced men and we will have all the market accommodation the farmers will want for years yet, and at one fourth of the outlay contemplated.

Yours truly,
FREEHOLDER

A Visit to Stoney Lake.

The Lake Rapidly Filling up—A New Settlement in Boschink.

The usual exodus to Stoney Lake has begun in earnest, and every day sees its crowd of campers going up to the northern camping ground. A number of tourist people also run up Saturday evening's, men who are not able to get away from their business for any longer period. A day at the lakes is worth the trouble and expense of travelling there. The cottages are now all occupied, and there are besides a number of parties camped out in tents. This week and next the great rush for the cool waters of Stoney Lake will take place, as this is about the middle of the "silly" season.

Among those who went up to the lakes Saturday night or this morning for an extended visit were Mr. Robt. Hall and wife, Mr. R. A. Morrow, and Mr. R. J. Kidd. The latter is going away up north to Paudash, and his wife and family will follow him later. Mr. Chas. McClelland went up Saturday night, and will spend a few days "draining" in the waters of Boschink. Misses Walker and Hope, of Toronto, are stopping with Mr. Chas. Lowe at "Glenwood." Messrs. G. Fitzgerald and A. Blade have pitched tents on Juniper Island.

No prettier spot on the lake can be found than "Glenwood" on Boschink where Mr. D. Breeze and Messrs. Will and Chas. Lowe, of Toronto, have each erected cottages. The island is finely situated just back of "Syndicate," and commands a full view of the lake. The three cottages are nicely painted and the grounds thoroughly cleaned up. Mr. Breeze also cultivates flowers and vegetables, growing potatoes, lettuce, etc., on the thin soil with fair success. Besides "Dave" owns what he claims to be the dandiest and fastest sailing canoe on the lake, and all things considered he has as comfortable and completely equipped summer headquarters as one could wish for. At night when visitors are expected a grand display of lights is made at the three cottages, with Chinese lanters and colored glass windows. There would be no danger of one losing "Glenwood" on the darkest or foggiest night when the island is illuminated.

Fishing was reported unusually good in the early part of the season though from all accounts at the present time they are scarce enough. Some few are lucky, however, Messrs. Fitzgerald and Blade catching no less than 14 lunge on Sunday and Monday morning.

Huckleberries are plentiful now, and every camp has a supply of the delicious fruit on hands. The wet season was favorable to the growth of huckleberries, so that campers have some return for the disagreeable weather they experienced.

Four Hours a Days' Work.

What the Bobcaygeon Independent Man Thinks.

Within a hundred years of the present date the ordinary day's work will not be more than five hours, and probably only four hours. The invention of machinery has so largely increased the power of production that a man, now, with the use of machinery can produce at least one hundred times as much as he could fifty years ago without machinery. But his hours of labor have not been shortened, nor has his wages or rather his share of the produce, been increased. It is quite clear that a working man, to-day, using machinery produces as much in four hours as he formally did, without machinery in twelve hours. Then why should not four hours be a day's work. The facts are incontestable, that four hours work daily is sufficient to supply all the necessaries and comforts of life. But this means that everybody shall work daily. At present there are a certain number who work ten hours daily, and another number who never work at all, and who consume in profligate idleness what the others produce. This condition will not subsist for ever, and will probably subsist for only a very moderate period. It must alway be borne in mind in the consideration of this and similar social questions, that it is only during the present generation that education has made any progress. The masses have been taught to read and write. No more. They have not been taught to think. When that takes place great social changes will follow. No thinking man will consent to work ten hours a day, when four hours a day produces all he requires, the other six hours work going to the benefit of somebody else who does not

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

BERRIES

FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED,

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving here dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

DR. DORENWEND'S

GREAT GERMAN

HAIR MAGIC.

The equal of this great preparation is yet to be found. It is an unfailing Restorer for grey hair—it stops all falling out of the hair—it removes all dandruff and keeps the scalp clean. On bald heads (if there are but the faintest traces of roots) the Magic will produce a fine growth. Will you try it? Or will you let your hair go, and become prematurely old? What do you say? All druggists everywhere have it for sale. Ask for it. Don't let the druggist tell you he has something just as good—many have dead stock of other hair tonics on and hand try to shove them off in this way. See that each bottle bears seal and signature

VOL. IX. NO. 19. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JULY 23, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2 co, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

AN ALLEGED BIGAMIST COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Satisfactory Crop Reports from Various Parts of Ontario—The New York Central to Run to the Queen City.

TORONTO, July 23.—At West Toronto Junction yesterday morning the preliminary investigation into the charge of bigamy preferred against C. H. E. Collett took place. It is alleged that Collett's first wife, whom he married in Toledo, O., some six years ago, was alive and well when he became the husband of the divorced wife of Mr. Cutting, the complainant, in April last. The last wedding was solemnized in this city. The strongest evidence adduced was in statements and admissions made by the accused man himself. He acknowledged his previous marriage in Toledo repeatedly, claiming, however, that it was an illegal ceremony. He was a minor at the time and was married under an assumed name while intoxicated. He consulted a legal gentleman before marrying the second time and was assured that the first ceremony was void. Collett was committed for trial. The prisoner is a painter and horse decorator, carrying on business at West Toronto Junction. Judge Morgan issued an order releasing the accused on his own bail.

The World says this morning that the New York Central Railroad has completed arrangements with the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway for running powers from the Falls to this city, and that the line will be built within a year. The line is located from the Falls to the environs of Toronto and the rights of way purchased. It is 94 miles long, 11 miles shorter than present connections.

The Globe this morning prints two columns of crop reports from special correspondents. In Manitoba the correspondents say that wheat will be an average crop, barley two-thirds of a crop and that oats are a poor crop. The reports from Portage la Prairie and Brandon have encouraging features. The situation is not all that could be desired, but there seems to be no good ground for the despairing reports that have been circulated. The reports from points in our own Province are generally satisfactory. Fall wheat will be a good average crop, except on low lands, where serious injury was done by the June rains. Barley promises a good yield. Oats are a fair crop. Barley promises a good yield. Oats are a fair crop. The root crop seems to promise well in Eastern Ontario, but for roots in some districts, the correspondents say, rain is wanted. The corn crop seems to be a failure. Hay is a heavy crop and well saved.

The Crown Lands Department will be closed to-day in respect to the memory of the late Hon. T. B. Pardee.

J. R. Dowd, a Welland County constable, came to the city yesterday with a warrant for the arrest of F. E. Jackson, charging him with fraud practised upon Robert A. Albert of Welland County. Detective Alf. Cuddy arrested him on board one of the Island ferry boats.

ST. THOMAS NEWS.

A Fatal Accident—The Springfield Well Mystery—Burglary at Aylmer.

ST. THOMAS, July 23.—About 2.45 yesterday afternoon a horrible accident occurred in the M. C. R. yards whereby Mr. Samuel Palmer, assistant yardmaster, was instantly killed. It appears that Mr. Palmer was standing beside the track waiting for the yard engine, and prepared to step on it when it came up. He did so, but missing his footing fell across the rails, and immediately the ponderous wheels passed over his body. He lived five minutes. Mr. Palmer was aged about 41 years, was married but had no children. He was a member of Antiquity Lodge No. 1, A. O. U. F. and A. O. F. His wife is a sister of Conductor William Bentley. He lived on Wellington-street and had been in the employ of the M. C. R. for 12 years. The engine by which he met his death was No. 327, Mr. J. Dennis, engineer, and Mr. McNabb, fireman.

The Springfield well mystery has again been brought to public notice through a letter received by W. Glover, Police Magistrate of Aylmer. Gifford Williams disappeared on March 4, 1872. Stories were circulated in Springfield to the effect that two women, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. McEwan, who now lives in Michigan, but formerly belonged to Springfield, had confessed that they had seen, on the night of March 4th, 1872, two men murder Williams and throw his body in a well on the Lambert Hotel property. Three wells were excavated and human bones found in the third. An inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict that the bones found were those of a human being which had been interred in the well for many years. A couple of weeks ago a letter was received signed by one Jessie W. Monk, of George, Lyon County, Iowa, stating that he knew Gifford Williams, who had worked for him a couple of years ago at George, and who had previously been at Brainard, Minn. Mr. Monk now writes to Police Magistrate Glover, stating that Gifford Williams is at Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, alive and well.

A. Pierce, liveryman, Aylmer, discovered two men in his bedroom about 10 o'clock Sunday night. One was going through his pants, but Mr. Pierce had placed his money under his pillow before retiring. The men decamped when Mr. Pierce got out of bed.

Mrs. Mrs. J. H. Herendeen of New Sarum and her child were returning from Aylmer Sunday they were run into by a double rig, in which were two men and women, unknown. Mrs. Herendeen threw her child out of the buggy, and it escaped unhurt, but she was thrown out, run over and seriously injured.

All Hope Given Up.

JACKSON, Mich., July 23.—Mrs. E. D. Hogan, wife of the aeronaut, has gone to New York. She has given up all hopes for her husband, but she states that he had $1000 in money and a balloon outfit with him. She goes to look after her valuables and to see if she can learn anything more of him at New York.

MATTERS IN MONTREAL.

CHARGES BROUGHT AGAINST "PROF." RICHARDSON.

His Friends Claim that He is Insane—The Mulcahy Case—What Judge Dugas Says—Cardinal Manning's Protegee.

MONTREAL, July 23.—In regard to the arrest of the colored boxing teacher, known as Professor Richardson, it appears that as Miss Mary Taylor was passing St. Francois Xavier-street Sunday evening a man rushed out of a doorway and attempted to carry her off. Constable Mahon, who was in private clothes, having made inquiries, planted himself in a doorway. The door leading to "Professor" Richardson's was opened and the Professor came out and walked to Notre Dame-street. Shortly after a Miss Monteith turned into St. Francois Xavier-street. Her would-be captor followed her, and when the reached his door threw his arms about her and started to carry her up stairs. Constables Mahon and Maguire arrested Richardson. He appeared before the Recorder yesterday morning and said; "I am not guilty," and elected to be tried at the next term of Queen's Bench. Sergeant Wilson stated that on Friday night he was awakened by screams not far from his front door. He saw a man standing there who told him a negro tried to carry away a girl, but had been prevented. The man said, "It is Richardson, the boxer." Judge Dugas took the deposition of Miss Taylor yesterday morning, but adjourned to allow time to get Miss Monteith to make her statement. A black comb was found in the hall of Richardson's office. Richardson's friends claim he is insane.

High Constable Bissonnette yesterday morning said:—"We were working the Mulcahy case quietly when Sergeant Charbonneau arrested Miss Tibbits and knocked the darned thing up." Judge Dugas yesterday morning re-asserted belief in the reality of the carriage scene, and added that it was not only a matter of belief with him, but he had proofs which he hoped soon to bring home to certain parties. The parties who played the comedy were not medical students. Miss Mulcahy has so far received four letters, all threatening her that unless she gives up all idea of prosecuting the parties concerned they would enact another scene, but this time with her dead body.

Catholic Boy Immigrants.

MONTREAL, July 22.—The Allan Line steamer Caspian brought this afternoon to Montreal fifty-two young emigrants sent out by the Canadian Catholic Emigration Committee, with headquarters in the Archbishop's house, Westminster, and under the auspices of Cardinal Manning. They are all boys, with the exception of four or five, range in ages from 8 to 14 and are provided with certificates of good conduct and health.

A Montreal Blaze.

MONTREAL, July 22.—The roof of the hoist tower in Pillow & Hersey's nail factory in Mill-street caught fire this morning. A spark coming through the open window of the tower is supposed to have caused the blaze. Loss about $1000.

CABLE NOTES.

A Lively Fight in Prospect Over the Report on Royal Grants.

LONDON, July 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir James Fergusson, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, stated that no final program for the Maritime Conference had yet been agreed upon with the American Government.

Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced that the construction of fifty-two war ships had been begun during the current year. Twenty of these vessels were being built in the Government dock yard and thirty-two in private yards.

W. H. Smith, the Government leader, laid on the table the report of the Committee on Royal Grants. The report recommends that the sum of £9000 be added to the quarterly grant of the Prince of Wales. The report maintains the right of the Queen to ask Parliament to make further provision for her grandchildren.

The report advises that at the proper time a law be passed providing that future sovereigns shall have no claim to parliamentary provision for their grandchildren.

Mr. Gladstone, although he censured the Government for its attitude, voted with the majority of the committee.

Mr. Labouchere moved the rejection of the report of the committee and to substitute therefor an address to the Queen reciting among other things that the sums already voted by Parliament to the Royal family should be amply sufficient for all their proper purposes, and that if further supplies are needed they ought to be provided through retrenchments of the expenses of the Royal family, not by fresh demands upon the taxpayers.

The debate on the report was postponed until Thursday.

It will be the keenest party struggle of the session. The refusal of the Government to accept the proposal made by Mr. Gladstone to deprive the Queen of the right to make further demands upon Parliament led Mr. Morley and other Liberals in the committee to vote against increasing the allowance of the Prince of Wales. The differences among the Liberal groups on this question have been arranged and a solid opposition, supported by some Liberal-Unionists, will confront the Government. It is not likely that Mr. Gladstone will take a prominent part in the debate.

DEATH RATHER THAN SHAME.

Sad Romance of Kittie Doane, Whose Real Name is Probably McCormick.

NEW YORK, July 22.—A plausible story concerning the identity of "Kittie Doane," who committed suicide at No. 152 Third avenue on July 13, was told at the Coroners' office yesterday. It seems likely that the woman who was buried in an unmarked grave in Evergreens Cemetery on Friday was Miss Kittie McCormick, a Cleveland, O., girl. The Cleveland clue was furnished by Thomas Reynolds, a young tinsmith employed at Mount Vernon. He is a cousin of the McCormick girl, who is missing. He is not positive in his identification as yet, and was instructed to see Deputy Coroner Jenkins, who had charge of the Doane case. He will bring his uncle, of Kingston, Ont., who is in the city, to consult with him.

Young Reynolds said that about fifteen months ago Miss McCormick, who was a dressmaker in Cleveland, made the acquaintance of William Kibler, the general agent of a sewing machine house in that city. Miss McCormick became infatuated with the man despite the objections of the family, who suspected the sincerity of his motives. Finally, it is claimed, Kibler lured her away from her home. They were found subsequently living in Cleveland, the young woman having fitted rooms there for the prosecution of her trade of dressmaking. They were next heard from in Buffalo through letters which Kittie wrote to her mother informing her of her whereabouts. From Buffalo they went to Rochester, then to Montreal, afterward to Ottawa, and finally to Toronto. About three months ago they came to New York and here Kibler is believed to have deserted the woman.

Kittie Doane's description answers closely to that given by young Reynolds. Confirming the belief that Kittie Doane and Kittie McCormick are one and the same person are these facts: In the trunk of the former were found a number of charts and other utensils used by dressmakers and several partially made dresses. There was also a fragment of the envelope of a valentine marked "From Willie (Kibler) to Kittie (McCormick)." Finally there was a bit of newspaper used to wrap a bundle bearing a Rochester date of several months ago, which would seem to indicate that Miss Doane had at some time lived in that city.

Superintendent Murray received a telegram from the Chief of Constabulary of Toronto on Saturday asking for a detailed description of Miss Doane's body. It was forwarded at once after a detective had searched the dead woman's clothing anew. In this search he found, it is said, a photograph of a boy. Young Reynolds is especially desirous of seeing this photograph, as Miss McCormick had a younger brother to whom she was warmly attached. If it be his picture the identification will be practically complete. Possibly the body will have to be disinterred.

A New Breed.

Bloham—"Do your hens belong to the Mand breed, Popinjay?" Popinjay—"No, sir; they are Leghorns; why did you think they belonged to the Mand breed—ha, ha?" Bloham—"Because they are all the time coming into our garden."

THE GROWING NORTHWEST.

Sir John Lister Kaye's Company—Rise in the Value of Lands.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Sir John Lister Kaye, general manager of the Canadian Agricultural, Coal and Colonization Company, writes to a friend in this city an encouraging account of the company's operations in the Northwest. In an estimate which he submitted some time ago to the directors he calculated 4440 acres in grain in 1889. This estimate has been largely exceeded, there being over 6000 acres in grain on the company's ranches. Owing to the prevalence of mild weather during the winter it is expected that 2000 calves will be branded this season instead of 1600 as estimated at first.

Sir John reports an increase in the value of the land along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, between Rush Lake and Calgary. The average value of land in that district in 1888 was $3.36 per acre. Mr. Hamilton, the land commissioner of the Canadian Pacific Railway allowed him to make a copy of the sales by the Canadian Pacific Railway from Jan. 1, 1889, to the end of April, 1889, between Rush Lake and Calgary. The acres sold amounted to 5609; the price $37,245, or an average of $4.85 per acre.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: Cheese sales yesterday were 3560 boxes, including Marshfield, 1500 Cloverfield and 380 Excelsior, all at 8½.

Utica reports: The market opened yesterday with a general feeling that a decline in the price of cheese from last week would occur and the final ruling was off ½ cent. The bulk of the cheese sold was of July make with a few lots of June. Very little white cheese was offered, the preference being for colored with an ½ to ¾c. in its favor above the former. Transactions were as follows: Six lots at 8¾, 25 at 8¾, 17 at 8¾, 25 at 8, 11 at 7¾, 82 at 7¾, 3 at 7⅞, 4 at 7, 13 on commission; total 186 lots, 19,12 boxes, ruling price 7¾. Transactions one year ago aggregated 18,234 boxes, ruling price 8¾.

Little Falls reports: Cheese had another slight decline in price, the only change to be noted in the local cheese market. Yesterday's sales are thought to about close out the June make and the best informed operators are not hopeful for an advance in the near future. Following are yesterday's transactions: 45 lots at 7 1-2c., 43 at 7 3-4c., 27 at 8c., 2 lots at private terms and 9 lots on commission, total 9270 boxes. Farm dairies—The sales of farm dairy cheese amount to 73 boxes and the price ranges from 7 1-2 to 8c., with the bulk at the latter figure. Butter—Thirty packages of creamery butter sold at 16c. and 23 packages of farm dairy butter at 16 to 17c.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, July 23.—McNeely & Walters of Lindsay have signed the contract for the piers and approaches of the Bay of Quinte bridge. Work will be commenced as soon as the engineers determine the location, which will be within two weeks.

On Monday a deputation from Trenton interviewed Hon. Messrs. Bowell and Tupper at the Sandbanks. They asked the removal of duties from mining machinery which is not now manufactured in Canada and from coke; also that $6000 per mile be given to subsidize the C. O. Railway from Coe Hill to Sudbury. The ministers replied that they would lay the matter before their colleagues.

Henry Elliott was yesterday committed for trial on a charge of stealing horses from Wm. Doherty.

A pocket book containing $3 was stolen from the pocket of a lady on the market on Saturday.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

A Charter Granted to the First Australian District Assembly.

CHICAGO, July 22.—A charter was granted by the Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor to the first District Assembly of the order organized in Australia. The new district is composed of five local assemblies with a total membership of over 500, all of whom have joined the order within the past year. Accompanying the application for a charter was a request for Mr. Powderly to go to Australia and head the labor movement there, all of his expenses to be paid by the Australian branch of the order. It is not likely that Mr. Powderly will accept the invitation for some time, because of urgent business requiring his personal attention in this country, but some member of the board will probably be sent to Australia during the coming winter.

Wingham Votes $8000 for a Town Hall.

WINGHAM, July 22.—A bylaw was submitted to the people of Wingham to-day for the purpose of raising $8000 to build a Town Hall, and was carried by a majority of 67.

A Bowmanville Lad Drowned.

BOWMANVILLE, July 22.—The 11-year-old son of Mr. George Haines, jr., was drowned this afternoon in Vinestone's pond. He got beyond his depth.

OPENING DAY OF THE ST. JOHN SUMMER CARNIVAL.

Montreal and Vancouver Fire the Cannon in the Saintly City by the Sea—Patriotic Messages of Congratulation.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 23.—The long talked of Summer Carnival began to-day, the principal feature being the electrical exhibition which was opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the presence of thousands of people. A few minutes before 3 His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Tilley entered the exhibition building, which fact was announced by the discharge of a cannon situated in the fort at the rear of the exhibition building fired by electricity from the platform in the building. Promptly at 3 the first gun declaring the exhibition formally opened was fired by telegraph from Montreal by W. C. Van Horne, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who pressed the telegraph key in Montreal, which was connected with the gun in St. John, over the wires of the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraph. Ten seconds later Mayor Oppenheimer of Vancouver fired the second gun from the Pacific coast in like manner, the third gun being fired by Lieutenant-Governor Tilley from the platform, after which ex-Mayor H. J. Thorne, chairman of the Electrical Exhibition Committee, made a short address, in the course of which he said that the instrument by which Mr. Van Horne fired the first gun was placed in the board room of the Canadian Pacific Railway and on the table, sitting round which most of the great schemes connected with that great enterprise have been determined and, that Mr. Van Horne had just sent him this message:

MONTREAL, July 23.

H. J. THORNE, Chairman: I feel highly honored by your invitation to fire the first gun at the opening of the St. John Electrical Exhibition held to commemorate the union of St. John and Portland and the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway to St. John. I am confident that the establishment of direct railway communication with the west will give a great impetus to the growth and commerce of your united cities. On behalf of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, I send you congratulations and hearty good wishes.
W. C. VAN HORNE.

He also read these telegrams, which had been received after the firing of the opening guns:

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 23.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY, Lieutenant-Governor, St John: Accept our congratulations on the result of to-days experiments. The work of connecting the Provinces of British North America into one grand nation, in which you took so prominent a part, is proving day by day to be more completely a success, and the people of Vancouver rejoices with you that in celebrating anything Canadian seconds are now required to unite us from ocean to ocean. D. OPPENHEIMER, Mayor.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 23.

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves.'
G. H. BEERS,
Ormsomia, Pa.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. KINKAID, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 68 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

Who Pays the Duty?

A Plain Talk to the Farmers of Ontario.

The Globe of Wednesday last contains one of the strongest, because the plainest, arguments in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity. After quoting Sir John Macdonald's speech, which is reported in the House of Commons debates, 1878, page 861, and Sir David Macpherson's speech at Walkerton the same year, wherein both these titled gentlemen make plain the fact that where the producer has to seek a foreign market the burden of the duty falls on him, and as a consequence diminishes the value of his products by that amount. The Globe goes on to show what the farmers in each County of Ontario would gain on the following four articles of production, viz:—barley, wool, colts and young or other cattle which naturally seek a market in the United States. Below we give an example of how the loss is shown, say for instance in the County of Leanox and Addington the annual production in 1887 was

Barley	741,857 bu, duty 10c per bu	$ 74 185
Wool	74,437 lbs, duty 10c per lb	7,437
Colts	1,569, value $38,325, duty 20 p c	7,665
Y. Cattle	7,710, value $87,530, duty 10 p c	17,440
		$106,677

thus the direct loss to this country for one year, by not having Reciprocity, is $106,677. Taking the forty five counties in Ontario named, we find the total loss to this Province yearly is $3,649,468, or in round numbers $10,000 per day for every day in the year, Sunday included. This is the penalty Ontario farmers are paying year after year, on four articles of production only, for the mistake they made eleven years ago, when they by their votes placed the N. P. humbugs in power. The figures are astounding. Just look at the sacrifice, $10,000 per day; the price of two average farms or one of the best of them sacrificed every day in the year to the hydra-head monster called the N. P. Below we give a resume showing the amount each county contributes:—

Just how long this kind of thing can go on, is a question of time, and a very short time at that. You are throwing away two farms per day, seven hundred and thirty farms per year. At this rate of divestiture, how long will it take the N. P. dragon to swallow the whole Province? But you may say the Government cannot swallow the lands. True, but they can make it change hands, which amounts to the same thing to you. You say, how can this thing be done? We reply in this way:—Your cost of living is increased by heavy duty on what is imported. Your paying power is crippled by having to pay duty on your products when taking it into foreign market. You are required to pay more for what you get and get less for what you have to sell. The result is that you can't make any headway, even if out of debt to start with, but keep dropping behind in the race. Pretty soon you have to raise money on your farm, and when your troubles increase, till finally your farm passes into other hands, and you can go west or to Jericho for all the Government care. This is no fancy picture. Look at the financial condition of the country to-day and compare it with eleven years ago. Then the loan companies had loaned the farmer about one third of the value of all the farms in Ontario, thus the loan companies owned one-third and the farmers two-thirds. Since then the depleting process has been going on, a very large shrinkage has taken place on the value of lands principally on account of this heavy foreign duty, leaving little for the farmer, so that lands in Ontario have actually shrunk one-third in value in the past eleven years, leaving the loan companies and the farmers equal owners in the soil, with the advantage decidedly in favor of the loan company. Within the past eleven years the loan companies have been loaning on farms so that to-day the loan companies have at least two-thirds the actual value loaned on farm property. Another decade of this one-sided policy will find very few of the present generation of farmers left to suffer the consequences of misgovernment, for they will so West to retrieve their fortunes, and, it is hoped will meet with better success than they have had in Ontario, trying to buck the tiger with the chances all against them.

BURNT AT SEA.

The Story of the Lorenzo D Baker's Captain Two Seamen Drowned.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 22.—The Boston Fruit Company state that the cargo of the steamer Baker, burnt at sea, was valued at $10,000, on which there is an insurance of $5000. Captain Wiley says: "The Lorenzo G. Baker was valued at $80,000 and insured for $60,000. We left Port Antonio, Jamaica, July 10 with bananas for Boston and had six cabin passengers. At midnight on July 15 fire broke out in the engine room. The engineer could not get at the pumps. The fire buckets were put in use and the passengers ordered to the boats. By this time the flames had burst through the top of the engine room and the starboard boat was on fire. The port boat was lowered to a level with the rail. The fire was within three feet of us and the heat was intense. The boat capsized on striking the water and threw us into the sea. We righted the boat, put the passengers aboard and drifted away. The crew improvised a raft and escaped. One fireman had been drowned in trying to reach the small boat. A passing schooner took up some men and then picked us up. She proved to be the whaling schooner Franklin, Captain Rose, of New Bedford. Another fireman had been drowned in swinging from the steamer's bowsprit in the spars to which the sailors clung. At that time the vessel had burnt to within three feet of the water's edge and was a mass of flames from stem to stern. We received the most generous treatment from the crew of the Franklin who brought us into port immediately.

Perhaps It Was a Kentucky Colonel.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 22.—An inflated bag answering the description of the gas holder of the Campbell air ship passed over this city last night. In order to be sure that it was not a toy balloon it was watched for two hours. It went straight across the city from northeast to southwest as if carried by a steady current and appeared to be about two miles high.

Thousands have been relieved of indigestion and loss of appetite by a single bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The use of this medicine, by giving tone and strength to the assimilative organs, has made innumerable cures of chronic dyspepsia. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

MANY a sufferer from Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, etc., will be glad to find that Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended for such cases. It is is easily assimilated, prepare with great care, and is an admirable tonic. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d12

FOR
ROYAL DANDELION
COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

MUNCASTER'S

MR. GROSVENOR'S COOK.

"Dorcas! what are those dreadful things which you have placed on the line?" she inquired sharply, pointing to the reprehensible articles, which, blowing gaily in the wind, disclosed appalling rents in the linings.

"It's my bed-clothes. They were so dirty," she added in apology: "and I had no time to wash them."

But her mistress ordered them in, and that they should never again be exposed to the gaze of the world. The order was obeyed, but the expression on Dorcas' face was such that Mrs. Grosvenor felt inclined afresh. With her equals, these were was a more charming and obliging lady, but those who toiled daily in her household invariably felt themselves under a restraint of petty tyranny which demanded homage as well as obedience.

"What is this?" she inquired, in a despairing tone, pointing to a shoe soft, white substance.

"Grease," said Dorcas concisely, and in a manner of brevity not at all consistent with Mrs. Grosvenor's idea of the respect due her.

"Grease—what?" she asked in the tones sometimes used to unmannerly children.

"Grease—just grease. That's what I took it to be. If you can make anything more of it, you are welcome," said Dorcas, shortly.

Mrs. Grosvenor flushed slightly.

"Dorcas," she said, with dignity: "I have always been accustomed to be addressed as 'Ma'am' by my servants. As you have never lived out before, you are probably ignorant of what is due me as your mistress; but be careful in future."

The last words were spoken quite graciously, and, feeling that she had done her duty and asserted her superiority of station she re-ascended the stairs.

That evening, as she sat in her cosy back parlor with her only son, a young man who had just finished his studies as a law student, a timid knock was heard at the door, which, on being opened, revealed the figure of Dorcas arrayed in all the splendor of the green alpaca.

"If you please," she said, with an evident desire to be polite: "will you give me something to read?"

"To read!" echoed Mrs. Grosvenor, from her seat at the table, in a sort of sarcastic surprise, and rising, with a sigh, she collected a few tracts and the Missionary Herald.

"You may take these," she said: "and I am sure I hope they will do you some good."

"Do you like illustrations?" inquired the young lawyer, rising politely to hand her the papers held out by his mother: "Here is 'Picturesque America'; I think you'll find that entertaining, if you are too tired to read much. Mother, why isn't there a decent chair in the kitchen? They are all straight and high, and comfortless as a gate-post. Dorcas, there is a rocking-chair in the smoking-room which we never use; we will dedicate it to you for evening use."

"Percy, are you crazy?" inquired Mrs. Grosvenor, sotto voce: "The idea of giving that creature 'Picturesque America'! It will be covered with grease-spots."

"Thank you, sir," said Dorcas, from the door, in a voice which seemed wonderfully softened, and it was a tear, and not a grease spot, that defaced the cover of "Picturesque America" that night.

The next day, as Mrs. Grosvenor was about leaving the house for her customary drive, the door-bell rang, and, upon opening, before it stood a young lady in black. She was extremely pretty; hair dusky brown, large violet eyes, and fair, creamy complexion, slightly rose-tinted on her cheeks, while hat, dress and gloves all bore that nameless stamp which distinguishes the well-dressed lady.

"Does Mrs. Grosvenor live here?" she inquired.

That lady stepped forward. Something in the lovely face and sweet voice seemed to banish ceremony. Evidently this was the expected cousin. Did not everything point to this conclusion—the refined manner, the black dress, the inquiry for herself, and the trunk which was being brought from the street? And, while feeling rather surprised at her youth and beauty, she exclaimed, very cordially:

"I am Mrs. Grosvenor; and who you are I have already anticipated. I am so glad to see you, my dear child; but I am sorry not to have met you at the station."

The young lady's eyes grew large with surprise, and the color deepened on her cheeks a little, as the lady, taking both hands in hers, stooped and kissed her.

"You are too kind," she murmured: "I could not think of putting you to so much trouble."

"Not in the least," said Mrs. Grosvenor, warmly: "we shall only be too happy to make your stay with us pleasant."

A look of amused perplexity settled in the girl's expressive face.

"I am afraid you mistake me for some one else," she said, frankly. "Perhaps I ought not to come to this door. I was uncertain. I am the person who was recommended to you for cook. I received your telegram, and came down two days ago, but was detained in the city by a dying friend."

"Cook!" exclaimed Mrs. Grosvenor, helplessly: "who then, can be the creature I have been harboring for the past few days? Maggie, tell Dorcas to come here immediately.

In a few moments Dorcas appeared, heated from the kitchen-fire, without bearing the least appearance of being a person concerned in a plot to carry off the family plate.

"Dorcas," said Mrs. Grosvenor: "this young person tells me she is the one who was sent to me as cook. What reason have you for palming yourself off on me so?"

"I didn't," said Dorcas, indignantly: "my name is Mehitabel Dorcas Williams, and I am from Vermont. I hadn't any idea of being your cook until you called me so; and then I heard you telling that woman who rode with you on the back seat how embarrassed you would have been if your cousin had come first, so I let it go so. I've always done the cooking at home, as well as everything else, so I wasn't afraid to undertake it, thinkin' I'd tell you my little joke when the real cook came. I know I am old-fashioned and odd, livin' so long by myself in the country. I didn't expect 'help' to be palavered over like company, but I supposed even cooks were treated like human bein's with feelin's."

She paused for want of breath, and turning from her horror struck mistress, approached the young lady in black.

"I'm in trouble again, you see," she said, holding out her hand with an air of previous acquaintanceship: "I've never been used to gettin' round in the world. This girl," she said, addressing Mrs. Grosvenor: "was a power of help to me on the cars. She wasn't ashamed of me, either, but helped me with my big satchel, and was as considerate as though I had been the Princess of Wales; and she's the only one who hain't made fun of me and snubbed me since I left Plumfield Hollow, exceptin' one, which was your son ma'am," she added, with great consideration.

"I'm sure I'm very sorry. It's very pleasant and unheard of," blundered Mrs. Grosvenor, meaning the mistake: "it would have been very different if I had known."

"Never mind," said Dorcas, more gently: "I ain't fit for society, and I know it; but I'm rich, and there's one thing I do want—I want your new cook, ma'am. She's too young and pretty to live in your kitchen and sleep in your garret. Will you go with me, my dear? We can get along very comfortably, if you are not ashamed of me. We'll travel, and you shall have all the money you want to spend."

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius N. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

A Sunday Night Row.

Four boys—Alphonsus Legros, William Graham, Jas. Flaherty and Jno. Tracey, were before the police magistrate this morning to answer to a charge of being disorderly on the street Sunday night. The tracas took place at the corner of Smith and Water streets. It appears that Legros and Tracey were walking with a couple of girls when the other two came up, and the four boys got quarrelling and fighting. They were each fined $2 and costs, in all $3.65.

They Have Arrived.

On Saturday the C.P.R. sent the tickets for the Excelsior Excursion on the 31st, so you had better secure yours at once. Toronto $1.90, Niagara, Lewiston and Niagara Falls only $2.25, tickets good to return on August 1st. The ordinary fare on the Cibola, from Toronto to the Falls, is nearly as much as it will cost by this excursion from Peterborough. Examine the posters, notice the attractions, and take in this trip.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c., and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

Thursday's Foresters' Excursion

It is only necessary to call the attention of the public to the Foresters excursion to Jubilee Point on Thursday next to insure recognition of its advantages. Plenty of steamboat accommodation, no crowding. Splendid orchestra for dancing both on board the boat and at Jubilee Point. Tea, hot water and sugar provided free for excursionists. Sports and games. Canoes carried free from the the locks and back. And so cheap too. Tickets for the round trip only 50 cents, children half price. Don't forget this excursion.

The Cheapest Excursion Yet.

As announced a few days ago, the Foresters of Court Little John, C.O.F., No. 92, have completed arrangements for a grand excursion to Toronto, Niagara on-the-Lake, and Niagara Falls, on the coming Civic Holiday. This will be a decided treat to our citizens, as the committee has not forgotten the important matter of fare—the round fare being the very cheapest of the season—$1.75 to Toronto and return, and $2 to Niagara Falls and return. Tickets good for two days. This is the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Further particulars hereafter.

Campers Away.

A large crowd of campers for Stony Lake went up on the train this morning. Mr. E. B. Stone and wife and Dr. Jno. Stone, M.D., Toronto, will camp on Juniper Island. A party comprising Mr. Wm. Belleghem and family, Mr. Wm. Peters and family, and Mr. Wm. Armstrong will occupy Otter Island for two weeks. Mr. Richard Hall is camping on Juniper Island, with Masters Dickson and Herb. Hall and Roger Davidson. Mr. Adam Hall went up to join his family at his residence in Boschink. Miss Roger also went up for a short stay at her brother's house. Dr. Race, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a friend will join the American camp at Boschink. A couple of parties of boys also went up this morning for a two weeks' outing. One party was composed of J. Gillespie, J. Bletcher, R. Gemmil, R. Gillespie, A. Weir and Ed. Manning. The other party comprised Harold and Ashton Fife and Hal. Dumble. Perry Goldsmith will stop at Mr. J. McWilliams' residence near Burleigh.

The Biggest Outing of the Season.

Remember the grand excursion of the Foresters to Jubilee Point on Thursday. This promises the best enjoyment of the season. Cheap fare; best of accommodation; good music for dancing, hot water, tea and sugar provided free on the grounds. Meals at hotel 25 cents; a great day of enjoyment; secure your tickets, only 50c for adults children half price. Steamer and palace barge leave the wharf at 7 a.m. d

Post Office Savings Banks.

The recent defalcations in Kingston post office should not be without warning to those depositing money in the Post Office Savings Banks. One of the victims, a poor widow, had never received acknowledgements from Ottawa for the money deposited by her. According the rules of the department, the entry in the pass-book, without the acknowledgement from Ottawa, is not conclusive evidence of the deposits having been made. In the case mentioned the woman is called upon to state what evidence she has of having made the deposits, and to explain why she neglected to inform the Postmaster General of the non-receipt of the acknowledgement from Ottawa. Since the committal of the defaulter to poison other cases of a somewhat similar motive have come to light.

Baseball.

The match last evening between the Athletics and Association teams was virtually a defeat for the latter, though the rain came at the end of the third innings and put a stop to the game in time to have it declared a draw. The Association nine played the most ragged game they have yet, and were severely handicapped in being without Graham, their catcher, a substitute not filling the position as it should have been. Cameron had not recovered from the effects of his injury the other night and did not pitch his usual game, while Turnbull, who threw the ball after the first innings, was rather wild. The field also showed up poorly, while the Athletics played a steady game, their battery, McCabe and O'Brien, doing good work. A young man named Chambers acted fairly well as umpire. The score at the end of three innings stood as follows:—

Association	1	2	0—3
Athletics	6	4	4—14

AT the head of the class stands M. R. KIDD in choice teas.

The Canton and Band.

Last night a promenade concert was held in the Charlotte street skating rink under the auspices of Canton No. 10, I.O.O.F., and the band. There were two or three hundred people in attendance. The Canton and band in full uniform marched down from Central Park to the rink before the concert began, and presented a bright and attractive appearance on parade, though there was not as large a turn-out of the Canton as there should have been on account of sickness, absence from town, and other causes. At the rink the Canton performed a variety of marches and intricate evolutions, under the command of Capt. Moore. The plumed chevaliers demonstrated their efficiency in drill and were heartily applauded by the audience. The band also rendered several choice musical selections with its usual brilliancy. The may pole dance did not take place, and the management wish to explain that late in the afternoon, too late to notify the public through the evening papers, they received a telegram from Sergt. Major Rundle, who is out of town, that he would be unable to be here, and consequently the Maypole dance could not be given.

This morning the Canton's excursion to Burlington Beach per. C. P. R. was well attended. About 150 or 200 persons were aboard.

Manon Lescaut.

"Manon Lescaut," the masterpiece of Abbe Prevost, has been again translated, and is presented to us fully illustrated with Leloir's unsurpassed sketches and in such a charmingly tinted cover that one might also be tempted to called it an edition de luxe in paper. The translation is by Arthur W. Gundry, of Ottawa, and the treatment is more fluent and terse than Moylan's edition of 1841, which has hithertofore been accepted as the standard. The mechanical portion of this newest edition is in the very best form by its publishers, The National Publishing Company, Toronto. The popularity of Manon Lescaut has never been disturbed, it is one of the classics of literature, and the purity of its language, the irresistible langu r and fluidity of its sentences, has insured it the very front rank in French literary accomplishments. Abbe Prevost was recently named by an eminent authority as the most delicate and thorough master of French among the many great masters who have elevated the world by their grand use of that delightful tongue. To him even Balzac and Dumas must take second place and acknowledge him one of the few upon whom the famous compliment of the accomplished Duchess D'Aguillon fell with justice. Speaking of a volume from his pen the Duchess said:—"You might perhaps have done it better; no one else could have done it so well." This latest translation, comprising nearly three hundred illustrations with lithographed cover in five colors, is issued at the low price of 50 cents. For sale at the PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE.

A Visit to Stoney Lake.

The Lake Rapidly Filling up—A New Settlement in Boschink.

The usual exodus to Stoney Lake has be gun in earnest, and every day sees its crowd of campers going up to the northern camping ground. A number of townspeople also run up Saturday evening's, men who are not able to get away from their business for any longer period. A day at the lakes is worth the trouble and expense of travelling there. The cottages are now all occupied, and there are besides a number of parties camped out in tents. This week and next the great rush for the cool waters of Stoney Lake will take place, as this is about the middle of the "silly" season.

Among those who went up to the lakes Saturday night or this morning for an extended visit were Mr. Robt. Hall and wife, Mr. R. A. Morrow, and Mr. R. J. Kidd. The latter is going away up north to Paudash, and his wife and family will follow him later. Mr. Chas. McClelland went up Saturday night, and will spend a few days "Dreaming" in the waters of Boschink. Misses Walker and Hope, of Toronto, are stopping with Mr. Chas. Lowe at "Glenwood." Messrs. G. Fitzgerald and A. Blade have pitched tents on Juniper Island.

No prettier spot on the lake can be found than "Glenwood" on Boschink where Mr. D. Breeze and Messrs. Will and Chas. Lowe, of Toronto, have each erected cottages. The island is finely situated just back of "Syndicate," and commands a full view of the lake. The three cottages are nicely painted and the grounds thoroughly cleaned up. Mr. Breeze also cultivates flowers and vegetables, growing potatoes, lettuce, etc., on the thin soil with fair success. Besides "Dave" owns what he claims to be the dandiest and fastest sailing canoe on the lake, and all things considered he has as comfortable and completely equipped summer headquarters as one could wish for. At night when visitors are expected a grand display of lights is made at the three cottages, with Chinese lanters and colored glass windows. There would be no danger of one losing "Glenwood" on the darkest or foggiest night when the island is illuminated.

Fishing was reported unusually good in the early part of the season though from all accounts at the present time they are scarce enough. Some few are lucky, however. Messrs. Fitzgerad and Blade catching no less than 14 lunge in two days

Huckleberries are plentiful now, and every camp has a supply of the delicious fruit on hands. The wet season was favorable to the growth of huckleberries, so that campers have some return for the disagreeable weather they experienced.

The Market Building.

To the Editor of the Examiner

DEAR SIR,—Will you allow me a space in your valuable paper for a few thoughts on the question of the new market building. That a good market house and a good site are required I believe there is no difference of opinion, but what that building and where it should be does not seem so well understood. It is not my object to find fault with what has been done or said, but in view of what is now before the public I wish simply to present what I have to say in the way of a few questions. In the first place, then, it is the best situation for a market on the main street? Is what other cities do we find it on the principal street? A place required part of the day and twice in the week does not require so valuable a position. Would it have been too much to ask the people to decide where and what it should be? Then, as to the building, would it not have been as well to have advertised for plans as is often done for public work? There might have been a better chance of getting what would not only have supplied the need but would be a pleasure to those who wish to see the beauty of architecture maintained in this town? There could be no injustice in this to any architect. It is demanded of contractors who have to give considerable time to make out estimates. In that case there might have been one showing the market on the ground floor and possibly like some other public buildings one floor only. The question, then, of such a building might have come before the council. Thanks to the Board of Trade in the matter.

In having the market on the second floor is it not contrary to all precedent? Take for example, our churches, are they not all as a rule on the ground floor? Is not the market on the same principle? Is it not for the people—for their use and their accommodation, not a thing of financial speculation. Who would think of having a church over stores, for the purpose of meeting the expense? First of all then have what the people want. They will then be ready to vote the supply of funds to meet the expense. I do not think we should be altogether regardless of the convenience of farmers "wives" or those bringing articles to supply need of our town. (I suppose I should say ladies but I know no such distinction). The one argument in favour of a second floor market is that the rent of the stores would meet the demands for paying the amount raised. Is that what the people want? It is very fine to talk of a wide stairway say 10 feet wide with easy ascent and hand rail but who wants to be in the confusion of those, some going up, others coming down, as must be to a market house? Now few would have the advantage of the hand rail; should it be where intended it would be much out of sight. It might be a fine building, but have we not several fine blocks of stores in Peterborough, which are a credit to those who have had enterprise and courage to build? So that I can fancy a stranger coming to town would need someone to show them over what stores they might find the market. Having been on the market for a few weeks, I have observed who are the people that attend the market—certainly not those who from choice would walk up thirty steps. If such have a vote, we might be sure how it would be given. Besides, I cannot think that the husband, having to work and has a vote, will on that day forget his wife who has to attend the market, or the young man forget his more aged parents. Lately I have had the opportunity of being in many of the large towns and cities in England. do not remember seeing a market other than on the ground floor, and in most cases only one floor. It is one thing I cannot understand, that in this very extensive Dominion we should so want to pack our buildings, and to such a height that the upper floors are but little needed. It has been already remarked that to have the council chamber and other offices on the second floor would have been a good plan. Could not this be done now? and dispose of the present buildings so to make the best of a bad bargain? The less our corporation has to do in the way of building the better. No one on his own account would begin and carry on work so far in such a way on his own responsibility. I think every ratepayer will know what is before him, and must see that the market of Peterborough is no second consideration. Thanking you for this space, I subscribe myself by none other than which I am known,

Truly yours,
JOHN BABB.

Peterborough, July 22nd, 1889.

The Palace Restaurant.

The Palace Saloon and Restaurant, Mr. T. Dunn proprietor and conductor is now ready for the public, and is something in this line new to Peterborough, and not surpassed either in equipment or menu in any of the cities. As is known the Palace occupies the site of Chamberlain's restaurant, but such is the transformation that has been made, that the place would not be recognized as the same. The building has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted from cellar to garret, and finished in the completest and most elegant manner. The saloon is finished in a rich cherry, the walls laid on with a handsome design of tessalated paper and the ceilings artistically papered. The entire equipment of the department is new and of the most gorgeous description. The bar is stocked with the finest and purest brands of liquors, wines and ales, and the best brands of imported cigars. From the main public entrance, admission is gained to the sitting room—the ante chamber of the restaurant department. This has also been splendidly refitted and refurnished, elegant papers adorning the walls and ceilings, and all the appointments being of first class order. There are dumb waiters communicating with the kitchen below, and the room has a well lighted, cheery aspect. There are two entrances to the dining parlour—one from the sitting room and one from a hall opening from the market square, a private entrance for ladies and others who may desire a more private means of admission to the dining hall. The kitchen of the establishment has also been vastly improved in every respect, and is equipped in a manner to complete the requirements of the dining room above—ranges, refrigerators, etc., etc. A first class cook is in service, and the presents in every respect, every requisite for the furnishing of a meal at any hour to answer the taste of the hungriest of travellers or the most delicate epicure. All the delicacies as well as substantials of the season are available at any hour and the hungry can be fed in the most sumptuous manner, with food capitally cooked and delicately and deftly served. The palace restaurant under Mr. Dunn's management supplies a want which has long been felt. Persons arriving in town by the late trains at night in a half famished condition can find at the palace restaurant facilities for satisfying their hunger. Any bill of fare they desire to order can be prepared for them on very short notice. It is not necessary to point out the other advantages this establishment presents to the business men requiring to take luncheon or dinner down town, or to the hungry public generally. It is designed to meet the needs and wants of the public in every respect and is conducted in a manner to meet with approval; and a generous patronage will doubtless testify to the public appreciation of the facilities for satisfying the hunger and thirst of the public in the most approved manner. The residence portion of the establishment, on the second floor, has also been elegantly refitted, and the proprietor will be on hand at all hours to give personal superintendence to the requirements of the patrons of the Palace Restaurant.

PALACE RESTAURANT

The improvements to the premises have been carried out in a very complete manner, and the following gentlemen have had charge of the several departments: Mr. Wm. Wand did the woodwork, Mr. W. Whitehair the plastering and Mr. T. McGrath the painting and paper hanging.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tufw

An Abundant Harvest Promised.

There is every promise of an abundant harvest. Should this promise not be fulfilled it will make no difference in one respect Whether the crops are good or not there is no failure in the crop of cheap and first class teas at Hawley Bros', George street. Teas of the finest quality in great variety at the lowest prices, also first class coffee and fine glassware at close figures. dw

Willow and Wicket.

The Peterborough Cricket Club Defeated at Toronto—How the Match Was Lost.

TORONTO, July 23.—The first match played by the touring members of the Peterborough Cricket Club was played with the home club on the Toronto cricket ground. Leigh had prepared an excellent wicket which played true throughout the day, so that Alton, the captain of the Toronto team, derived little or no advantage from being enabled to send his team first to the wickets. The ball was opened by Alton and Leigh, the latter succumbing to the Peterboro' pro's first ball. Small's addition to the score was equally meagre, his wicket going down before Attwell's second ball. Two wickets down for no runs. Nor did matters look much brighter some few minutes later when the telegraph showed four wickets down for six runs. But there is always one white headed boy in every family, and Mowat-Briggs proved to be the man for Galway yesterday. Batting steadily, he and Saunders ran the score from six to 48. Though the former's inning cannot be said to have been a faultless one, it was characterized by sound judgement and hard hitting. Saunders played a patient and faultless innings for ten (not out), the total score reaching 58.

The Peterborough captain, with very little delay, sent in H. Strike and T. Rutherford, who were rapidly dismissed without any addition to the score. Stratton, of whom much was expected, met with hard luck, being bowled by Leigh for a couple of runs. Nor did the veteran Sam Ray come up to expectation, he being unfortunately run out, chiefly owing to Leigh's lightning quickness at the stumps. Attewell, the Peterborough "pro.," did as good yeoman service for the visitors with the willow as he had previously done with the leather. Although within a shade of being caught on two or three occasions, this player showed remarkable judgment in placing the balls where fielders were not, and the nineteen runs he made were a welcome addition to the visitors' score. Indeed, it was not until Attewell was cleverly taken by Mowat-Biggs, off Leigh, that the Toronto team began to entertain hopes of finally pulling off the match. With the exception of Rogers, no other dcuble figures were made, the innings closing for 51 runs, or seven behind the first effort of the Toronto men.

"Steady," was the word passed by the Toronto captain as Saunders and McKay walked down from the pavilion at the commencement of their second innings, and "steady" was the word, twenty-two runs being up before McKay got his curly head and pads in front of the timber and was given out l.b.w. Leigh was very unfortunate in his second innings, being thrown out before having a chance to score. Mowat-Biggs, after scoring seven, retired before a heartbreaker from Stratton. All this time Saunders had been keeping up his wicket in rattling style, and when he and McCullough partnered each other, there was music in the air and scoring on the field. Three wickets had gone down for thirty-eight—McCullough and Saunders ran it up to eighty-five before the former succumbed to a good one from Attewell. Yesterday was Alton's unlucky day, he losing his wicket at the first ball. Bromley-Davenport, after making five by steady play, was caught and bowled by Stratton, shortly after which Saunders (Sid. of that ilk), who had gone in first, was bowled by Stratton after obtaining 37 runs in faultless style. He received a well-deserved ovation on his return to the pavilion. Nor should H. Small's contribution of 20, not out, be forgotten as an addition to the total score, which reached the handsome figure 130.

With 147 runs to get and an hour and a half to do it in, the Peterborough's commenced their second innings with Sam Ray and W. A. Stratton. Hard hitting was at once the order of the day, 17 runs being made before the latter was caught off Leigh. Shortly after Ray was bowled by McCullough—two wickets for 25. Of the remainder, Hamilton played a very careful innings for 20, not out. He played in splendid form, and won the admiration of all the spectators. His efforts, however, found but a very feeble seconding on the part of the balance of the team, the whole being disposed of for 57 runs, leaving the Toronto team ahead by 80 runs, and Alton the happiest man on the field.

Mr. Bird then offered 8¾ for four factories, and Mr. Cluxton 8¾ for selections, Mr. Warrington advancing to 8¾ for selections. Mr. Bird bidding 8¾ for selections also. He took Keene only. Mr. Cluxton then bid 8¾ for selections, and cross Warminister, North Smith and Cherry Grove, all of which accepted. Mr. Wrighton bid the same figure for further selections, and got Shearer, Central Smith and South Dummer. Mr Wrighton next bid a half for further selections, Mr. Warrington advancing to 8¾ for the same. His selections, Missing Link and Norwood accepted. Mr. Wrighton repeated his offer of 8¾ for selections, and again Mr Warrington advanced to ¾, taking Bobosaygeon and Mariposa. Mr. Wrighton bid 8¾ for the balance of the Peterborough board. Only two factories accepted and Mr. Wrighton withdrew his offer. Mr. Cluxton's bid of 8¾ for selections was accepted by Warsaw, Pine Grove and Otonabee Union. Mr. Cook offered a sixteenth more for Maple Leaf, and Mr. Cluxton advanced to 8¾ for that factory, which accepted the offer. Three factories, Westwood, Melrose Abbey and Myrtle did not sell.

Mr. Wrighton offered 8¾ for the three remaining factories of Victoria section, Reaboro, Scotch Line and Cambray. They did not sell.

BIRTH

CAVANAH—At Lethbridge, N. W. T., on July 16th, 1889, the wife of Mr. J. H. Cavanah, merchant, of a daughter.

A Woman's Will.

The strength of a woman's will has seldom been better illustrated than in the account given by the London Times of one of the most remarkable women who ever lived—the Empress Dowager of China. This illustrious lady has directed for the last quarter of a century the destines of over 300,000,000 people, and in her hands the empire, which some 30 years ago seemed on the verge of dissolution, has regained and now presents all the outward appearance of strength and stability. In February last the Empress Taze Chi gave over the reins of power to the young Emperor Kwangsu and retired into private life; though as far as her personal character, disposition and habits are concerned, this makes little difference to our knowledge of her. She who was to be obeyed has always been as much a mystery as the veiled prophet Khoraman; and it is only by her edicts and the results of her policy that the outside world has learned of her existence. It is difficult not to believe that her her retirement marks an epoch in the history of the middle kingdom. The reigning Emperor has never shown the least sign of ability; and although men like Prince Kung may still be found in the imperial family, it will need something more than the greatness of one or two statesmen to keep the empire together, for it is now menaced by external enemies as well as internal disorder.

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits, for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk'n price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we need decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or The Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effects a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For circular and full particulars, address GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio. eodw

FIGHTING FOR FREEDOM.

BURKE MAKES APPLICATION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI

Argument to be Heard in the Habeas Corpus Proceedings To-Morrow—Suspect William Dwyer in Toronto.

WINNIPEG, July 23.—Application was made to-day to Judge Killam for a writ of certiorari in the Burke case, and granted. A habeas corpus will be asked for to-morrow and argument will be heard Thursday.

A Suspect in Toronto.

CHICAGO, July 23.—In connection with the Cronin mystery attention is again directed toward Conductor William Dwyer. He was employed as a conductor on a North Side car and reported that Dr. Cronin on the night of May 5 had ridden on his car from the corner of Clark and Frederick-streets to Lasalle and Madison-streets, and then inquired the way to the Union Depot, and on having it pointed out to him went in that direction. On the story first being told it was believed by many that it was only a case of mistaken identity, but no sooner had the body of Dr. Cronin been found and the arrest of Coughlin, O'Sullivan and the others been accomplished than Dwyer disappeared without even waiting to draw his pay.

A Chicago man just returned from Toronto, Canada, had a talk with Dwyer in that city, and to him Dwyer said that he would not return to Chicago until after the trials. Steps are to be taken to have him brought back, whether he wishes to come or not.

Dwyer was a member of Camp No. 20 and was known as No. 32. He was, furthermore, a member of the crowd which met at the North Side Turner Hall, and it is known that every member of this crowd bitterly hated the very ground Dr. Cronin walked on. Dwyer may prove very important in the case yet.

Failure of Luke Dillon's Mission.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Luke Dillon has returned to Philadelphia, having failed to induce the Sullivan members of the executive of the Clan-na-Gael to either agree upon a date for a convention or upon a successor to Patrick Egan in the executive. It is asserted that Alexander Sullivan advised his supporters not to recognize Luke Dillon or anybody else engaged in hunting for the murderers of Dr. Cronin.

The Vestibule Car Patent.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Another phase of the litigation over the vestibule car patents will be presented in the United States courts. The Pullman Palace Car Company this morning commenced another suit against the Wagner Palace Car Company and the Michigan Central Railway for infringement of the vestibule car patents.

The Railway Trouble.

CHICAGO, July 23.—The managers of lines in the Transcontinental Railway Association to-day appointed a committee of five to labor with the Northern and Southern Pacific roads with a view to persuading them to withdraw their resignations.

Blue Ribbon Day at Detroit.

DETROIT, July 23.—Blue Ribbon Day was inaugurated by the Detroit Driving Club to-day by opening the gates of the Driving Park and granting free admission to the first day's races of the Summer trotting meeting. Over 10,000 people passed in. The weather was fine and the track in splendid condition.

2.33 class—Purse $400 divided. Veritas won, Ketch 2, Starlily 3. Best time, 2.20¾.

In the 2.21 class three heats were trotted, when darkness put an end to further trotting, and the event goes over until to-morrow.

Another Victory for Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, July 23.—A game of lacrosse of the Saugeen District series was played here to-day between Owen Sound and Hepworth, Owen Sound winning, 3 goals to 0. Owen Sound is ahead, the record being 4 won and none lost. If they win one more game they will have the pennant.

John A. Won.

SHELBURNE, July 23.—A match running race for $100 came off here to-day between Blacks John A. of Shelburne and McLean's Humming Bird of Dundalk. John A. won in three straight heats.

A Walkover for Sparks.

OTTAWA, July 23.—A footrace took place here to-day on the Metropolitan grounds between W. H. Whalley of Almonte and Robert Sparks of Toronto, 440 yards, for $250 a side. Sparks drew away from his antagonist from the first and won by walking in. Whalley stopping forty yards from the tape. A large sum of money changed hands. No time was taken.

Sullivan Gets the $10,000 and the Belt.

NEW YORK, July 21.—John L. Sullivan today received from Al Crider the $2,000 stake money and the championship belt. Half of the money goes to Sullivan's backers in the recent fight.

Efforts to Save Mrs. Heron.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Acting Secretary of State Wharton, upon telegraphic representations from Congressman Taylor of Tennessee that Mrs. Heron, a missionary in Corea, was to be hanged for preaching Christianity, cabled Minister Dinsmore at Seoul to investigate the case and if necessary or not too late to use his good offices in securing Mrs. Heron's release.

Dr. Allen, secretary of the Corean legation and an American who has spent many years in Corea, says the story that Mrs. Heron is to be hanged for preaching Christianity is altogether improbable.

CANADIAN NEWS NOTES.

ANOTHER BABY FARM INQUEST AT TORONTO.

The Missing Lorne Park Hotelkeeper—A 10-Year-Old Girl Steps Off a Train Into a River and is Drowned.

TORONTO, July 24.—It is pretty certain that Thomas Anderton, the Lorne Park hotelkeeper whose disappearance was reported yesterday, is not in the Bay as was first supposed, but has left for the States. He was seen on the Chicora on Friday last bound for Niagara, and is known to have expressed the intention to more than one friend of shaking the dust of Toronto off his feet. His accounts are straight and no one will lose by him. In a dispute with Mrs. Anderton on Thursday last about the conduct of the hotel he remarked: "Well, manage it yourself, then, and see how you will get along."

The wife of William Spillman, who is now in jail on several charges, one of which is wife assault, applied at Osgoode Hall yesterday for an injunction to restrain her husband from disposing of his personal effects pending the result of the action. Mr. Justice Osler granted an order instructing the Dominion Bank to retain $350 out of $2250 to Spillman's credit. Mrs. Spillman also sues for alimony and to recover half of $700 which her mother gave her as a wedding gift.

The Dominion Police authorities have requested the local police to hold the Spillman brothers as they are suspected of being concerned in the burglary of the Pembroke postoffice several months ago.

Duncan McDougall, 443 King-street east, is held at Headquarters on a warrant for embezzling $40 from David Robbins, 658 Gerrard-street east. The trouble is the result of a business transaction.

About 9.30 yesterday morning a freight train from the west was derailed at the Queen's wharf through an open switch. The engine and three cars were damaged, but not not seriously. The express for Montreal, with 100 on board, was delayed an hour at the Union Station.

On Saturday night James Hartnett and James McCaffery engaged in a quarrel, during the progress of which McCaffery was cut by a knife across the chin, making a deep gash. Hartnett was arrested and yesterday morning was remanded by the Police Magistrate without bail till next Monday.

President Few of the Buffalo, Hamilton and Toronto Railway, says the proposed viaduct on the lake front need not extend further than from Bathurst to Parliament-streets, and that it can be constructed for $1,500,000.

Yesterday morning Col. White, Deputy Postmaster-General, arrived in Toronto and installed Mr. F. D. Barwick as postoffice inspector for the Toronto Division. He takes the place of Mr. Sweetman, who is made Dominion Chief Inspector of postoffices, Mr. J. Dewey, who formerly filled this position, being superannuated. It is understood that Mr. Sweetman's headquarters will be at Toronto. Col. White left for Ottawa last night.

Coroner Powell opened an inquest last night at 80 Elizabeth-street on the body of Charlotte Moore, a female infant, which had died at the above address while in the care of Mrs. Sturdwick, baby farmer. Drs. Sweetman and Emory made the post mortem, and after hearing their evidence, the inquest was adjourned until Friday night. The circumstances surrounding the death of the child are somewhat peculiar, but the primary cause of the inquest being held was the failure of the baby farmer to comply with the requirements of the Baby Farming Act in connection with the death.

DOWN TO DEATH.

Maud Taylor Steps Off a C.P.R. Train Into a River at Midnight.

OTTAWA, July 23.—A terrible accident by which a 10-year-old girl named Maud Taylor lost her life occurred at Pembroke this morning. The child and her mother were on their way via the Canadian Pacific Railway Winnipeg train from their home at Clapleau to Pembroke to visit friends. Shortly before arriving at Pembroke the brakeman passed through the cars, notifying the passengers that they were approaching the station. Three minutes later the train pulled up on the trestle bridge over the Alumette River for the engine to take in water from the tank. The time was five minutes after midnight. Mrs. Taylor and Maud collected their baggage and when the train stopped passed with other passengers out on the platform of the car, supposing that they were at the station. The child stepped fearlessly off and plunged thirty feet down into the cold, dark current beneath. The train with the terror-stricken mother, whose agonized shrieks are described as heartrending, immediately proceeded into the station. Boats were secured and in ten minutes the lifeless body was recovered.

A HALIFAX SENSATION.

Otto R. Weeks, M.L.A., Arrested, Charged With Shooting a Woman.

HALIFAX, July 23.—A sensation has been caused by the arrest of Otto R. Weeks, M.L.A., on a warrant sworn out by a woman named Annie H. Killan, who charges him with shooting her with intent to kill. The affair is alleged to have occurred on July 2. The woman's injuries were very slight. Mr. Weeks was liberated on $4000 bail.

Labor Day.

HALIFAX, July 23.—Over 2000 men marched in the Labor Day procession this morning. A picnic, sports and dinner as McNab Island rounded out the day. An elderly man attired in black clothes and beaver hat accompanying the procession attracted considerable attention. He wore a red sash round his waist and on his coat was worked the representation of a sunrise with the word "Equality." The old gentleman said he was "a member of the Socialists, the largest body in the world."

THE STINSON TRAGEDY.

William Hunt Arrested at London South Yesterday—A Suspect in Quod.

LONDON, Ont., July 23.—Albert Stewart was arrested at Hagersville last nights and brought to the city this morning on suspicion of being one of the trio who "worked" the two clerks in the office of the London Loan Company a couple of weeks ago and abstracted from the till $1370.

William Hunt was arrested at his home in London South this morning on the charge of killing Alexander Stinson, jr. He was bailed until Thursday for examination in $2000.

THE DISTRICT COURT ACT.

The Announcement as to Its Disallowance Cannot Be Delayed.

MONTREAL, July 23.—After the disallowance of the District Magistrate's Court Act the Montreal bar sent a request to the Minister of Justice, asking for a conference to endeavor to remove the difficulties caused by disallowance. A reply has been received from Sir John Thompson, suggesting that the meeting take place in Montreal early in August. He also adds: "I much regret the inconvenience which your resolutions inform me will be occasioned and will be glad to assist in any measures which may tend to remove the inconvenience, but the disallowance being now an accomplished fact, it is not in my power or in the power of anyother person to authorize the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec to delay its announcement."

A Woman Lynched.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 23.—A telegram received here announces the lynching at Sweetwater of Postmaster Jim Averill and a woman who lived with him as his wife. Sweetwater consists chiefly of a station contiguous to a number of ranches. Averill four years ago took up Government claims, and the woman took up a claim adjoining the town of Cartwel. Both were recognized as hard citizens. The woman was a daring rider. She rode man fashion the most vicious brutes, and in roping cattle could take her place with the average cowboy. For a long time both have been under suspicion as cattle hunters.

Purchased for the Vanderbilts.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The report that Drexel, Morgan & Co. have purchased control of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company is confirmed. Although the Vanderbilt party have not been directly seen in regard to the matter there is no doubt that it is on their account Drexel, Morgan & Co. have acquired it. Wall-street showed its appreciation of the new move by advancing Chesapeake stock 1¼ and Consolidated Big Four stock 1¾ to-day.

New York Canal Traffic.

ALBANY, July 23.—For the week ending July 22 the canal tonnage was 192,216. During the same period last year 144,462 tons were carried. The increase this year was confined mainly to shipments of lumber, corn and stone.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

The Queen Quite Recovered and the Prince of Wales Better Than He Was.

LONDON, July 23.—The Queen has quite recovered from the attack of lumbago and sciatica from which she was suffering so badly a fortnight ago, and can walk and move about with ease. The colder weather has conduced much to her recovery. She was looking very much better the day she left Windsor. If the amount of the Queen's savings is as large as reported, namely, £800,000, she must have a very large private fortune. She has purchased Balmoral and Osborne, which cannot represent less, with the outlying properties which she is always acquiring, than half a million more, exclusive of Claremont, for which she paid a very large sum. She has, it is said, given large fortunes to some of her daughters on their marriages, as well as to her granddaughters, the children of the Grand Duke of Hesse, to the amount of £300,000. Her savings, therefore, in round numbers, are something like £1,600,000. There is one item of the Queen's expenditure which has always been overlooked or entirely forgotten, namely, the large sums which she has spent on memorials to the Prince Consort. The Albert memorial is said to have cost over £100,000. She has restored St. George's chapel, Windsor, in a most lavish manner, and must have spent vast sums at Frogmore on the mausoleum. It is said by those who are well able to judge what her expenditure on this one item alone has been nearly £500,000, which brings us beyond the two millions which she Queen is believed to have saved.

The Prince of Wales is better than he was, but has been suffering from gout in the eyes, and the leg which had been cured for some time has begun to trouble him again. He is no doubt worried by the opposition to the royal grants. The hitch in the negotiations arose on the point whether the Queen should apply again for money when the Duke of Albany is older. Mr. Gladstone is in a difficult position, for at the time of the Duke of Albany's death or shortly after the Queen tried to get him to propose a grant for the little duke. But Mr. Gladstone asked that the matter be deferred till he was older and it became necessary for him to have an establishment of his own, when he promised if he were in power that something should be done for him. Mr. Gladstone would, no doubt, be very glad to fulfil his promise, but neither Mr. Bart nor Mr. Labouchere will agree, and Mr. Whitbread is quite as troublesome, though on other grounds.

The Government is said to have asked that £50,000 a year more be voted for the Prince of Wales as additional income, out of which to make provision for all his children, but it seems the committee are only prepared to grant £40,000, and the minority only agree to that in the event of the arrangement being final, which would preclude the Queen from making another application for any of her children or grandchildren. It shows great confidence on the part of the House of Commons if they vote £40,000 a year in addition to the Prince of Wales, and make no stipulations as to how it shall be divided. It would seem a much wiser arrangement to make a certain grant to the two princes, leaving the remainder to be divided at the Prince's discretion among his three daughters.

There is a very strong feeling that Prince Albert Victor has been kept as home long enough, and that the time has arrived when an independent household allowance should be made for him. The affection of the children to the Prince and Princess is a very touching and pleasant element in their lives, but when a young man who must occupy the highest position in the land comes to Prince Albert Victor's age, he ought hardly to be still tied to the family apron strings. It is no secret that the Prince of Wales carries his paternal rights into the most searching investigation and supervision of his son's life, which, in these days at 25 years of age, must be very irksome. Nothing can exceed the praise with which everyone who knows him speaks of Prince Albert Victor. His kindness, good temper and amiability have won him golden opinions.

The invitations to the royal marriage on Saturday can barely exceed 50, so that many well-known friends of the Prince and Princess of Wales will of necessity be absent. The Duchess of Abercorn has worked very hard as the head of the ladies' present committee and had the advantage of the active co-operation of such experienced organizers as Lady De Grey, the Duchess of St. Albans and Roxburgh, Lady A. and Lady Rosebery. The list has been strictly confined to personal acquaintances.

The Prince of Wales met Gen. Boulanger at Lord Randolph Churchill's on Wednesday evening at dinner, possibly one of the most remarkable ever given in Connaught places. The table was profusely decorated with roses and all the ladies present were gemm off to the Duchess of Albercorn's concert hall. The display of jewelry was unusually fine. The hostess alone divided the heir-apparent from the illustrious exile, with whom he maintained a constant conversation. Lord Randolph sat opposite, between Lady Zetland and Mrs. Leopold Rothschild. Count Dillon talked contemporary French politics to Mr. Leopold in defiance of M. Beaurepaire and all his machinations. EDMUND YATES.

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Funeral of Hon. T. N. Pardee—A Large Attendance of Prominent Canadians.

SARNIA, July 23.—The funeral of the late Hon. Timothy Blair Pardee took place here this afternoon. Among the many prominent men present were Hon. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands; Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture; Judge Armour, Mr. George Mouerieff, M.P., Mr. Peter Graham, M.L.A., Mr. Robert Ferguson, M.L.A., Sheriff McKim of Guelph, Sheriff Hossie of Stratford, Messrs. N. Case of Hamilton, D. M. Cameron, ex-M.P., Daniel Mackenzie, ex-M.P., Thomas Ballantyne of Stratford, Moses Masuret and Dr. Bucke of London.

All the business houses and many manufactories were closed from 2 to 5 o'clock as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, flags were displayed at half-mast, and in various ways was the respect of the people for the deceased shown in a marked manner.

Services were conducted at the residence by Canon Richardson of London in the absence of the regular pastor of the Episcopal Church here, and then the remains were taken to Lakeview Cemetery for burial.

The pallbearers were J. F. Lister, M.P., M. Fleming, R. S. Gurd, Julius F. Buck, J. H. Flintoft, Judge Robinson, Charles Mackenzie and Judge Mackenzie.

At the cemetery the funeral service of the Episcopal Church was read and the remains consigned to the grave.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Another Divorce Application—The Edison Electric Light Case.

OTTAWA, July 23.—David P. Clapp of Hampton, Public School Inspector of the County of Wellington, will apply to Parliament next session for a bill of divorce from his wife, Alice M. Clapp, nee McDonald, on the ground of adultery.

This morning some thieves broke into the office of the Ottawa River Navigation Company and stole goods to the amount of about $40.

The Edison electric light case, in which the Edison patent is being attacked for non-manufacture and importation, and which was tried some time ago, the patent being declared void, was opened to-day before Hon. John Carling, it being doubtful whether Mr. Pope, Commissioner of Patents, who tried the case in the first instance, had jurisdiction under the Act.

OVER 1200 BURNT TO DEATH.

A Terrible Fire at Lu-Chow, China—175,000 People Homeless.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—Advices just received from China state that a recent fire at Lu-Chow burned twenty-three hours destroying eight thousand dwellings. Over 1200 persons perished in the flames and 400 others were killed. Nearly 175,000 people were obliged to camp out without shelter and were dying at the rate of 100 a day from want and exposure. The authorities are providing for their necessities.

A Toad Story.

ST. CATHARINES, July 23.—The late spell of hot weather, says The News, has caused an enormous demand on the supply of fine cool lager from the brewery of Taylor & Bates, who, to keep pace with the same, were compelled last week to utilize some of the old vaults under the brewery as store rooms for the spring brews of their standard pale ales. Yesterday J. Malcolmson, in superintending the sweeping out of one of the vaults, got a genuine surprise. Having a lamp in his hand he went to the end of the dark passage and found in a corner under a ventilator what he thought was an old gray-colored plug hat. He told the workmen to sweep it out with the rubbish of broken bottles, etc., but when the broom touched the apparent hat it made a jump which astonished both. Closer examination proved it to be a toad almost as big as a loaf of bread, in fact a monster of its species, and evidently a denizen of the vault for many years. He secured the batrachian, which weighed close on to seven pounds eight ounces, and will send it alive to the School of Technology, Toronto. How the enormous thing secured a living and grew so big is a mystery to all.

Edison Favors Electrocution.

NEW YORK, July 23.—In the hearing of the Kemmler case to-day Thomas A. Edison testified he had no doubt whatever of the power of an alternating current to kill a man instantaneously, painlessly, and was sure it could be done without burning.

URGED TO VISIT IRELAND.

INVITATIONS TO THE QUEEN FROM DUBLIN BODIES.

Opening of the Wesleyan Conference in London—An English Syndicate Negotiating for German Possessions in Africa.

LONDON, July 23.—The trustees of the National Library of Ireland and the Board of Visitors of the Dublin Museum of Science have adopted resolutions urging the Queen to visit Ireland next spring. A copy of the resolutions has been forwarded to the English Government.

The Wesleyan Conference opened here today. Rev. C. H. Kelly was elected President. The chairman announced the sudden death of Rev. John Brewster.

The German Southwest African Company is said to be negotiating for the sale of all its African possessions to an English syndicate.

Mr. Parnell, in an interview to-day, said he and Mr. Sexton were mainly influenced in the matter of the Royal grants by their respect for Mr. Gladstone, whom they were anxious to support.

The House of Commons to-night, 230 to 76, agreed to grant a lump sum of £600,000, or as an alternative, £20,000 annually, to build railways in Ireland.

The physicians attending Wilkie Collins, the novelist, pronounce him out of danger.

The Standard's Rome correspondent says the principal reason for the convening of the recent consistory was to consider the advice of France that the Pope quit Rome and accept a suitable asylum in France. The Pope told the Cardinals he had refused the offer because he would not cause France to declare war against Italy for his sake, he being personally well disposed towards Italy. Mgr. Fava, bishop of Grenoble, France, has accepted the Pope's offer of the Patriarchate of Jerusalem, hitherto always held by an Italian prelate.

Shares in the North American Salt Company were dealt in to-day at the Stock Exchange at 17s 6d premium.

Parnell on the Stand.

LONDON, July 23.—Mr. Parnell to-day again appeared before the special commission appointed to examine into The Times' charges against Parnellite members of the House of Commons. He denied that any letters which had passed between himself and Mr. Harris had been withheld from the court. The letters had all been sent to Mr. Soames, solicitor for The Times.

Attorney-General Webster intimated that it was his intension to call every witness necessary to trace the missing books of the Land League.

Continuing, Mr. Parnell said he had instructed Mr. Lewis, of the counsel for the Parnellites, to subpœna Mrs. Maloney, treasurer of the Ladies' League, to produce the books of the Land League in her possession. He could not say what amount of League money Mr. Egan and the other trustees had inv

THE STATE OF THE CROPS.

Reports From Many Important Points.

The Prospect in Manitoba—A Good Average Yield of Wheat Assured—The Hay Crop Well Saved—Effect of the Heavy June Rains—Roots Good in the East—Corn a Failure.

LONDON, Eng., July 22.—Just as farmers were generally calling out for rain, and complaining of the threatened destruction of crops on light soils, the long hot and dry period, which lasted from the second week in June to the second in July, was broken by welcome showers, which will do an incalculable amount of good. We have enjoyed splendid weather for the fructification of the cereals, and the yield of grain in proportion to straw can scarcely fail to be great. But the straw crop is not a heavy one, and it is doubtful whether either barley or oats will be much, if at all, over the average. Wheat cannot be described as a heavy crop either; but it is so generally a good crop—wheat is styled a good standing crop—that a yield above average may be expected. It is early for a quantitative estimate, as the weather during the next four or five weeks will affect the yield materially, but, on a rough estimate we may expect about 30 bushels an acre on nearly 2,700,000 acres, or about 80,000,000 bushels in all. Last year the official estimate was a little under 74,500,000 bushels. The root crops are likely to do well, now that rain has come, and the same may be said of potatoes if we should not have too much wet weather. One of the greatest crops of hay ever produced has been for the most part secured in prime condition. Live stock have done well, with abundance of feed, and have sold well also. With the prospect of good crops of grain and of abundant stores of winter keep for live stock, farmers' prospects are decidedly cheering.

Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, July 22.—The splendid rains of the past two weeks have wonderfully improved crop prospects in Manitoba. Farmers who three weeks ago expected only half a crop of wheat are now confident of reaping one above the average. The Portage Plains and Rockwood promise to carry off the palm for big yields, many farmers estimating the wheat yield at 30 to 40 bushels per acre. In other districts drought and grophers have done some harm. On Wednesday last hail damaged the grain in the vicinity of Neepawa, where a big crop was promised. The belt destroyed covers a mile and a half to two miles wide. In Southwestern Manitoba only an average yield of all grains is expected, while close to the Dakota boundary they will be very light. In the Red River District all crops promise well, those sown in warmer yellow lands especially. Taking the Province, our wheat will be an average yield, barley two-thirds and oats a poor crop. Haying operations have commenced, but wheat harvesting will not be general till the middle of August.

Brandon.

BRANDON, July 22.—Crop prospects in Manitoba generally have much improved during the past ten days, but are not up to the anticipations of the early spring. Barring accidents, the crops will be fair in at least many parts. The most reliable information puts it quite up to the average. Oats are a short crop. Hay is considerably below the average. It is calculated on apparently satisfactory data that the wheat crop this year will approximate to that of 1887, despite the lying reports of Yankees and others who have never been in the country. The drought has been undoubtedly severe, but it is established beyond dispute that, in consequence of the extraordinary natural capabilities of the country, though the climatic conditions have been extremely adverse, wherever the ground was carefully prepared and the seed properly sown at the proper time the crop is excellent. Where partial failure occurs it is easily traced to careless husbandry, the crucial test has been experienced and has silenced criticism and scepticism.

Portage La Prairie.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, July 22.—Crops on the Portage Plains, High Bluff, Burnside, McGregor, Austin, McDonald, Westbourne, Gladstone, Wellington, Beaver Creek, Arden, and north of Neepawa, are good. The wheat crop is almost equal to 1887. Oats and barley are a little light on account of drought in the early part of the season, but are now doing well. All other points on the Manitoba & Northwestern Railways are doing fairly well on account of the late rains, and in some cases more. The south and western portion of the Province suffered considerably for want of rain, but in several places fully half a crop will be realized, where scarcely any crop was expected a month ago. Light crop in many places can be accounted for by bad seed and late sowing. The hay crop is light. The wheat crop will be harvested early in August.

Ontario.

The reports from points in our own Province are generally satisfactory. Fall wheat will be a good average crop, except on low lands, where serious injury was done by the June rains. Barley promises a good yield. Oats are a fair crop. The root crop seems to promise well in Eastern Ontario, but for roots in some districts, the correspondents say, rain is wanted. The corn crop seems to be a failure. Hay is a heavy crop and well saved.

The evils resulting from habitual costiveness are many and serious, but the use of harsh drastic purgatives is quite as dangerous. In Ayer's Pills, however, the patient has a mild but effective aperient, superior to all others, especially for family use.

"BIG 6" RESISTS.

Fear of New York's Big Dailies Trying to Reduce the Price of Composition.

NEW YORK, July 23.—When the compositors employed on The Herald, Sun, Times and World entered the composing rooms yesterday they found a notice posted on the walls which meant an average reduction of 10 per cent. The Executive of the Typographical Union instructed the men to refuse to accept the reduction. In The Herald office the notice was removed before the time for beginning work. In The Sun office 23 non-union types had been engaged by 8 o'clock, and by 10 o'clock 56 men were at work. At 10.15 the manager of The World saw that it would be impossible to get out the paper without the aid of the regular men, and after a consultation the notice was removed on the understanding that it might be brought into requisition again on Monday next. When the men heard of the conditions they refused to go back to work unless The Times and Sun men went back to work also. A few minutes later the notice in The Sun office was removed, but the compositors on the outside at once decided not to return unless the new hands were discharged. This was done. Hardly had The Sun men returned when The Times' placard was removed. Not a "stick" of matter had been set up at 10.30 o'clock. The Times' managers agreed to pay the men the old rates for at least a week, and on this understanding the men, 174 in all, went back to work. The 200 men at The World went to work at the old rates for the present.

A general meeting of the Union will be held on Sunday, at which it will be decided what course to pursue in the event of the papers making a reduction in price.

These were the regulations proposed:

All cuts belong to the office.

Inset cuts shall be charged as straight matter.

All corrections on advertising on time, whether the space is increased or not.

No make-overs allowed.

Overtime, 50 cents per hour.

No extras on fat display ads.

Reading notices shall be paid for in accordance with the type they are set in.

All rule and figure work on time, at the option of the office.

Composition, 50 cents per 1000 ems.

Time hands, $4 per day.

Thousands have been relieved of indigestion and loss of appetite by a single bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The use of this medicine, by giving tone and strength to the assimilative organs, has made innumerable cures of chronic dyspepsia. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

MANY a sufferer from Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, etc., will be glad to find that Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended for such losses. It is is easily assimilated, prepare with great care, and is an admirable tonic. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d12

DURING the dull months of May and June the output of the old established G. M. Weber piano factory, Kingston, will be sold at wholesale prices for cash, from elegantly finished pianos to the cheapest styles, all guaranteed. It will pay richly to write for prices. 3aw

A Big Success.

FOR summer complaints and diarrhœa I can truly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as I have used it in my family with great success and would not be without it. JOHN B. HAVENS, Grimsby, Ont. Never travel without it. 2w30d

ITCHING AGONIES.

Every Night I Scratched until the Skin was Raw.

Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. An awful Spectacle. Doctors Useless. Cure Hopeless. Entirely Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in five Weeks.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied by itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

BYAM'S Improved "Common Sense" • SASH BALANCE. LOCKS AND LIFTS.

THE only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put to old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flat coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

MR. GROSVENOR'S COOK.

Mrs. Grosvenor, who had been growing more and more nervous and helpless as the affair approached this climax, complained of a headache and disappeared, leaving the two alone.

The young stranger flushed slightly.

"You are very kind to propose it," she said, earnestly: "but, indeed, I cannot accept your offer. I came here so as to be independent and earn my own living. I am not afraid of Mrs. Grosvenor, or ashamed of being her cook. We can't all be school-teachers, you know, nor musicians or artists, and as I have a genius for cooking, they say, I had rather just take my place in life as it is. And, excuse me for interfering, but hadn't you better make Mrs. Grosvenor your promised visit, instead of leaving now?"

"I don't know. It don't seem as though I could be comfortable anywhere in this house," said Dorcas, with a shrug of the shoulders; "and I don't feel as though I looked right, neither. Land knows, such things never troubled me in Plumfield Hollow, and I never spent my life figurin' how to look pretty, and I guess it wouldn't have done much good if I had."

"I am a novice myself in the dress question, but if I could be of any help—" began the new cook modestly.

"Yes, child, I wish you would; what is your name? Frances Moore? Well, Frances, if you can make me look anything like you, I should be thankful."

So the two proceeded up-stairs together.

"Have you got a black dress?" inquired Frances.

"Yes, I've got a black cashmere, and a black silk, too, if it comes to that. But, of course, I wasn't going to mop them around on the cars," answered Miss Dorcas, predicting them, and, with the help of her friend, was soon arrayed in the latter. Then the young lady rearranged her hair, and, after the finishing touches were put on, led the astonished Miss Dorcas up to the fragment of looking-glass (deemed good enough for a servant,) which, however, reflected enough to show a rather presentable figure, quite a change from its last showing of the same person.

"You are an artist," was her faltering comment.

Frances laughed and replied:

"I think I will make a change in my own toilet and repair to the kitchen to learn my new duties, all at once, and nothing first, just as the one-horse shay fell to pieces."

Miss Dorcas went, instead, to Mrs. Grosvenor, where peace was made and the affair laughed over with as much heartiness as could be expected under the circumstances. So the visit lengthened into a stay of many weeks, and the lady of the house began to feel her quite a necessity. She spent her money freely, and loaned it with equal readiness. The new cook, too, was acknowledged by Mrs. Grosvenor, even, to be a jewel. She kept "her place," indeed, but in such a manner as to command respect. She refused to accept any favors through Miss Dorcas, but, by degrees, the aspect of the kitchen became gradually changed. There were cheap, but pretty, white shades for the windows, over which green vines were trained, while a wealth of luxuriance blossomed below. An easy-chair or two stood in convenient corners, and a pretty cover for the table gave the room so cosy an appearance that Miss Dorcas called there very often; and it was not long before another member of the family became aware that the kitchen was an attractive place.

Percy Grosvenor had always lived in the society of fashionable ladies, and he was somewhat astonished that a girl in the position of cook could be intelligent, with tastes congenial to his own; and, withal, a lady in every respect; and so the matter grew, as such matters will, until one evening his mother was horrified, on entering the kitchen to find her son's arm around the pretty young cook, and her head suspiciously near his shoulder. Too much disgusted to say anything at that unwelcome discovery, the lady left the kitchen, but sought an early opportunity to bring Percy to account.

"I am astonished at such conduct from you; and as for that girl, she must go at once."

"She will go, it is true, mother," said the young man, in what his mother recognized as his Mede and Persian tone: "but she shall come back; for she has promised to be my wife."

"Percy Grosvenor!" cried his mother: "are you crazy? You, with your talents and social position, to throw yourself away on a cook!"

"It is a little out of the usual line, I confess," said he, smiling: "and it is not every cook I would wish to marry, nor every heiress or society belle, though they might be too good for me. It is because this cook is a true lady, with every gift of personal character to render her an ornament to any position in life, that I love her and desire to marry her."

"I am glad you are trying to break it up, cousin," said Miss Dorcas approaching from a corner where she had been unnoticed: "I have been trying to coax that silly girl down-stairs out of her folly, but it's of no use. I shall leave her a third of my property, and give her the use of it till I die, and if I don't marry, she shall have it all. I think she ought to know better, but she won't hear to reason. Not but what your son here is as likely a young man as ever I saw, but then I told her there would be disagreeable things about living here, aside from him."

Mrs. Grosvenor said no more; but in later days, when the young Miss Grosvenor was universally admired and sought after, she was observed to take great pride in speaking of "my daughter Frances."

The Leather Workers Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The leather workers' convention, which has been in session here for two days, to-day adjourned sine die. Forty delegates were present from the United States and Canada, representing 18,000 tanners, curriers and Morocco dressers and in fact all the branches connected with the leather working trade. The organization is the National Trade Assembly of Leather Workers of the United States and Canada, which forms Local Assembly No. 240 of the Knights of Labor. The object of the convention was to endeavor to adopt a plan to secure an equalization of the wages paid in different sections of the country for the same class of work. At present the lowest rates are paid in New York State and parts of Pennsylvania, while the Chicago workers receive the best pay and work the least hours. Master Workman D. F. Moreland said to-day:

"The result of the convention was very satisfactory. The reports received from different sections indicate great interest in organization. There is upwards of $10,000 in the National Assembly treasury and it can command through its locals, if necessary, between $40,000 and $50,000, so our financial condition is most satisfactory. I think we will ultimately secure some basis of wages in the different sections of the country for the same work. The Leather Workers' Journal, our official organ, has been put on a sound basis and will be published weekly instead of monthly. Within the next three months organizers will be sent to New York State and any other sections of the country that require them to organize all the leather workers not yet in union with us."

To Cure a Corn

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6d w30

The Highest Praise.

I USED a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for my dyspepsia and it proved a perfect cure, and I was blessed the day I got it. I would not be without it now for a good lot. It is worth its weight in gold.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Tall Fishing.

A party of sportsmen from Peterborough, says the Hastings Star, spent several days in that vicinity last week, fishing. On Friday, one of the number, Mr. Fitzgerald, caught fifty-seven bass, and on Saturday this gentleman captured fifty-nine of the finny tribe.

An Abundant Harvest Promised.

There is every promise of an abundant harvest. Should this promise not be fulfilled it will make no difference in one respect Whether the crops are good or not there is no failure in the crop of cheap and first class teas at Hawley Bros', George street. Teas of the finest quality in great variety at the lowest prices, also first class coffee and fine glassware at close figures. dw

AT the head of the class stands M. R. KIDD in choice teas.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c, and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

A Three-Legged Colt.

Mr. Thos. Calvert, of Ops township, near Reaboro', while attending the Cheese Board, dropped in to the EXAMINER to tell of a three-legged colt which was foaled on his farm last Saturday night. The colt is lively and frisky on its three legs. The missing limb is the one that should be on the right fore shoulder. Mr. Calvert intends raising the colt, but has not yet decided to enter him for any of the great racing events though he would doubtless have great natural advantages in a three-legged race.

The Cheapest Excursion Yet.

As announced a few days ago, the Foresters of Court Little John, C.O.F., No. 92, have completed arrangements for a grand excursion to Toronto, Niagara-on-the-Lake, and Niagara Falls, on the coming Civic Holiday. This will be a decided treat to our citizens, as the committee has not forgotten the important matter of fare—the round fare being the very cheapest of the season—$1.75 to Toronto and return, and $2 to Niagara Falls and return. Tickets good for two days. This is the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Further particulars hereafter.

The Death Rate.

The government mortuary returns for the month of June have just arrived. The death rate of Peterborough is 1.00 per cent., a little above the average. The number of deaths last month was 9, three males and six females, two males and one female dying of constitutional diseases, and one male and five females of local diseases. The deaths for June last year were 12, an increase of 3 over the corresponding month of 1888. Galt has the lowest death rate in Canada, being .41 per cent.; Belleville's rate is .89, Kingston 1.61, Toronto .88, Guelph .76, etc.

The Cruise of the "Daisy."

Calcutt's steamer "Daisy" arrived from the Trent river yesterday, where she has been engaged towing logs for Gilmour & Co. The captain reports fishing very good, bass being very numerous at Healey Falls, and maskinonge plentiful in the river below Trent bridge. The islands in the river are being bought up by Americans and parties from Toronto, who intend building summer lodges. Healey Falls are well worth a visit. It is understood that there is likely to be an excursion or two during next month from Peterborough to Healey Falls, on G. T. R. to Hastings and Calcutt's steamer to the Falls.

Calcutt's Line Steamers.

The Golden Eye with the Foresters' excursion will leave Peterborough wharf at 7 a.m. The Daisy will leave at 8 a.m. on the regular trip.

F. DOVER,
Agent.

Profitable Soil Culture.

Mr. James Campbell has planted to potatoes a one acre lot on Smith town hill, and will realize $160 from investment in tubers. He is selling them as rapidly as he can dig them, and as a sample of the yield a row less than eight rods long yields five bushels, thus at 60c per bushel gives $3 per row. This is indeed a year of phenomenal growth and yield.

Camping Notes.

The single coach on the Lakefield train this morning was filled with passengers, most of whom were bound for Stony Lake. There were no large parties, however, and some went up just for the day. Among those who were on board were Mr. C. H. Clementi and family, who will make a short stay at Burleigh. Mrs. K. G. Lech and family went out to "Kenmore."

Mr. Will Dundas is camping with friends on Sturgeon Lake.

Sporting Notes.

A meeting of the Bicycle club is called for this evening at the rooms.

The Hastings Star announces that the Norwood and Riverside lacrosse clubs play on the ground of the former to-day. The Star is a little out in its date. The two teams are not billed to meet till Sept. 5th. The Riversides play at Port Hope on Friday.

A. P. Morgan's "Mayflower" took third money in the 2:30 trot at Trenton Tuesday.

For Protection of Employes.

Mr. Brown, inspector of factories, was in town to-day and in company with Chief Roszel made a minute inspection of the factories and other large establishments where employed labor is used. It was found that some of the workshops did not come up to the requirements, and a number of informations against the owners of these establishments were made out. They will appear before the police magistrate for not fulfilling the conditions of the law regarding the factories and workshops.

Worth Knowing.

Our announcements in the past have been always received with applause by the public and for the next few weeks we will offer special cash inducements. Examine our advertisement in another column. We are offering some beautiful blends of Tea; try our forty cent black equal to, in many cases, tea you would buy for 50 and 60c. per pound. Sugars very low, considering the advance, but as we have been holding a very large stock we are selling away down. Call and price our goods. W. J. Morrow, 340 George street. dw

Occidental Oats.

Mr. William Ferguson, town, who accompanied Mr. Hugh Davidson on a trip to the North-west, went on through to British Columbia. He brought with him on his return several trophies of occidental growth, among these a head of oats left at the EXAMINER office, fully sixteen inches in length. This was plucked on the farm of Mr. John Macdonald, a former resident of this district (near Port Perry). This head of oats is only a fair sample of the magnificent growth which distinguishes the agricultural valleys of British Columbia.

The Burlington Beach Excursion.

One of the most successful and pleasant excursions of the season was that of the Canton and band to Burlington Beach on Tuesday. About 200 persons were aboard the C.P.R. train bound for the Beach, the Canton and band being in uniform. Arrived at Toronto the steamer "Macassaw" conveyed the excursion party over the lake to Burlington Beach. The sail was a delightful one both ways. The great majority of the excursionists went on to Hamilton, where about four hours were spent in strolling about the Ambitious city. The return trip was begun about 5:15, the "Modjeska, which was disabled by an accident in the forenoon, taking the party back to Toronto. Close train connection was made, and there were no disagreeable waits either way. The excursion was a financial success also, and both the Canton and band are to be congratulated.

The Chautauqua and Niagara Falls Excursion.

Keep in mind the following facts:—The date is the 31st of July. The excursionists go by C.P.R. to Toronto. Tickets, $1.90. For the trip across the lake to Niagara or Lewiston, U.S., the best boats on Lake Ontario have been secured. The Chicora and Cibola make four trips daily Leaving on the 7 a.m. train, you can take the 11 a.m., or 2 p.m., or 4.45 p.m. boat. You can go from Niagara by Michigan Central, or from Lewiston, on the American side by the river, by New York Central, to the Falls. You can return the same or following day. Round trip tickets, $2.25; children, half price. If you wish to stop at Chautauqua, you can hear Bishop Vincent's lecture, and Jennie Hall, and Rev. Dr. Lockwood, celebrated Baptist divine. You can have cheap rates at the hotel, or can picnic, as many intend to do. 24

Leaving Town.

Citizens of Peterborough will regret to learn that Dr. Taylor, of the firm of Taylor & Macdonald, and his family are about to leave town. Dr. Taylor has become tired of business pursuits and will retire to the quiet of country life, having purchased a fine vineyard at Lundy's Lane, near Niagara, the fruit garden of Canada. He has sold out his interest in the drug business here to his partner, Mr. H. S. Macdonald, and purposes removing to his new home next Wednesday. This will be unpleasant news to the many friends of the Doctor and his family in Peterborough, who will regret the loss of such an esteemable and amiable family and the severance of the delightful associations of past years. Particularly will their absence be felt in St. Paul's church, where the family were among the most prominent worshippers in the congregation. All their friends will, however, wish them well in the future and hope that in his new sphere of life the worthy Doctor may be as successful as he has in the past.

Manon Lescaut.

"Manon Lescaut," the masterpiece of Abbe Prevost, has been again translated, and is presented to us fully illustrated with Lelolc's unsurpassed sketches and in such a charmingly tinted cover that one might also be tempted to called it an edition de luxe in paper. The translation is by Arthur W. Gundry, of Ottawa, and the treatment is more fluent and terse than Moylan's edition of 1841, which has hitherto been accepted as the standard. The mechanical portion of this newest edition is in the very best form by its publishers, The National Publishing Company, Toronto. The popularity of Manon Lescaut has never been disturbed, it is one of the classics of literature, and the purity of its language, the irresistible langu r and fluidity of its sentences, has insured it the very front rank in French literary accomplishments. Abbe Prevost was recently named by an eminent authority as the most delicate and thorough master of French among the many great masters who have elevated the world by their grand use of that delightful tongue. To him even Balzac and Dumas must take second place and acknowledge him one of the few upon whom the famous compliment of the accomplished Duchess D'Aguillon fell with justice. Speaking of a volume from his pen the Duchess said:—"You might perhaps have done it better; no one else could have done it so well." This latest translation, comprising nearly three hundred illustrations with lithographed cover in five colors, is issued at the low price of 50 cents. For sale at the PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE.

Willow and Wicket.

The Cricketers Redeem Themselves—Hamilton Easily Defeated.

The second match of the Peterborough Cricket Club's tour was played at Hamilton Tuesday, and resulted in an easy victory for the tourists.

The Mail says of the game:—Sam Ray won the toss, and of course batted. The first wicket did not fall until 43 had been recorded, of which Sam had 17. This good beginning was followed up by excellent cricket, and the innings closed for 163. All efforts to dislodge Stratton were unavailing, and he carried his bat right through the innings for a score of 85 got in fine shape and without a shadow of a chance. No fewer than seven bowlers were tried, Ferrie being the most successful. Attewell's eleven included a grand hit to leg for 6.

Hamilton could not withstand Attewell and Logan; the latter had the fine analysis of 8 wickets for 23, while the "pro" was so hard to get away that only nine runs were made from his bowling. Fritz Martin played a fine innings for his 21, but none of the rest did much.

Following on Hamilton scored 47 for five wickets before time was called, Dixon and Ferrie scoring ten each. In fielding, special mention ought to be made of a grand left hand catch by Ferrie and a sharp throw out by Attewell:—

AT HOME.

The team arrived in Peterborough last night. They were to have met Guelph at Toronto to-day, but the latter telegraphed that they could not be on hand.

The cricketers are satisfied with their game at Hamilton, but cannot account for their defeat at Toronto. The bowling they had to face in Hamilton was much better than they encountered the first day, yet they were unable to score at Toronto. They put it down to sheer bad luck. Ferrie, the Hamilton bowler, was the man who created such havoc with the St. Paul's school team on their recent visit to that city. He is a good one, yet the Peterborough men took him easily.

The score shows who did the batting for Peterborough. W. A. Stratton played a magnificent innings, and did not give a single chance. Sam Ray, A. H. Strike and Attewell also got double figures. The Peterborough's were not put out till three o'clock in the afternoon. Stumps were were drawn at a quarter to six.

Morrow's Well Equipped Premises.

Mr. W. J. Morrow has completed the rearrangement and refitting of his now splendid grocery premises, George street, market square, and in their finished condition there is no more complete and better equipped grocery and liquor premises in the town. The cellarage of this establishment is exceptionally excellent. In the department under the Arcade is kept the stock of liquors, ales, wines, etc. This department is excellently adapted to its purposes. It has two separate entrances from the Arcade—one from the stairs underneath the main stairs and one from the liquor department of the grocery business. The cellars are well filled with a choice stock of the best wines, liquors and ales. Among the latter Mr. Morrow is sole agent for the celebrated lager ale of Philip Bajus, Kingston. This lager is beautifully put up and is manufactured in such a manner that its best qualities are made permanent. It is the equal of any bottled lager made in the continent, and is offered for sale at a lower price. All the other stock of this department is quite up to the mark in every respect, and the public who require anything in these lines will find at W. J. Morrow's a stock which commands their confidence and will secure their patronage.

Mr. Morrow's grocery premises over those just dealt with are also excellently equipped for an extensive trade, there being three distinct entrances—one from George street, one from the market square and one from the arcade. It is well that this shop should be of easy access for it contains a magnificent stock well worthy the attention of the public. Every article of consumption required in domestic or hotel economy is kept in stock of a quality, admitting of no improvement and at prices as low as the lowest. The wants of the public are consulted in every respect. Promptness of service characterizes this establishment. Two delivery wagons are in commission all the time, and persons ordering goods may count on their prompt delivery. In addition a delivery wagon will deliver goods for all the early trains which is an especial convenience for parties wanting supplies for the back lakes. In fact in every department Mr. Morrow strives and with success to meet the wants of the public, and that he succeeds in so doing is evident from the large patronage which his establishment receives. The public who wish to be well served with the best groceries or liquors good should not omit to call on Mr. J. W. Morrow, 340 George street, Peterborough.

Personal.

Mr. Malcolmson, of Goderich, has joined the staff of the Ontario Bank.

Mr. Richard Naegle, of Ottawa, was in town the other day. Mr. Naegle, Miss Naegle and Mrs. Harry Phelan have gone to Calidonia springs for a few weeks.

Mr. J. H. Morley, Canadian passenger agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, is in town to-day, on business in the interest of the company he represents.

The Belleville Ontario say:—Mr. Alex. Graham, has been employed as manager of the Park House. He has been manager of the Oriental House, Peterborough for the past three years.

Mr. L. Seward, organist of St. John's, accompanied by Mrs. Seward, left town yesterday for St. Catherines, for a fortnight's holidays. During Mr. Seward's absence, Miss Dugan has kindly consented to take charge of the organ.

"Madeline and Other Poems."

This is the title of a volume of poems placed on the editors table by Belford Clarke & Co, Chicago. The author of these poems is Mr. James McCarroll, who will be remembered by the few remaining representatives of the past generation in Peterborough as the proprietor and publisher of the Chronicle newspaper in 1841. He will be remembered as an accomplished flutist. Mr McCarroll's poetic pen is wielded with delicate and graceful fingers, and his poems are the almost involuntary up-wellings of a poetic spirit which the rustle of public affairs and business life could not suppress. There is so to speak a delicacy of touch which, selects the hidden beauties from the grosse elements which there is, his treatment of all all his subjects, the volumn in question is beautifully printed and bound in imitation vellum in a manner which makes it an edition de luxe. This work is on sale at the Peterborough Book Store. $1 00 per volumn.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tufw

Sign no Papers.

Many are the schemes now devised for gulling the honest farmer. The country is full of sharpers, travelling from place to place selling "Hulless oats," "Hay Forks," 'Seed Grain," etc., etc., and they appear to do a thriving business, as seen by the number of complaints made throughout the country. We append a form of a promissory note which is often used by these tricksters. The form is filled up and given to the stranger, who cuts it across after the words "or" "dollars" and "annum," near the middle of the note, and thus secures a straight note. From Our Own Correspondent.

Council met, all present, July 15th. On motion a special grant of $27 was passed to repair Kent's hill. The clerk was instructed to procure a pair of boots for James Armstrong. Messrs. Anderson, Wood and Johnston were appointed a committee with authority to examine and straighten the line between the 2nd and 3rd concessions, opposite lots 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26. The clerk was instructed to levy a rate of 2 4/10 mills on the dollar to raise the sum of $4,820.30 for county purposes, ½ mill to raise $451 for county school purposes, 1 7/10 mills to raise $3,400 for township purposes. The treasurer was ordered to pay the following accounts, viz:—G. Cockburn, gravel and damages $10; C. Howson, gravel $19.25; S. Stewart, gravel $22.68; W. Stewart, cedars $17.19; J. Anderson, cedars and gravel $9 70; R. Evans, gravel $8.90; J. M. Drummond, gravel $5.20, wood and coal oil for town hall $6.45; R. Dickson, gravel $2.85; A. McIntyre, cedars $7.20; R. Mr. Marter Their Choice.

BRACEBRIDGE, July 23.—The Liberal-Conservative convention held here to-day was attended by about sixty delegates representing the most northerly as well as the most southerly municipalities in the district. The convention was called for the purpose of more thorough organization and to select a candidate for the local contest. The present member, Mr. G. F. Marter, was the unanimous choice and he was greeted with cheers as he arose and in a brief speech accepted the nomination.

Handy With His Revolver.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Last night Messrs. Salley and R. Monteith were driving along the Lower Lachine-road when a young fellow in a buggy containing four men threw an apple at Mr. Salley. The two named speeded their horse after those in the first buggy, when one of the four drew a revolver and fired three shots, striking Salley in the knee and Monteith near one of his ribs. The wounded men kept up the chase and got up to the occupants of the buggy in a lane off Magdalen-street. There they caught A. Sicotte, aged 16, and Champagne, aged 17. Detectives caught O. Gagnon, another of the party, but the youth who fired the revolver escaped.

Mrs. Kibler Very Much Alive.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Mrs. Kitty Kibler, nee McCormick, appeared in the coroner's office yesterday to disprove her cousin's statements that she was probably "Kitty Deane," who committed suicide recently. There has been no further identification of the dead girl, unless the statement telegraphed from Toronto about the mysterious veiled woman who called on Chief of Police Grasel, and whose name is withheld by that official can be called an identification.

The mortality in Boston last week was frightful, the death rate being 31.87. This is far greater than the record at this season in any recent year. Cholera infantum carried off fifty-five victims.

Mrs. Mary Brady, the New Jersey woman convicted of being a common scold and a public nuisance on account of her tongue, was fined $25 and costs yesterday.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

BERRIES
FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make the profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day is a groat a year.
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

DR. DORENWEND'S

GREAT GERMAN HAIR MAGIC.

The equal of this great preparation is yet to be found. It is an unfailing Restorer for grey hair—It stops all falling out of the hair—it removes all dandruff and keeps the scalp clean. On bald heads (if there are but the faintest traces of roots) the Magic will produce a fine growth. Will you try it? Or will you let your hair go, and become prematurely old? What do you say? All druggists everywhere have it for sale. Ask for it. Don't let the druggist tell you he has something just as good—many have dead stock of other hair tonics on and hand try to shove them off in this way. See that each bottle bears seal and signature

VOL. IX. NO. 21. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. ITS UTMOST FOR PEACE.

AUSTRIA SAID NOT TO BE STIRRING UP STRIFE IN THE EAST.

General von Schellendorff Dissipates the War Cloud with a Breath—General Cable News.

VIENNA, July 24.—The Fremdenblatt denies the assertion of The Grashdanin, a Russian paper, that Austria is fomenting a conflict between Servia and Bulgaria. It says the Government is doing its utmost to avert war between these countries.

Ipse Dixit.

BERLIN, July 24.—General von Schellendorf in a speech at Konigsberg to-day said all fears of war are groundless. He hoped this assurance would be widely circulated.

Raised to a War Footing.

VIENNA, July 24.—The Austrian infantry has been increased by the addition of 7000 men, raising that branch of the service to a war footing; 43 regiments of cavalry have been reduced to the extent of 36 men each.

The Triple Alliance a Rope of Sand.

LONDON, July 24.—The despatch from Rome printed here yesterday announcing that the Italian Cabinet had resolved to postpone the legislative elections attracted little attention, as its full significance seems not to have been understood. In Berlin and Vienna, however, it is accepted as a circumstance of the highest importance, inasmuch as it is notice to both Germany and Austria that the triple alliance, upon which so many fond hopes had been built is, at least so far as Italy is concerned, only a rope of sand.

It has been well understood in Berlin and in Vienna that a very powerful minority in Italy fought the alliance tooth and nail, and it was also well known that this opposition to Premier Crispi's policy had recently become very formidable and aggressive, but neither Germany nor Austria was prepared for the information that it had swollen to such proportions that the Italian Premier did not dare to submit his policy to the people for their approval. But this is exactly what the news from Rome means, and there is no doubt that Crispi's enemies have obtained the upper hand.

The Delagoa Railway.

LONDON, July 24.—The Portuguese Government has contracted with an English engineer for the completion of the Delagoa railway.

The Anti-Slavery Congress Postponed.

LONDON, July 24.—Cardinal Lavigiere's International anti-slavery congress, which is to meet at Lucerne, has been postponed until after the French elections so that prominent Frenchmen interested in the movement could attend.

Maloney Contradicts Parnell.

LONDON, July 24.—At to-day's session of the Parnell Commission Mr. Maloney, an ex-official of the Land League, was examined. He denied all knowledge of any documents concerning the League except those which were in the hands of George Lewis, Mr. Parnell's solicitor. Mr. Maloney also said that Mr. Parnell was in error when he stated that he (Maloney), upon leaving the country, ordered that the documents in his possession should be destroyed. A number of documents belonging to the Land League were removed from the house in Blissington-street, Dublin, where Mr. Sexton lived in 1882. His (Maloney's) wife was empowered to sign League checks. Mr. Maloney could not say why she was thus empowered except that the Ladies' League, of which she was treasurer, was assisting in carrying on the work of the Land League.

Mr. Millar of the National Bank testified that no Parnellite ever suggested to him that the checks and bank books of the League should be destroyed.

Mr. Tyrell, cashier of the bank, stated that he had received an order to destroy waste books last February. He did not examine the books to see whether they contained documents material to the inquiry.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Particulars of a Rich Find of Oil in the Northwest—A New Industry.

OTTAWA, July 24.—Sir Adolphe Caron left to-night for the west to attend the celebration of Lundy's Lane. He will make a speech on the occasion.

The hearing of the Edison Electric Light case was resumed to-day before Hon. John Carling and Sir John Thompson.

Interesting particulars of a rich find of oil in the Northwest came to hand to-day in a letter received by Alfred Patrick, late clerk of the House of Commons, from his son, Major Allan P. Patrick, Dominion Topographical Surveyor of Calgary. The letter says that Mr. Patrick has been successful in discovering splendid oil deposits on the eastern and British Columbia side of the mountains. The result is 91 per cent. lubrication oil, 15 per cent. heavy oil, 1 per cent. water and 3 per cent. foreign matter. This is so far the best oil discovered and ahead of the Pennsylvania oil fields.

It is understood that Cleveland (O.) capitalists have about completed arrangements to establish an iron tubing factory here. The syndicate say they possess a new welding process. Ottawa was selected as the scene of operations on account of the magnificent water power afforded by the Chaudiere Falls.

Mr. Harvey, a patent solicitor and editor of The Patent Review, has preferred charges of mal-administration against Mr. Richard Pope, Deputy Commissioner of Patents and ex-Clerk of the Crown-in-Chancery.

A Tempest in a Teapot.

PROVIDENCE, July 24.—The State Senate passed the License Bill from the House to-day with several amendments, chiefly representing the difference of opinion between the Republican Senate and the Democratic House. The House will not agree to the amended bill and there may be a hard fight

CANADIAN NEWS NOTES.

A MONTREAL CARRIER CAUGHT STEALING A LETTER.

Burke Thinks He Will Not Be Sent Back to Chicago—Reported Sale of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway.

WINNIPEG, July 24.—It is reported to-day that the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway has been sold and rumors say that both the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Northern Pacific and Manitoba have bought it.

The Catholic ecclesiastical council closed to-day. The decrees passed, according to a priest in authority, are of no interest to the public generally and the Orange order was not mentioned during the sessions of the council.

Clark and Ellwood, two members of the infantry school, were arrested to-day for being deserters from the Mounted Police.

The Midsummer fair at Brandon to-day was a great success.

WILL BURKE STAY IN CANADA?

His Counsel Confident of Success in the Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

WINNIPEG, July 24.—The application of Burke's counsel to the full court for a rule nisi calling upon the prosecution to show cause why the prisoner should not be liberated was granted to-day.

Argument will be heard to-morrow.

The defence are confident of success.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, July 24.—Police Magistrate Cahill yesterday sentenced Tommy Murphy to three years in the Penetanguishene reformatory for stealing a canary bird belonging to J. J. Upfield. On inquiries being made it was discovered that the magistrate did not have the power to send him there for the crime he committed. There is a law fixing the penalty for thefts of birds, etc., that the magistrate overlooked. Murphy's sentence of three years will not go; but he will have to spend fifteen days in the county jail.

The corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church at Grimsby was laid by Hon. J. M. Gibson last evening.

P. M. Mattison, the grand organizer of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, this evening organized Hamilton Circle, No. 121, with twenty charter members.

Minnie Foster, alias Ross, a fast young woman from Toronto, was this morning fined $5 for a drunken escapade at the Beach on Sunday.

Was Maud Miller "Kitty Doane."

TORONTO, July 25.—The relatives of Miss Maud Miller, who reside at 306 Wellesley-street, fear that Kitty Doane, the girl who suicided in New York by swallowing carbolic acid, may be she. The story goes that she was engaged to a young man named Doane of Hamilton and left for that city to marry him. Subsequently she wrote informing her mother that she was leaving for New York, where the ceremony would be performed. Nothing further was heard from her, and when the New York tragedy was reported her friends feared that Kitty Doane might prove to be Miss Miller. Mrs. Miller yesterday afternoon sent her daughter's photo to New York to set all doubts at rest.

Prosecuting Evangelists.

PARIS, Ont., July 24.—Several dastardly attempts have been made recently to work serious harm to Mr. D. A. White, one of the White Brothers, singing evangelists, who has a farm and saw mill a few miles distant from here. Nails were driven in the logs he was sawing. His sawn lumber was afterwards set on fire and destroyed, and later his farm buildings succumbed to the torch of the incendiary. Mr. White has offered a reward of $500 for the conviction of the guilty party.

Death of Mary Hardy Nelles.

SIMCOE, July 24.—There died here to-day, at the residence of her youngest son Thomas, Mary Hardy, relict of the late William Nelles of Woodhouse, in her 93rd year. Mrs. Nelles was the mother of a large family of sons distinguished in many walks of life, among whom was the late Chancellor Nelles of Victoria University. Mrs. Nelles will be buried here in Oakwood Cemetery on Friday.

Caught in the Act.

MONTREAL, July 24.—For some time past complaints have been received by Inspector King that letters posted in the Montreal postoffice for places in Illinois have not reached their destination. Yesterday afternoon a carrier named Joseph St. Jean was arrested in the act of putting a letter in his pocket addressed to Mr. Lesperance, South Chicago.

The Americans Badly Beaten.

LONDON, July 24.—The game between the Marylebone Cricket Club and the Philadelphia Cricketers was concluded to-day. Owing to the heavy rain yesterday the wicket was in poor condition. The Americans made a weak display against the bowling of Grace and Nepean. They finished their first inning with a score of 225, against 383 by their opponents. Following on for their second inning they could only make a total of 64, the home side winning by 94 runs with an inning to spare.

HAYTI'S REIGN OF TERROR.

Hippolyte's Unsuccessful Struggle to Capture Port-au-Prince.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, July 10.—Affairs at Port-au-Prince during the past week have assumed phases of every possible degree of alarm and terror. Hippolyte has been hurled back into the interior only to again advance with impetuous rushes on the beleaguered city. Legitime is straining every nerve to crush the enemy, but the hold of Hippolyte is too powerful to be easily shaken off. Arcahlai, the strongest fortress before Port-au-Prince, has been captured. The forces which held Arcahlai were under the command of Legitime's most trusted general, and the place was considered little short of impregnable.

Hippolyte evidently doubts his ability to carry Port-au-Prince by storm. There are several well-defended works that must be taken before the way is clear to the main line of defence. In the matter of artillery the northern leader is sadly deficient. He has with him several small field pieces which, however, are not to be compared with the six or seven fine modern rifles in position in Legitime's outworks. Hippolyte must needs dispose of these guns before his superior force can contend with the besieged in a hand-to-hand fight. It looks as if a regular siege is to be laid to the place.

MRS. PYTHON AT LARGE.

An Enormous Snake Escapes and Creates a Lively Scene on Shipboard.

NEW YORK, July 24.—There are two full grown pythons, male and female, on board the National line steamer Denmark, which arrived from London Sunday. Mr. Python lies curled up in a box some two feet square and about eight inches deep, lying on top of some boilers in the cook's galley. The heat has not disturbed him in the least, for he has been engaged during the voyage in digesting a huge meal eaten just before he left London. He slept all the way over, and had not awakened when the ship reached her pier. Mrs. Python, so the best of Captain Rigby's belief, is somewhere in the bilge of the ship between the inside and outside plates, but whether dead or alive nobody on board knows. She escaped from the box in which she was confined on July 7, three days after the Denmark left London and for a while there was the liveliest kind of a time on board the steamer.

The boxes containing Mr. and Mrs. Python were originally placed in the engine storeroom on the lower deck just aft of the engine room. The slide at the top of Mrs. Python's box was carelessly left open a couple of inches. Mrs. Python had not made such a glutton of herself as her mate and awoke to find the opening and glide through.

The chief engineer, on going to the door of the engine room, was suddenly confronted by the huge snake, which was fourteen feet long and as big around as his arm. She had been attracted by the heat. The engineer gave one look. Then he made a bee line for the opposite door.

An officer seeing his pale face asked what the matter was, but he only caught one word in reply and that was "snakes," as the engineer hurried away. The officer hurried to the engine room and was just in time to see the python's tail disappearing through the grating below which was the hold. Captain John Last and a fireman grabbed the tail, but the snake was so oily that it slipped out of their fingers. The python had twined itself around an iron support and reached the hold. The entire crew was by this time alarmed and every one was armed with some sort of a weapon.

Besides the snakes there were over a score of other animals, all consigned to the Central Park Menagerie, where the pythons were going. There were twenty monkeys in cages, including eight of the dog faced variety, two lemurs, an animal resembling a weasel, one opossum, a wildcat and three bush cats. The monkeys, on hearing the commotion over the python's escape, set up a great chattering, the wildcat snarled and forty-three Spanish donkeys, in stalls on the same deck forward, brayed so that they could be heard three miles. Fourteen full-blooded and trained fox hounds, confined in two pens near the donkeys, added their deep bays to the general din, and half a dozen bull terriers who were tied to stanchions in the centre of the deck joined the chorus. For a time it seemed as if pandemonium had broken loose. Those on deck heard the noise, but Captain Rigby kept every man at his post, and the Denmark, which was like a floating menagerie, with her howling, chattering, braying cargo, steamed steadily on her course.

The engineer had returned to the engine room, but he looked apprehensively at the grating, afraid that Mrs. Pynthon would decide to return. Finally John Last, the carpenter, offered to search for the snake. The fireman who had grasped the python's tail in the engine room offered to go with him. The others looked at the two men compassionately as they descended into the hold, and the engineer, as he remembered the reptile's gaping jaws, shuddered. Last carried a bag to put over Mrs. Python's head. They found the snake lazily crawling through an opening between the plates. They grasped the reptile's tail, as before, but pull as they would the python was too much for them, and they saw the end of her tail disappear through the opening. She did not come out again. If the python is alive she is thought to be coiled around one of the pipes in the bilge. The chances of her surviving, however, are very slight, as the bilge is half full of stagnant water and oil.

The officers and crew breathed more freely when it was learned where Mrs. Python had secreted herself, and no further effort was made to capture her. There is no way of getting at her, except to remove some of the plates. The case containing Mr. Python was carried to the cook's galley and placed on top of the boilers, where he continued to snooze, unconscious of the fate of his spouse.

FLOUR AND WHEAT.

The Minneapolis Flour Market Dull—Crop Prospects in the Northwest Improved.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 24.—The Northwestern Miller says: The aggregate flour output last week was 119,270 barrels against 112,940 the week before and 167,260 for the corresponding period in 1888. It is hardly probable that this week's work will equal that of last. Millers admit that the flour market is pretty dull and for the past week the sales of patent have not equalled the amount ground. Prices seem to be higher than the east wants to pay. Some parties are shading quotations made a week ago. Rather the most favorable feature of the situation is the growing interest from abroad. Bakers is easily disposed of for export, the bids of foreigners showing an upward tendency as to prices. Inquiries are also being made as to prices of patents for September and October delivery. The larger holdings of stored flour here have been pretty much exhausted, though there are still 130,000 barrels at Duluth, against 167,000 a year ago. Freight rates on flour and grain are billed for an advance of 5 cents per hundred Aug. 1 and present indications are that it will be enforced. The direct exports of flour last week were 32,900 barrels, against 31,300 for the preceding week.

The weather in the Northwest has improved local prospects and the spring crop promises to be equal in quality to the winter grain. The public is doing little in speculation. The cash deal has taken the place of the July deal in the local market. The cash wheat carried over for prospective high prices between old and new crops, is now selling daily from the sample tables, bringing from 85 cents to $1. Millers wanting spring wheat take it quite readily and users of the flour have become reconciled to the situation. Everyone expects lower prices when the new wheat moves and all buy as little flour as possible. This week the local receipts have fallen off. The truth appears to be that there was more wheat raised in the Northwest last year than was believed in until the bins were swept this summer. It is probable there are less than 1,000,000 bushels of old wheat back, but the big receipts are likely over for the summer.

Ingersoll Oddfellows.

INGERSOLL, July 24. — C.O.O.F., M.U., "Queen Victoria" Lodge transacted considerable business during their last meeting, which was followed by the initiation of Surgeon W. F. Dickson, Messrs. E. Kennard, J. White and W. Barrett.

THE SAMOAN TREATY.

Not So Satisfactory to Uncle Sam as He Thought It Was.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A Washington despatch to The Herald says: It would not be surprising if the treaty agreed on at Berlin regarding the island of Samoa should be rejected when it is considered by the Senate. Mr. Blaine himself, the despatch asserts, was not satisfied with the terms made by our commissioners at Berlin; but he finally yielded in part rather than have the conference a failure. As the government of the islands is left in the hands of a tripartite advisory board representing England, Germany and the United States, the decisive majority will always be in the hands of the two European powers voting together. That they will so vote is a reasonable inference from the similarity of their interests and their natural jealousy of the great republic. The substance of the treaty is that by tripartite agreement Germany is confirmed in her dominant control in Samoa. Without the treaty she depended solely upon her own assumption of authority. If this treaty should be ratified then the United States becomes a partner, by reason of things, in support of Germany's claims.

G. W. SMALLEY'S LETTER.

THE INCONVENIENCES OF MARRYING A ROYAL PRINCESS

Mrs. Hart of Fife and Husband—The Grand Old Man Sitting to Millais for Another Portrait.

LONDON, July 24.—For the thirty-sixth time, says the chroniclers, Gladstone is sitting for his portrait. If all the different Gladstones known to the political history of England were to be painted, growls a hardened Tory, it would take not thirty-six but 360 portraits to represent them. Let that pass. What is interesting is that the painter is once more Sir John Millais. This is the fourth or fifth time Gladstone has sat to this artist, and he likes sitting to him. I could tell you one or two artists to whom he doesn't like to sit, but that would be needless cruelty. Millais is rapid, has nerve-like, goes straight to the point, wastes no time, makes no mistakes, knows every line in the grand old man's face, has already painted him with such force and fidelity, such masterly rendering of all the facts and of all the visible character of his prodigious countenance, as no other artist of his time has attained to.

Lord Fife recently had the pleasure of reading at breakfast this paragraph: "Princesses Louise and Victoria of Wales, attended by Miss Knollys, arrived at Windsor at 7 o'clock this evening on a visit to the Queen. Their royal highnesses, who were accompanied by the Earl of Fife, drove with him in an open carriage to the palace, where they dined with Her Majesty and remained for the night." That is but a sample of the announcements which appear from day to day. Any of them might furnish a text for a sermon on the inconvenience of Marrying a Royal Princess, and especially a princess royal. What these innocent sentences denote so clearly is the social separation between two persons who are presently to be husband and wife. The wife has precedence.

That is not without precedent in ranks below the royal. You read of the presence or the arrival of the Duchess of Montrose and Mr. Milner; of Julia Countess of Jersey and Mr. Brandling. The husband being a commoner comes after his wife, whose titles have to be recited first. Yet it would seem odd to read that the Duchess of Montrose, who arrived at Windsor, was accompanied by Mr. Milner; or that Mrs. Smith arrived at Long Branch accompanied by Mr. Smith. Only married to the Princess Louise and Lord Fife expects to escape these awkwardnesses. The princess becomes countess, or duchess (as the dukedom is, according to respectable authority, to be conferred upon Lord Fife before the wedding). There is no lady-in-waiting, the appanges of royalty vanish.

Whether the Queen will allow her granddaughter to retain her title of princess is, however, yet to be seen. Her right of succession to the throne, too, is a problem yet to be dealt with. People who know everything, and there are many such, tell you that Lord Salisbury has addressed a memorandum to the Queen, pointing out the constitutional difficulties that would, or should, prevent a subject from being Prince Consort. Even the possibility of such a calamity ought to be averted, and the only way to avert it is for the Princess Royal to renounce her right of succession. A question hardly less difficult has been disposed of—I none other than the question what sort of a coronet the Princess should wear or bear after she had become Lady Fife. Should it be a royal coronet? Should it be the coronet of a mere countess, or off a duchess, if duchess she is to be? The highest authority has settled this momentous matter, and the Queen herself has determined that the coronet shall be the coronet appertaining to her station and rank as daughter of the Prince and Princess of Wales. And once more an imperilled empire is safe.

The Transcontinental Trouble.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The proposition of the Southern Pacific Railway to guarantee the Canadian Pacific 6 per cent. of the Pacific coast traffic and abolish its differentials was considered by the Executive Committee of the Transcontinental Association to-day. The only agreement that could be reached was to recommend a reduction of the differentials. A report to that effect was submitted to the general meeting but the Southern Pacific refused to accept it. That road insisted that its proposition must be accepted or it would go out of the association. To make matters worse the Denver and Rio Grande Western demanded a differential rate on trans continental traffic on the ground that it is a narrow gauge road. This demand was referred to a special committee. No conclusion regarding the matter under consideration was reached. The meeting adjourned until to-morrow.

The passenger department this afternoon adopted a resolution making a rate of one fare for the round trip for veterans attending the Grand Army encampment at Milwaukee.

Judicial Legislation in Illinois.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The statutes provide that insurance companies incorporated elsewhere than in this state shall as a condition precedent to doing business in this state take out licenses. The law has not been complied with to any considerable extent. The State's Attorney has begun several hundred suits to recover the penalty of $500 in each case. It was found necessary in order to prove agency here to get at the books of the company. The State's Attorney moved for a rule on a fire insurance company and its agent to produce the company's books. This rule Judge Clifford refused to grant. Unless the Supreme Court reverses the decision the statute will become a dead letter.

A Cave-in Near Scranton.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 24.—A cave-in occurred in Hyde Park this morning over a vein of the Central mine. Over six acres of ground was affected and the fifth ward public school building was badly damaged. Fully a dozen private residences have cracked foundation walls and jammed doors as a result.

While a number of men were this afternoon removing the rock and coal from the chambers closed at the Central mine, Hyde Park, by the cave-in of the morning the lamp of one laborer ignited the mine gas and a frightful explosion

THE BRAIN (from a photograph)
In Healthy Condition. With Paresis Lesions.

There are many well known men confined in our Asylums who but a short time ago were prominent among our business and social circles.

Why are they there?

Paresis!

Did it come on at once?

Not at all. It was a gradual but positive growth. They overtaxed nature. The drain on their vitality, their nerve powers, their brain tissue, was too great, and they gradually but surely sank under it. The things they did to bring this sad end about are precisely the same things that are being done by thousands of men and women to-day. It is not necessary to name them. They all end disastrously unless checked or regulated.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, knew this fully when he began his experiments which resulted in the discovery of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. He realized that paresis (consumption of the brain) was our great National weakness. He knew that the brain and nervous system must be fortified to meet the great strains which modern life bring upon it. He saw that men were becoming debilitated and women weakened by the pressure and demands of life, and he sought and discovered the remedy Paine's Celery Compound, if rightly taken, will renew the brain and build up nerve tissues as fast as they become exhausted. It is not a narcotic. It contains no drugs, no nostrums. It is perfectly pure. It is absolutely harmless. The high character of its discoverer guarantees this, and the indorsement of the medical and chemical Professions prove it.

THE Hon. Oliver Mowat will sail for Canada on the 20th of August.

THE amount of wheat on passage to Great Britain and the Continent increased 1,200,000 bushels during the week. It is 16,360,000 bushels as against 18, 120, 000 bushels a year ago.

IT is a sad comment on the popular idea of morality in the United States when Pittsburgh and Allegheny city, Pennsylvania, are called Puritanical and straight laced because they insist on Sunday observance to such an extreme even the saloons are closed.

"ONE of the most serious defects in the feminine mind," says an exchange, "is the inability to deal with machinery." If a flat iron or a tea pot can be classed as machinery, our contemporary had better revise the results of his observations.

THE American Association for the Advancement of Science meets in Toronto on August 27th, and the session will continue till September 7th inclusive. Great preparations are made for the reception of the distinguished scientists who will attend the meeting.

ELEVEN States of the neighbouring Republic elect State officers this year. Kentucky will hold a general election for State Treasurer on August 5th. Elections will take place in ten other States on November 5th. On that day Iowa will elect a Governor and a Lieutenant Governor. Maryland will elect a Comptroller and an Attorney-General; Massachusetts, a Governor and State officers; Nebraska, a Supreme Court Judge and two Regents; New Jersey, a Governor and State officers; New York, State officers, except a Governor and a Lieutenant Governor; Ohio, a Governor and State officers; Pennsylvania, a State Treasurer; Virginia, a Governor and State officers. Political interest this year is centered in the elections of the newly admitted States, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington and Montana, which are now framing their constitutions, and will elect full State Governments and Legislatures, and will choose eight new United States Senators. Each new State will also elect a Representative in Congress, except South Dakota, which will elect two. The terms of no United States Senators expire next year, so the election of members of the Legislature this year is of interest as bearing on national politics only in cases where members of the Legislature chosen this year hold office for two years. The Senate elected in New York State will vote for a United States Senator in 1891 to succeed the Hon. William M. Evarts.

FRIENDS of the late Hon. John Norquay complain bitterly of the treatment he received at the hands of the federal ministers, whom he served only too faithfully. Even when he died not a word of condolence or sympathy was received by the family from any member of the Dominion cabinet. The premiers of Quebec and New Brunswick, says the Ottawa Free Press, who had been political opponents of the deceased gentleman, sent messages of sympathy, and Mr. Mowat would doubtless have been heard from if he had been in Canada, but not a word came from Sir John Macdonald or any of his colleagues; although it is notorious that Mr. Norquay sacrificed his position as leader of the Manitoba government in a vain effort to keep his province in line with the Tory party. The Winnipeg Sun remarks that Mr. Norquay deserved better treatment from Sir John Macdonald's government than he received. Many Manitobans felt that he was fairly entitled to the vacant senatorship, and had he received it there is no doubt it would have been of material assistance to him financially, while the province would have had, during his lifetime, a representative in the upper chamber who would have been of some value to her. But an appointment that would have been popular was not made. On the contrary, the position is being carried about in the breeches pocket of one who will never be charged, as Mr. Norquay was, of staking his party in the interest of the province. The dead Manitoban made the fatal mistake of trusting to the pledges and good faith of his political leader. Had he served his province as faithfully as he served the Tory party he might have been alive and at the head of the provincial government to day.

KICKED TO DEATH.

Brutal Murder in Detroit of a Former Halton County Man

DETROIT, July 24. At 9 o'clock last evening Morris Crawford, a hostler, 35 years of age, employed at Hina's livery on Fourth Bolden street, was so frightfully beaten and kicked by a man, as yet unidentified, that he died within an hour after receiving attention at the police station. Crawford and another, Walter Mason, were on their way to Hina's stables. At the corner of Macomb and Macomb streets two men in a buggy backed the cross walk and, as Crawford and Mason attempted to pass, the men in the buggy moved ahead of backward, preventing them doing so. Crawford remonstrated with the driver upon his treatment of the horse when the man said: "Look out or you will be used the same way, and instantly jumped out of the buggy and struck Crawford several severe blows, and turned to Mason, who a moment later was knocked nearly senseless. On his recovery he found Crawford lying on the sidewalk nearly dead. An ambulance was called and Crawford was removed to the Emergency Hospital. He died 15 minutes later.

Although a number of people saw the affair, scarcely any definite description can be given of the two men in the buggy. Crawford came to Detroit five years ago from Glen Williams, near Georgetown, Ont., and resided at 107 East Congress-street, where his widow and three daughters still reside.

The Murderer Arrested.

DETROIT, July 24. George Considine, aged 17, a bartender, and George Walsh, one of the City Hall elevator conductors, were arrested this morning charged with the murder of Morris Crawford last night. Mason, Crawford's companion, identified Walsh as the man who assaulted him, and Considine as Crawford's murderer. Others who saw the affair last night also recognized them. Walsh admits having had trouble with two men who he says tried to stop him while driving in Macomb street. He claims to have been too drunk to remember much of what occurred. The autopsy held this noon showed that Crawford died from a broken neck, caused by a blow.

MUNCASTER'S

THE VANDERBILTS.

The Quiet Tastes and Many Charities of the Richest Americans.

Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the head of the Vanderbilt family, is as ordinary a looking man as you will find in a day's walk. He looks like a well-fed and prosperous banker, and to see him passing the plate in St. Bartholomew's Church on Sunday morning, no one would dream that he could draw his check for $150,000,000. There is nothing about him and his wife in the slightest degree showy. They dress well, but never loudly. They give fortunes to charity every year, but never ostentatiously. They give elaborate entertainments, but the facts never get into the newspapers except as second hand. In a word, they are as modest, gentle and affable as any couple whose income is not over $2,000 a year.

It is interesting to know that the entire family goes in for religion, art and literature. Even the children are religiously inclined, and there is not a book sale of importance or an art sale or a bric-a-brac sale, where there is likely to be a rare piece of lace, embroidery or china, at which the Vanderbilts are not represented.

The ladies of the family are accomplished women. They embroider, paint, sing fairly well, are clever in amateur theatricals and recitations, and well read and can perform on several musical instruments. When they give an entertainment at their house they employ the best talent the metropolitan stage affords, the best singers from the opera-house for their guests, and frequently artists of the calibre of Coquelin and Jane Hading to recite for them.

Their afternoon teas are marvels of good taste. Guests come and go as they please. There is no restraint, and all the pretty society buds find it advantageous to shelter under the wings of the daughters and wives of this wealthy family. Even for an afternoon reception the refreshments are of the most elaborate character. Yet there is no vulgar extravagance anywhere visible. There is always enough champagne to fill a hogshead. The Vanderbilts have established the English fashion of decanting the champagne into pitchers, and it is served without the froth, in regular Continental fashion. The wine and supper are always served separately.

The family is never too gay or too much occupied to pay attention to devotional exercises, and every Sunday morning they are found in their pews at church. They walk to and fro. They believe in giving their horses a day of rest. The aggregate Vanderbilt fortune is placed at $450,000,000. The family is the richest in the world, and it is now indisputably at the head of social New York. The vast wealth, the tact, the education and the good breeding of the third and fourth generations have accomplished their purpose.—Philadelphia Times.

Gold in Transvaal Republic.

The gold discoveries in the Transvaal Republic of South Africa are now bringing the home of the Dutch Boers into great repute. Very little is known here of that far away country except its name. The town of Johannesburg contains 15,000 inhabitants. Two years ago it was a peaceful farm. There are seventeen mining companies in the Transvaal, and the rise in the value of their shares has been remarkable. The gold is found in a peculiar conglomerate rock resembling pudding stone, which is made up of quartz and pebbles cemented together by a highly ferruginous earth. The precious metal is in the cement not in the quartz, and is in particles so fine that it cannot be discerned by the eye and will float on water. The rock is crushed by machinery and the gold collected by quicksilver. The machinery in use is manufactured in Chicago and England. Both coal and petroleum shale are found in quantities in combination with both lead and copper. Very extensive deposits of iron ore are found in the Transvaal. These were worked in a rude way by the natives Kaffers and Zulus before the country was occupied by Europeans. The area of this highly favored country is about 120,000 square miles. The Government is a Republic, and is just now afflicted with a surplus arising from the tax on mining companies. The money will be applied to internal improvements, much needed, which have been impossible of execution heretofore. The Transvaal will be put in railway communication with both Capetown and Durban. At present there is 300 miles of stage travel from the former, and 267 from the latter to Johannesburg.

SHORT AND CRISP.

The girl who carried off the "Beauty Prize" at Vienna has married an American gymnast.

Walker Blaine is one of the most popular young men in Washington society. He has finished and polished manners and is a charming conversationalist.

There is no truth in the story that Mary Anderson is to be married to her agent, Mr. Abud. Miss Anderson is, and has been, engaged to a young man in the shirt business on Wood Street, Cheapside, London.

The other day a New York newspaper published a complete list of the marriageable rich man of England. Three days later the same paper announced that "the decks of the out-going ocean steamships are crowded with American women."

A carpenter's college for women has been started in England at the famous university town of Cambridge.

It took 144 horses, 200,000 pounds of hay, 27,676 pounds of bread and 86 barrels of apples to feed the animals of the New York Zoological Gardens last year.

There is not a State east of the Mississippi River, says the Philadelphia Press in which there are not thousands of acres of land that can be purchased at a nominal price, nearly all of which can be made in five years as productive as the lands of Oklahoma.

A Scorpion Suicides.

A writer in Nature maintains that brutes do sometimes commit intentional and wilful suicide, and in proof of the fact he narrates the following incident. At Madras a scorpion of enormous size was captured and confined in a glass box. In order to examine his prisoner the reporter had the box removed into the sunlight, whereupon the scorpion appeared to become greatly excited. The light and heat seemed to effect it painfully, and the reporter having heard that a scorpion which had been surrounded with fire would kill itself, resolved to make an experiment somewhat of that sort. Taking a lens, he concentrated the rays of the sun upon the back of the unfortunate scorpion. The effect was instantaneous. The animal sprang wildly about the box in which it was confined, whizzing and spitting with rage. Four times the cruel experiment was renewed without further effect, but at the fifth, the scorpion raised its tail with the rapidity of lightning, and plunged its sting into its own back. From the sting there was an emission of fluid; and in one half of a minute the poor scorpion was dead. This incident proves not only that a brute may actually commit suicide, but also the fact (which has been disputed) that a poisonous animal may die of its own poison.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hennessway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Had the blaze occurred at night a serious conflagration would inevitably have resulted.

A Boon to Campers.

A Hunter Street Row.

Last night a row occurred at the junk shop of David Mallasky, on Hunter street It would appear according to the evidence in court this morning that a young man named James Wallbrook went into Mallasky's place and began acting most disgracefully and obscenely. He was very drunk and used the most vile language. In the melee the Jew struck Wallbrook over the head with a cane and cut a big gash. As the row was in progress Chief Ressel arrived and arrested both parties. In the police court this morning Wallbrook was fined $5 or 20 days in gaol. The fine was paid.

The Chautauqua and Niagara Falls Excursion.

Keep in mind the following facts:—The date is the 31st of July. The excursionists go by C.P.R. to Toronto. Tickets, $1.90 For the trip across the lake to Niagara or Lewiston, U.S., the best boats on Lake Ontario have been secured. The Chicora and Cibola make four trips daily Leaving on the 7 a.m. train, you can take the 11 a.m., or 2 p.m., or 4.45 p.m. boat. You can go from Niagara by Michigan Central, or from Lewiston, on the American side by the river, by New York Central, to the Falls. You can return the same or following day. Round trip tickets, $2.25; children, half price. If you wish to stop at Chautauqua, you can hear Bishop Vincent's lecture, and league Hall, and Rev. Dr. Lockwood, celebrated Baptist divine. You can have cheap rates at the hotel, or can picnic, as many intend to do. 21

Another Regatta.

The Otonabee Canoe club will hold another regatta Friday evening on Little Lake. There will be four races—a double canoe, a tug-of-war, a four paddle canoe and a hurry-skurry. There are entries for all of these races. The first event will be called at seven sharp, so that the last race may be completed before dark.

A Runaway.

A runaway occurred on Donegal street today at noon. A man hired a horse from a livery stable to drive to Lakefield, and let the horse get away from him by allowing it to walk without holding the reins. The occupants of the buggy, his wife and child, were thrown out but not seriously hurt. The buggy had a wheel taken off by colliding with a stand pipe. The runaway was caught at the Hunter street railway crossing.

New Advertising Boards.

The city bill poster, Mr. Walter Stocker, is advancing with the growth of his business, and has, through the kindness of the Messrs. Bradburn, just erected a large new bill board on the lot north of the agricultural works, George street. There are about 1,000 square feet in the board, which will be one of the best in town. Mr. Stocker intends building another board on north George street, on Mr. Deane's vacant lot "Walter" understands his business and is bound to make it successful.

Tom's Success.

Tom Quincey will be remembered in Peterborough as a jovial, enterprising young man who was bound to make his way and hosts of of friends wherever he went. Tom is now a successful resident of Chicago. He was first a traveller for a wholesale house, then editor of a paper devoted to travelling interests, and has for some time been secretary treasurer of the Mutual Accident Association of the Northwest. Tom is also President of the Wanderers' Cricket Club, Chicago. He is also President of the Commercial and Travelling Men's Republican Club, and last September when General Harrison was elected President of the United States Tom was deputed to go to Washington and present the President elect with a handsome and costly satchel, the gift of the club. Tom has a fine home in Chicago and a handsome wife, a Kentucky lady, to preside over it. This was what David Price wrote to the Belleville Ontario from Chicago.

Y. M. C. A. Camp.

Matters are booming for the Association Camp at Stony Lake next week. The Lindsay Secretary and a dozen members have intimated their intention of being present, also the Kingston Secretary with several of his members, also the Secretaries of Brockville, Port Hope and Toronto, while it is expected that about twenty members will accompany the Secretary from here. The railways and boats have granted reduced rates, increased facilities, and very complete preparations have been made on the ground. The Camp will be held at what is known as the "Main Camp" on Juniper Island, where the headquarters of the A.C.A. were located, and will commence next Thursday, to continue ten days or two weeks. It is proposed to mingle Bible study with the usual camp sports, the subjects of "Christ in the Old Testament" and "The Second Coming of Our Lord" being taken up, the former by Mr. T. S. Cole, of Toronto, and the latter by Mr. Burson, of London, England. Excursions will be made to Deer Bay, Clegg's, White Lake, Eel's Creek, and possibly to the Blue Mountain, and a camp fire will be held every night.

Sporting Notes.

"What's the matter with the bicycle boys?" "They're all right." "Oh, yes. You bet." They had a lively turn out last night in their street parade, with a number of their wheels fancifully decorated with colored paper and flags, and they made their presence known by their frequent call choruses. The boys are booming things this year, and the club is flourishing better than it ever did before. The races to-night will be interesting and exciting. There is a keen rivalry among some of the members and things will "hum" on the race course to night.

Saturday afternoon at five o'clock the unfinished game of ball between the Association and Athletic nines will be played. It will probably be a good game.

Its success is a credit to the officers in charge and the Order at large, affording, as it does, protection in full of its certificates for less money than any other Association within our knowledge. Bro. McMurtry will be in town for a few days, and will call on the brethren and fully explain the Association plans.

The New Market.

[The copy of the following letter was handed in too late for insertion in yesterday's issue.]

To the Editor of the Examiner

SIR,—I have read all the letters that have appeared in our local papers anent the new market building, and I, like many others, have been impressed with the uniformity of all those written in defence of the scheme of an upstair market. In fact it is apparent that one person has written the most of them, and has been too cowardly to put his name to them.

No one has undertaken to defend the action of the council in plunging into a $25,000 expenditure without first consulting the people and getting their approval. No one has yet had the hardihood to say that a market place in an upper loft is as convenient or as good as one on the ground floor.

No one has asserted that the land allotted for a market was so large that we could afford to make it smaller.

All the letters insinuate interested and unworthy motives in the persons who dare draw attention to the high handed and illegal act of the council. All the letters make light of the climbing up stairs with tons of stuff to be sold, and all the writers seem to think it is a very becoming thing to sneer at "a few farmers' wives."

Much is made of the probable loss of $3,000 a year by having a downstair market, etc. These letters are unworthy and dishonest.

In the first place it is not wise or manly to make little of the people who are the chief support of our town, and certainly it would not be wise or prudent to ignore the convenience and comfort, not only of the farmers' wives but of our own wives, who would have to contend against the long stairs.

Now as to the probable loss—and the writer in the guise of a poor man laments the burden of taxes if we are to have a down stair market. Let me ask a few questions.

1. If the market ground had been left for the use for which the Government gave it, and the butchers in the market had been allowed to get shops for themselves like other butchers, and a couple of thousand dollars had been spent in improving the old market, how much taxes would have been imposed on the people, and would not that place have given us a good down stair market just where it ought to be?

2. If the proposed building is erected at a cost of $25,000 for which we will pay $1,000 a year interest, how can we loose $3,000 a year when the entire building will cost us only $1,000 a year—can we loose what we never had?

3. If one half of the down stairs will give us a market twice as large as the old one, and yet leave three shops, which will bring $1,000 a year rental, and the entire up stairs for public purposes, how much loss will such a plan impose on the people?

4. If, as Mr. Cahill says, the rent of the proposed shops, funded and nursed for 20 years, will pay for the building how much good will we get during the next 20 years over and above the privilege of climbing the stairs? Will one dollar of the rental go to pay the poor man's taxes?

5. Will the management of the shops be like the management of the Toronto Bank building—or like the renting of the ground of the market block which brings in $1.50 per foot frontage, or five per cent on a value of $35 a foot, whereas the land is worth $200 a foot and should pay $8 a foot rental?

Sir, there is no defence for the council. That market block was given expressly for a market. Already the larger part of the frontage has been rented, a revenue is derived by the town from it and from the market fees, and now we are told that the rest of the frontage must be built up with shops and the market proper hoisted to the upper story.

I am not in the habit of finding fault with our council for bold measures—and if they had come out squarely and told the people that the real intention was to build so that the town offices could be in this new block, with some shops below, and the old building enlarged and made into a market proper I would have said nothing, but when I see the men who were so eager for getting a fine plan for a market that would be suitable and advantageous, going to Hamilton to inspect that market coming home with intentions of improving the old market, suddenly twisted away from their purpose and led into the foolish idea of an upstairs concern 15 feet below and 30 feet ceiling above, at the cost of $25,000, then like all the members of the Board of Trade and the merchants of George street, I dare to approach the honorable members of the town council and suggest to them that they are a little hasty, and that their scheme is not well considered, and that it is unsuitable for our wants—and I gently hint to them that the impudent threat that in case we don't sustain them they will put the $25,000 on this year's roll, is unworthy, and not a way which has usually been effective in dealing with Britons, and not such a way as is likely to succeed with the people of Peterborough.

Some say that the expenditure will give employment, etc. Yes, we will get rich spending our own money to give ourselves employment—we will be lifting ourselves by our own boot straps.

The British Government sometimes spends money in Ireland to avert the poverty induced by bad government. Would it not be better to mend the government so as to prevent the poverty? Let our council try and devise means of making prosperity and not spend all its strength in spending the people's money in ill-considered and unwise efforts fraught with annoyance and loss.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

Reply to Mr. Babb.

To the Editor of the Examiner

Mr. Babb in his letter in your issue of the 23rd inst., presents his thoughts on the new market building in the shape of a "few questions," and answers the most important one himself when he says that "A place required part of the day and twice in the week (only) does not require so valuable a position."

In this I quite agree with Mr. Babb, and it would be extravagance to occupy the ground floor of the building for market purposes only, but if the building can be erected so as to cost the ratepayers nothing, by renting the ground flat, and using the first flat for market purposes for butter, eggs, and small truck, I say we should have such market on the first flat by all means. Why should we tax ourselves to the tune of $3000, because a few people imagine it would be a hardship to them to go up an easy flight of stairs once a week at the outside, for about four months in the year. People appear to rather enjoy going up stairs to theatres, concerts, &c. In summer time it is not necessary to be under cover at all, as people can dispose of their produce anywhere in the open air and feel the better for enjoying the air. Mr. Babb says churches are not built over stores, &c. True but equally true that they are as a rule built on elevated ground, where they are more difficult of access than if built over stores in the centre of the town. Look at the most recent church erected in town, it is up several steps and is the most frequently used church in town, and yet these good people who frequent it do not complain but in addition to climbing these stairs parade our streets every evening, calling man to prayer.

Mr. Babb says he cannot think that the husband having to work will forget his wife who has to go to market. He knows very well that it is not working mens wives who object to going up stairs to do their marketing. They have to go up and down stairs in their homes several times a day in discharge of their household duties. It is not they, but the rich men's wives, who live in ease and luxury, who object to effecting a large saving in the taxes. Working people have to be economical. The working man's wife knows if she sends to the grocery for a loaf of bread and is one cent short, that she has to go without the bread or make it up the next therefore she is interested in keeping down the taxes and making her money go as far as she can, and she will not be willing that her husband, who has to work hard for a pittance, should tax his earnings to save her from going up stairs.

Now, Mr. Editor, I believe the council are right in putting up a good building on a conspicuous corner on our main street, and I am sure it would not add to the appearance of the town to keep such a building shut up in darkness night and day from one year's end to another; better far, in my opinion, that it should be occupied and lighted and thus give people coming from the railway stations a good impression. I am deeply interested in the progress and prosperity of the town, it is my interest, as it is the interest of all the taxpayers, to have the taxes kept down, and I am not going to vote to have them so largely increased as they would be by throwing away $3,000 on this market building which we can save, without inconvenience to any person. I believe the course adopted by the council is the wisest one and I am going to support it. It is admitted on all hands that a market building is necessary, but if it can be made to pay for itself, I have not yet seen any good reason why it should not do so. Every man tries to do this in his own business why not the town.

A RATEPAYER.

Peterborough, July 25, 1889.

Lakehurst.

From Our Own Correspondent.

GLORIOUS TWELFTH.—The members of L. O.L. No. 453, Lakehurst, celebrated the memory of King William at Lindsay. A pleasant trip was made per steamer "Maple Leaf," with the genial captain, W. H. Bottom, and 50 on board. On the way up the "Leaf" passed the boats from Bobcaygeon to Lindsay in Lindsay river, although she left nearly an hour and a half behind the others.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Thos. Nicholls, agent for the Peter Hamilton Mf'g Co., was in the vicinity on Monday last, setting in order the binders bought from the said Co'y. Mr. Nicholls knows his work well, for on Tuesday morning the hum of the busy binders was heard, indicating that all was in good order.

THE PULPIT.—The Rev. Mr. Morrin, of Klamount Presbyterian church, supplied the pulpit of Knox church at Lakehurst, having exchanged with Rev. Mr. Oswald. The reverend gentleman's remarks on "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?" were such as would render the hearers culpable in their neglect if offering the universal homage and love of their hearts to the Saviour.

Omemee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

There never was better crops.

We have excellent prospects ahead for a good seasons business.

Mr. Edward Finnie and family, have left here to take up their abode in Peterborough.

The 12th of July passed off with unusually few drunks. Nassau Lodge and the O.Y.B. Lodge, Omemee, were looked upon as the finest bodies of men in the procession.

The Peterborough daily and weekly EXAMINER are classed next to Toronto papers in this village for fresh news.

Arrangements are in course for a park and agricultural grounds here. Very much needed.

The new Presbyterian church is fast approaching completion, and promises to be very handsome and convenient

CURIOSITIES OF RAILWAY HISTORY.

Odd Incidents Happening When Rail Traffic Was Young.

It is curious to know that the first railway in the world between Manchester and Liverpool is less than sixty years ago.

It was twelve years later before the presidence of English ministers of state would permit their Sovereign to travel on Prince Albert travelled frequently Great Western, and [illegible] at the rate of speed, though he would sometimes say to the conductor, "not quite so fast this time, Mr. Conductor, if you please." But the first time Queen Victoria took a railway trip was on the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo, June 18th, 1842.

In France Louis Philippe having come to the conclusion that a mode of travel which was safe enough for his subjects was safe enough for himself, ordered a special train for a royal trip with his family to his chateau at Bizy; but was unexpectedly side-tracked by a solemn resolution of his council of ministers to the effect that the chief of the state ought not to take so hazardous a mode of conveyance.

Smokers had no toleration on the early English trains. A certain foreign gentleman who presumed to smoke his cigar was warned to desist, but continued to take a sly whiff while the train was in motion. Another passenger, however, in another coupee, smelt the offensive odor, and complained to the guard that somebody on the train was smoking. The guard failed to abate the nuisance; the testy passenger brought suit, and recovered damages against the company.

One of the most recent improvements in railway management in England is the application of photography in many ways, such as the examination of bridges or tunnels which conductors allege to be giving way. It is the photographer, and not the engineer who makes daily inspection, and it is found that what might escape the eye of the engineer is never overlooked by the eye of the camera.

Perhaps the oldest railway in the world is a cat-corpe at a station in the London and North-Western where many thousands of sacks are constantly lying. The cats are fed daily with milk only, and an appropriation is made for their support. The rats are thus kept from destroying the sacks; and a number of women are employed to mend the holes which are made in the sacks by the rats which the cats of the company don't catch.

ANT PICKLES ARE GOOD.

He Says a Maine Lumberman Who Has Eaten Thousands of Them.

Should a Maine lumberman find a stump or rotten log with thousands of big black ants in it he scoops the torpid insects from their winter domicile and fills his dinner pail with them, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. When he gets back to his cabin at night he sets his pail in a cool place until his supper is ready, then brings it forth, and, while helping himself to pork and beans, helps himself also to ants. There is no accounting for tastes, and he esteems a handful of ants a very choice morsel.

Ants are said by those who have tasted them to have a peculiarly agreeable, strongly acid flavor. The woodsmen, whose food consists largely of salted meat, baked beans and similarly hearty victuals, naturally have a craving for something sour.

"Ants are the very best of pickles," said an "logger," who confessed to having devoured thousands of them. "They are cleanly insects, and there is no reason why they should not be eaten if one can get over a little squeamishness caused by the thought of taking such crawling things into his stomach. There is nothing repulsive about them, and when a man has learned to eat the creatures as pickles he prefers them to any other kind."

An English Idea of the Dude.

The realistic descriptions of the wonders of an American dude's toilette to which the New York papers have given such prominence have excited wonder and admiration in the breasts of Englishmen. A dude in his war-paint, says an English society paper, "is an object worth looking at. A waistcoat embroidered with seed-pearls, a cord of gold running up his trousers, underclothing of pink silk, his manly bosom encased in a corset of apple-green satin, he may well regard himself as a personification of the art of dress in its highest development. Nor does he condescend to simplicity even when no one is looking. He sleeps the sleep of a just man made perfect in a night-shirt of white China silk, with collar of cardinal red and delicately embroidered cuffs, the fronts artfully sewn with threads of gold. No wonder the young gentleman finds little time for politics. Like Browning's pretty woman, his own beauty must be his only duty; all hope of grace beyond lies there."

Willie Could Stay.

"Miss Laura," began the youth with a flushed face and a tremor in his voice, "I came this evening to ask you——"

"One moment please, Mr. Hankinson. Willie, you are making too much noise with those blocks. You'd better take them into the other room."

"To ask you," resumed the man, mopping his brow with a trembling hand, "if you——"

"Willie, take those blocks instantly and go."

"If you have tried that new headache remedy you said the other evening you were going to take, and if it did you any good? I am nearly wild with a headache to-night."

"I have forgotten the circumstances to which you allude, Mr. Hankinson," said Miss Kajones, coldly. "Willie, you may remain if you wish."—True Flag.

The Mushroom and the Herb.

The mushroom said to the herb: "I sprang up in the night, while you take a whole season to grow." "True," answered the herb, "while I am increasing in value you appear and reappear a hundred times in your perpetual uselessness."

The Limit of Equality.

A dwarf said to a giant, "I have the same rights as you." "True, my friend," replied the giant; "but you cannot walk in my shoes."

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make th profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this, score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL. IX. NO. 22. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the sub-treasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks, which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

A TIE UNDER THE OCEAN.

CANADA TO HAVE A TRANSATLANTIC CABLE.

The Success of the Scheme Assured What Has Been Done and What Is Being Done —A Construction Company Formed.

OTTAWA, July 25.—That Canada is to have a direct cable to Great Britain is an all but settled fact. Its construction depends on the Dominion Government. An application is being made to them to guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Cable Company to the extent of $500,000. The total capital required is $1,700,000. Mr. Dobell of Quebec has already secured $360,000 of this in England by private subscription and will return to England shortly to raise this sum to $500,000. Then with the Dominion guarantee he will place $1,000,000 in the hands of the financial agents and invite subscriptions for the balance of $700,000, which will be eagerly taken up.

There is reason to believe that the Dominion Government will grant the aid asked for. Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hector Langevin have expressed themselves as favorable to the scheme, and Sir Charles Tupper is ready and willing to lend his influence to the project, which he believes to be one of importance to this country.

It was expected that the British Government would assist. A construction company has been organized in England to lay the cable.

It will be the shortest ocean cable of any. Entering the water at Westport, Ireland, it will run to Greenley Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a distance of only 1900 mile, as against 3100 to New York by Newfoundland, a saving of no less that 1200 miles. The importance of this lies in the fact that where the resistance to the current is small, owing to the short line, instruments of much less power than usual will do the work and do it as well or better. Complex instruments will in fact not be required at all.

At Greenley Island the outpost station will be established. Mr. Gisborne, Government Superintendent of Telegraphs, is now surveying Greenley Island and approaches. The Gulf system of Government Telegraph is to be extended to meet the cable and the use of the whole system given to the cable company. This tremendous privilege brings the cable to Quebec without the expenditure of a cent for construction. Indeed the new cable will be the cheapest of any ever laid, about one-seventh of the usual cost.

The Fenian Government have a cable from Ireland to England which is often idle. The Canadian Cable Company have proposed to the Government that instead of laying a separate cable under St. George's Channel, as all the other companies have done, they shall use the Government cable. The British Postmaster-General stated that he saw no objection to this.

The Dominion Government have at last come to a decision in regard to the Crown Timber Office here. Mr. John Poupore, ex-M.P., the head of the office, has been superannuated, ten years being added to his term of service, making seventeen years in all. This will give Mr. Poupore an annual allowance of $883. Mr. C. S. McNutt and Mr. James Ritchie have been superannuated, the former to have $1240 a year and the latter $928. Messrs. Smith and Slater will probably be retained in the service of the Government. Mr. Smith will be collector of slide dues at $1200 a year.

The Pittless Strike.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Congressman Frank Lawler reports the condition of affairs in the Braidwood regions as most pitiable. In one instance, he says, a horse died in the town and the flesh was stripped from the bones in a few minutes and eaten by the famishing people. The breasts of mothers nursing their infants, he says, have literally dried up for lack of nourishment, and children may be seen with the skin hardened and dried clinging to the bones of their faces.

Crook Cole Escapes

WINNIPEG, July 25.—Cole, who represented himself here as a Mississippi cotton planter last winter and got a year in jail for trying to defraud local banks, escaped last night, having made a wooden key. Cole, before coming here, victimised people in Kingston, Listowel and Halifax and was wanted there when he finished his term here.

The Fort Erie Church Silver Found.

BUFFALO, July 25.—The silver plate, chalices and vestments stolen from the Roman Catholic Church at Fort Erie were captured by a United States preventive officer at Ferry street and held for duty. They were brought over on the early morning boat yesterday by a smooth-faced young man, who couldn't give a very clear explanation of how he came into possession of them.

A Saw Mill Burnt

MITCHELL, July 25.—About 10 o'clock last night fire broke out in the saw and cider mill belonging to John Gettler, Fullarton Corners, six miles south of here. The buildings and contents were totally destroyed. Loss $7,500, insured for $500. Cause of fire unknown.

Fatal Accident at Kingsville.

KINGSVILLE, July 25.—At 4 p. m to-day the governor on the electric light machinery at the Mettawas Hotel flew off, striking William Layman in the face, killing him instantly. He leaves a wife and four children unprovided for.

DEBATING ROYAL GRANTS

THE REPORT PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Labouchere Makes a Characteristic Onslaught—Mr. Gladstone Supports the Committee—The War Cloud.

LONDON, July 25.—The report of the Parliamentary Committee on Royal Grants was called up in the House of Commons this afternoon. W. H. Smith, the Government leader, was questioned as to the amount of the Queen's savings. He declined to answer the question and moved that the report of the committee be adopted. He contended that the principles on which the Government was acting had been determined by the compact between the Crown and the people. It was not the duty of the sovereign to provide for the members of the Royal Family. No minister of the Crown during the Queen's reign had ever ventured such a suggestion. When the settlement was made upon the Prince of Wales it was never contemplated that the Prince would be called upon to provide for his family out of his income. The Government could not believe that any important section of the people grudged Royalty the moderate provision necessary to maintain its dignity. If they examined the systems of other civilized countries they would find that the English system was the most economical, giving invaluable stability while obtaining the respect of all English-speaking people.

Mr. Labouchere moved the adoption of his substitute for the committee's report, declaring that the sums given the Royal Family are already amply sufficient and that if further supplies are needed they ought to be provided through retrenchments in the expenses of the Royal household and not by fresh demands upon the taxpayers. He ridiculed Mr. Smith's assertion of economy in the English system, calling attention to the fact that while the President of the United States receives only $50,000 annually the Queen and her family receive $3,500,000. He said the time had come to deal finally with grants to Royalty. The supporters of the amendment were determined to oppose further grants to junior members of the Royal Family. He denied that the Queen had any sort of title to the Crown lands. If there was talk about a bargain his advice to the Crown would be: "Take the Duchies of Lancaster and Cornwall altogether and maintain your family and households."

Lord Randolph Churchill: "We should make the worst of the bargain."

Mr. Labouchere: "No. The bargain would be a good one."

Continuing, Mr. Labouchere said that the Government admitted the large savings of the Queen from the civil list. Doubtless these savings were well invested. Even if the Queen had given various sums to her children, enough was left to provide for the others. The extreme limit of the nation's grants ought to be the children of the sovereign. It was impossible for the country to submit to the burden of an indefinite number of grandchildren. He did not complain of Mr. Gladstone's supporting the grants. The Liberals understood Mr. Gladstone's peculiar and exceptional position and were not surprised at his action. Mr. Labouchere proceeded to explain how a reduction of the Queen's household would produce the sum necessary to provide for junior Royalties. If the useless offices of Lord Chamberlain, Lord Steward, Master of the Horse, Master of the Buckhounds, eight Lords-in-Waiting, eight Grooms-in-Waiting, four equerries and a number of others were abolished an ample sum would be left for the purpose mentioned. There were gentlemen who would be glad to do what work these offices entailed for nothing—Mr. Chamberlain, for instance. (Laughter.) He trusted that the House, having regard for the growing sense of the people that these grants ought not to be tolerated, would support the amendment.

Samuel Storey, Radical member for Sunderland, seconded the amendment.

Mr. Gladstone briefly said he was averse to all measures of economy that impaired the dignity and splendor of the Crown. Therefore he supported the Government. He rejoiced that an occasion was given him to testify in his old age that he did not forget the services he had borne for many years in connection with his office as representative of the Crown.

Balfour Attacks Gladstone.

LONDON, July 25.—Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, addressed a mass meeting at Salisbury to-day. He assailed the Radicals for their opposition to the Royal grants and said he had watched the controversy with a feeling of disgust. Referring to the new Tenants' Defence League he said the law would be found equal to coping with the league if it interfered with the law. He declared that Mr. Gladstone's speeches were the real origin of "Parnellism and Crime."

The Standard Apologizes.

LONDON, July 25.—The Standard has consented to apologize and pay £100 damages for asserting that Father Coveney of Tunmanway, Ireland, publicly appealed to God to strengthen the hand of the man who killed Inspector Martin at Gweedore.

The Salt Trust.

LONDON, July 25.—The subscriptions to the North American Salt Company closed here yesterday. The shareholders, which means the English Salt Union, subscribed £663,000, and the public £510,000. The prospectus simply sets forth one point—that of revenue: "It is believed with improved methods the average net profit of 4 cents a bushel can be relied on." Such a profit on 10,000,000 barrels would give £400,000 on £3,000,000 of capital, the prospectus states.

SYRACUSE, July 25.—Upwards of half a million dollars has been subscribed here to the North American Salt Association, mostly by Onondaga salt manufacturers, on condition of admission to the association.

THE WAR CLOUD.

It Still Declines to Become Dispersed by the Sun of Peace.

LONDON, July 25.—An undercurrent of uneasiness continues to pervade the continent, notwithstanding strenuous efforts to smooth matters over. Servia still remains the object on which eyes are fixedly gazing. The powers that be never know what Servia will do next. To-day agents of the Sultan in Belgrade report to the Turkish government that Russia, as well as France, has prepared to furnish war material to the Servians on long credit. Neither Carnot's government nor the Czar will make demand for payment, according to the Turkish agents, and Servia can purchase weapons, ammunition, etc., without fearing any pressure whatever.

Von Vollmar, the German socialist leader, in a recent interview expressed a decided opinion that the triumph of Boulanger would mean a new disturbing feature to Europe. The General's name, Von Vollmar thought, would be an excellent platform cry for another military vote, and although no war might follow, the ill-feeling between France and Germany could only be increased by the success of Boulangism.

MR. FOSTER'S MARRIAGE.

William McDougall Upholds Its Validity—His Argument.

NEW YORK, July 25.—An Ottawa special to The World says: William McDougall, who is regarded as one of the best legal authorities in the Dominion, takes exception to the assertion which has been made that the recent marriage of Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance, to Mrs. Chisholm in Chicago is illegal. He contends that by the comity of nations, Canada is bound to respect the findings and judgments of the United States courts.

In speaking of the matter to The World correspondent Mr. McDougall said: "Assuming, as it has been shown, that Chisholm had obtained a domicile in the United States whither he went with no intention of founding jurisdiction for the purpose of obtaining a divorce, and Mrs. Chisholm having obtained a domicile in the United States, by the decree of the courts of the State in which she was domiciled the dissolution of her marriage with Chisholm was perfectly legal and she was at liberty to marry again. Recent decisions in the English courts, to which Canada looks for precedent, bear this assertion out. The decree, finding or judgment of a foreign country must be respected."

KINGSTON'S LATEST SENSATION.

A Son of the United States Consul Arrested on a Charge of Burglary.

KINGSTON, July 25.—There has been no dearth of sensations in this city of late, and the latest—the arrest to-day of Marshal C. Twitchell, a son of the United States Consul, on a charge of burglary—is by no means the least. Last night a masked burglar entered the residence of Mrs. William Martin, a widow living in Wellington street. He first tied the servant girl in the basement, and then proceeding upstairs met Mrs. Martin, who had been awakened by the noise and was on her way down stairs. The robber threatened her life if she made any outcry, but Mrs. Martin screamed. The burglar fired a shot, and afterwards beat Mrs. Martin over the head with his revolver, but becoming alarmed he decamped without any plunder, leaving his cap and dark lantern behind him.

The cap gave the police a clue which led to Twitchell's arrest. The statements made by young Twitchell after his arrest were of a most startling character. He admitted that he was the burglar. He was in a dazed state when arrested. His story is that he went home yesterday suffering from a severe headache. He went to bed and remained sleeping until 11 o'clock. Then he arose. This has been substantiated by others in the house. The next thing that he remembered was the firing of a revolver. This was in Mrs. Martin's house. He had no remembrance of entering the place, had never been in the house and knew none of the inmates. After firing the shot he remembers fleeing homeward. He says he never was addicted to drinking, smoking or using any narcotics. He is unable to explain his conduct at all. After the outcries of Mrs. Martin had aroused the neighbors, the young man was among those who assembled and he aided in searching for the burglar. He remembers fleeing from the house and also returning to it.

Twitchell is a fine looking young fellow and a student of Queen's College. He passed through the city public schools and Collegiate Institute, proving an apt and clever scholar. He was never known to do a dishonorable act. He is possessed of a very venturesome spirit. For gentlemanly bearing no young man in the city could excel him. It is thought that he was insane or that his exploit is the result of excessive novel reading.

THE ST. JOHN CARNIVAL.

Features of the Fourth Day—A Big At the Haligonians.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 25.—Another fine day greeted St. John in the fourth day of its carnival festivities. The feature of this morning's program was the carnival parade, the prominent display being made by the Haymarket-square Polymorphian Club. The best representations in the parade were Halifax and St. John, the former being represented as an old decayed city while the latter was represented as a city of pluck, energy and enterprise. There was also a representation of Halifax harbor frozen over and a mail steamer after waiting 80 hours in attempting to enter the port steams away for St. John. The latter port was shown with a clear harbor with the steamer coming up quietly to the pier.

The lacrosse match this afternoon was witnessed by over 2000 people. The match was between Montreal Indians and a picked St. John team, Houghton of Montreal captaining the home players. Irwin of Montreal as in yesterday's game distinguished himself by some brilliant plays. St. John secured three out of four goals.

The torchlight parade to-night was a great success. The whole city was brilliantly illuminated and presented a grand sight.

COLLEGE DEGREES FOR CASH.

A Diploma Mill in Which All Comers Can Be Made B. A.s, A. M.s or LL. D.s

CHICAGO, July 25.—There is a new and seemingly thriving industry of which Chicago can now boast. It is the manufacture and sale of all sorts of college degrees. For a sum ranging from $15 to $35 any one can now have himself transformed into an A.B., a B.S., a B.L., a B.Ph., an A.M., a Ph.D., or even an LL.D. This degree factory calls itself the Correspondence University of Chicago, and it is located at No. 147 Throop-street. Its presiding genius is F. W. Harkins, who calls himself its president. His faculty consists mainly of a typewriter.

Originally started under the best auspices by Lucian A. Wait, Associate Professor of Mathematics at Cornell, founded on an excellent and novel idea—that of furnishing instruction in collegiate courses to persons unable to attend college—the Correspondence University has undergone a complete change in character, aim, directors and professors. From the philanthropic mission of aiding ambitious students at home it has fallen to the work of a diploma-mill. Instruction was the object of the institution at first. Now the conferment of degrees is its chief feature. Mr. Wait's colleagues were such men as William C. Esty, professor of Mathematics and Astronomy in Amherst College; Albert G. Harkness, Professor of Latin in Madison University, and George Chase, Professor of Criminal Law, Torts and Procedure in Columbia College—seventy men in all, of reputation as teachers. When President Harkins succeeded Mr. Wait in 1885 he incorporated the Correspondence University under the laws of Illinois, and the selling of degrees has since been the main work of the "university."

A reporter asked President Harkins: "What is necessary to obtain a degree?"

"We have granted degrees on three months' work, as evidenced by a thesis," he answered.

"And on the payment?——

"Of $25—a year's tuition. I have a great talent for determining whether a man is enough of a scholar to merit a degree," he added. "In such determinations I am bound by no conservative ideas. If I find that a man has been a student I do not let the accidental circumstance that he has not been to college or even to school stand in the way of a recognition of his scholarship. Why should he be deprived of a degree through misfortune?"

"Who are the principal applicants for your degrees?"

"Clergymen."

"Don't you think you are injuring the cause of the higher education you profess to serve?"

"To properly judge what I am doing you must know what others are doing. I have a letter from a clergyman telling me he obtained a degree from an Illinois college of reputation without ever having attended a lecture or known a single one of the professors, or done anything except correspond with the president, when the published rules of the college forbade the conferment of degrees without residence. Cheap, one-horse colleges all over the country are granting degrees and no objection is made. There is a great deal of humbuggery about degrees. But the Correspondence University has as little of it as any other university."

ON THE OLD BATTLEFIELD.

CELEBRATING THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF LUNDY'S LANE.

Thousands Join in the Demonstration—Patriotic Speeches by Sir Adolphe Caron and Others.

DRUMMONDVILLE, July 25.—The celebration to-day of the 75th anniversary of the battle of Lundy's Lane under the auspices of Lundy's Lane Historical Society was a success in every particular. The streets of the village were gay with bunting, amongst the many flags being two or three Stars and Stripes. The graves of the fallen heroes and of Laura Secord were covered with flowers and above them floated the Union Jack.

Long before 2 o'clock thousands had assembled in and about the battle ground.

The U. E. Loyalists were present by the score. The appearance of Sir A. P. Caron, Minister of Militia, accompanied by Dr. John Ferguson, M. P., and Hon. Adam Brown, M.P., was a signal for three rousing cheers.

Upon the platform were President Rev. George A. Bell, Vice-President John A. Orchard, Secretary Wilson, Sir A. P. Caron, Dr. John Ferguson, M. P., Hon. Adam Brown, M.P., Dr. Cannifi, Archibald Scarlet, Joseph Briney, J. S. Briney, A. McLean Howard of Toronto, a delegation of Wentworth Pioneers and others.

Dr. Ferguson, M.P., was in the chair and opened the proceedings with a brief address upon the events of the day that had gathered the immense assemblage together, after which he introduced the speaker of the day, Sir A. P. Caron.

Sir Adolphe said that although of French descent he was a Canadian and loved the old British flag that those who were sleeping here defended 74 years ago to day. That same Canadian flag floated over the Citadel at Quebec and the French descendants of that province like himself knew no other flag but that one. He was proud he was a Canadian. He knew no Scotch, Irish, English or French—it was Canada first and last with him. He spoke of the history of the past and said we should instil it into the hearts of our young men. Sir Adolphe concluded with a tribute to Canada's citizen soldiery.

Mr. Adam Brown, M.P., followed with an address, after which he offered a resolution endorsing the society's efforts towards the erection of a suitable monument and favoring the undertaking of the work by the Dominion Government. Dr. Cannifi of Toronto seconded the motion, which was adopted with great enthusiasm.

President George H. Mills of the Wentworth Pioneers moved and William Kirby of Niagara seconded a resolution favoring the especial study of Canadian history in the schools, which was also unanimously adopted.

Patriotic speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Fessenden, Rev. Canon Bull and others. A vote of thanks tendered to Sir Adolphe Caron brought him to his feet again. He promised to do all in his power to induce the Government to erect some kind of a monument to perpetuate the memory of those who fell on this historic spot.

How the Battle Was Fought.

General Drummond was at Kingston when he heard of the invasion, and gathering a force he set out for Niagara, which he reached on July 25, and at the head of 800 men hurried forward to a junction with Major-General Riall. In the meantime the American General Brown had moved out of Chippawa on the British position at Lundy's Lane in order to draw Riall, but the latter, unwilling to face the superior American force, ordered a retreat to Queenston just as General Drummond marched up. This was about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He countermanded the order to retreat, and formed the order of battle, posting his guns on the crest of an eminence in Lundy's Lane.

Before him lay 5000 well drilled and well officered Americans, to whom he opposed 1600 men, part of them militia. It had been a hot day and his men were none the better for their march from Niagara, but at 6 o'clock, when the battle opened every man resolutely faced the foe. The battery posted on the hill played with deadly effect upon the American forces, and though the infantry made desperate efforts to carry the position, twice bayoneting the gunners at the breech, they were driven back, and manned by fresh hands the battery continued the carnage. Cannon were pushed forward by the invaders until the batteries fought almost muzzle to muzzle, but for six dreadful hours the British guns never ceased to present a flaming barrier to the well nigh exhausted foe.

The shadows of night did not bring cessation, for moonlight came to light the way to further slaughter. About 9 o'clock 1200 of Riall's men who had been in the van when he ordered the retreat reappeared on the scene, fresh and eager for the fray. The Americans called up all their reserve to meet this new element, and the gleam of the cannon and rifle fire half dispelled the shadows of the night. Furiously the battle raged, the line of fire marking the position of the forces, neither of which would hazard a charge in the darkness.

At midnight seventeen hundred men lay dead or wounded on the field, when the British noticed that the opposing fire wavered and finally ceased altogether and then came word that the Americans had abandoned the field and were in full retreat, leaving 930 dead behind them and 200 prisoners in British hands. The loss on the other side was 770 killed, making it the most sanguinary battle of the war. The Americans threw their baggage into the Niagara and retreated rapidly to Fort Erie, where they entrenched themselves, being finally driven out, though the British lost many lives in doing it.

THE BRAIN (from a photograph.)
In Healthy Condition. With Paretic Lesions.

There are many well known men confined in our Asylums who but a short time ago were prominent among our business and social circles.

Why are they there?

Paresis!

Did it come on at once?

Not at all. It was a gradual but positive growth. They overtaxed nature. The drain on their vitality, their nerve powers, their brain tissue, was too great, and they gradually but surely sank under it. The things they did to bring this sad end about are precisely the same things that are being done by thousands of men and women to-day. It is not necessary to name them. They all end disastrously unless checked or regulated.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, knew this fully when he began his experiments which resulted in the discovery of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. He realized that paresis (consumption of the brain) was our great National weakness. He knew that the brain and nervous system must be fortified to meet the great strains which modern life bring upon it. He saw that men were becoming debilitated and women weakened by the pressure and demands of life, and he sought and discovered the remedy Paine's Celery Compound, if rightly taken, will renew the brain and build up nerve tissues as fast as they become exhausted. It is not a narcotic. It contains no drugs, no nostrums. It is perfectly pure. It is absolutely harmless. The high character of its discoverer guarantees this, and the indorsement of the medical and chemical Professions prove it.

ADULTERATED FOOD.

A meeting of the Pennsylvania Board of Health was recently held at Pittsburg, at which it was declared that the practice of adulterating food was growing. France sends a lot of adulterated food and wine to America, but the Yankees are pretty well up to the game themselves. One product is "sick" cheese. The discovery made some time ago in England that certain American concerns were sending thither cheeses made principally of cotton seed oil made quite a noise and did serious harm to legitimate cheese makers on this side of the water. Cotton seed cheese, however, is not injurious to health, its sale as the real article being only an imposition, a cheat. But now appears a new compound in the semblance of cheese which those chemists examining have declared to be dangerous. Professor Vaughan, of Ann Arbor, Mich., as quoted in the Pittsburg meeting by Mr. Percy Smith, says: "I think it can be positively stated that any cheese which will instantly and intensely redden blue litmus paper should not be eaten." This is the test of "sick" cheese. The poor, who buy in small quantities, suffer the most from adulterations, for, it is alleged, in them have been found the most dangerous compounding. The desire of the masses to get something for nothing, according to the Scientific American, has led to the appearance of handsomely labeled canned goods, such as oysters, peas, corn, etc., which, if they do not contain poison, are absolutely worthless as food. If you buy $50 worth of spices and receive a $50 music box with the goods, you have $50 worth of cracker meal and a wheezy music box. Whole spices cannot be ground up and sold for 5 cents or 6 cents per pound less than the unground goods costs. "There is not 1 per cent. of the genuine article in the pepper of a certain Michigan manufacturer, and the way I know it is this:—I put ten pounds of the pepper in ten pounds of sausage meat, and experts were unable to discover the presence of pepper in that meat. It is on record that pepper in Michigan has been adulterated 99 per cent. A Philadelphian, once a maker of spices, told m that he had a great run on a special grade of black pepper, thus composed:—Red African pepper 5 pounds; black pepper, 10 pounds; pulverized water crackers, 85 pounds." Mr. Clifford Richardson, a United States Government analyst, says,—"Spices and condiments for human food are adulterated largely. Of twenty samples of ground cloves examined, only two were pure; of Cayenne pepper, one out of eight; and of mustard, ten were examined, but none was pure." Here are a few statistics of adulteration, as offered at the recent meeting, and said to be general:—Ground coffee, 45 per cent.; spices, 66 per cent.; low grades of sugar, 20 per cent.; teas, 48 per cent.; syrup, 50 per cent.; cream tartar, 44 per cent.; baking powder, 44 per cent.; bread, 2 per cent.

Sir John Lyster-Kaye, General Manager of the Canadian Agricultural, Coal and Colonization Company, writes to a friend giving a most encouraging account of the company's operations in the North-West. In an estimate which he submitted some time ago to the directors he calculated 4,440 acres in grain in 1889. This estimate has been largely exceeded, there being over 6,000 acres in grain. On the company's ranches, owing to the prevalence of mild weather during the winter, it is expected that 2,000 calves will be branded this season, instead of 1,600, as estimated. Sir John reports an increase in the value of the land along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Rush Lake and Calgary. The average value of lands in that district in 1888 was $3.36 per acre. Mr. Hamilton, the Land Commissioner of the C.P.R., allowed him to make a copy of the sales by the C.P.R., from the 1st of January, 1889, to end of April, 1889, between Rush Lake and Calgary. The acres sold amount to 5,609, the price $27,245, or an average of $4.85 per acre.

Nothing the presence of Hon. Oliver Mowat in London the Canadian Gazette, Sir Charles Tupper's Trans-Atlantic organ, says that Mr. Mowat may take his well-earned holiday without any fear of dismissal from office. "Mr. Goldwin Smith once predicted," says the Canadian Gazette, "that Mr. Mowat would hold the reins of power just as long as he pleased, and to judge by the fact that he has already served his province for seventeen years, there seem every likelihood that this at least will prove a bright exception to the fate of the general run of the professor's prophecies." Nice encouragement this, from a Conservative organ, for those Ontario Tories who are declaring that "Mowat must go," and who dream of dividing Ontario's revenues and timber limits among themselves after the next provincial election.

Many a sufferer from Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, etc., will be glad to find that Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended for such cases. It is is easily assimilated, prepare with great care, and is an admirable tonic. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d12

A Big Success.

FOR summer complaints and diarrhœa I can truly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as I have used it in my family with great success and would not be without it. John B. Havens, Grimsby, Ont. Never travel without it. 2w30d

A Plain Statement.

ALL poisonous waste, and worn out matter ought to escape from the system through the secretions of the bowels, kidneys and skin. B.B.B. cleanses, opens and regulates these natural outlets for the removal of disease. 2w30d

A Family Affair.

WE have used Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in our family of six persons during twelve years, and in all cases of diarrhœa, summer complaint, etc., it never fails to cure. This valuable medicine should be on hand in every family.

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"

"No."

"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low prices."

"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."

"Yes you do. Just look at this one! What better would you want than that?"

"That is good. Who took it?"

"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar.

"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."

"Every bit. Oh, Mr Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

DRINKING

ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased;
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

ILLINOIS DIVORCE LAW.

Not Even Necessary That a Female Applicant Should Visit the State.

CHICAGO, July 24.—It has been the practice of the courts here to hold that an applicant for divorce must be a resident of the State and must appear in person. Both these requirements were waived to-day in the case of Mary Gottschalk, a resident of Pennsylvania. She was never in Chicago and on her affidavit that her husband had deserted her for two years, during which time he had lived in Chicago, she was granted a divorce. Her attorney secured this result by fishing up a forgotten decision by the State Supreme Court rendered twenty years ago in which the court held that, "In the contemplation of the law the residence of the wife follows that of the husband," and "desertion for the period of two years by the husband residing in this State although commenced in a foreign jurisdiction will enable a wife to obtain a divorce."

Her Laugh in Four Fits.

At ten a blithesome little maid,
Restrained by naught but Nature's law,
Went roaming o'er the glassy glade
And laughed a merry
Haw
Haw
Haw.

At twenty she was bright and fair;
But now, restrained by fond mamma,
She only tossed her golden hair
And laughed a rippling
Ha
Ha
Ha.

At thirty she was more sedate,
And still from wedded bondage free,
She said her time was growing late,
And laughed a yearning
He
He
He.

At forty she despaired of joy,
For none had come her heart to woo,
She sighed for either man or boy,
And laughed a doleful
Who
Who
Who.

Her Knowledge of Yachts.

An odor strong of pitch and tar
To-day the yachtsman's clothes exhale.
He talks about the harbor bar,
Of anchors, chains and mast and sail,
Of rigging, cordage, boom and spar,
Distressing calm or favoring gale.

The girls, too, quite an interest show,
"Since they've put by their sealskin sacques,
In things concerning yachts, although
'Tis said they can't tell sheets from tacks.
However that may be, they know
Something, at least, of "little smacks."

Her Success Assured.

New prima donna to manager—And do you really think I will capture the audience to-night?

Manager (promptly)—Not the remotest doubt of it, Mr. Howler.

Prima donna (reflectively)—There certainly should not be. I am in excellent voice, the aria which I am to sing in the second act I rehearsed without an error to-day, and that difficult staccato passage in the third—why, you should have heard——

Manager (contemptuously)—Voice, aria, staccato passage, be blowed! Didn't the Judge grant you a divorce this morning?

What He Was.

Elder Crossroads—"So, Deacon, ye've got back from livin' in the city, hev ye?"

Deacon Carryall (who has lost the back farm in speculation)—"Humph!"

"Purty fine place, I s'pose. Make much money in Wall street, Deacon?"

"Humph!"

"No fence, Deacon, but which was you, a bull or a bar?"

"Neither; I was a blarsted, long-eared, unharnessed jackass."

How Their Light Shone.

"Let your light so shine," etc., said the minister, as the plates were passed about the church.

"John," said Mrs. Fairfax, "what made you put $3 on the plate?" (This was after church.)

"Old Jones, the gas man, threw down a dollar bill, and my electric light is twice as good as his gas any day in the week."

One Way to Clear the Score.

Two gentlemen were walking in F street yesterday, when one said: "Let's cross the street. There comes a man to whom I owe some money, and I don't want to meet him." "Does he dun you?" "No; that's the worst of it. He never speaks of it." After they had crossed over the debtor walked some distance in thoughtful silence. Then he said, seriously: "I wish that man would get mad about it and go at me with a club. I can't pay him the money, and I wish he would thrash me like fury and settle the matter, so that I wouldn't ever be afraid again to meet him."

Check.

Drummer (to fellow passenger who has produced a bottle of beer)—Here, take my cockscrew.

Fellow Passenger—Thank you, but how can I reciprocate? This bottle only holds enough for one.

Drummer—All right. Pass it right over to me, then.

Old Say-of-Quinte Manners.

There is not so much drinking now as there was years ago, said the Old Man the other night at dinner. Why, forty years ago on the Bay of Quinte I'd meet in with an old farmer and say:

"Uncle Silas, will you take something?"

"Well, John A., I don't know. I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take any thing it's just about this time."

Five minutes after you would say again, "Uncle Silas, will you take something?"

"Well, John A., I don't know. I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take anything it's just about this time."

In five minutes more Uncle Silas would turn around and say:

"Well, John A., I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take anything it's just about this time. What will you have?"—Toronto World.

"No. I am a patent medicine manufacturer."—Merchant Traveler.

A Fair Trial

is all that is asked for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in all blood taints, or skin diseases, eruptions, blotches, pimples, and swellings. If it don't cure, you get your money back. a

To Cure a Corn

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6dw30

The Highest Praise.

I USED a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for my dyspepsia and it proved a perfect cure, and I was blessed the day I got it. I would not be without it now for a good lot. It is worth its weight in gold.

MRS. W. J. SMITH,
2w30d Haley Station, Ont.

A Confirmed Grumbler

IS generally so because of confirmed dyspepsia or indigestion, caused by eating to rapidly, bolting food without chewing it sufficiently, overloading the stomach, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia and all kindred diseases. 2w30d

Get the Best.

DR. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for cholera morbus, dysentery, sick stomach, cramps, colic, diarrhœa and cholera infantum, that has yet been discovered. Its popularity increases each year. All medicine dealers sell it. 2w30d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

TO THE DEAF.—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John street, Montreal.

A BURN OR CUT will heal quickly and leave less scar if Victoria Carbolic Salve is applied at once. dw

MALARIAL FEVER AND CHILLS are best broken up and prevented by using Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine. dw

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

NAUGHTY CLAUDE.

When little Claude was naughty once,
At luncheon time, and said
He'd not say "Thank you" to mamma,
She made him go to bed,
And cover up and stay two hours,
So when the clock struck two,
Then Claude said, "Thank you, Mr Clock,
I'm much obliged to you."

ILLINOIS DIVORCE LAW.

Not Even Necessary That a Female Applicant Should Visit the State

CHICAGO, July 24.—It has been the practice of the courts here to hold that an applicant for divorce must be a resident of the State and must appear in person. Both these requirements were waived to-day in the case of Mary Gottschalk, a resident of Pennsylvania. She was never in Chicago and on her affidavit that her husband had deserted her for two years, during which time he had lived in Chicago, she was granted a divorce. Her attorney secured this result by fishing up a forgotten decision by the State Supreme Court rendered twenty years ago in which the court held that, "In the contemplation of the law the residence of the wife follows that of the husband," and "desertion for the period of two years by the husband residing in this State although commenced in a foreign jurisdiction will enable a wife to obtain a divorce."

Her Laugh In Four Fits.

At ten a blithesome little maid,
Restrained by naught but Nature's law,
Went roaming o'er the grassy glade
And laughed a merry
Haw
Haw
Haw.

At twenty she was bright and fair;
But now, restrained by fond mamma,
She only tossed her golden hair
And laughed a rippling
Ha
Ha
Ha.

At thirty she was more sedate,
And still from wedded bondage free,
She said her time was growing late,
And laughed a yearning
He
He
He.

At forty she despaired of joy,
For none had come her heart to woo,
She sighed for either man or boy,
And laughed a doleful
Who
Who
Who.

Her Knowledge of Yachts.

An odor strong of pitch and tar
To-day the yachtsman's clothes exhale.
He talks about the harbor bar,
Of anchors, chains and mast and sail,
Rigging, cordage, boom and spar,
Distressing calm or favoring gale.

The girls, too, quite an interest show,
"Since they've put by their sealskin sacques,
In things concerning yachts, although
'Tis said they can't tell sheets from tacks,
However that may be, they know
Something, at least, of "little smacks."

Her Success Assured.

New prima donna to manager—And do you really think I will capture the audience to-night?

Manager (promptly)—Not the remotest doubt of it, Mr. Howler.

Prima donna (reflectively)—There certainly should not be. I am in excellent voice, the aria which I am to sing in the second act I rehearsed without an error to-day, and that difficult staccato passage in the third—why, you should have heard——

Manager (contemptuously)—Voice, aria, staccato passage, be blowed! Didn't the Judge grant you a divorce this morning?

What He Was.

Elder Crossroads—"So, Deacon, ye've got back from livin' in the city, hev ye?"

Deacon Carryall (who has lost the back farm in speculation)—"Humph!"

"Purty fine place, I s'pose. Make much money in Wall street, Deacon?"

"Humph!"

"No fence, Deacon, but which was you, a bull or a bar?"

"Neither; I was a blarsted, long-eared, unharnessed jackass."

How Their Light Shone.

"Let your light so shine," etc., said the minister, as the plates were passed about the church.

"John," said Mrs. Fairfax, "what made you put $2 on the plate?" (This was after church.)

"Old Jones, the gas man, threw down a dollar bill, and my electric light is twice as good as his gas any day in the week."

One Way to Clear the Score.

Two gentlemen were walking in F street yesterday, when one said: "Let's cross the street. There comes a man to whom I owe some money, and I don't want to meet him." "Does he dun you?" "No; that's the worst of it. He never speaks of it." After they had crossed over the debtor walked some distance in thoughtful silence. Then he said, seriously: "I wish that man would get mad about it and go at me with a club. I can't pay him the money, and I wish he would thrash me like fury and settle the matter, so that I wouldn't ever be afraid again to meet him."

Check.

Drummer (to fellow passenger who has produced a bottle of beer)—Here, take my corkscrew.

Fellow Passenger—Thank you, but how can I reciprocate? This bottle only holds enough for one.

Drummer—All right. Pass it right over to me, then.

Old Say-of-Quinte Manners.

There is not so much drinking now as there was years ago, said the Old Man the other night at dinner. Why, forty years ago on the Bay of Quinte I'd meet in with an old farmer and say:

"Uncle Silas, will you take something?"

"Well, John A., I don't know. I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take any thing it's just about this time."

Five minutes after you would say again, "Uncle Silas, will you take something?"

"Well, John A., I don't know. I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take anything it's just about this time."

In five minutes more Uncle Silas would turn around and say:

"Well, John A., I'm not drinking much now, but if I do take anything it's just about this time. What will you have?"—Toronto World.

Advertising Enterprise.

"You seem to be very much interested in art, sir," said a young painter to a portly gentleman who had spent some time in an art exhibition.

"Yes, sir; I am. I take a lively interest in pictures, a lively interest."

"You are perhaps a painter yourself?"

A Fair Trial

is all that is asked for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in all blood taints, or skin diseases, eruptions, blotches, pimples, and swellings. If it don't cure, you get your money back. a

To Cure a Corn

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6dw30

The Highest Praise.

I USED a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for my dyspepsia and it proved a perfect cure, and I was blessed the day I got it. I would not be without it now for a good lot. It is worth its weight in gold.

MRS. W. J. SMITH,
2w30d Haley Station, Ont.

A Confirmed Grumbler

IS generally so because of confirmed dyspepsia or indigestion, caused by eating too rapidly, bolting food without chewing it sufficiently, overloading the stomach, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia and all kindred diseases. 2w30d

Get the Best.

DR. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for cholera morbus, dysentery, sick stomach, cramps, colic, diarrhœa and cholera infantum, that has yet been discovered. Its popularity increases each year. All medicine dealers sell it. 2w30d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

TO THE DEAF.—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St John street, Montreal.

A BURN OR CUT will heal quickly and leave less scar if Victoria Carbolic Salve is applied at once. dw

MALARIAL FEVER AND CHILLS are best broken up and prevented by using Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine. dw

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. —C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from indigestion and headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Buckhorn.

A correspondent writes the guests at present at the Buckhorn hotel, Mr. Thomas Eastland, proprietor, are:—Mr. C. A. Jordan, T. H. Whalen and F. H. Jones, from Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. R. Hamilton and Mr. Gus Sawers and party, and a number of white tents may be seen on the different islands. The fishing is excellent and a number of fine catches have been made. The hotel is now complete, and the opening hop will take place Friday evening of this week.

A Long Canoe Trip.

A party of four young men from New York are camped for a few days at Crawford's grove. They are making a tour of Canada lasting several months, in which time they expect to travel about 1,500 miles. They arrived here by train from Port Hope, and will paddle to Hastings, taking train there for Kingston. They will then navigate the St. Lawrence and make connection with the head of the Hudson river, thence returning home.

IF YOUR WATCH OR CLOCK needs repairing take it to Wyatt's jewellery store. d

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ales, sodas, lagers, ales, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Junipar Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c., and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. 3

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tufw

Notice of Meeting.

Members of the C.M.B.A. are requested to attend a special meeting to be held in their hall, Murray street, this evening. Important and urgent business will come up for discussion. 1d

The Bridge Works Additions.

Work on the new additions to the Central Iron Bridge Works is being carried on. The stonework for the foundations is being laid by Mr. Robt. Smith. There will be two buildings, one 80 x 150 and the other 80 x 50, the two forming the shape of an L. Mr. Law is negotiating for the purchase of a large quantity of new machinery.

Keep Cool.

Don't get excited. There will be room enough for all. The C.P.R. have extra care in readiness and the "Cibola" can carry 1,650 persons. So all can go. Any train on the 31st can be taken. The "Chicora" and "Cibola" make six trips, on any of which excursionists can cross the lake and return on Thursday night. Tickets to Toronto and return, $1.90; to Niagara and the Falls, $2.25; children half price. Hotel Chautauqua, at the park, $2 a day; meals or lodging, 50 cents. Lakeside House, $1; meals or rooms, 25 cents.

A Religious Weathervane.

Phillippe de Sailliers, the ex-Trappist monk who was paraded all over the country as a drawing card by the Salvationists a few months ago, has been heard from once more. His recantation of Protestantism was published recently, and it was given out that he had returned to a monastery. On Friday last, it is said, he appeared at the headquarters of the Salvationists in Montreal, and asked to be taken back. He has written a letter to Mr. Coombs, the head of the organization here, in which he expresses regret for his conduct. He is believed by many to be a religious monomaniac.

Addressing His Constituents.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addressed his constituents in the following places this week on the Legislative work of the past session:

On Monday evening at the Town hall, Lakehurst.

On Tuesday afternoon at Taylor's school house, Government Road.

On Tuesday evening at Ventrie's school house, North Harvey.

On Wednesday afternoon at the Union Creek school house, Galway.

On Wednesday evening at Swamp Lake school house.

On Thursday forenoon at Chas. McMahon's, and again at Ford's school house, Cavendish.

These meetings were largely attended. Mr. Stratton met with a cordial reception, and his remarks were listened to with interest.

Illicit Distilling in Cavan.

It has just reached the ears of the Millbrook Reporter that a great loss was experienced last week by the proprietors of the Cavan Illicit Distillery. It seems that all hands concerned in the manufacture of malt whisky were on hand in the beginning of last week, and had malted about six barrels, and had the still full also, when two young men from Millbrook, who had evidently imbibed freely before leaving of liquor that was not illicit, arrived on the scene at night, and warned all hands that information had been laid against them, and that the authorities were on their track. The boss distiller, becoming alarmed, immediately dumped the six barrels of malt and pulling the bung out of the still, thus letting run to loss the entire lot. This business, the Reporter says, has grown to massive proportions, as several parties had lately taken stock in the concern, prominent among the number being a well-known resident of Millbrook. But it seems that the young men who gave the false alarm did not think of the great loss it might cause, and as a consequence they are now greatly chagrined over their folly in disturbing the "business." Nevertheless the want of thought on the part of the young men has had one good effect, viz., all hands have been sober ever since, and the "business" is at a stand-still.

News Nuggets.

Mr. R. S. Cook, Acting Crown Timber Agent under the Dominion Government, at Prince Albert, N.W.T., is home for a short visit with his friends. Mr. Cook is looking well, but apparently not fully recovered from the wound received in the North-west rebellion. He will spend a fortnight in town. "Dick's" many friends are glad to see him amongst them again.

Labor Demonstration.

A Big Two Days Event for September—Labor Day to be Celebrated in Grand Style.

Since the demonstration on Labor Day of 1888, it has been the intention of the trade and labor unions of Peterborough to have a a mammoth celebration this year, and for some months past plans have been maturing until now the committee in charge have all arrangements about completed.

The demonstration takes place September 2nd and 3rd. All the trade and labor unions in this district, from Toronto to Kingston, will be invited to participate. Specially advantageous railway rates have been secured for cheap travel on those dates.

There will be a monster trade and labor procession, a promenade concert on the first night, horse races, a bicycle tournament and other sports. There will also be a big platform meeting, at which some celebrated speakers will address the people.

The demonstration is expected to be the biggest thing of the kind held in Peterborough for some time. The posters will soon be out announcing the programme in detail.

The Committee will make a canvas of the merchants of the town for the purpose of procuring subscriptions. They expect to meet with a liberal response.

The Trip Across the Lake.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I write to say that one of the most delightful trips I ever had was crossing the Lake on the Cibola this week, and to advise all who want rest and pleasure to go to Toronto and cross Lake Ontario in this floating palace. I understand that the ladies of the Methodist church have secured this boat. It is a pity every man, woman and child in town cannot go.

1d RET.

Awful Starvation in Braidwood.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Mayor Creiger and Congressman Frank Lawler will leave for Braidwood this morning to meet the Committee of Relief in behalf of the starving miners. Mr. Lawler reports the condition of affairs in the Braidwood region as most pitiable. In one instance, he says, a horse died in the town and the flesh was stripped from the bones in a few minutes and eaten by the famishing people. The breasts of mothers nursing their infants, he says, have literally dried up for lack of nourishment, and children may be seen with the skin hardened and dried, clinging to the bones of their faces.

It is claimed that Mrs. William Davis, of Port Huron, has been drawing a pension in the name of Mrs. Alma Witheral. Her second husband, Davis, has thus been benefitted $2,000. It is alleged that several parties are complicated in the scheme to defraud the government.

The Foresters' Annual Outing.

The Usual Annual Success.

The annual excursion of Court Peterborough, Order of Foresters, took place yesterday, and was the invariable success that attends the outings of this body. At 7.30 about two hundred and fifty adults and about half a hundred children boarded the Golden Eye and palace barge, City of Peterborough, the passage through the lake and the locks was speedily made, and down the river glided the crafts, between its greenly wooded banks, dotted here and there with the tents of campers and the stands of amateur fishers The scenery on this trip is quiet but delightful, the emerald freshness of the thick foliage and the green fields sloping down to the water, yielding a cool, restful aspect. Here and there the trees shading the shores rise to the majesty of a forest, and the true Forester, alive to the traditions of his order, could note glades and reaches of splendid shade, remindful of the ancient haunts of Robin Hood and his merrie men. As soon as the locks were passed the orchestra screwed up their pegs, tooted their wind instruments and the smooth deck of the palace barge was alive with dancers; as soon as one series of sets had exhausted the floor a relay was ready to take their places and keep the floor hot. If ever a band of youngsters took the full enjoyment out of the mazy dance it was the happy party that went down the river on the "Golden Eye" yesterday. The excellent music furnished by Doucet's orchestra, had an inspiring effect, and under the able conductorship of Mr. James Coughlin, who officiated as master of ceremonies, the terpsichorean department of the amusements of the day was strikingly successful.

It was a little short of noon when

and the company poured up the slope and made a hungry assault on the picnic tables scattered here and there throughout the grove, which were soon ladened with the contents of baskets and hampers. By the thoughtful care of the committee plentiful supplies of hot tea were brewed by the time the Point was reached and this, together with sugar, was liberally dealt out to excursionists, on the most liberal terms—free. Those who had not brought refreshments with them procured excellent meals at the Point hotel.

The Point is growing in attractiveness each year and it was covered during the day with strolling parties exploring the various recesses of grove and glade, culling the numerous specimens of wild flowers which abound, and uprooting the maiden hair fern which rises its graceful fronds in great profusion. The capabilities of the place for wild flowers are best appreciated by the true lover of flowers. As a sample of what the place affords the reader is referred to the beautiful, tastefully arranged bouquet in the window of Mr. Harry Long's Confectionery Shop.

The swings afforded constant amusement to all the young of course, and even the elders did not distain to renew the amusement and sensations of youth. Boating was also a favorate amusement, and the crop of water lillies—the fragrant nymphea odorata—was greedily harvested. There must have been bushels of these flowers gathered. A few fish were caught. Dancing in the pavilion was by no means neglected. A few impromptu sports, such as jumping, vaulting, archery, etc., were indulged in. After enjoying the pleasure of Jubilee Point till about 3.45 the company embarked for home which was reached without incident, if the startling cry of "hat overboard" three or four times repeated, be excepted. At 8 o'clock the Locks were reached and by about nine the home wharf was touched, a large number of persons having however, been dropped at the Ashburnham wharf.

The day was a delightful one cool and breezy, the river was in fine condition, not a saw-log was sighted, and the excursion was a delightful experience. The committee were indefatigable in their efforts to promote the pleasure of all the excursionists and the officials of the boat were also attentive and courteous and altogether the annual excursion of the Foresters was a splendid success.

The Bicycle Races.

Another Successful Meet—Keen Contest in Some of the Events.

The bicycle races on the P.A.A.A. grounds last evening were as successful as any of the past series of fortnightly meets have been. The attendance was about 200, and the spectators found a great deal of interest in watching the different races, some of which were hotly contested. The Y.M.C.A. band was also in attendance and lent the additional charm of well-rendered music.

The one-mile open was won by Alex. Gibson with F. Might second. The other entry was R. Fife.

The mile green race was an exciting one, R. Fife winning from Jas. McGill after a hard and close run.

The two mile open had only two entries, Eddie Ray winning from F. Might. Only eight laps were run. This was due to a mistake in counting. It was apparent that Might held Ray from the start, but knowing he had several more laps to cover, did not push him hard. When the word came on the eighth lap that it was the last, it was too late to pick up. This heat does not count in the series.

In the two mile handicap there was a large field of entries—F. Might, W. A. Carr, J. Carr, J. McGill, W. Hendren and A. Gibson. Gibson won the race, Might second and McGill third.

Sporting Notes.

To-morrow afternoon at five o'clock the Association and Athletic baseball nines play a match on the P.A.A.A. grounds.

This evening the Otonabee Canoe Club regatta takes place on Little Lake, beginning at seven o'clock.

A team of the Riversides went to Port Hope to-day. The team was composed of about half the second twelve and half of the first.

The Clapp Divorce Case.

A few days ago David P. Clapp, B.A., Harriston, Inspector of Public Schools for North Wellington, took the initiatory steps towards securing a divorce from his wife, who has not been living with him for two years. Mrs. Clapp, who has been living in Buffalo, began a similar action in the Divorce Courts of that city. The marriage took place by way of an elopement from the Village of Wellington, Prince Edward County, about nineteen years ago, where Mrs. Clapp's father was then a wealthy farmer. There were no rumors of any unpleasantness in their relations until March, 1887, when Mrs. Clapp suddenly left Hamilton, where they had lived for a number of years, and took up her residence in Detroit. Immediately rumors were afloat of the alleged cruelty and neglect of the husband and of Mrs. Clapp's undue fondness for a teacher of music who spent much of his time in Hamilton. Since then Mrs. Clapp has lived in Detroit and in Toronto, in both of which cities she has friends. Their family consists of two daughters, aged respectively 18 and 16 years.

Something About the "Times." It Still Holds Its Own.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Mr. G. W. Smalley's London cable to the Tribune says: Would it surprise you to hear that Mr. Macdonald is still manager of the Times? He was believed to have resigned soon after the collapse of Parnell letters. Retired on a pension, said the gossips of the profession. The gossips were wrong: he has not retired on a pension, but is still managing the news and business of the paper which he did so much to injure. Mr. Walter, of course, cannot sever his connection with the great paper, part of which he prints. He is, I hear, in good spirits, still hopeful of making out a case against Mr. Parnell, still convinced some of the letters are genuine and still expecting some other letters, not forged this time, may turn up before the enquiry is over. Meanwhile the leading journal seems to lead as many people as before, its business is as profitable as ever, though its dividends are less, for the obvious reason that a great part of the profits go into the pockets of lawyers. The thoughtful minority read the paper with less faith than formerly in its infallibility, but there is little to show that its general prestige is impaired, or its circulation diminished, or its authority as an oracle of the commanding classes weakened.

A binder came very near cutting little George Rader, of Howard City, to pieces. The lad was watching the team, when the horses became frightened and started to run. The boy was knocked under the binder and the teeth of the machine gouged out great chunks of flesh. He may recover.

FOR A DISORDERED LIVER TRY BEECHAM'S PILLS

The Whitechapel Fiend.

His Personal Appearance Described.

LONDON, July 22.—Curiously enough, an accurate description of the Ripper has never been published. He was seen by two persons who knew him as the Ripper, and the information was given by these to the police. The latter have kept it until to-day, when it was secured by the writer. The first botched job occurred on November 21, at 19 George street, Whitechapel. There he attempted to murder Dark Sarah, but only succeeded in cutting her throat, as the woman was unusually strong. Dark Sarah met him in a publichouse and remembers him well. She was kept out of sight by the police until the case was overshadowed by the Ripper's successful efforts at murder. Where she is now is not known. The other person who saw the Ripper is Frank Ruffell, the driver of a greengrocer's waggon. He is a level-headed man of twenty five. His identity was closely concealed by the police. Ruffell said to-day:—"On the morning when the trouble took place at 19 George street I was out with my van delivering coke to the lodging-houses. I furnish coke to nearly all the lodging-houses about here. I was standing on the sidewalk in the front of the house next to No. 19, on the Throwe street side. I was about ten feet from the door. A man came out of the door and walked rapidly toward me. He was about thirty years old—I could not tell what kind of business he did. He did not look like a workingman, but did not look like a gentleman. He had on a black diagonal suit of clothes. His hat was a black round felt. He had a light moustache, cut off square at the ends. It was neither very thick nor very thin, about medium. He was about three inches taller than I am. I am five feet four. He had a straight nose of medium size. It did not turn up. It was just an ordinary nose. I did not notice his eyes particultrly, but I should think from the color of his moustache that they were blue. When he came out of the door he was buttoning his top coat-button. It was a cut-away coat. He had no collar on. He put his hand up to his mouth, which was bleeding on the right side as he passed me. He looked at me with a sort of a smile, and muttered a vile remark. I said nothing. Just after he passed me he began to run. Then I heard a cry in No. 19, and saw a woman come down. She said to stop the man, and I started after him. By this time he had turned the corner and was out of sight. It was at least three minutes after he went away before I started after him. When I got to the corner I could not see him. He had time to reach brick lane and turn the corner; but when we got there two policeman said they had not seen anybody. I think he must have turned down the court or he would have been seen. That is all that I know about it. Two detectives came for me after the woman had been taken to the hospital and questioned me closely about the matter. I would know the man if I saw him again, and could identify the photograph as I had a close view."

Oshawa News.

OSHAWA, July 25.—The citizens of Oshawa held a meeting in the Town Hall last night to discuss the railway question. William F. Cowan occupied the chair, and at the conclusion a vote was taken showing that nearly all were favorable to the scheme. It is the intention to run the line from the centre of the town to the harbor.

The decision in the Separate School election has not been given yet and at the declaration yesterday Rev. Father McEntee and John Oregan voted the casting vote but the County Judge will rule one of them out. Roman Catholics are considerably divided on the subject. The trial with reference to the disturbance at the election of Monday was adjourned by Police Magistrate Grierson to-day until Saturday in order to give the defendant an opportunity of providing more witnesses.

To Raise the Tariff.

CHICAGO, July 25.—The Chicago eastbound roads are taking steps to put into effect on Aug. 1 the 25 cent tariff on all articles of grain except corn. The Baltimore and Ohio persistently refuses to advance the rate on corn above the 20 cent basis, and consequently all roads except the Chicago and Grand Trunk will continue to make a 20 cent rate on corn. The Chicago and Grand Trunk propose to advance all articles of grain, including corn, but it is not probable that it will hold long to a higher rate on corn than other competing roads give. It is quite probable that the Chicago and Grand Trunk will bring the matter before the Interstate Commission and ask for a decision on the question whether railroads can legally make a lower rate on corn, which is worth twice as much as oats, than on the latter.

Gladstone's Golden Wedding Day.

LONDON, July 25.—This was the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone. The Queen telegraphed a congratulatory message to the distinguished couple, and the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the Royal family sent letters to them. The Prince of Wales also sent a gold inkstand to Mr. Gladstone. A number of Liberal ladies presented a portrait of Mr. Gladstone with his grandson. The portrait was painted by Millais. A large number of other presents were received. Mr. Gladstone rose early and attended morning service. The family took breakfast together at the James street residence of Mr. Gladstone. There was an immense number of callers during the day. Among those who called were John Morley, Sir William Vernon-Harcourt and the Earl of Aberdeen and other Liberal peers.

The Evidence All In.

LONDON, July 25.—Mr. Hardcastle, an accountant, stated before the Parnell Commission to-day that the books of the Land League which had been produced before the commission covered the whole period of the League's existence. He could not say that £75,000 which was unaccounted for, owing to the absence of the books of the Ladies' League, had been misappropriated.

Mr. Soames, in reply to a question by Mr. Sexton, said he could not tell within £10,000 the amount The Times had paid to witnesses. The sum, however, was not very large. This concluded the taking of evidence.

Mr. Sexton, replying to a question by Justice Hannen, stated that he could not sum up the case in behalf of the Parnellites until he had consulted with his colleagues. Sir Henry James, of counsel for The Times, stated that he was not in a position yet to reply to the whole case. Justice Hannen informed Mr. Dixon that further evidence would be called if the commissioners considered it necessary, but the reasons therefor must be exceptional. The court then adjourned until Oct. 24.

Justice Hannen ordered that Thomas Condon and John O'Connor, M.P.s, who while serving sentences in Ireland for offences under the Crimes Act were brought to London to testify before the commission, shall complete the remainder of their term in a London prison.

Worth Knowing.

Our announcements in the past have been always received with applause by the public and for the next few weeks we will offer special cash inducements. Examine our advertisement in another column. We are offering some beautiful blends of Tea; try our forty cent black equal to, in many cases, tea you would buy for 50 and 60c. per pound. Sugars very low, considering the advance, but as we have been holding a very large stock we are selling away down. Call and price our goods. W. J. Morrow, 340 George street. dw

The Registered Hambletonian Trotting Stallion

HAMBLETONIAN GEORGE:

WAS sired by Chicago Volunteer. He is a half brother to pt. Julian, record 2.11¼ and twenty seven others with records better than 2.30, and his grand sire is half brother to George Wilkes and also the sire of Maud S., 2.8½, the fastest trotter living. Hambletonian George's dam was sired by Old Tempest and he by Old Royal George, which are the best road horses that Canada has ever produced. Parties having good mares in this locality will have an opportunity to use this horse as he will remain at Morgan's Hotel, Peterborough, for the next six weeks.

He is admired by all horsemen to be one of the handsomest trotting stallions in Canada, he was foaled in 1882, 15½ hands high, weighs 1100 lbs. and is a beautiful dark bay. Can be seen at the park in his exercise every morning, or at the Morgan Hotel, Peterborough. Terms liberal to insure a few good mares.

TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the sub-treasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods' remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. THE ROYAL GRANTS TALK.

LABOUCHERE'S RESOLUTION OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED.

Analysis of the Vote—Princess Louise of Wales' Wedding Gifts—The Dervish Camp Shelled.

LONDON, July 26.—Speaking on the Royal grants in the House of Commons last night John Morley said the Government had withdrawn from an impossible and impracticable position in agreeing to a grant of £36,000 in order to prevent a mischievous friction between Parliament and the Crown. The extravagant grants of former reigns furnished no excuse for a repetition of them now. On Monday he would move an amendment raising the whole question in the broadest possible form.

Sir John Gorst, defending the Government, contended that there was no actual difference between the original and the present proposals.

Mr. Bradlaugh adjourned the debate.

When the debate was resumed to-day Mr. Bradlaugh said he found difficulty in discussing the question calmly when Mr. Balfour, outside of the House, denounced the objections as disgusting and sordid. The opponents of the grants meant nothing personally discourteous to the members of the royal family but were simply acting within their rights when they met the demands of the Crown on a question of finance with a direct negative. Much of the argument in favor of the grants was based on the erroneous idea that the Crown under the Civil List Acts from George I onwards surrendered its private property in exchange for a civil list. Neither George I nor his successors, Mr. Bradlaugh declared, surrendered anything. The present royal family never surrendered anything of a farthing's value to the country. The committee of enquiry had effected the fact that during the present reign the savings upon certain classes under the Civil List Act instead of being applied to defray the charges of other classes had been handed to the Queen without the authority of Parliament and in breach of the statute. [Cries of "Hear! hear!"] W. H. Smith, the Government leader, had denied that the alleged savings of the Queen were £3,000,000, but he declined to show how much money had either been saved by the Queen or drawn by the other members of the royal family from all sources. Mr. Bradlaugh said there ought to be nothing to conceal. The fact of the concealing had led to exaggerated ideas. The refusal of the Government to disclose the wealth amassed by Royalties justified the aversion of the country to royal grants. [Cheers.]

Lord Randolph Churchill argued that the original demands of the Government were just besides being in conformity with precedent. If burdens were thrown upon the Crown not intended under the civil list, it would impair the credit of the nation and of Parliament. Mr. Bradlaugh had questioned the title of the Crown to its estates, but successive Parliaments had recognized and none of the greatest lawyers had ever yet challenged the Crown's title. He reminded the House that Sir Henry F. Ponsonby, Her Majesty's private secretary, a few years ago denied reports that the Queen was making immense investments in ground rents, and stated that she had not £1,000,000 to invest in anything. Lord Randolph said that the Radicals' overestimate of the Queen's wealth was designed to excite popular feeling against royalty. He objected to the adoption of methods whose purpose was to foment a clamor against the throne, which in spite of them would remain steadfast in the affections of the people.

Lord Hartington complained of Mr. Bradlaugh's pedagogic and ministerial air. He said that if it was true that the law was contravened in allowing civil list surpluses to accrue to the Crown it was almost a case for impeaching the present and former ministers. It was impossible he contended, to lay down a hard and fast rule. He thought that the Queen's waiving the claims of the younger children met the present case and that the future might be left to a future Parliament. In any case the Queen's message was worthy of respectful attention.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson twitted the Conservatives for refusing a grant to the Prince Consort and evoked laughter by recalling certain uncomplimentary references made by Mr. Chamberlain to royalty.

Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, after fighting in detail the contentions of Messrs. Labouchere and Bradlaugh, contrasted Mr. Gladstone's dignified utterances with those heard to-night and said there was little need to fear the result of the debate.

Mr. Labouchere's motion to adopt his substitute for the report of the Royal Grants Committee was rejected by a vote of 398 to 116.

The majority consisted of 252 Conservatives, 54 Unionists and 92 Gladstonians and Parnellites.

Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Morley, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Mr. Parnell, Mr. William O'Brien and the bulk of the Liberals and Parnellites voted with the majority.

The Radical minority included Sir G. O. Trevelyan, Richard Chamberlain and T. P. O'Connor.

Mr. Morley will on Monday move an amendment declaring that the House is unwilling to increase the burdens of the people without assurance that no further claims will be made for young members of the royal family.

Princess Louise's Wedding Gifts.

LONDON, July 26.—The wedding presents received by Princess Louise of Wales were displayed at Marlborough House to-day. The total value is £150,000. The jewels alone are valued at £120,000. Mrs. Mackay sent a pair of turquoises and diamond pendant earrings.

The Dervish Camp Shelled.

CAIRO, July 26.—The British force to-day shelled the dervish camp. The reinforcements of the dervishs are estimated to consist of 7000 fighters.

Another Flood in China.

SHANGHAI, July 27.—The Yellow River has again burst its banks in Shangtung and inundated an immense extent of country. There is 12 feet of water throughout 10 large government districts. The loss of life and property is incalculable. The Government authorities at Pekin are dismayed owing to the incapacity of the local authorities. Foreign engineering aid in order to permanently repair the channel of the river is considered imperative.

Boulanger Going to New York.

PARIS, July 27.—General Boulanger will be a candidate in 92 cantons for the Councils General.

LeSoir publishes a report that General Boulanger is going to New York fearing that the court-martial will condemn him.

THE KINGSTON BURGLAR REMANDED FOR A WEEK.

Serious Land Slides at the St. Clair Tunnel Excavations—A Row Between Two Gangs of Workmen at Wiarton.

KINGSTON, July 26.—The Twitchell burglary case came up in the Police Court this morning. The prisoner looked pale and worn and appeared extremely weak. The magistrate read the charge of burglary and Mrs. Martin being too ill to attend court the prisoner was remanded for a week. A medical certificate that Twitchell was very ill and recommending that he be sent to the Hospital was not entertained by the Magistrate.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Repentant Would be Suicide—Sent to Jail For Assault.

TORONTO, July 27.—Ellen Sullivan, the woman who attempted to drown herself in the bay, was repentant yesterday. The Police Magistrate will sentence her on July 31.

President McMillan yesterday ordered the removal of all the barbed wire fences in the city limits.

A man named William Carroll had two fingers taken off by a rope yesterday while assisting to move the derrick used in connection with the work of dredging.

Union 342 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners express their hearty approval of the acting Mayor's course in regard to the city water front and Don improvement schemes. They want the whole water front to be owned by the city, and condemn the proposal to close the streets leading thereto. A mass meeting was held last night to discuss the Esplanade question.

Alexander Brady in the Police Court yesterday morning was sent to jail for forty days for committing an unprovoked assault of an aggravated nature on Mrs. Sissett, a resident of Edward-street.

It is now certain that "Kitty Doane," who committed suicide in New York by taking carbolic acid, was not Maud Miller of this city. The identity of the suicide is as deep a mystery as ever.

A DOUBLE CAVE-IN.

Serious Land Slides at the St. Clair Tunnel Excavations.

SARNIA, July 26.—Last night the bank at the west end of the St. Clair Tunnel excavation here for a distance of about 100 feet sank down from 15 to 20 feet and carried with it a portable engine and a small building being constructed. About three hours later the bank on the south side of the excavation for a length of 200 feet gave way and slid into the excavation, the earth covering up the track and a couple of cars. The trouble is apparently a heavy one.

Ambitious City News.

HAMILTON, July 26.—At the Police Court this morning William Thresher was fined $5 and Robert Dawson $10 for having for sale short-weight bread. The case against Harris Bros. was laid over for argument on legal points. The bread in all the cases was confiscated and given to the charitable institutions.

Sarah Johnston, the young woman who was arrested for setting fire to a house at the corner of Rebecca and Hurlburt streets, pleaded guilty at the Police Court to-day when she was arraigned on the charge. Her only excuse was that she wanted to give the boys a run. She was remanded for sentence for a week.

The biggest bass that has been taken out of Hamilton Bay for many a day was landed yesterday by Thomas Kilvington. It was caught at Oaklands and weighed 13½ pounds.

Fell off a Train.

MILTON, July 26.—John O'Connell of Montreal, in charge of a load of Percheron horses en route from Montreal to Illinois, fell off a Canadian Pacific Railway train at Hornby, near here, to-day and sustained serious, if not fatal, injuries. His left thigh and arm were badly broken. He was brought to Milton. His leg was amputated over the thigh joint and the broken arm will also probably have to be taken off. There is little hope of his recovery.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, July 26.—Two gangs of men engaged in a row over some disputed property in the centre of the city this morning and attacked each other with crowbars. The police interfered and arrested the ringleaders before anyone was hurt badly.

J. Bruce, correspondent of The New York World, is believed to have been lost in a crevasse in Alaska.

The Burke Extradition Case.

WINNIPEG, July 26.—The argument was finished in the Burke case to-day and the court announced that judgment would be given on Tuesday.

The Miseries of a Lock-Out.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Mayor Cregier, Congressman Lawler and others of the Relief Committee yesterday took eighty tons of provisions and supplies to the starving locked-out coal miners at Spring Valley, Ill. There are about 2000 coal miners making with their families 6000 souls. The arrival of the train there was greeted with great demonstrations of joy. Everywhere there were evidences of the most pinching poverty and destitution. Men, women and children were most scantily clad and there was a great dearth of foot gear. Their faces bore unmistakeable evidences of hunger. These people have been locked out nearly three months.

Many Icebergs Encountered.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—The bark Ivegtut, which sailed yesterday from Ivegtut, Greenland, encountered a remarkably stormy and perilous passage occupying 48 days, during which 47 large icebergs were passed.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 221 in the United States this week, against 170 last week and 217 this week last year. Canada had 29 this week against 16 last week. The total of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 6645 against 5911 in 1888.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Gentlemen of Kent Defeat the Philadelphia Cricketers.

LONDON, July 27.—The gentlemen of Kent finished their first inning yesterday with a score of 209. The Philadelphia cricketers in their second inning scored 101, making their score for the two innings 278. The home players in their second inning made 70 runs for four wickets, bringing their score up for the two innings to 279 and winning the game.

LONDON, July 27.—Two-thirds of the total number of cotton spinners have agreed to limit their production to one-half the usual amount for one month.

Whitecap Outrage in Illinois.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—Information comes from Gillespie, Ill., that while Henry Bokamp and his wife were riding near that town last Monday evening they were taken from their buggy by an armed band of White Caps, who took shameful liberties with the woman and strung Bokamp up to a tree three times, the last hanging proving so near fatal that he could only be revived by the administration of medicine. The reason of the outrage is said to have been mere suspicion that Bokamp had committed petit larceny. The perpetrators of the outrage will be prosecuted.

A STRANGE CASE OF INSANITY.

The Curious Story Told in Court by Henry Munzer of Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 26.—A most peculiar case of insanity for psychical study was that of Harry Munzer, which came before Judge Gary yesterday morning. According to the evidence it would appear that the strange case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde and the stranger case of Archibald Malmaison, which have created much comment in circles of fiction, are not altogether physical impossibilities. The story which Harry Munzer, sane, told of Harry Munzer, insane, was so fascinating that the jury quailed and slunk back in their chairs, half afraid to be so near one who could admit himself to be the victim of such psychical changes as the witness claimed to have undergone.

Munzer is about 27 years of age, and, never having indulged in the general practices of fast city young men, his features bore a decidedly innocent but intelligent expression as he entered the witness-box. The soft black hair curled as an actor's about his broad, business-like forehead. For four years he has acted as entry clerk for Edson Keith, and his manipulation of finances were considered something wonderful. He has been subject to gloomy spells at periods about two years apart, during which he would become a recluse for weeks at a time. He spoke of these.

"Just tell us about the last one," said the court, after listening to the minor details given above.

"I feel something approaching heavily," said the witness, "but I can take care of myself here."

Beads of perspiration stood on his brow, but he displayed no nervousness. "The queer sickness came on me again about a year ago," said he, "and this time I became much alarmed at the developments. I seemed to be approaching a state altogether different from the natural one. An ague-like feeling crept over me, beginning first in my brain. I was then living at my father's house in West Lake street. My mind did not seem growing weaker, but it seemed to be altering its functions materially. Presently the sight of a tool or anything with a blade would start every fiber and nerve in me to tingling and I became afraid of myself—afraid for my friends. I felt an impulse growing upon me to harm, or kill. I knew what I was about. I recognized the faces of my friends. I had a cool control of my mental faculties. I was not out of my head in the least, but there was a desire which seemed to be muscular as well as mental, and wholly apart from my natural volitions. My father saw only the outside of this and I dared not explain to him the complete revolution in my being. He sent me to Lake Geneva to be treated in a private institution there, and now for seven months I have been there under the constant care of several experienced physicians. They have been unable to assist me. I grew worse. I knew it and realized the dread change. Never have I lost my senses. The doctors gave me chloral, but I fear that has hurt my nervous system and served to augment this fearful development rather than cure it. We consulted and thought a change would be good for me. I now insist that I may be watched differently. The week I have been here since I left Geneva I have not been home. I will not go there. I believe that some rapid change for the worse would take place immediately should I go back. This mania would unman me and force me to do that which I have been battling against. I would kill them. I might kill myself, and yet I would not know what I was about."

The story itself was not so very different from what one might expect to hear from a man who felt himself becoming insane. What terrified the jurors was the complete change in his features as he proceeded. From an innocent, harmless expression in the beginning they changed to one of supreme cunning and malignity. As he proceeded deep lines appeared in his cheeks beside his nose. The eyebrows fell dark and the corners of the mouth drew down. His forehead wrinkled up in an old man's and his voice actually changed so that a listener might have supposed that a man of forty-five was talking. The words came from deep down in his chest, and, in fact, the entire aspect of the man was changed. He bent forward in his chair, his shoulders stooped, and his eyes became watery. It was remarkable. The court gazed at the phenomenon before him in astonishment. When the narrator reached that portion of the recital where he spoke of the killing the jury gazed upon the face of a man about to commit murder.

"That will do," said the judge in a husky voice.

Munzer was startled at the command. He looked up wildly, then fell back in his chair, half exhausted, with a sigh. Tears fell down his cheeks. The wrinkles disappeared from his forehead, the fiendish expression left his face and in a minute more he was the young man, Harry Munzer, again with the innocent face.

The jury brought in a verdict finding him insane.

NEGRO LABOR.

The Freedmen Excel Their White Fellows in the South.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 26.—The Tradesman recently instituted an inquiry with reference to the value of negro labor in industrial channels in the south. Inquiries were sent to 300 leading southern manufacturers representing blast furnaces, rolling mills, iron works, mines, lumber mills, saw mills, etc. Replies were received which represent 5000 negro employes, of whom 2500 are skilled. The average wages paid common negro labor is $1.10 per day and skilled labor runs from $1.75 to $2.25 per day, though several correspondents pay colored puddlers, heaters and rollers $4 and $5 per day, and many furnaces pay as high as $2.50. There is no difference between the pay of whites and blacks for the same class of work. The manufacturers are unanimous in the opinion that for common labor in the Southern States the negro is more efficient and useful than the white. Many state that the negro is making progress in skilled work.

A Catholic College for Negroes.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—Rev. Father McDermott of the Holy Ghost College, who recently organized a congregation of colored Catholics in this city, will go to Philadelphia next week and found a church and college for the colored race. He does so at the request of Archbishop Ryan, and Miss Kate Drexel, the wealthy Philadelphia lady who attracted much attention a few weeks ago by entering a Pittsburg convent, will furnish the money.

The Rathbun Gas Well.

WINDSOR, July 26.—Early yesterday morning C. H. Marvin, who bored the Coste well, clothed himself in a suit of asbestos and succeeded in removing the cap of the well, and now the entire pressure of the gas in the pipe is burning. Heretofore the gas escaped from under the cap, which brought the flames near, the ground until the latter was as hot as a furnace, making it impossible for a person ordinarily dressed to get within 200 feet of it. Now that the cap is removed the force of the gas drives the flame ten or twelve feet from the pipe, and a human being can work near it. Mr. Marvin says the heat around the pipe was awful and at times he thought that all was up with him. He will now go on and recap the well. He is paid $1000 for the job.

Where the Apples Go.

LONDON, July 25.—Liverpool bought 700,000 barrels of American apples and London 350,000 barrels during the season recently ended. The importation of American apples by the United Kingdom is on a rapid increase.

Ex-King Milan's Return.

BELGRADE, July 25.—Ex-King Milan, in an address yesterday, disavowed any intention of interfering with the existing regime. The ex-King arrived here to-day. He was met at the station by his son, King Alexander, the Regents, the members of the Servian Cabinet and the foreign representatives.

An Offer of Compromise.

CHICAGO, July 26.—It is stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway has offered to compromise the difference between itself and the Southern Pacific. It is understood the Canadian Pacific is willing to accept a differential of about half the amounts which it has been demanding. The proposition of the Canadian Pacific was discussed almost the entire afternoon at the Transcontinental meeting and great pressure was brought to bear on the Southern Pacific to induce it to agree to the offer. The latter held out against all arguments, but the opinion prevails that it will eventually yield.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

HIS DAILY LIFE AT HAWARDEN AND IN LONDON.

What an Admirer Cables Touching the Great Liberal's Work—Apparently Good for Twenty Years' More.

LONDON, July 26.—The cable has conveyed to you the fact that the civilized world has sent congratulations to William Ewart Gladstone upon the celebration of his golden wedding, in the participation of which all England is now engaged. It is just half a century ago that Macaulay wrote of Gladstone, then comparatively a young man and the opponent of everything that savored of reform, that he was "the rising hope of the stern and unbending Tories." What the stern and unbending Tories of to-day think of him is pretty generally known.

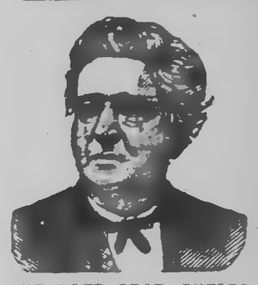
Gladstone's day, whether in London or Hawarden, is a busy one. He is never in bed after 7 o'clock when at his favorite residence. At 8 o'clock he conducts morning devotions, and on Sunday he gives the good people about Mawarden an opportunity to hear the lessons read in devout and sonorous tones by one of the greatest men of the century. After prayers comes breakfast, which is a simple meal with the Gladstone family. Then comes from four to five hours hard work in the Library, which he never leaves until 2 o'clock. During these morning hours in his library Gladstone performs various tasks. There are his speeches to consider, or there are magazine articles to write, either on the Irish question or in defence of the Christian religion; on the customs and manners of the ancient Greeks, on poetry, numismatics, in praise of his beloved Homer, or any one of a score of subjects that might be named.

Then there is a batch of correspondence which is immense and which has been constantly increasing in volume since his change of base on the Home Rule question. All sorts of letters are received. Sometimes it is a savage old Tory squire who writes to let the Grand Old Man know that he rates him morally below the late Judas Iscariot. Enthusiastic Irishmen write bushels of ill-spelled but earnest letters, calling down Heaven's choicest blessings on the Old Man's head.

It would be impossible for Mr. Gladstone to attend to all this correspondence himself. His sons Herbert and William give him much assistance, but his chief assistant is Mrs. Gladstone. This woman has done more than most persons can imagine for her husband's success. Like Mr. Gladstone, she is possessed with wonderful energy. In fact these two remarkable persons resemble each other strongly in very many ways. It is as though in the fifty years each had taken on some of the qualities of the other. She is her husband's right hand. It is somewhat amusing to see her take possession of him after one of his big efforts in the House, bind him up until he can scarcely see, in spite of his protests, and then hustle him off home to rest. Another is, to see the care with which she prepares and serves to him his favorite "egg flip" when he is speaking in public. As his private secretary she is invaluable, and, although a woman, she has never betrayed a state secret, although she has been in possession of many.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a gong strikes and the work in the library is stopped and dinner is next in order. The dinners at Hawarden Castle are simple, but good. Gladstone has always been temperate in his diet and abstemious in the matter of drinking. A glass or two of claret with his dinner and sometimes one of port he enjoys, but this satisfies him. Gladstone's afternoons ordinarily are given over to a variety of pursuits. If the weather is bad he remains indoors and devotes his time to conversation, to reading or to rest. He is a fair musician, and when he is so inclined can sing a song very acceptably. He receives visitors, too, although he is unable to see all who wish to call upon him.

If the afternoon be fair you will meet him strolling about the park at Hawarden or in the village, where he is looked upon as being little short of a demigod. He has not yet given up his favorite exercise of wood cut



THE LATE PROF. PHELPS.

The above is a portrait of the late Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College. He was a strong, able man, who stood high in the literary and scientific worlds. It is not generally known, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that Prof. Phelps was the discoverer of what is known to the Medical Profession and Chemists universally as Paine's Celery Compound, unquestionably one of the most valuable discoveries of this century. This remarkable compound is not a nervine, an essence, a sarsaparilla or any devised article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous complications. It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the land, and also by the leading chemists and scientists, that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, debility, senility and even the dreaded and terrible Paresis, nothing has ever been discovered which reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps.

Paine's Celery Compound is now being prepared in quantities, and can be procured at any reputable druggist. An attractive bunch of celery is to be found on every wrapper. It has become specially popular among professional men, mind workers, ladies burdened with exciting social duties and frequenters of the leading clubs.

THE MARKET BUILDING BY LAW.

On Monday next, the ratepayers of the town are reminded, the vote on the by-law authorizing the issue of debentures to the amount of $25,000 is to be voted on. Both on the streets, in business resorts and in the newspapers, especially, the matter has received ample ventilation, and the public should be well informed on all phases of the controversy. While there exists considerable difference of opinion as to the advisability of placing the market room of the new building on the first or second floor, there are very few who do not recognize the necessity of a new building, though there is again difference of opinion as to the site it should occupy. These necessarily conflicting indeas are inevitable. The old-time copy-book head line—"Many men of many minds," receives ample illustration in the varying ideas held upon the subject of site and location of the market room. These questions may be settled to a certain extent by the vote on Monday next, but there are other points that will not be covered by the vote, and which must, of ocurse, be left to the discretion of the council, who, to a large extent, especially in the matter of details, require to have some latitude in the matter of construction allowed them. It is perfectly right that the council should defer to the opinion of ratepayers, but it must be borne in mind that the people have, by electing them, expressed confidence in their judgment and integrity; they elected them to transact the public business, and they are responsible for their discharge of this trust. They must act according to their judgment, even if, in individual cases, public opinion fails to agree with the correctness of that judgment. If the council consulted the people in every matter of detail, there would be no work accomplished. The council has asked the people on Monday to decide whether or not they will furnish money for a new market building, and also for an expression of opinion as to the placing of the market room—on the ground or second floor. It is to be hoped the decision of the ratepayers will be that the money be raised, and, as to the matter of floor, that that situation will be selected which, everything considered, will be for the public benefit. It is to be hoped the ratepayers will rise above all personal considerations and side issues, and meet the main question fairly and on its merits. We require a new market building and we should have one worthy of the town, and everyone must recollect that a creditable building requires a considerable expenditure of money and that the people must furnish the authority for the raising of the funds. If a new market building is not erected and adequate market accommodations provided, the town will be in danger of losing its prestige as the leading market town of this district. It is to be hoped that these facts will be borne in mind on Monday and that the action of the qualified electors will be regulated according to these considerations. For the guidance of those qualified to vote, the list of polling places is given:

NUMBER ONE WARD—At the Mission School House, Dalhousie street, Joseph Landy, to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER TWO WARD—At the Old Music Hall, Market block, Charles Cameron, to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER THREE WARD—At Metherall Bros. shop, George street. John Irwin, to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER FOUR WARD—At William Lee's Shop, Smith street, William Lee, to be Deputy Returning Officer.

The Shah's Ideas.

He Cannot get Reconciled to Half-clad Ladies or Swallow-tailed Gentlemen.

Through the good offices of an influential official at Buckingham Palace, a correspondent was allowed to peep behind the scenes upon the domestic life of the Shah. He has a keen taste for luxurious surroundings—a taste very much enhanced in nicety since he was in England last. At that time he could not fathom the mysteries of our watches; now a handsome diamond-studded chronometer and a heavy gold albert are indispensable articles of personal adornment; then, having stripped a savory bone of its surroundings he deposited it under the table (a fact vouched for by my informant); now his cooks are forbidden to offer him such a temptation, and all bones are excluded from his dishes. Then he was passionately fond of chewing coarse black tobacco, disposing of the juice in a very summary fashion; now, while not altogether eschewing the luxury, he has a penchant for rich Havanas.

THE SHAH IS VERY METHODICAL

He rises at half-past seven every morning irrespective of the lateness of the hour of his retiring. Two dusky valets assist him in his ablutions, carefully arranging his coal black hair and curving his moustache. During the latter ordeal he recliines on a soft settee, and wears a dark blue undress uniform coat, somewhat like a "reefer," the buttons of which are of ebony. At a quarter past eight he partakes of an unsweetened cup of black coffee, and a quarter of an hour later of some delicately flavored Persian dish. Then he is ready for the day's work. All the letters he receives are translated and submitted for his instructions, at half-past ten he prepares for visitors. Upon all occasions when returning from his daily—or rather nightly—excursion, he partakes of a cup of black coffee and either smokes his strong tobacco or a grimy Havana before retiring. My informant tells me that the jewels on the uniform His Majesty wears on all state occasions here are said to be worth £5,000. The breast is encrusted with jewels strung hither and thither like a hussar's gold lace frock.

His Majesty experiences, he says, special delight in the society of the English aristocracy. His idea of the "English gentleman" is that he is by nature modest and retiring, dislikes display, and only with great difficulty reveals to a stranger the best side of his character, generally, indeed, as the result of a positive effort. One is always adding, he declares, to the credit side of the Englishman's social and intellectual account. What most of all, however, calls forth his enthusiastic admiration is that the destinies of a world-wide empire like ours, with its myriads of human beings and endless conflicting interests, should be shaped and directed by a few bashful, retiring individuals attired in plain black clothes, with unlovely top hats, who, were they to transgress any of the criminal laws of their country, would be arrested by a vulgar policeman and put in prison like a common offender.

The Princess of Wales he has not hesitated to speak of as "Durri-i Yatim"—"an unparalleled Pearl;" and he has been heard to call England Lala zár, "the land of tulips." But he is no far true to Oriental habits and traditions that he does not, and cannot admire their style of evening dress. Never does his Majesty cease to deplore the modes which prevail, to his perpetual surprise, in the European world of fashion, and which permit the most correct and noble dames to wear robes and evening dress far too lavish, according to Persian thought, in what they reveal. Since he has been, in his own phrase, Ibn us sabil, "a son of the road," or a traveller, he has grown more and more accustomed to these garments, but he will never be morally reconciled to them.

For Delicate, Sickly Children

SCOTT'S EMULSION is unequalled. See what Dr. C. A. Black, of Amherst, N.S., says:—"I have been acquainted with Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites for years, and consider it one of the finest preparations now before the public. Its pleasant flavor makes it the great favorite for children, and I do highly recommend it for all wasting diseases of children and adults. Sold by druggists, 50c. and $1.00. w28eod

A Big Success.

FOR summer complaints and diarrhœa I can truly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as I have used it in my family with great success and would not be without it. JOHN B. HAVENS, Grimsby, Ont. Never travel without it. 2w30d

MANY a sufferer from Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, etc., will be glad to find that Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended for such cases. It is is easily assimilated, prepare with great care, and is an admirable tonic. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d12

A Family Affair.

WE have used Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in our family of six persons during twelve years, and in all cases of diarrhœa, summer complaint, etc., it never fails to cure. This valuable medicine should be on hand in every family.

The Registered Hambletonian Trotting Stallion

HAMBLETONIAN GEORGE:

WAS sired by Chicaro Volunteer. He is a half brother to St. Julian, record 2.11¼ and twenty seven others with records better than 2.30, and his grand sire is half brother to George Wilke and also the sire of Maud S., 2.8¾, the fastest trotter living. Hambletonian George's dam was sired by Old Tempest and he by Old Royal George, which are the best road horses that Canada has ever produced. Parties having good mares in this locality will have an opportunity to use this horse as he will remain at Morgan's Hotel, Peterborough, for the next six weeks.

He is admired by all horsemen to be one of the handsomest trotting stallions in Canada; he was foaled in 1882, 15¾ hands high, weighs 1100 lbs. and is a beautiful dark bay. Can be seen at the park in his exercise every morning, or at the Morgan House, Peterborough. Terms liberal to insure a few good mares.

ITCHING AGONIES.

Every Night I Scratched until the Skin was Raw.

Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. An awful Spectacle. Doctors Useless. Cure Hopeless. Entirely Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in five Weeks.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied by itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

TRUTH IN DEATH.

But He Regretted It, and Added a Falsehood at Last.

We had a man named Barrows in our mining camp, and he was without doubt the most notorious liar Nevada will ever shelter. His fame as a liar spread for a hundred miles around, and men used to stop at our camp to get a look at him. He wasn't a wicked man, and he had no malice about him, but he was a natural born liar. He lied about his father, his mother, his wife, brothers, sisters, and everybody else, and for every hour in the day he had a new falsehood. He had a claim of his own and was fairly industrious, and so we had no excuse to drive him out, although his lies were continually kicking up ill feeling among the men. One day a lot of earth and rock caved in on him and inflicted fatal injuries, and a number of us knocked off work to be with him in his last moments. You would have thought the shadow of death would have brought a change of sentiment, but it did not. Lying there with only an hour left to him, he told us that he had been a pirate on the Pacific and where he had buried a large amount of plunder. We all knew that he was from Ohio and had never seen any ocean; but he stuck to it. One of the men finally felt it his duty to say:

"Burrows, you have only a short time to live. You had best spend that in preparing for eternity."

"I've allus been good," he quietly replied.

"Yes, but you are an awful liar, you know."

"Yes, I suppose so. I've told a million of them, hav'n't I?"

"No doubt of it."

"And every one has been laid up agin me?"

"Very likely."

"And my chance is rather slim?"

"Rather."

"Well, boys, it's my way, and I can't change at this late day. Just as that cave-in came I struck a nugget as big as my head. It would value up a clean $15,000. If you'll be kind enough to pull it out and sell it and send the cash to my wife I'll die feeling better."

He went 7 soon after that, and we said to each other that he had given us the greatest yarn of all. No one took his claim, which was accounted a poor one, and it lay for three months before one of the boys dug into it one day for the pickaxe buried and forgotten. He hadn't got the pick when he came across a lump of gold which balanced $13,280 in coin, and every shilling of the money was sent to the widow, as directed. It got there to find there was no widow, but six month later went to a sister. In his dying hour Burrows told the truth about his find, but, alas! he repented of it, and died about having a wife.

Women's Place in Nature

Mr. Grant Allen propounds in the Longman theory of Women's Place in Nature. "The males," he says, "are the rank. The females are merely the sex told off to recruit and produce it. All that is distinctively human in man: the field, the ship, the mine, the work shop; all that is truly woman is merely reproductive: the home, the nursery, the school-room." "This very necessity for telling off at least a considerable number of the woman for the arduous duties of human maternity, prevents the possibility of woman as such ever being really in any deep sense the race. It is human to kill, to build, to navigate, to manufacture; and these are the functions that fall upon man." "The males have built up human civilization and have made the great functionally acquired gains in human faculty, while the females have acted as mere passive tarmasitters of these male acquisitions."

The Sultan of Jahore.

Writing of a visit to Singapore an American traveller says: "The place is a large, gray and white, two-story building, with wide porticoes and many large windows looking out upon the water. It is, perhaps, 200 feet long and at least half that depth. Soldiers, in a costume half European, keep guard in front of it, and others in turbans march up and down through its various corridors. Some of these soldiers are olive brown Malays, others are black as ebony, and the officer who received my letters and took them in to the Sultan was dressed in European cloths, with a Malay sarong as skirt shining out under his coat. After waiting a moment the Sultan himself appeared. A tall, fine-looking, broad-shouldered, light-yellow man, with gray hair, black eyes and gray mustache. He wore a suit of white duck, with a lavender shirt reaching to his knees, and with bracelets of solid gold rope as thick as your finger around each of his wrists. There were diamond rings on his fingers and he had a neat brown pith helmet on his head. He spoke English perfectly, shook hands with me cordially, and gave me a seat in a rocking-chair in his audience chamber while he took another for himself at my side. He talked of the decadence of the Malay people and said that the Chinese made much better werks. He needed them for the development of his kingdom and he was glad to have their immigration."

Buffalo Bill as a Crack Shot.

Col. Cody, his Winchester against his shoulder, hit nine out of ten potatoes the size of marbles as Johnny Baker threw them high up in the either, although at the time a tremendous wind was sweeping down over the valley. He put holes through dollar and half dollar silver pieces thrown into the air, afterwards presenting them to guests as members of the occasion.

School for Scandal.

Wife—"I have a new maid coming to-day, dear."

Husband "Is she well recommended?"

"Well, she has no recommendations, but she has lived in seventeen of the highest society families."

"I should think that would be against her."

"Not at all. What delicious scandals she

Canadian Exports to China.

The export of cotton goods from Canada to China, though only commenced about a year ago, is already assuming large proportions, the total amount already exported being about 12,000 bales. The goods made for the Chinese market are known as "shirtings." They are shipped by the Canadian Pacific Railway and steamers to Shanghai at lower rates than the American manufacturer can obtain, consequently the Canadian makers reap an additional advantage. During the fiscal year 1887 more than 12,000,000 yards of uncolored cottons were exported from the port of San Francisco. During the fiscal year 1888 not one yard of this class of exports by way of San Francisco was reported. The large movement of uncolored cottons to China was diverted to Canadian roads and the Vancouver route during the fiscal year. The Interstate Commerce act went into full operation less than three months before the close of the fiscal year 1887, and this transcontinental movement of cottons over American lines ceased almost immediately.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6dw30

The Highest Praise.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. —C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip L. Kingwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

A Freak of Growth.

Mr. B. Earle showed the EXAMINER this morning a twig of the Balm of Gilead tree (populus candicans) which exhibits a remarkable freak of growth. New leaf buds are appearing and unfolding. Another peculiarity is that at the leaf buds instead of appearing single, as in the normal growth, appear in groups of five. The tree from which the twig was plucked is on Aylmer st., opposite Mr. Walter Paterson's tannery.

Clementi, Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, D. W. Dumble, Dr. George Burnham, John Burnham, and J. E. Stratton, M. P. P. The prize list was thoroughly overhauled and several amendment were made to the regulations. One of the most important changes being that any articles having previously taken a prize cannot compete this year. The exhibition will take place in the skating rink on Thursday the 3rd of September. The prize list will be published in a few days. We hope to see the exhibition this year a grand success.

The fare from Peterborough will be $3. Full information can be obtained on application to the Company's agents, or from the bills which will be circulated. 2d23

The Excursion on the 31st.

The advance agent of the Excelsior excursion has made the most perfect arrangements for the comfort of all who go. There will be no exorbitant charges. Parties can take baskets, and lodging will be provided at the Lakeside House, or in tents for 25 cents, or at the Hotel Chautauqua for 50 cents. Meals at Lakeside House 25 cents, at Hotel Chautauqua for 50 cents. On the boat meals can be secured or tea and coffee etc, at prices as low as at Peterborough restaurants. Tickets Toronto and return $1.90, to Niagara and Niagara Falls $2.25. Children half price.

Dangers of Camping Near the Water.

The objection which many careful mothers have to summer camping in the vicinity of water is the danger of drowning. Be that as it may, there is not the slightest danger of any person being disappointed who buys and uses Hawley Bros.' choice teas, the best, purest and cheapest to be found in the district. Every variety of tea desired, of the best crop, the best cured and at the lowest figure. The stock of coffees corresponds to the supply of tea in quality and price. Go to Hawley Bros., George street, Peterborough, for tip-top teas, choice coffees and stylish glassware.

Attractions at the Central.

The directors of the Central Exhibition are providing a splendid list of special attractions for the fall fair. There will be the usual speeding in the ring, but an unusual feature will be the splendid prizes and large list of races. There may also be Roman chariot races and fancy horseback riding. There will also be a baseball tournament, a number of clubs from all over the district being invited. As time passes the directors will add new attractions. It is fully expected this year's exhibition will be the grandest and most successful of any.

A Slight Mistake.

The Port Hope Guide says:—As the ticket agent at the G.T.R. station stood at his post the other day a most beautiful lady came up and asked for a ticket to Peterborough. He stamped and laid it down, and the lady fumbled in her purse for the change. All at once she exclaimed in a petulent voice: "Darling, can't you be patient? What does my pet want?" The agent turned so red that his eyes fairly blazed, and stammered out: "Madam, I—I—I—I assure you that there is no hurry at all. Take your (ahem)—take your time, madam." With a look that froze the blood in his veins and made him feel as if icicles were hanging all over his body, she replied: "Sir-r r: I was speaking to my little girl," and peeping through the ticket window he saw a we bit of a cherub tugging at the lady's dress. When she had gone Tom sank down in a chair as pale as a corpse and told Conductor Boundy that if his family were better provided for he didn't care to live an hour longer.

A New Industry.

It is probable that in a few weeks a new industry will be established in Peterborough. Arrangements have been finally completed between the Dickson Company and Mr. L. W. Dossett, manager of the Dossett Manufacturing Co., Toronto, for the rental of the Lindsay Seldon furniture factory in Ashburnham for a term of years, and the removal of the Dossett Co.'s furniture business from Toronto. The firm is a young one, but its members are practical and pushing men, and the removal of their establishment to Peterborough will be a valuable addition to the industries of the town. The factory is a new one and possessed of splendid shipping facilities. It is the intention of the Dossett Co. to push their business to the uttermost. They will organize a joint stock company of Toronto men with a capital of $50,00, about half of which will be paid up. They will bring their own capital, plant and employes with them. It is expected the move will be made in a few weeks.

Belleghem Bound to Lead.

Belleghem, the Furniture King, has for years led the furniture trade of the district and he is bound to do so still, if the best of goods at the lowest prices can maintain that lead. And the best goods, the best variety and the best prices do the work. Belleghem is thronged with orders, not only from the domestic public but from abroad, because his reputation is A 1 and his dealings with all his patrons fully justify that reputation Now, no matter how the European powers hesitate, Belleghem takes the warpath, determined to carry the war into the camp of every competitor. He will persist in supplying the best goods, and he will persist i not being undersold. No matter in what way competition may attempt to meet Belleghem, he is on hand to checkmate every move. Don't make the serious mistake of getting in the "wrong shop" when you want first class furniture at the lowest price. Remember that Belleghem's shop and warerooms are on Hunter street, the furniture shop furthest west. "Go west, young man"—or old man either, and you will find Belleghem ready to supply your wants in the house-keeping line in all respects. He even will supply a marriage license and thus start you in the house-keeping line.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

We desire to thank Mr. John Clark, "Jeweller" for the valuable clock he has placed in the Reading Room.

On Thursday next August 1st the camp on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake begins and from the interest shown by our Sister Association, its success is assured. The great aim we had in view, in holding this meeting was to provide an outing for our young men, which would be both spiritually and physically helpful and we shall be satisfied if our young men will avail themselves of this grand opportunity which the many attractions offered will give them. We trust they will not miss it and make every effort to be there and enjoy to the full the good things provided. Ten secretaries have intimated that they will (D.V.) be present with members of their Associations.

Several of our pastors intend to be with us. We invite all to come who can, it will be the best and cheapest holiday any can take.

Our "Band" intend to run an excursion to the camp on "Civic holiday which we feel assured will be well patronised.

Mr. G. G. Gladman Parry Harbour, accompanied by Mrs. Gladman, is in town on a visit. Mr. Gladman reports very favorably of this growing place—now with about two thousand five hundred inhabitants. There are five large saw mills running continuously and all branches of business are lively especially building. The Ontario Government is erecting a new court house and jail and numerous other buildings both public and private are being erected. There is plenty of employment for the right kind of men and several Peterborough persons are doing well there. The soon-expected railway communication will add greatly to the prosperity of Parry Harbour.

The Market Building By-Law.

Statement of Mayor Stevenson to the Electors.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—As there seems to be a misapprehension as to the Market By-law, I wish to place the facts before the ratepayers.

In the event of the By-law being defeated, the Council will have no alternative but to place the cost of the work, already, done on the years' roll and, in consequence, largely increase this years' taxes, whereas if the By-law passes the cost will be spread over 20 years.

The question whether the market should be on the ground floor or the second flat should be decided by the vote of the ratepayers but it will certainly be in the interest of the ratepayers that the by-law should be passed.

J. STEVENSON, Mayor.

Peterborough, July 27th.

The New Market Building.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In a letter which appeared in your paper on the 24th inst., from Mr. Dumble he says that no one has yet attempted to defend the action which the Town Council have taken towards the erection of a new market building, and although the action of the Council does not appear to me to require any defence, there are so many inaccuracies and statements that have a tendancy to mislead in Mr. Dumble's letter that, I do not think it should be allowed to pass without notice.

In the first place I think it is admitted by all that more accommodation was needed than that afforded by the old market building, both for the comfort of the buyers as well as the sellers. This granted the Council were right in deciding to provide such accommodation and these questions remained for consideration:

The first was where should the new market building be placed? secondly, what kind of building should it be? and thirdly, when should it be built? The Council considered these matters very carefully and taking particularly into account the fact that an empty market square facing on the principal street and at a place where most strangers coming here either by the C.P.R. or Midland Railways would get there first impression of the business part of the town, it was decided that the best place for the building was where it is now proposed to be put, so that the empty square—dusty, dirty and unsightly—would be behind the building and not in front or it. This, of course, involved putting up a creditable building and one in keeping with those in the neighborhood—with the Opera House block on one side and the new Custom House on the other. A one-story building would be out of place and instead of being a credit to the town, would have spoiled the look of the street, so that a comparatively high building was necessary, and as this involved a much larger expenditure it was suggested, and the suggestion appeared so reasonable and business-like that it was adopted that the building should be so laid out that the lower flat could be rented and the upper flat, which would be large, airy and well lighted hall, used as a market.

It having been decided to put up the building it was considered advisable to do so this year for many reasons; if the building is needed the sooner it is ready for occupation the better. Again, there is not nearly so much building being done in town at present, as during the last three years, and the erection of the market building will give employment to many who would probably otherwise have to leave town for want of work. If the building was to be erected this year, no time could be lost in putting in the foundation, which in a building of this sort should stand some time before the brickwork is commenced. These, Mr. Editor, are shortly the reasons, as far as I know, that influenced the Council in proceeding with the work without delay, as any delay would have made it necessary to postpone the erection of the building for a year.

Now as to Mr. Dumble's inaccuracies, I do not know who wrote any of the anonymous letters to the papers on the subject, nor, I presume, does Mr. Dumble, and his insinuation that they were all written or inspired by the same person is based simply on an assumption of his own, and although Mr. Dumble is assuredly a keen lawyer, yet his letter shows that on this question his views are so warped that he cannot be relied upon to take an unbiassed view of the matter, for who, but a man blinded by his own dogmatism, could call the proposed market, 127x60 feet and a 22 feet ceiling, a "garret," and two 10 feet stairways for access a "ladder," as he does in his last production.

The objection to the market being on the second flat seems to me a very small one when compared with the loss of revenue to the town and consequent increase of taxes which would result if it were placed on the ground floor; and I have yet to meet a farmer, or for that matter a townsman, unless interested in store property who thinks it a great hardship to have an upstairs market, and I have ascertained the views of a good many of both. If Mr. Dumble believed if what he preached he would move his own office, which is up a much worse flight of stairs than the one proposed to be put in the new market building, to the ground floor and not put his numerous clients (no doubt many of them ladies, in whose comfort and convenience he appears, by his letters, to take a particular interest) to the great inconvenience of climbing up a "ladder" to a "garret." But it is a question of revenue to him, and as business men the town council should not ignore the question of revenue, and if they can secure first rate market accommodation and at the same time such a revenue from the building as will pay the interest and sinking fund of the debentures necessary to build it and thus save the people of the town a large amount of taxes every year, they would be negligent of their duty if they did not do so.

Mr. Dumble's letter is intended also to suggest that this council or some former councils were responsible for renting that part of the market square now occupied by the stores, although he does not say so in plain words. This is on a par with many of his statements. He knows as well as anyone in town that the town council have or had no more to do with this than the man in the moon. This land was rented years ago by the Commissioners and the prices were fixed by auction or arbitration.

Mr. Dumble also states that the Mayor or some one of the Councillors favor a downstairs market. This is not the fact. It is also made a ground of complaint that the Council did not itself assume the responsibility of putting the market in the best place. They did assume it and intended putting it up stairs, but out of courtesy to Mr. Dumble and the others who signed his petition, which alleged that it was a great hardship for them to go up stairs to market, it was thought well to leave this question to the voters to say whether the Council were right or wrong, and I have no doubt that if the voters will take enough interest in the question to vote on it, the action of the Council will be sustained by a large majority.

Yours truly,

E. H. D. HALL.

Sports and Pastimes.

The Riversides Defeat Port Hope by Three Straight Games—The Regatta Last Night.

Fortune favors the brave, 'tis said, and when the Riversides and Port Hope lacrosse clubs lined up on the field yesterday, it certainly looked like a brave and even rash proceeding for such a small lot of boys to tackle the stalwart Port Hopers who faced them. The Riverside team was composed partly of members of the second twelve, and there were only ten of them altogether, but despite the evident disparagement in size, and the "roasting" of the crowd of Port Hope sympathisers, they went courageously to work, played good hard lacrosse, and had their opponents defeated in less than fifteen minutes actual play.

The teams, ten men on a side, lined up as follows:—

Riversides.		Port Hope.
H. Welsh	goal	J. J. McCarthy
F. Packenham	point	F. Nairnes
T. Meagher	cover point	W. Paterson
W. Batten	defence field	J. Dafort
C. Brennan	"	J. Nantell
W. Headrea	centre	E. Phillip
J. McCabe	home field	H. Dore
Jno. Daly	"	M. McGrath
J. Begley	outside home	W. Riley
C. J. Phelan	inside "	C. S. Hanly
A. Brown	umpire	C. Austin
C. Mincre	field captain	J. Brown

Referee, A. Moore, Port Hope.

The Port Hope men were strengthened by McCarthy in goal. McCarthy is a well known professional player who is at present living in Port Hope.

Game was to be best three out of five or play from four to six o'clock. There was a large crowd in attendance.

Begley scored the first goal just as he did against Beaverton here. Hendren got the ball at the face, as he did every time at Port Hope, and passed it to Begley, who made a quick run up field. "Joe" Phelan kept his man busy and did not give him a chance to interfere with Begley, who made a nice shot between the flags, in just seven seconds.

The second game lasted for thirteen minutes, during which time the rubber haunted the Port Hope goal. Only twice did it venture close to the Riversides goal, and then it was quickly returned by Meagher and Packenham. McCarthy played too far out of goal, and Begley getting the sphere out of a scrimmage in front of the flags again put it through.

The third and last game was a repetition almost of the first, except that there was a little more scrimmaging. A scuffle took place in front of the Port Hope goal, Joe Phalan by a quick stroke tipped the ball to McCabe, who was standing alone, while McCarthy, the goal-keeper, was engaged in the scrimmage. The coast was clear and McCabe quietly tossed the ball through the flags. Time, 30 seconds.

The boys are elated over their victory. They didn't quite expect it, and least of all such an easy snap. The Port Hope men are all big fellows, averaging about 180 pounds in weight, while a glance at the personnel of the Riverside team will show who were the heavy men among the visitors. They all played a good game, some of the junior players distinguishing themselves.

The Regatta.

Another regatta was held on Little Lake last night, which was fairly successful. There were not as many entries as on the previous occasion, and none of the events were so closely contested. There was a good turn-out of spectators. Mr. R. M. Roy acted as starter and judge from the steamer Dot.

In the double canoe race the entries were Carveth and Odette, Tivey and Butcher. The former led from the start and won by a couple of lengths.

The three-paddle canoe race had a pair of contestants also. Messrs Odette, Stock and Carveth did not find much difficulty in beating Messrs. Mason, Butcher and Tivey.

The tug-of-war had the same entries as the double canoe race. Butcher and Tivey pulled Odette and Carveth over the waterline and won the event.

The hurry-skurry was not run. Tivey and Carveth entered, and were ready for the start, but so much time was spent in getting everything prepared and there was so much unnecessary talk that Carveth, who had made one plunge, could not stand shivering in the cold air any longer and withdrew.

Sporting Notes.

The game of baseball announced for this afternoon between the Association and Athletic baseball teams has been postponed.

The Beaverton Checkers defeated the Norwood lacrosse team yesterday by two goals to none.

Highlands of Haliburton.

The Summer Resort of Newnham—Health, Rest and Recreation.

The present is the sixth season during which Newnham has received summer guests. A large number have been entertained during the past five seasons; many of them have repeated their visits; and with few exceptions they have all declared their desire to come again. Last year the Grand Trunk Railway recognised the claims of Haliburton, by giving it a summer train service. It will probably do so this year, and particulars of the railway service can be had on writing to Newnham. American visitors crossing the lake from Rochester, N. Y., by Steamer Norseman, make connection at Port Hope. Newnham has its own station on the grounds. It is situate about half a mile from the village of Haliburton, to which you can either walk or go by boat. The scenery is of the Swiss character, and Newnham possesses within itself forest and lake, meadow and cows, milk and wild fruit. Particulars of the beauty of its environment, its amusements and resources, and its extent (it is not large, accommodating thirty to forty) will be forwarded by writing to Mrs. Stewart, Newnham, Haliburton.

The following discription of this delightful resort will be pleasant reading this warm weather:—

Embosomed among the northern hills, on the extreme summits of the great dividing ridge of Central Canada, and surrounded by the primeval forest, is a beautiful little lake known by the Indian name of Kashagawigamog. On the shore of this lake is the picturesque village of Haliburton, now just coming into notice as a summer resort. It is famed for salubrity,—a salubrity which it owes in some measure to its altitude, being about a thousand feet above the sea level. Its great elevation gives to its climate in summer a refreshing coolness unknown elsewhere than in the Haliburton Highlands. The cool and bracing atmosphere, the purity of the spring water, and the absence of all influences calculated to contaminate its sanitary condition, render Haliburton admirably fitted to become a favorite summer resort for the health-seeker, the holiday-maker, and the tourist.

The village of Haliburton is the terminus of the Victoria Branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, and is 110 miles from Toronto, 55 miles from Lindsay, 109 miles from Port Hope, and 99 miles from Whitby. The train leaves Toronto at 7.35 and 9.15 each morning, allows the passenger several hours in Lindsay to take dinner, and leaving Lindsay at 3 o'clock, arrives at Haliburton at 7 o'clock.

There are two hotels in the village, and a boarding house, and several of the residents receive boarders during the summer, but it is at the delightfully situated house known as Newnham, where the summer visitors most do congregate, and where Mrs. Stewart has made arrangements for receiving during the summer season such guests as may be desirous of taking a holiday in the Canadian Highlands.

Newnham is not by any means a pretentious establishment; it will accommodate about thirty or forty guests, for whom nature provides an enormous fund of enjoyment, and Mrs. Stewart endeavors to provide the rest. There is solid comfort: freedom from all restraint; an abundance of amusements; plenty of boating, bathing and berry picking; a table supplied with wholesome provisions, reasonably well cooked; unlimited milk from Newnham cows in Newnham pastures; a large music-hall, suitable for impromptu charades, or amateur performances; a daily big bundle of newspapers; a billiard table, a croquet ground, skittles, and an earnest and sincere desire to make every guest feel at home.

Parties who may prefer camping, can bring their own tents, and can have either entire or partial board in the house. A two room cottage can be obtained by those desiring it. In the season, the partridge shooting is the best in the Province.

Newnham is distant half a mile from the Haliburton postoffice, railway station and telegraph office. There are three churches in the village—English, Methodist and Presbyterian.

Hours of meals:—Breakfast, 8 to 9, dinner, 12 to 1; tea, 5 to 6.30. Music hall and drawing room close at eleven o'clock each evening.

Terms:—In the months of May, June, September and October, $4 per week, or $1 per day; in July and August, $4 to $6 per week, according to accommodation, or $1.50 per day. Children under ten years of age, half rates.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in Cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER, No 106 Wall street N Y 1w31w

PIANOS

ON THE

3 YEARS SYSTEM

A regular monthly, quarterly or half yearly payment (a slight advance on the rental rate) buys the instrument.

Any piano may be chosen out of a magnificent assortment of Uprights, Squares and Grands, unsurpassed in quality and value. Ministers, Teachers, Government Officers, and those in receipt of regular incomes, will find this a convenient and advantageous mode for securing a first class instrument. When the instrument is used for practice, our Soft Stop or Practice Pedal saves wear on the nerves, as well as preserves the tone of the Piano. Our Patent Foot Pedal Attachment for Pianos is invaluable to organists, students and teachers. Price on application. Inspection invited.

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make th profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL. IX. NO. 24. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, JULY 29, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then, again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the subtreasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker of an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. A SCARE AT ROME.

ALLEGED PLOT TO BLOW UP VATICAN AND QUIRINAL.

Bismarck's Diplomacy—Boulanger Ingloriously Defeated for the Councils-General in a Vast Majority of the Cantons.

ROME, July 27.—The Vatican and the Quirinal are doubly guarded owing to the receipt of information of a plot to blow up both with dynamite. It is rumored that the departure of the Pope will be forcibly resisted and that Government secret police watch the exits of the Vatican.

Bismarck's Latest Project.

BERLIN, July 27.—The greatest diplomatic triumph of Prince Bismarck's life will be achieved if he succeeds in his latest project, which is to arrange a meeting between the Czar, Emperor Francis Joseph and Emperor William, in Berlin. The Chancellor is supposed to be aiming, not at a definite treaty of alliance involving Russia in the Central European League, but only to re-establish better relations between the three Empires and balk French negotiations for an offensive and defensive alliance with Russia.

The Councils General Elections.

PARIS, July 28.—Elections for members of the Councils-General were held throughout France to-day. General Boulanger contests 451 cantons. He has been successful in Bordeaux, where he polled 3316 votes, against 2691 for his opponent. He was defeated in Montpellier and Rouen.

The time granted to General Boulanger, Count Dillon and M. Rochefort to answer the summons of the Senate Court having expired, an official to-day publicly read before their residences a decree giving the accused 10 days in which to appear before the court; failing in this their property will be sequestered and they will be deprived of all civil rights.

The Cocarde (Boulangist organ) publishes what it calls the first instalment of the documents submitted to and the depositions made before the High Court of the Senate which is to try General Boulanger. The publication has caused a sensation. According to the publication of The Cocarde General Ferron, who succeeded General Boulanger as Minister of War, has made a deposition in which he states that the secret service funds were intact and that General Boulanger effected economy in many directions in the War Office.

The Boulangists' Hopes Fall.

PARIS, July 28.—Returns from 1550 cantons show that General Boulanger has been successful in only 12. Returns are still awaited from 903 cantons. The hopes of the Boulangists have fallen to zero.

Bushiri Murders an Official.

ZANZIBAR, July 28.—Captain Wissman offers a reward of 2000 rupees for the capture of Chief Bushiri. There are fears for the safety of the Mpwapwa missionaries. Bushiri with his own hand murdered an officer of the East Africa Company named Nielsen.

On the Tramp Again.

CAIRO, July 28.—Wad-el-N-Jumi, leader of the dervishes, has struck camp and resumed his march northwards.

THE DOMINION'S TRADE.

Statement of Imports and Exports for the Twelve Months Ending June 30.

OTTAWA, July 27.—The statement of goods entered for consumption in the Dominion, exclusive of British Columbia, for the twelve months ending June 30, shows a total of $103,403,446, upon which the duty paid was $22,738,981, an increase of upwards of $6,000,000 in the value entered and of nearly $1,500,000 in the duty collected. For the same period goods to the value of $86,014,584 were exported, against $86,425,655 in the preceding year.

Close on a million dollars was added during June to the amount at credit of depositors in the Postoffice Savings Bank. The people's savings thus invested amount to $23,011,422. There was deposited in the month $663,712. Interest allowed on accounts closed during the month came to $9353, and interest allowed to depositors and made principal at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, was $775,472. The repayments during the month came to $569,474.

A BRITISH SEALER SEIZED.

By the United States Revenue Cutter Rush—Excitement in Victoria.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., July 28.—The sealing schooner Triumph arrived to-day from Behring Sea, bringing news of the seizure on July 11, by the United States revenue cruiser Rush[illegible] British schooner Black Diamond, sealing in Behring Sea. The Triumph had 8000 seals aboard but not having caught any in water over which the Americans claim jurisdiction was allowed to depart.

The captain of the Rush said he had orders to seize any vessels found with Behring Sea seals aboard. Seals are reported very plentiful.

There is much excitement in Victoria.

Fun a Bullet in His Leg.

GUELPH, July 27.—Yesterday afternoon Frederick, a 16-year-old son of M. Bancroft, while out in the woods about a mile from the city, put a bullet in his right leg. He had a long pistol with a steel extension to fit the shoulder when shooting, and while stepping slowly and noiselessly through the bush to get closer to a bird the trigger, which was half-cock, caught in a bush and the weapon went off, the ball entering the fleshy part of the leg below the knee. He walked home and had the wound probed a little, but the ball could not be found, and it was deemed advisable to allow it to work itself out.

Due to a Misplaced Switch.

MEMPHIS, July 27.—The west bound passenger train on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway due here at 10.05 a.m. was wrecked this morning at Brighton, Tenn., by a switch being left open. The killed are the engineer, fireman, baggage master and mail agent. All the passengers were badly shaken up but none were seriously injured.

THE LIBERALS IN REVOLT.

MR. GLADSTONE FOR ONCE AT VARIANCE WITH HIS PARTY.

Melancholy Failure of the New Leader, Labouchere—Features of the Royal Grants Debate.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Mr. G. W. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: The two subjects which have filled everybody's thoughts this week are the Royal wedding and the debate on the Royal grants. Neither is of vital importance, but together they have engrossed the general attention. I leave the Royal wedding entirely to other hands. The issues raised in connection with this proposal of fresh supplies for the Royal family have become grave. They involve relations between Mr. Gladstone and the Liberal party. They have brought to a head a long-festering mutiny in the ranks. They have brought all sorts of secret cabals into the light of day. Perhaps the whole future of English Liberalism is imperilled. Mr. Gladstone has made a great effort to avert the disaster; but has made it probably in vain. Not since his closing speech in the debate on the second reading of the rejected Home Rule bill in 1886 has Mr. Gladstone equalled his performance of Thursday night. He showed us what he can still do when he tries, and when he is moved. "I have observed," he said yesterday morning to a friend, "that a man always speaks at his best when he speaks against his party. I do not see why I should not do the same thing."

It is startling to hear Mr. Gladstone talk thus coolly of being against his party, or his party against him. But it is true; nobody knew how true till Thursday afternoon. He spoke to an almost unbroken accompaniment of Tory cheers; his own party sat silent or nearly silent. It was unworthy of them; it was not good politics or good sense or good feeling. They justify their attitude on the ground that the Opposition front bench is divided on this question of Royal grants. No doubt it is divided. Mr. John Morley has broken away from the political leader who has made him what he is in politics. Sir William Harcourt is straddling the fence, which threatens to break beneath his weight. There are others whose deference to popular prejudice and passion proves stronger than their loyalty to Mr. Gladstone. They might be all driven into the sea and nobody would much miss them, politically speaking. While Mr. Gladstone lives, he is the Opposition. There is none other. The strength of Liberalism lies in his loins, not elsewhere; and if Liberal politicians understood their position they would follow him on this as on other questions. But they are in full revolt against him.

I hope that they liked their new leader on Thursday night. Mr. Labouchere is their new leader, and melancholy indeed was the spectacle of his leadership. He has wrought long and played his game low down for this opportunity. No matter by what arts he procured it, the opportunity was such as comes but seldom in a lifetime. It was a great night in the House of Commons. Public expectation was high; the question one on which every section of the English people feels strongly. The House was thronged on the floor, and in the galleries were peers, Ambassadors, the American Minister—who ought to be an ambassador, but is not—and other distinguished outsiders looked down upon the scene. There was everything to stimulate a man to do his best; everything to lend splendor to triumph, and everything to enhance the bitterness of the failure which Mr. Labouchere actually achieved. He spoke for nearly an hour and a half. The House listened at first in eager expectation; then attention relaxed; then during the body of the speech arose that dreaded hum of general talk which half drowns the voice of a speaker who cannot hold the House. He was laborious, confused and dull.

"If," said a distinguished Liberal, "Mr. Labouchere does not understand that he is here to amuse us, he had better go away." His effort to be serious was fatal to him. All his ingenuity, his undoubted subtlety, his mastery of business, his reputation for shrewdness, went for nothing in the presence of an emergency which demanded really great powers. He became amusing for a few minutes at the end, but he sat down under the conciousness that he had thrown away his chance. His labored eulogy on the Queen and his labored profession of loyalty to Mr. Gladstone rang equally hollow. Each sounded like a last desperate attempt to redeem a hopeless position. His one piece of good fortune was in being followed by Mr. Storey of Sunderland, a man who has Mr. Labouchere's ambition minus his capacity, a professional Radical, an ex-schoolmaster, retailing to a weary House an interminable string of copybook maxims, the whole speech empty and pretentious.

Mr. Gladstone rose, and the atmosphere changed in his first half-dozen sentences. Mr. Smith had opened the debate with a speech, which, if not brilliant, was businesslike, sensible and in the right tone. With those who followed the debate had gone down into vulgarity. Mr. Gladstone lifted it to a level which no other man now in the House ever reaches; nor he always. It was a speech of perfect dignity and of beauty, unmarred by a single flaw. Hardly once was he cheered by his own party. It is the first time that Mr. Gladstone has spoken to the music of Tory applause.

The Tories, the next night, found themselves cheering another orator from whom of late they have withheld their voices, Lord Randolph Churchill. His speech and Mr. Gladstone's were the two speeches of the debate. Each in his own way delighted the House. "It is Disraeli over again," said an old member, of Lord Randolph. No doubt there is a similarity of style, but Lord Randolph is too individual to imitate anybody. He spoke with humor, and with good humor — perhaps the most effectual way of dealing with opponents in the House. He invited Mr. Bradlaugh not to lecture the Tory party so much. He sent shaft after shaft of ridicule through Mr. Storey, Mr. Picton and others of their kind. He defined Mr. Labouchere as a Cheap Jack Republican, a remark which defines about all the republicanism there is in this country. But the substance of his speech was argumentative, weighty, fully informed; a defence of the Government proposal far stronger than any member or ally of the Government has made, though Mr. Goschen spoke and Lord Hartington spoke.

The truth about these Royal grants is simple enough. The Queen had an undoubted right, under the Civil List compact settled at the beginning of her reign, to come to Parliament for allowances and dowries to her children and grandchildren. Grants have from time to time been made. Whether new applications should be made is a question mainly of expediency and of circumstances. Mr. Labouchere and Mr. Labouchere's tail say: "No more grants under any circumstances." They allege that the Queen's savings are ample to provide for her family, and that if not, economies in the Royal household and the abolition of various sinecures would soon make up the deficiency. To strengthen this plea, the amount of the Queen's fortune has been wildly exaggerated. Mr. Storey asserted plumply that it was $15,000,000, which drew from Mr. Smith the remark that this statement was absolutely untrue: perhaps the bluntest contradiction ever heard from the front bench. Then came in Mr. Morley and his friends, who refuse to vote the new grant because the Queen has not formally renounced her claim to further allowances for other grandchildren than those of the Prince of Wales. Mr. Gladstone's speech swept away all this foundation of fallaci s from under their feet. He told Mr. Morley that the Queen's renunciation was as complete as if engrossed on parchment and sealed. He told Mr. Labouchere and Mr. Storey that the Queen's fortune was no more than sufficient to provide respectably for those other grandchildren who were now barred fr m coming so Parliament. The Prince of Wales notoriously has not a shilling. Would Mr. Labouchere wish the Queen's grandchildren to be paupers? And he insisted that the present proposal to distribute $180,000 a year among the Prince's five children was reasonable and moderate.

ROYAL NUPTIALS.

Princess Louise of Wales Married to the Earl of Fife.

LONDON, July 27.—Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise Victoria Alexandra Dagmar, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, was married at noon to-day to Alexander William George, Earl of Fife, Knight of the Thistle. The weather was unpropitious, as rain was falling. The ceremony took place in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace. This was the first marriage that ever took place in the chapel, which is small, and the number of guests was therefore limited.

Upon reaching the chapel the Queen was escorted to the seat prepared for her, while the other royal personages took seats on either side of the altar. The Earl of Fife, who was attired in a Highland costume and wore the garter of the Duffs, accompanied by his groomsman, Mr. Horace Farquhar, took his position at the altar rail and awaited the coming of the bride. The Prince of Wales, with the bride and Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, and members of the household, arrived at the palace just before noon. They were received by the Lord Steward and conducted to the Bow library, where the bride was joined by the bridesmaids, who were Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, Princess Louise of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Victoria of Teck, Countess Feodore Gleichen, Countess Victoria Gleichen and Countess Helena Gleichen. The bridal party then proceeded to the chapel.

The bride wore a duchesse dress of white satin, with a flowing train. It was trimmed with orange blossoms. She also wore a wreath of orange blossoms and a point-de-gaze veil. The bridesmaids wore dresses of blush pink faille and carried bouquets of pink roses.

The clergymen officiating were the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, the Dean of Windsor, Domestic Chaplain of the Queen, the Rev. F. A. J. Hervey, Domestic Chaplain to the Prince of Wales, and the Rev. J. Teignmouth Shore.

The Prince of Wales gave away the bride. The Princess of Wales was attired in pearl-grey satin broaded with silver. Her Royal Highness also wore a tiara of diamonds.

After the wedding there were two breakfast parties in separate chambers in Buckingham palace. One party consisted of the bride and groom, the Queen and other royal personages, and the other of the guests. Toasts were given to the Queen and to the bride and groom. After the breakfast the Earl and his bride, the Princess of Wales and the bridesmaids, returned to Marlboro House, the bride and bridegroom occupying the first carriage. Later in the afternoon the newly married couple departed for Sheen House, the suburban residence of the Earl of Fife, where a portion of the honeymoon is to be spent. On arriving at Sheen House the newly wedded pair were enthusiastically welcomed. They passed between files of Venetian masts decorated with floral festoons. The path was covered with carpet, upon which wild flowers were strewn by girls dressed in white. To-night Mortlake and Richmond in the vicinity of the Earl of Fife's house were illuminated. The Prince of Wales gave a reception at Marlboro House this evening, which was attended by 1000 guests.

The Gladstones' Thanks.

LONDON, July 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone have requested the newspapers to express their appreciation of the many gifts and congratulatory messages received by them on the occasion of their golden wedding. It would be impossible, they say, to reply to each well-wisher separately.

Brodie Rearrested for Fraud.

LONDON, July 27.—William Brodie, who while in a condition bordering on delirium tremens stated that he has committed the murders and mutilations of women in Whitechapel, was to-day discharged from custody, there being no evidence to hold him, and physicians pronounced him sane. He was immediately rearrested on a charge of fraud

TREATED AS DR. CRONIN WAS.

The Body of an Aged Physician Found in a Cincinnati Sewer.

CINCINNATI, July 27.—The body of Col. A. E. Jones, familiarly known as Col. Jones, was found this morning in a manhole not far from his residence, murdered and robbed. The colonel was in his 77th year, but was active as a man of 50. He had always had an inclination to military life, and kept it up by holding a connection with the Ohio National Guard, serving a long time as Surgeon of the First Regiment, Governor Foraker, who was his neighbor, appointed him a member of his staff as Surgeon-General. He had been active in public affairs, serving often in the Municipal Council, and had besides held several offices under appointment from the General Government. He was perhaps more widely known in Cincinnati than any other citizen.

Dr. Jones left his house about 3.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, wearing no coat, his feet in slippers and went in the direction of his stables. He asked what time it was, though wearing his watch. That was the last seen of him alive. The family did not become alarmed until night, and then prosecuted their search quietly until yesterday, when notice was given to the police. During the day a trail of blood was discovered opposite the Doctor's stable in Cemetery-street, and being followed was traced to Park-avenue, thence south two or three squares to the junction of Cypress-street and Francis-lane, where, on the grass, was quite a pool of blood.

It was here in a manhole of the sewer that the body was found this morning. It was wrapped in a horse blanket, or rather sewn up, so that it was drawn out by means of a rope fastened around it by a man who had been lowered for that purpose. The body had been doubled up compactly, as if for convenience in carrying, and it is apparent that the trail of blood was that which trickled from his wounds as his murderer carried him to the place where he thought to conceal forever the trace of his crime, for he hoped the water would carry the body into the river. It was found that the Doctor's gold watch and his money were gone.

Charles Bligh, the doctor's colored servant, was arrested this evening at Madisonville, O., and brought here. He made a full confession. Bligh says Dr. Jones found fault with his work Thursday afternoon and cursed him and struck him with a little stick. Bligh became angry, and as the Doctor passed him he picked up an oak stick used in baling hay and with both hands struck him on the back of the head. The doctor fell speechless, but was not dead. Bligh proceeded with his work until 5.30 o'clock, when he got a sack and put the doctor's body in it. He was breathing and drew up his legs, so that the murderer had no difficulty in getting the body in the sack. He then tied it up with a hitching strap and went into the house and got his supper. About 10 o'clock he took the sack on his shoulders and carried it down Park-avenue to the manhole. Two persons were ahead of him, but he kept out of their way. He laid the sack down on the grass while he took off the iron covering of the manhole, and threw the body in, covered up the manhole, and went back to Col. Jones' house. The next day he worked as usual till afternoon, when they told him he needn't work any more. Bligh declares he did not take Col. Jones' watch or money, but this part of his story is not believed.

A CALAMITY IN CHICAGO.

DREADFUL WORK OF A SEVERE WIND-STORM SATURDAY NIGHT.

One House Blown Over on Another—Eight of the Occupants Instantly Killed and Four Seriously Injured.

CHICAGO, July 27.—During the height of the wind and rain storm to-night an unfinished building in process of construction at the corner of Twenty-first and Leavitt-street was blown down, completely demolishing a frame cottage that stood beside it. Eight persons were killed outright and four badly wounded. The killed are:

MRS. AMELIA BUCH, 28 years old.
ANNIE BUCH, 8 years old.
ALBERT BUCH, 6 years old.
CORNELIUS FERDINACHES, a blacksmith, 33 years old.
MRS. AREKA FERDINACHES, his wife, 31 years old.
CORA, LIDA and LEA, their children, aged respectively 5, 3 and 1 years of age.

The wounded are:
CHARLES BUCH, husband of Mrs. Amelia Buch.
ALBERT BUCH.
LULLA FERDINACHES.
ADA FERDINACHES.

On Van Buren-street, near Loomis, while the storm was at its height, a large tree was blown down and fell upon a passing street car which was crowded with people, crushing the roof, but fortunately not injuring any one seriously. Several houses were struck by lightning and a number of people badly shaken up and scared.

The rainfall was one of the heaviest ever known in this section. The damage done to goods in flooded basements will run high into the thousands.

A DEATH DEALING CYCLONE.

Terrible Disaster in Hungary—Hundreds of Persons Killed.

VIENNA, July 28.—A cyclone in Hungary, Transylvania and Bukovina to-day swept over several thousand square miles of territory. Hundreds of persons were killed, the crops were destroyed and enormous damage was done to houses and churches. Several districts were completely ravaged.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Father and Daughter Drowned in the Bay—Suicide in a Police Station.

TORONTO, July 28.—Thomas World well known in business circles, and his 16-year-old daughter Madeline, while crossing to the city from the Island in a row boat about 10.30 Saturday night, were drowned. Two young men, Percival Parker and a lad named Cox, who were in the boat with them, were rescued. The waves were running high and the little boat unable to cross in their trough direct to the city tried to beat down towards the eastern gap against a strong east wind. Each big wave as it struck the bows would wash over, gradually filling the boat, until at last, when opposite Bay-street, she sank literally beneath the fated occupants' feet.

A woman of the town named Lilly Kelly, living in rear of 60 Chestnut-street, committed suicide in the cells of the Agnes-street station early yesterday morning by tearing up her dress to serve as a rope, placing one end of it around her neck in the form of a noose and tying the other end to the prison bars. Her feet were within an inch or two of the floor. She was perfectly sober, the officers say, when she committed the deed. She had been arrested for disorderly conduct.

One of Toronto's old citizens, Mr. George Harcourt, the well-known King-street tailor, died very suddenly at Chicago on Friday night. Mr. Harcourt left this city on July 18 for a trip to Chicago. On Wednesday last his son Robert received a letter from him saying that he felt very well, and would leave for home on Friday night. He dropped dead while going aboard on Friday evening. Mr. Harcourt was 70 years old and had been in business in King-street continuously since 1843.

SUICIDE AT REGINA.

Arrangements Made for the Completion of the C. P. R.'s Souris Branch.

WINNIPEG, July 28.—Arrangements have been completed for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Souris branch. A Mounted Policeman named Hirsch suicided in the Regina barracks yesterday.

Dalton McCarthy will deliver but one address in Manitoba, at Portage la Prairie.

The Northern Pacific and Manitoba road contemplate purchasing the Broadway Bridge which connects St. Boniface with the city, and removing it further north to Water-street to make more switch room.

The Commercial Club, started a year ago, is about to cease to exist.

Kicked His Wife to Death.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 27.—Mark King, a burly miner of ungovernable temper, residing at Beaver Creek colliery, kicked his wife to death last night because his supper was not ready when he came home. King was arrested.

Poisoned Her Babe.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 27.—Mrs. William H. Schlayer, wife of a moulder, gave her 4-months-old babe a dose of morphia and laudanum last night and took a similar dose herself. The baby died, but the mother will recover. She was temporarily insane from illness.

The Crawford Tragedy.

DETROIT, July 28.—Yesterday morning Justice Miner took a complaint against George Welsh for the murder of Morris Crawford, and one of assault and battery against George Considine, who it is claimed was with Welsh at the time of the murder. They were both subsequently arraigned in the Police Court and each pleaded not guilty. Welsh's examination was set for Aug. 2 and he was remanded to jail without bail. Considine's examination was set for July 31 and his bail fixed at $300, which was furnished by John Welsh.

A Double Tragedy.

COLUMBUS, O., July 27.—A horrible tragedy occurred here early this morning. Christian Weinman, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of West Columbus, at about 3 o'clock this morning blew his wife's brains out with a shotgun and then fatally shot himself with a revolver. They had quarrelled much of late. This is the second double murder in the Weinman family. Christian Weinman's brother was killed some years ago by their father, who then killed himself. They leave six children, the oldest being a daughter of about 17 years of age.

Fourteen Years for a Life.

CALGARY, July 28.—William Fisk, formerly of Iroquois, Ont., whose fiendish crime resulting in the death of an Indian girl known as Rosalie, will be well remembered, was to-day sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, July 28.—Louisa Park, the baby farm keeper, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Muir to two years in the Mercer Reformatory for ill-treating a year-old infant which had been placed in her care.

Frederick Oblender was thrown from a wagon yesterday and received severe but not dangerous injuries.

The Harris Bros. were fined $5 yesterday for having underweight bread for sale.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.

The Government or Post Office Savings Banks are popularly regarded as the ideal of security for investment of small sums, and they would be properly so regarded if the Post Office Department kept faith with depositors with the scrupulous exactitude which chartered banks exhibit. Every newspaper reader is familiar with the story of the stealings of R. T. Burns, late Deputy-Postmaster at Kingston. It will be remembered that among the sufferers by Burn's defalcations, was a poor widow named Mrs. Doolan, of Wolfe Island. She was in the habit of making deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank in Kingston. Being unable to read or write she placed implicit confidence in the Dominion Government as represented by its servant, Deputy-Postmaster Burns. At each deposit the latter marked the amount of Mrs. Doolan's deposit in the regulation pass book, supplied by the Government. At one time Mrs. Doolan made a deposit of the large (to her) sum of $500, Burns entering the amount and giving Mrs. Doolan the usual receipt which she doubtless regarded as a certificate of the safety of her money far more valuable than a similar receipt given for a similar amount by any chartered savings bank. But she was doomed to speedy and sore disappointment. Burns stole the $500, and being arrested confessed the theft and is now very properly an inmate of the Penitentiary, undergoing, what justice might properly regard, a very inadequate punishment for betraying the implicit confidence of a poor widow and depriving her of the large sum of $500. For her money is gone. Any person would not hesitate in declaring that the Dominion Government would not hesitate in paying Mrs. Doolan back her money or giving her proper credit for the amount on the books of the post office Savings Department. But such, wonderful and shameful to say is not the case. The Government screens itself from liability behind a mere technicality. The Government repudiates the claim of Mrs. Doolan, because, though the money was deposited in the Kingston branch of the post office Savings Department and though a proper receipt was given for the money by a duly accredited and recognized employee, the head office had not been notified of the deposit. Thus a poor widow is robbed of $500 because she could not read and write and because she was unable to comprehend the regulations on the Government pass book, which occupy three full pages of very closely printed matter, and are so worded that even a person of education may find it difficult to interpret the meaning of some of the pages. The refusal of the Government Post Office Saving's Bank to recognize Mrs. Doolan's perfectly equitable claim, though it be covered by a mere technical quibble, is not far removed in moral degree from the confidence game of some sharp, but unscrupulous shysterring lawyer and tends to destroy public confidence in the safety and fair dealing of the Post office Saving's Banks. If poor Mrs. Doolan had deposited ten thousand dollars in any chartered saving's bank, and got the regular receipt therefor, though the receiving teller had "bolted" with the money the second after, the bank would have recognized her claim and either have given her credit for the amount or paid it over to her without dispute. Nobody can help but notice how the Post Office Savings Banks are placed at a decided disadvantage, in the matter of security of the hard earned savings of the poor. If the Government intends to pursue the policy of condoning the thefts of its servants, and refusing to refund the money stolen by them, then the usefulness of the Post Office Savings Banks is gone and the public will be fully justified in placing their confidence and their surplus earnings in the chartered savings banks, whose character would be irretrievably ruined by anything in the slightest degree savouring of the treatment which the Post office Saving's Bank has measured out to unfortunate Mrs. Doolan. If the government wishes to continue borrowing the money of the people, they will require to remodel the Post Office Saving's Bank methods, and decide to add to their competition with chartered saving's banks the honourable recognition of the claims of depositors which characterize the latter.

Land in the United States

Who owns the land in the United States? Why, the citizens do, or should, would be the natural reply. But, unfortunately, it is not altogether so. Some of the best land in the United States is said by the American Citizen to be owned by alien landlords. Nearly 22,000,000 acres of land are owned by men who owe allegiance to other governments. To be exact there are 21,241,000 acres of land under the direct control and management of thirty foreign individuals or companies. There are 2,720,283 acres of land in Massachusetts, so that the men living in other countries and owing allegiance to other powers, own land enough to make about ten States like Massachusetts, more than the whole of New England, more land than some governments own to support a king. The largest amount of land owned by any one man or corporation is owned by a foreign corporation called the Holland Land Company. Talk about alien landholders in Ireland! There is twice as much land owned by aliens in the United States as there is owned by Englishmen in Ireland. Think of it! More than 22,000,000 acres of land owned by men in Europe.

STRUCK A WOMAN.

An Ottawa Real Estate Agent's Eyes Are Now in Mourning

OTTAWA, July 28.—Mr. T. Rajotte, a wealthy real estate agent, is in mourning to-day. His face is a sorry spectacle. In Spark street last night he hit his sister-in-law. The thoroughfare was crowded at the time. Several women who witnessed the affair sprang upon him and failing to gouge his eyes out, scratched his face severely. Then an unknown man passing by, hearing the cries, belabored Rajotte over the head with a cane, shouting at the same time "You struck a woman, did you?" A crowd gathered in a moment and shouted approval while Rajotte, his face streaming with blood, danced with pain. A policeman appeared on the scene but the trio vanished. Arrests are likely to follow.

Canadian Built Cars.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Secretary Windom and Assistant Secretary Tichenor had a conference to-day in regard to the dutiable character of Canadian built cars used in the transportation of merchandise over American railroads. The secretary subsequently said that a decision had been reached in the matter. While it is impossible to obtain any official information on the subject it is generally understood that the department holds that cars built in Canada and which enter the United States empty and are used in the general transportation of merchandise over American territory are subject to duty, but that Canadian cars which enter for the purpose of transporting the merchandise with which they are laden and which leave this country empty when the goods are delivered are not subject to taxation.

Death of Elmira's Postmaster

ELMIRA, July 27.—Mr. Peter Winger, who has held the position of postmaster here since Oct. 1, 1863, died to-day at the advanced age of 75 years. He was one of the pioneers of Waterloo County and served for many years in the County Council.

25 REASONS
FOR DRINKING
ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE
Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

YOUR FEET!
This is THE roasting weather that tries and tells upon the feet. Are you experiencing that foot agony and torture of wearing the "Culled" grades of so-called summer shoes sold elsewhere? Well, you have our sympathy, but you'll never cure corns or bunions with "sympathy." But, really, we can't consistently pity you much when you can get perfect ease and save money by using John McNaughton's

THE EMBEZZLER ESCAPES AGAIN.

Bushnell Slips Out of Detective Reilly's Hands in South America.

NEW YORK, July 26.—William A. Bushnell, alias Gerald F. Hanson, the absconding bookkeeper of the law firm of Butler, Stillman & Hubbard, who was arrested at Santiago, Chili, last December by Detective Phil Reilly of this city, and who was on his way back here in custody of the detectives, has made his escape. The following cablegram, received by Inspector Byrnes last evening, announced the fact:

"Lima, July 24.

"Inspector Byrnes, New York.

"Prisoner escaped at Iquique Friday. Rearrest impossible. Instruct United States Minister at Lima. "REILLY."

Bushnell ten years ago hypothecated securities valued at $35,000, belonging to the above-named law firm, and fled. Some years later, under the name of Gerald F. Hanson, he was appointed agent of the West Coast Telephone Company. His offices were in Santiago, where he moved in the best society. In 1886 and 1887 he embezzled sums of money aggregating $18,000 in gold. He was arrested, but he was so popular that no jury could be got in Santiago to convict him. Last year it was discovered that the embezzling manager of the Telephone Company and Butler, Stillman & Hubbard's absconding bookkeeper were the same person. Steps were taken by Inspector Byrnes to have him arrested on the complaint of the law firm, and he was apprehended on Dec. 7 of last year. Detective Sergt. Reilly, who arrested him, has been in South America ever since trying to get his prisoner away. He was armed with extradition papers from Gov. Hill.

The prisoner was so much thought of and had so many wealthy friends that he succeeded in having his case delayed from time to time in the courts. Nearly a fortnight ago a despatch was received from Reilly stating that the Chilian officials had finally turned over the prisoner and that he was on his way back to New York. He expected to arrive here with Bushnell about Aug. 18. Reilly had to take his prisoner aboard a Pacific mail steamer at Valparaiso and transfer him to a steamer of the same line at Callao bound for Panama.

Iquique, the place mentioned in the despatch where Bushnell escaped, is a small seaport town of Southern Peru. Inspector Byrnes has cabled to the United States Minister at Lima requesting him to assist Reilly in re-arresting Bushnell.

PLAGUE OF SAND FLIES.

Tonawanda Buried Under Three Inches of Troublesome Ephemera.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., July 26.—This village has been visited by a plague of sand flies, compared to which that visited on King Pharaoh fades into insignificance. When the sun went down last night a heavy cloud was noticed hanging low over the Canadian shore of the Niagara River and many thought a storm was brewing. As soon as the street lamps were lighted the nature of this storm became at once manifest. Billions of sand flies, ephemera that live but a day, having a wide spread of wing and a caterpillar-like body, descended on the town. In an hour it was impossible for pedestrians to walk the streets. Stores had to be closed, houses were shut up and everybody prematurely went to bed. This morning most of the flies were dead, their bodies covering the streets and housetops to the depth of three inches. The canal and inner harbor were literally thick with their remains. The Street Commissioner, with a force of men, has been busy all day cleaning up the dead insects. The principal streets are now free, but from a thousand other places the decay of their light bodies fills the air with a horrible stench. The oldest inhabitant remembers nothing similar, although the flies which breed in the shallow water on the shore oft n annoy people to a certain extent.

Tichenor's Work Cut Out For Him.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Assistant Secretary Tichenor has resumed his duties at the Treasury Department and it is expected that a number of important questions which have been pending in the department for some time will be settled in a few days. These include the classifications of Mexican lead ores, the dutiable character of Canad an-built cars and the classification of mahogany boards, together with questions arising under the Alien Labor Contract Law in regard to Canadians employed in the United States.

Threatened Rate Cutting.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The officials of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company have notified the Trans-continental Association that unless the subsidy from railroads is increased they will cut rates and take all the freight they can get. It is thought that this is the preliminary to a war against the Canadian Pacific road.

Buffalo Bill as a Crack Shot.

Col. Cody, his Winchester against his shoulder, hit nine out of ten potatoes the size of marbles as Johnny Baker threw them high up in the either, although at the time a tremendous wind was sweeping down over the valley. He put holes through dollar and half dollar silver pieces thrown into the air, afterwards presenting them to guests as members of the occasion.

An Extraordinary Story.

The police of Buda Pesth are investigating a truly marvelous case. A boy at the Public Grammar School has confessed to his father that he has, for some time past, taken money from the till in his shop, being ordered to do so by a man who had made him the subject of experiments in hypnotism. The father went to the school authorities, and it was discovered that a whole class of boys were in a similar plight. They acted as "mediums," and by a process known as "suggestion" were made to steal money from their parents and bring it to the ardent scientist in question. The affair is still wrapped in mystery, and it is the one topic of conversation.

The Maiden's Prayer.

"Oh, where have you been, my pretty maid?"

"To the Easter service, sir," she said.

"Did you enjoy it, pretty maid?"

"I did indeed, kind sir," she said.

"And what was the text, my pretty maid?"

"I didn't hear it, sir," she said.

"And what did they sing, my pretty maid?"

"I cannot tell you, sir," she said.

"Then why did it please you, pretty maid?"

"My prayer was answered there," she said.

"And what was the answer to your prayer?"

"Mine was the prettiest bonnet there."

A Versatile Duke.

The Duke of Marlborough's character is made up of many contradictory attributes. A man of more that ordinary culture and observance, he is not only a most agreeable companion and admirable raconteur, but a first-rate analytical chemist, a profound electrician, and a practical merchanic. But notwithstanding all these good qualities, his moral nature has a strange twist somewhere, which, when not more vividly engaged, shows itself in hardened

Mystic Words.

I CAN recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for chronic diarrhœa, as I have used it for two years and can get nothing else that helps me like it. JANE TAYLOR, Mystic, P. Q. This medicine cures all summer complaints. 2w31d

A Baby in Danger.

MY baby was taken very bad with diarrhœa, nothing did any good until I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I am certain nothing equals it, and could not do without it in time of summer complaint and diarrhœa. MRS. A. L. BUIE, Shell River, Man. 2w31d

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and in a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Arrangements were completed on Saturday by which Barnum's big circus will exhibit in the agricultural show grounds on Tuesday September third. The council of North Monaghan have consented to allow the agricultural society to have the license fee and the town will allow the procession free of charge. By this arrangement the funds of he society will be augmented $125.00.

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

Broken Arms.

On Saturday afternoon, a lad named Thos. McGill, driving Mr. Powell's meat delivery wagon, met with an accident at Auburn. While turning a corner with rather too sharp a curve, he was thrown out, and sustained a fracture of the right arm. Under the care of Dr. Clark who adjusted the fractured limb the young man is doing well.

On Friday a child of Mr. James O'Shea met with an accident resulting in the fracture of an arm.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c, and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

Worth Knowing.

Our announcements in the past have been always received with applause by the public and for the next few weeks we will offer special cash inducements. Examine our advertisement in another column. We are offering some beautiful blends of Tea; try our forty cent black equal to, in many cases, ten you would buy for 50 and 60c. per pound. Sugars very low, considering the advance, but as we have been holding a very large stock we are selling away down. Call and price our goods. W. J. Morrow, 340 George street. dw

New Shop Building.

This morning Mr. H. Carveth began operations upon the erection of a new business building on Hunter street, opposite the bridge over the creek—upon the site of the old skating rink. The new building will be 25 x 50 feet in area, three stories in height. This will be a decided improvement to this quarter and it is to be hoped the beginning of a process that will fill the vacant space with fine new structures. Others will doubtless not be slow to follow Mr. Carveth's good example.

Dangers of Camping Near the Water.

The objection which many careful mothers have to summer camping in the vicinity of water is the danger of drowning. Be that as it may, there is not the slightest danger of any person being disappointed who buys and uses Hawley Bros.' choice teas, the best, purest and cheapest to be found in the district. Every variety of tea desired, of the best crop, the best cured and at the lowest figure. The stock of coffees corresponds to the supply of tea in quality and price. Go to Hawley Bros., George street, Peterborough, for tip-top teas, choice coffees and stylish glassware.

Grand Trunk Excursion.

The Grand Trunk Railway has arranged for an excursion at very low fares from points on its line to Alexandria Bay, Clayton, Round Island, Thousand Islands Park, and return, which will start on morning of the 7th August, tickets being valid for return until 14th August inclusive. The fare from Peterborough will be $3. Full information can be obtained on application to the Company's agents, or from the bills which will be circulated. 2d23

Anything for a Change

At 2 o'clock this afternoon a farm wagon, whose wheel collapsed and tongue smashed on the market square, formed a welcome break to the monotony of dullness that prevailed to-day and gave the gossipers ten minutes subject for conversation—between dark.

Police Court Holidays

The police court slate was a blank this morning, Saturday night and Sunday having failed to yield a crop of culprits for the coops. The police force is inclined to attribute this phenomenal morality to the absence of the newspaper reporters from town.

Funeral Notice.

The scholars of the two Sunday schools of St. John's Church, Peterborough, are requested to meet at the schoolhouse adjoining the church at 2.30 p.m., to-morrow (Tuesday, July 30th), and take part in the funeral service of their late fellow scholar, Albert Edward Pratt.

A. V. R. YOUNG, W. BRUNDRETT, } Superintendents.

Splendid Building Lots.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, showing a plan of the "Erin" cottage (Elias Thompson) property which has been sub-divided into choice building lots. The situation of these lots is breezy and salubrious, and this is a splendid chance for those desiring to secure homes of their own. The soil is good and well adapted for garden and lawns and of a depth which insures the rapid and vigorous growth of fruit, shade and ornamental trees.

An "Apoplectic" Attack.

This afternoon about two o'clock a man named John Scott was prostrated on Simcoe street, near the Lock Works, with what he described to the crowd of spectators and sympathisers that collected, as an apoplectic stroke. Policeman McGinty was summoned and the man was removed to the police station, where the Chief diagnosed the trouble as a severe attack of alcoholic locomotor ataxia, and by the application of vigorous remedies the patient was set upon his pins, and, after paying the hire of the cart, he departed.

Remember the Excelsior Excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls Wednesday, July 31st. Tickets good for 2 days. Toronto and return, $1.90; Falls and return, $2.25. Go by any C. P. R. train on the 31st. Trains leave at 4.46 a.m., 7 a.m. and 5.40 p.m. Boats leave the Yonge street wharf at 7 a.m., 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4.45 p.m. Tickets good on Chicora or Cibola, on either day. Children's tickets, half price.

Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

Last evening at the Charlotte street Methodist church, Mrs. Shorey sang the beautiful hymn, "Shall we Know Each Other There?" Mrs. Shorey possesses a unusually rich voice and her articulation is very distinct. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Shorey, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening and preached two eloquent sermons to large and delighted congregations.

Confirmation at Hastings.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor administered the sacrament of confirmation at Hastings on Sunday, the 28th inst., to about 75 children. His Lordship was assisted by Rev. Father Quirk, pastor, and Rev. Father Fillatre, O.M.I. Ottawa University. In the evening, after Vespers, His Lordship delivered a very instructive sermon, subject: "The Last Supper." After mass an address was presented on behalf of the congregation to which the Bishop made a suitable reply.

The Lake Dwellers.

Mrs. John Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dolan, Mr. James Dolan, and Mr. H. LeBrun, returned from the lakes a few days ago, but becoming lonesome they went up again on Saturday night, accompanied by Miss Delaney, town; Miss Carey, Quebec; Miss Haggarty, town; Mr. Wm. Merrit, and Mr. J. F. Hurley. All are bound for McIntyres Island. Some will remain for a week or more and some for only a few days.

Grand Trunk Extension.

Mr. J. C. Bailey, C. E., and party, says the Mattawa News, start this week from Haliburton to begin the survey of the Grand Trunk extension to Mattawa. The Grand Trunk do not usually linger over the building of a couple of hundred miles of line after they once begin operations, and it is fully expected that this new line, giving a short connection between Mattawa and Toronto, will be in operation some time during 1890, probably long before its close. We should by that time have the eastern section of the Lake Temiscamingue railway running from Mattawa westward. With the whistles of the three railway lines to waken the citizens of Mattawa from their morning slumbers they will begin to realize that they live in a town of some importance.

The Excursion Certain.

The excursion to Orillia under the joint auspices of the E. B. A. and C. M. B. A. announced for Civic holiday, which is said to be August 15th, will take place on the 15th for sure whether the Civic holiday is appointed for that day or not. This will be a delightful and enjoyable excursion, as the committee have made the most complete arrangements. The 15th is one of the big days of the Orillia races at which some of the best horses in the province will complete. The other advantages may be catalogued thus: Special train—no delay, no crowding; Fare for round trip only $1.00, children half price, tickets good for two days; baskets and hampers taken in charge by the committee and delivered at Strawberry island; Every precaution taken for comfort of passengers Further particulars hereafter.

History of British Columbia.

It will be gratifying to our readers to know that the "History of British Columbia," by Hubert Howe Bancroft, until recently sold only with the complete set of this author's works in 39 volumes, can now be obtained separately, complete in one volume. It is perhaps one of the most difficult fields in literature, to take what was so lately a vast wilderness, with only the crudest material to work with, and make of it a complete and finished narrative, as Mr. Bancroft has done, interweaving with the more substantial political and industrial developments those pleasing incidents and romantic episodes connected with the wild and roving life here encountered. Mr. Bancroft's pictures, in this volume, are drawn largely from life. Visiting the country in person, he came into close contact with the old retired officers of the Hudson Bay Company, most of whom have now passed away. From their experiences he not only obtained a large mass of information which otherwise would have passed out of existence, but he was enabled to fill his work with vivid life and detail which in no other way could have been possible. Besides being a masterpiece of historical investigation, it is full of that thrilling interest which attaches to the subjugation and settlement of wild countries, which have not their parallel in history. See advertisement in another column for agents, to whom very liberal terms are offered. ld

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting Saturday and the Gospel and song service on Sabbath evening were well attended and much interest manifested. The practical address of Rev. Mr. Gratt, Geneva, N.Y., was much enjoyed and cannot fail to bear fruit.

Mr. W. Leslie, Toronto, (who was a delegate the great Christian Endeavor Convention held recently in Philadelphia), was present and also gave a short address. Mr Leslie addresses the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's church to night at 8 p.m. We trust all who can will be present and enjoy this treat.

All parties who intend attending the camp at Stony Lake can secure certificates for reduced fares from the General Secretary.

—Thursday afternoon half a dozen little boys went in for a swim, with the intention of going over the dam at Hall's. They went over and all of them came out alive.

Personal.

Dr. J. H. Hunter of Detroit is in town visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ames, Lindsay were in town over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, of Toronto, spent Sunday in town.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, a student of Ottawa College, is "rusticating" in Peterborough.

Mr. Joseph Gillogly, of Bally Hooly fame, is in town the guest of the Phelan House.

Mr. J. E. Jacques late organist of St. Luke's church, presided at the organ last evening.

Mr. E. C. Woodman, of Winnipeg, a former resident of Peterborough, is in town on a visit, the guest of Mrs. M. Fawcett.

Messrs. Allison and McKay, the city editors of the EXAMINER and Review respectively left town Saturday of their holidays.

Rev. J. J. Fillatre, O.M.I., of the Ottawa University, is in town in the interest of the university and is registered at the Phelan House.

Rev. Mr. Edmison, formerly of Smith was at the Charlotte street church Sunday morning and, upon invitation of the pastor, assisted at the services.

Mr. Alex. Jaques, "The Old Man," who has been a printer since 1836, and who is the oldest printer in Canada, there being only one printer living (in Toronto) who started the business with him. He was in town on Saturday as advance agent of Barnum's circus.

Morley, the St. Paul's School professional who was with the School team in Peterborough, has severed his connection with the School, after having taught the boys cricket for eight years, with a break of one year. He goes to the Merion Club, of Philadelphia. If the ancient coach goes to Philadelphia for more money, the Philadelphians must be paying a big salary, as he got $800 a year and a house at Concord.

How Protection Protects.

Six hundred girls in the Paterson, N. J., silk mills have struck against a reduction of 10 per cent. in their wages, which had been $4.50 to $5 a week. What makes the prospect of success almost hopeless is the fact that the Paterson manufacturers have established branch mills to do the work of these girls in the coal regions of Pennsylvania These mills were not put up in the coal regions because they afford a favorable market for silk fabrics; but in these regions the protected manufacturers find a very cheap labor market. Labor that cost $4.50 or $5 a week in Paterson can be had among the coal miners for $3 to $3.50 a week, making no small saving to the protected employers of several hundreds of girls. Besides this, there is the consideration that the Pennsylvania laws in regard to the employment of children under age are very loosely enforced. So if the Paterson girls should persist in their strike the whole of the work in which they have been employed may be transferred to the coal mining regions of Pennsylvania. With those facts before it, the Philadelphia Recorder says: The more the protective system is contemplated in its practical operation, the more its duplicities are revealed. While it enables a privileged few to despoil American consumers, it enables them at the same time to secure labor at the cheapest rates. Between the two processes they grow rich apace. It is not strange that the protective system should have so many devotees and so many subsidized advocates, but it is passing strange that the working people of the country should put up with it as patiently as they have hitherto done."

Literary Notes.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE—for August is a most seasonable issue, containing spirited out-door papers on the game of lawn tennis and on tarpon fishing: two papers on Tennyson, whose eightieth birthday is thus commemorated; short stories, by H. H. H. Boyesen, Brander Matthews, George Parsons Lathrop and E. C. Martin, a new writer, and valuable additions to the Electric and Railway series. The following list of the contents of this number gives a slight idea of its great interest to the general reader:—

TENNYSON. Engraved by G. Kruell from a photograph taken in 1888 by Barraud, London.

FORM IN LAWN TENNIS. By James Dwight, M.D. Illustrations by M. J. Burns, J. D. Woodward, V. Perard, E.W. Deming, and H. W. Hall; engraving by E. A. Clement, Jules Clement, and M. J. Whaley.

THE MASTER OF BALLANTRAE—X. By Robert Louis Stevenson. Illustrations by William Hole.

TARPON FISHING IN FLORIDA. By Robert Grant. Illustrations by M. J. Burns, J. H. Woodward, W. C. Fitler, and Clifton Johnson; engraving by Van Ness, S. Davis, E.D. Deforme, J. Hellawell, Anthony and White.

MEMORIES. By Brander Matthews.

NOCTURNE. By Louise Imogen Guiney.

ELECTRICITY IN LIGHTING. By Henry Morton. Illustrations by W. S. Allen (full page), J. D. Woodward, H. W. Hall, V. Perard and J. Reich; engravings by W. Miller, Tietze, Heard, Schussler, and Chadwick.

A PAGAN INCANTATION. By H. H. Boyesen.

HOW TO FEED A RAILWAY. By Benjamin Norton.

A MONSTER OF MY ACQUAINTANCE. By E. C. Martin.

TENNYSON'S FIRST FLIGHT. By Henry Van Dyke. Illustrations by H. T. Schaldermund, W. C. Fitler, and A. M. Turner, Andrew, and J. Clement.

THE TWO LOCKSLEY HALLS. By T. R. Lounsbury.

Big Cave-in at the Sarnia Tunnel.

A despatch from Sarnia says:—Last night the bank at the west end of the St. Clair tunnel excavation here for a distance of about 100 feet sank down from 15 to 20 feet and carried with it a portable engine and a small building being constructed. It was more a sinking than a slide, and the earth going down forced up some feet the bottom of the hole where the shield for work at the tunnel proper was to be placed. About three hours later the bank on the south side of the excavation, and for a length of 200 feet, gave way and slid into the excavation, the earth covering up the track and a couple of cars. The employes have been at work to-day clearing out, a new track having been built. The trouble is apparently a heavy one, and it is impossible to say yet what will be the result.

The giant diamond lately discovered in Cape Colony, and now at the Paris exposition, weighs 180 carats, and is valued at $3,000,000. It is kept in a glass case by itself, and guardians stand around it all day. At night it is placed in a big safe, which is similarly guarded all night. It is said to be of the first water, and as pure as the famous Regent in the French crown diamonds. It is for sale, and it is confidently expected that some American in home spun clothes and a slouch hat will come along one of these days and buy it as a pocket piece.

Campbellford Cheese Board.

WEDNESDAY, July 24.—Seven hundred and ten boxes were boarded and five hundred and twenty-five sold at the market today. Mr. Whitton bid 8½ cents for Empire, I. X. L., Meyersburg and Stanwood, and Mr. Bird bid 8¼ cents for Crow Bay, all of which accepted.

The Gas Shut Off in the Coste Well.

WINDSOR, July 28.—Yesterday Contractor Marvin succeeded in shutting off the gas in the Coste well. The inhabitants near the well were nigh distracted with the noise of the escaping gas.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our lacrosse team played their return match with Beaverton on Friday last, the 26th inst., and was defeated by one goal to nothing. Practice, boys, is what you want.

Dr. Moffatt, late of Keene, has opened out a new drug business here and is doing a good trade. Success, Doctor.

Mr. Ed. Gear, our enterprising tailor, has found his business increased to such an extent that he has been compelled to look for larger premises, therefore he has leased that fine shop one door north of the new drug store, and is having it fitted up in the latest city style. Congratulations.

Rev. J. C. Clarke, our worthy and enterprising parson, has been calling on his congregation the past week securing subscriptions for the new Methodist church, and he had the pleasure of announcing last Sunday morning that he had secured over seven thousand dollars toward the new church, and has no hesitation in saying he will have the necessary amount by Thursday night, when the committee meets to start the work of building the long needed church.

Half of our village has gone to Stony Lake or some other lake camping, berrying, fishing, etc. It is lonesome

Mrs. E. Lewis, of Alton, Ill., and Miss B. A. Young, of Des Moines, Iowa, have been visiting here for the past few days, and are the guests of Mr. Thos. Elliott and Mr. J. R. McKelvie.

Messrs. H. Hill, J.R. McKelvie and others, leave this week for Twin Lakes, for a couple of weeks' rusticating.

Mr. F. Wilkins leaves this week for the Northwest, where he has a large survey to complete.

Personal.

Dr. E. A. Spilsbury, of Toronto, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, August 10th, for consultation from 1 to 4 p.m. See card.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no and no other. 6dw30

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tufw

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"

"No."

"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low prices."

"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."

"Yes you do. Just look at this one! What better would you want than that?"

"That is good. Who took it?"

"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar.

"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."

"Every bit. Oh, Mr. Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

BYAM'S Improved "Common Sense" • SASH BALANCE. LOCKS AND LIFTS.

THE only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rest off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and mechanics should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day's a groat a year.
A penny saved is two pence clear."

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

VOL. IX. NO. 25. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

J. C. Turnbull.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

A healthy, hearty, wide-awake boy will make holes in any suit of clothes—don't blame him for it; he is the better boy for romping. Just a little forethought. Get him clothes that will stand slam bang wear. They needn't cost much. We have them at Turnbull's. Here is a table of tough, sturdy, seasonable suits for the youngsters, not a suit among them but is shrunk in price. Short pant suits from $1.75 each. Then again, we have good pure wool tweeds, Halifax and otherwise, from 35c. a yard up, that our tailor will cut out for you. The cloth and trimmings need not cost you more than $2.00, when made at home. What a suit you'll have, one that any boy would be proud of. Stripe and check linens for boys' wear from 12½c. to 20c. a yard, suitable for July and August weather.

Our stock of cottonades, staple and fancy check shirtings, was never in better shape than at present. Our customers know that it is a pleasure to buy from a well assorted stock.

At every turn of the store there is a mute appeal from your taste or comfort to your pocket, as you yield to the demand and draw the sub-treasury from the gloomy recess of your dress or trousers. Is it not a comfort to know that what you have bought is a bargain.

On the fancy counter stands a box containing pure silk gloves, at 35c. a pair; also another box with ladies' light undervests at 25c. and 35c. each, which are worth remembering. On the opposite counter are piles of remnants of prints, muslins, chambrays, ginghams. Lower down our dress goods remnants are all together. When we mention remnants we mean decided bargains for the purchaser.

We have just received an invoice for a case of yard sticks; yes, yard sticks which propose giving to our customers for convenience at home. One of these yard sticks goes out with every customer that buys a parcel amounting to one dollar.

Just opened a case of American Oilcloths, new patterns. You can handle or roll them in any shape, and they will not check. Every yard has the warrant. See them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

ASSAULT UPON ONE OF OUTLAW MORRISON'S CAPTORS.

The Attack Supposed to Be Due to Revenge—A Hamiltonian Robbed in Lonsdale—Fire at Alliston.

Montreal, July 29.—Peter Halfpenny was assaulted by Mr. Morrison returning Morrison of Mercantile, a miner killed at Sudbury on Saturday night by two men, the Beaulac brothers. The attack was unprovoked and is supposed to be revenge for his part in the Morrison affair.

The St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Company have decided to close down this factory at Hochelaga for two or three weeks on account of the smallness of demand.

To-day the first nomination for a civic election under the new charter took place, the occasion being the proposing of candidates to fill the vacancy in St. Jean Baptiste Ward caused by the unseating of Ald. Lee. The change in procedure consists in doing away with the lengthened time for nomination and recording of candidates by vote of mouth in the open air, and the substitution of a signed nomination paper deposited at the City Clerk's office by a person who swears to the correctness of the signatures. The candidates are Mr. Lee and Dr. Germain.

CLUBBED AND ROBBED.

Footpads Take a Hamiltonian's All—Other Village News.

HAMILTON, July 29.—William Westfall attended a picnic at Clinch's Park Saturday and, having missed the train, walked home on the railway track. He had not proceeded very far in the darkness when he met two men, one of whom dealt him a blow on the head with a club, knocking him down. While on the ground the pair went through Westfall's pockets, finding Mr. in money and a jackknife. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the outrage.

Lightning last night struck Joseph Hoodless' residence, tearing the chimney and brick gable to pieces and melting the gas and water pipes. The house was unoccupied.

During a fire which did $400 damage to Charles Shields' stable on Saturday evening the proprietor of the Rob Roy hotel was outside viewing the conflagration when some person got into the bar-room through an open fanlight and removed $13.50 from the till.

For striking his brother, John Wade, on the head with a stone Saturday night, Daniel Wade was this morning sentenced by the Police Magistrate to two months in the Central Prison.

On Saturday night about 6 o'clock a spark from a passing train set fire to an oil car at Winona. The oil tank and a car loaded with bananas were burned.

The relatives of Edward Ennis, a glass-blower of this city, received word on Saturday evening that he had been killed on the railway at Trenton, N.J.

A petition is to be circulated for the release of William Lawlor, who was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in connection with the Simcoe jewelry robbery about five years ago.

The funeral of the late Miss M. Lucas took place yesterday afternoon. An unusual feature of the proceedings was the employment of six young girls as pall-bearers.

Commissioner Coombes has again sent lady officers to command the Salvationists in Hunter-street. The leader is Captain Butler, a slim, palefaced, English girl, about 18 years old, who is known as "the Daisy."

BURNT GROCERIES.

A $170,000 Fire at Wichita, Kan.—An Early Blaze at Alliston.

WICHITA, Kan., July 29.—Fire broke out this morning in the three story brick building occupied by the Cannon Fruit Commission Company and spread to the adjoining four story brick building occupied by the Wichita Wholesale Grocery Company. The loss amounts to $170,000, the grocery being down for $107,000 of it.

Alliston Waked up by a Fire.

ALLISTON, July 29.—M. Young's shoe store in Victoria-street was burnt at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Young placed his loss on stock at $1,500; insurance $600. The fire was an incendiary one. The building was of little account. The only fire protection in this place is a hand fire engine. A meeting of the ratepayers is called for to-morrow at which the question of putting in waterworks is to be discussed.

An Ottawan's Sudden Death.

OTTAWA, July 29.—Donald McDonald, liquor dealer, aged 45, dropped dead at Alexandria on Saturday. Heart disease was the cause.

Died From Sunstroke.

OTTAWA, July 29.—Mrs. Lucinda Pierce, an aged lady, died here yesterday from the effects of a sunstroke received on Dominion Day.

The Water Walker.

BOSTON, July 29.—Prof. Oldrieve, the champion water walker, arrived here this morning after an exciting trip. He started from Pemberton last night and when darkness came on found himself midway between Rainsford and Long Island. He did not understand the currents and battled hard against strong tides when he tried to effect a landing. No person was about to help him, as the boatman who had been engaged to watch his progress left him when in sight of Rainsford Island. It came up foggy in the harbor and rain commenced to fall, so Oldrieve made for Long Island light, under the shades of which he slept in a hay stack till morning. In the pelting rain he started for this city soon after 5 o'clock and without further trouble arrived drenched to the skin, sore and exhausted. His ankles were terribly swollen and bruised.

The Lake Gives Up Its Dead.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

A NEWSBUTCHER TRIES TO SWINDLE A BANK.

Arrested For Presenting a Forged Check—Inquest on the Body of the Kelly Woman—A Port Hope Forger Arrested.

TORONTO, July 30.—The City Clerk yesterday received from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa a communication asking the increase of the population of Toronto in the last six months.

The inquest on the body of Lily Kelly, the dissipated woman who committed suicide in the cell of Agnes-street Police Station, was held by Coroner Powell at the morgue yesterday morning. After hearing the testimony of the police officials and two women who were in the cell, the jury brought in a verdict to the effect that deceased came to her death by suicide, and exculpating all the officers at the station.

Many of the carpenters' tools found on the premises of John James Irwin at 1518 Bloor-street have been claimed by carpenters at the Police Station and handed over. Irwin was sent to the Central for six months. The principal thief is supposed to be still at large.

Inspector Armstrong and his assistants at the Dundas Police Station yesterday afternoon destroyed the liquor found in the Union Hotel last September after the hotel had lost its license. There were four large barrels of beer and three or four dozen bottles of ale, whisky and wine.

Duncan McDougall, the young man who has been several times remanded on a charge of embezzlement, was yesterday morning discharged by the Magistrate, no case having been made against him.

Search is still being kept up for the body of the young girl Lillie World, who was drowned along with her father in the bay on Saturday night, but so far the efforts have proved fruitless.

John Macdonald, wholesale boot and shoe dealer, tanner and leather dealer, Tiverton and Kincardine, has assigned to the Merchants' Bank of this city, with liabilities of $40,000.

Sir Somers Vine, one of the Secretaries of the Imperial Institute of London, Eng., arrived in town yesterday morning. His mission is to secure products of all the colonies for the Provincial and Colonial courts of the institute. He will negotiate with the Ontario Government before going to Ottawa.

Within the present month the Standard and Union banks have been victimized by a series of forgeries, all for small amounts, in every instance the presence of the forged check being a smart looking lad of 16. In the case of the Union Bank there were four forged checks cashed purporting to be drawn by Holmes & Gregory, lawyers of King-street east. The first was for $25 and the other three for $20 each. The Standard Bank was victimized to the extent of three checks each for $30, and apparently signed by Holmes & Gregory. The signatures were a first-class imitation of the firm's genuine one. Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock a boy presented himself at the Standard Bank and handed in a $50 check a facsimile of those gone before. The cashier examined the check and then the boy, but the latter, unable to bear the scrutiny, made a break for the door. He was making his exit when a gentleman blocked his way and held him fast until Detective Slemin arrived on the scene and landed him at Headquarters. There he gave his name as Frederick Pendrill of 66 Givens street and his profession news butcher. He will plead to-day. The police believe that in Pendrill they have caught the party who victimized both banks.

On July 25 the detectives received a letter from Port Hope asking them to arrest one John Bentley for forgery and send him on. Yesterday afternoon Detectives Davis and Alf. Cuddy ran across their man in North Toronto and brought him to Headquarters. He will go to Port Hope to-day.

William Adams will be under arraignment yesterday in the Police Court for larceny, was recognized by Sergeant Detective Reburn as the man who on Oct. 5, 1885, sandbagged Allan Trebilcock in a row in St. John's Ward, for which a warrant stood against him. He was promptly arrested on the old warrant.

Joseph Kidd, the man who was under arrest for the seduction of Mary Ann Hyde, escaped the rigors of the law yesterday by marrying the girl.

FIRE AND FLOOD.

Forest Conflagrations in California—Many Dwellings Burnt.

CHICO, Cal., July 29.—Large forest fires are raging on the Humboldt-road, 18 miles from here. The fire has burnt over a district four miles long and is sweeping everything before it. Much usable timber has been destroyed. The inhabitants are fighting the flames with great energy. A Santa Barbara despatch says fires have been burning in the foot hills back of Santa Barbara. Twelve dwellings, a number of barns and a large quantity of hay have been destroyed and a number of cattle and horses perished.

A Cloudburst in Maryland.

SALISBURY, Md., July 29.—Yesterday between Laurel and Seaford a cloudburst occurred, flooding the country. The railroad tracks between Seaford and Delwar for 20 miles are under water most of the way.

A Massachusetts Cyclone.

NORTH WILBRAHAM, Mass., July 29.—A cyclone followed by a terrific rain storm visited this place this afternoon doing considerable damage.

Illicit Diamond Traffic.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—United States Consul Hollis of Capetown, Africa, reports that the illicit traffic in diamonds grew to such dimensions there that a law was passed punishing the buyer of a stolen stone with seven years' imprisonment in Breakwater Convict Station in company with the vilest and lowest criminals. Many innocent persons suffer, being induced to buy in ignorance of the law by Kaffir negroes employed by the authorities to inveigle strangers into making purchases. Two citizens of the United States are now imprisoned under this charge, Isaac Levy and Fred Nelson of Boston. The latter has been ashamed to write home although he has been in prison four years.

Mills Closed Because of a Failure.

CHESTER, Pa., July 29.—The Yeadon mills here and the Todmorden mills at Bancroft's Bank and the mills of Scheppers Bros. at Philadelphia have closed in consequence of the failure of Lewis Bros. & Co. The latter firm employed over 400 hands. The closing is believed to be only temporary.

The "Pan-American" Congress.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Cable advices from Rio Janeiro state the Government of Brazil has appointed a commission to the International Congress to be held at Washington in October. The commission sailed from Rio de Janeiro on July 24. The commission is also authorized to negotiate a treaty of commerce between Brazil and the United States.

Carried Away the Lock Gates.

ST. CATHARINES, July 29.—This morning as the American steamer W. A. Haskell of the Ontario Transportation Company, from Ogdensburg to Chicago, was passing up the new Welland Canal she struck and carried away the two head and one of the tail gates of lock 16. Considerable damage was done to the canal banks by the rush of water from the upper level, and low-lying property in the vicinity was more or less damaged. It is expected the break will be repaired and vessels be able to pass through by Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

RANTING ANARCHISTS.

Chicago's Vampires Hold a Jubilee—Mrs. Parsons Still in the Ring.

CHICAGO, July 29.—The 100th anniversary of the storming of the bastile was celebrated by the socialistic anarchistic societies of this city yesterday. It was practically a jubilee day for anarchists. Mrs. Parsons, widow of the leader of the Hay' market massacre, made an incendiary speech that was vociferously applauded by hundreds of listeners.

"The fall of the Bastile," she said, "was a victory for free government, a blow to tyranny, but it did not destroy economic slavery. We have a free Government here, they have a free Government in France, yet are we slaves. There must be another revolution (applause), a revolution against the bastiles of labor. The people must arise and—hear me—they will rise, and they will storm and capture those bastiles, and they will bear the heads of those devils, those capitalists, on the top of pike-staffs (vociferous applause.) They presume to rule by the divine right of the rifle and the Gatling gun, the noose and the prison, but they have no such divine right. You must seize those rifles and those Gatling guns, destroy the gallows and storm the prisons. Are the men at Washington who say there is a storm coming to blame for the damage done by the storm? If I say there is another revolution coming, am I to blame if it does come? Are you cowards, men, to stand still and tamely submit to such tyranny? Do you not know there are 4000 persons in Chicago to-day dependent on charity? Do you not know there are women in this very city who will to-night have to barter holy love for a crust of bread? I say there will be a revolution. I say you men are brave enough to rise and put down the tyrants. The revolution comes, the red flag waves, the bastile falls, the common people are triumphant, and history repeats itself."

The crowd cheered itself hoarse when Mrs. Parsons ended with these words, and continued cheering until the Marseillaise was begun by the band.

Paul Grottkau spoke in German. He said that men by the very power of wealth ruled the common people as they were never ruled by the men wearing the royal purple. He said another revolution was surely coming, and Chicago could not stop it with hangings, or the police or the world with Gatling guns. Tyrants would be again overthrown and the common people would again be triumphant. The story of the French revolution would be repeated throughout the world.

MISS IDA WILCOX TO WED.

The Heroine of an Alleged Elopement Will Marry an Englishman.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—The announcement of the engagement of Ida May Wilcox, daughter of Charles Wilcox of this city, to Henry J. Mylius of Milan, Italy, has been made public. Mrs. Wilcox and her daughter sailed from Havre yesterday for New York. Mr. Wilcox will leave next Wednesday or Thursday for New York to meet them. The wedding is to occur in this city about the middle of October. Mr. Mylius is an Englishman by birth, and it was learned last evening had resided six years at Adrian, Minn., where he was a member of the banking firm of Mylius Bros.

Mr. Wilcox admits all of these facts, but had little to say concerning the reports which had gone abroad about his daughter's elopement in January last. He said the match was distasteful to him and his wife at first, but after making every possible inquiry they had found nothing in the young man's character to which they would object. They had also ascertained that he was of good family and very wealthy. Their chief objection to the marriage was the fact that it would necessitate his daughter's going to Italy to live. He said there was absolutely no truth in the report that his daughter eloped with Dr. Sellon, and added that she had been with her mother all the time.

The newspapers of Jan. 29 last contained an account of the arrest in Paris of a Dr. Shellon of London and Miss Ida Wilcox, an American belle, 17 years of age and pretty. It was alleged that they had eloped from Nice, where the young lady and her mother had been staying a month. The doctor had with him an 11-year-old son and passed as an invalid in search of health. It was said that he had admired Ida from their first meeting; that the mother had objected; that a row in a hotel resulted, after which the spirited young belle had cashed a check from her father for $1750, met Dr. Sellon at Mentone and with him fled to Paris, where both had been arrested.

Dr. Sellon protested that the girl was of age and had come with him of her own accord. Ida refused to leave the doctor, it was said, and the entire party started back to Mentone by the next train. At the examination it was shown that the girl was over 16 years of age and that, therefore, under the French law, Dr. Sellon could not be held for her abduction. Moreover, it was established that Miss Wilcox had run away of her own free will. The accused English physician was thereupon liberated, and this was the last of the affair that appeared in print. Mr. Wilcox, at the time, declined to believe it was a genuine elopement, attributing his daughter's flight to a tiff with her mother.

HE MIGHT HAVE BEEN A BISHOP.

But Rev. Dr. Earp's Habit of Borrowing Led to His Undoing.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 29.—Rev. Dr. Samuel Earp, rector of St. Andrew's Church in this city and one of the most prominent Episcopalian preachers in the Diocese of Michigan, has left his pastorate and gone into retirement at the Battle Creek Sanitarium. Dr. Earp was a candidate for the bishopric at the election in the spring to succeed the late Bishop Harris, and would have been elected only for ugly rumors that were in circulation against him.

For the past three or four years the Doctor has been in the habit of borrowing sums of money, varying from $50 to $1000, under the promise of paying in a short time, and then apparently forgetting all about it. He has borrowed a large amount of money, never paid a cent of it back, and through his borrowing has caused a trusty cashier, who loaned bank funds to him, to be discharged and made a young tradesman fail. There is no clue as to how he has used the money, for he has always lived frugally and had no expensive tastes or habits. Many persons believe that the doctor has been blackmailed. The general opinion is that he is crazy. The parish had resolved to ask for his resignation, but he anticipated the request by resigning.

TO BUY THE ESQUIMALT YARDS.

A Syndicate of U. S. Capitalists Formed to Purchase the Naval Station.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—It is reported that Theodore Cramp of the Philadelphia shipbuilding firm has formed a syndicate of American capitalists to buy the British naval station at Esquimalt, Vancouver Island. The syndicate, it is said, has a capital of $4,000,000, and negotiations for the yard and docks are now pending. The purchase price is said to be about $1,500,000. It is understood the British Government finds the Esquimalt yards impossible for the original purpose.

Mining in Algoma East.

SUDBURY, July 29.—Mining operations of a practical character are progressing rapidly. The Canadian Copper Co. of Sudbury (Standard Oil Co. of Cleveland) are erecting a second smelter and the output of the two will overrun $3,000,000 per annum. Sixty men are putting the Vermillion gold mine in shape and the Krean & Harwood has been reopened by the Dominion Mining Company, who have purchased the Du Charme prospects in Blizzard and Denison and are pushing them all.

Simpson Bros. are down 35 to 40 feet in two shafts and work on arastra as a practical test as they go along. At last cleaning up they got eight pounds of platinum and considerable gold and silver.

A week ago a piece of quartz was taken 25 pounds in weight and thickly speckled with free gold. The Murray Mine (4 miles northwest of Sudbury) is being tested by Vivian & Co., Swansea, Wales, and their assayer is well satisfied with the results. Tin, iron and cobalt are added to the list of recent finds.

An immense deposit of iron has been located on the Spanish River in the township of May. In Victoria Salter several good finds have been made, and Hallan will be not less productive of mineral wealth. Procter, Ward & Dewar are at work on the Lochoche mountains in 110 and 116 finding gold, silver, copper, tin and iron in quantity.

THE ROYAL GRANTS BILL.

DEBATE GOES ON AFTER AS BEFORE THE WEDDING.

Lord Mayor Sexton of Dublin Claims that a Letter to Him From President Harrison was Tampered with.

LONDON, July 29.—The House of Commons in committee of the whole resumed the debate on the Royal Grants Bill to-day. John Morley moved an amendment declaring that:

The House is unwilling to increase the burdens of the people without assurance that no further claims will be made for younger members of the royal family.

He denied that he opposed the grants because he dare not openly attack the Crown. He opposed them, he said, because Parliament had in no degree failed to comply with any provision of the act of 1837. The Government had not made out their case either in the Select Committee or the House. Parliament had already liberally provided for all the children of the Queen. It had not been shown that retrenchments might not be made in expenditures upon royalty without causing the Queen any anxiety. He especially objected to the assertion of the claim to grants of the grand children of the Queen. Lord Hartington's speech on Friday clearly indicated an intention to preserve that right for future use. It was proposed not to restrict these claims to the children of the heir-apparent, but to open them to grandchildren of the sovereign generally. He moved the amendment in order to prevent a reassertion and reaffirmation of a claim the justice of which he denied.

Mr. Chamberlain said that Mr. Morley objected to the grants because no finality was promised, but as regarded the present reign the proposed grants were absolutely final. He did not think that after the Queen's promise any Minister would advise any sovereign to ask further grants for other grandchildren of Her Majesty. It was argued there was no security against such grants in the event of a new reign, but a general declaration against them was worthless, as the whole question must be decided when the civil list was discussed. Mr. Chamberlain denied that Mr. Labouchere and his colleagues represented the people. They only represented a small minority. They did their utmost to stimulate the popular prejudices to which truckled. It was shameful to fawn upon a monarch, but it was still more shameful to truckle to the multitude. The members who were doing so were nothing less than the Nihilists of English politics. [Loud Conservative cheers and Radical groans.]

Mr. Labouchere said he hailed Mr. Morley's amendment as a practical refusal of further grants during the present reign. With future reigns he would not trouble himself. Sufficient for this reign was the grandchildren thereof. Public opinion was making strides towards a universal acceptance of the principle that the Sovereign like any other head of family ought to provide for her children. The Conservatives, who in and out of season had villified Mr. Gladstone, were now ready to fall downland worship him because on the question of the grants he had turned their way. They would worship the devil himself under similar circumstances. [Cries of "Order!"] In conclusion he said that he and his colleagues would be beaten on the division, but he intended to oppose the grants at every stage as a moral protest against the Crown's claim.

Mr. Morley's amendment was defeated by a vote of 355 to 134.

Mr. Gladstone, the Parnellites and the bulk of the dissidents again voted with the Government.

The minority included Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, Sir George O. Trevelyan, Hugh C. Childers, George Shaw-Lefevre and A. J. Mundella. Sir William Vernon-Harcourt said he would vote against the grants because the accompanying declarations of principle were altogether unsound. The Queen, according to the Government's declarations, waived further claims for her grandchildren, yet the Government persisted in keeping alive these claims and tried to perpetuate them.

The Unionists Must Exert Themselves.

LONDON, July 29.—Lord Randolph Churchill in a speech at Walsall to-day said the bye-elections had shown that the opposition had more popular strength than he as a Conservative liked, while the Conservatives lacked corresponding energy. The whole fate of the Empire depended upon the result of the next election and it was necessary that the Unionists exert themselves.

Did the Letter Go via Kingston?

DUBLIN, July 29.—President Harrison has sent a letter to Lord Mayor Sexton in reply to the Dublin corporation's expression of sympathy for the sufferers by the Johnstown disaster. In it he says:

I highly appreciate the exceedingly kind spirit that prompted your action. Please accept the warmest thanks of the President and the American people for the touching expressions of sympathy and generous gifts of the citizens of Dublin.

Mr. Sexton states that the official envelope in which the letter was enclosed bore plain traces of having been tampered with. The seal had been melted and the envelope refastened with another kind of gum and the American crest on the envelope was defaced.

THE BRAIN (from a photograph)
In Healthy Condition. With Paresis Lesions.

There are many well known men confined in our Asylums who but a short time ago were prominent among our business and social circles.

Why are they there?

Paresis!

Did it come on at once?

Not at all. It was a gradual but positive growth. They overtaxed nature. The strain on their vitality, their nerve powers, their brain tissue, was too great, and they gradually but surely sank under it. The things they did to bring this sad end about are precisely the same things that are being done by thousands of men and women to-day. It is not necessary to name them. They all end disastrously unless checked or regulated.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, knew this fully when he began his experiments which resulted in the discovery of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. He realized that paresis (consumption of the brain) was our great National weakness. He knew that the brain and nervous system must be fortified to meet the great strains which modern life bring upon it. He saw that men were becoming debilitated and women weakened by the pressure and demands of life, and he sought and discovered the remedy Paine's Celery Compound, if rightly taken, will renew the brain and build up nerve tissues as fast as they become exhausted. It is not a narcotic. It contains no drugs, no nostrums. It is perfectly pure. It is absolutely harmless. The high character of its discoverer guarantees this, and the indorsement of the medical and chemical professions prove it.

The Midland District.

The Grand Trunk Route to its Beauties, Recreative Attractions and Sporting Haunts.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company issues a beautiful little pamphlet descriptive of the summer resorts reached by its lines, and among the places treated are those in the Midland District as described in the following extract:

The Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway takes the tourist through some of the most picturesque and varied scenery—a pleasant and ever-changing panorama, while at the same time it is a perfect sportsman's paradise.

The Midland has four terminal stations, Toronto, Whitby, Port Hope and Belleville, and from all these the chief points of interest are easily and speedily reached. Toronto has already been amply described; Whitby, once a Seneca village, and early settled by the French, is thirty miles east, bordering on Lake Ontario; Port Hope, formerly the Ganeraske of the Indians, is one of the pleasantest of the lake-side towns. It boasts of a capital harbor and during the season of navigation the large steamer "Norseman" plies regularly between this place and Rochester, many sportsmen choosing this route to reach the famous hunting grounds of Midland, Ontario, reduced fares being made for fishermen and shooters. Belleville is an incorporated city, beautifully situated on the Bay of Quinte. The river Moira passes through the city, and furnishes water power for the numerous manufacturing industries of the place. In the summer time steamers leave daily for different ports along the bay and river St. Lawrence. Massassauga Point on this bay is quite a resort, and excellent fishing is to be had here. Among the winding and romantic shores of this bay the more destructive form of enterprise has happily stayed its hand, so that much of the primitive beauty survives. Then, too, the charm of this famous bay is in no slight measure due to cloud effects and the changeful humor of the sun, while the inlets and wooded headlands, and the waving barley fields beyond—for the barley of the Bay of Quinte is far-famed—all add to the beauty of the surrounding scenery.

One of the first places to be visited in this district is the charming Trent River, which may be reached from either Trenton or Campbellford. It is navigable for canoes, with one or two short portages, some picturesque falls are met with, and its waters teem with maskalonge and black bass. In the summer of 1883, the American Canoe Association met here, and so charmed were they with the delightful scenery and the places they visited, that in the following year their visit was renewed. As numerous tourists now seek a summer outing in a canoe, it may not be uninteresting to follow the members of the Association in their trip, who, with their friends and families, number some four hundred. Passing up the Trent River, Rice Lake was reached, one of the prettiest of the inland waters, and which is specially reserved by Government for fishing purposes, a permit being granted to applicants at a nominal cost. This lake was most appropriately named, for as the early pilgrims approached this water they found it deeply fringed with wild rice, over which hovered clouds of wild fowl—beautiful wood-duck, with summer glistening in their plumage; also fall and winter duck just returned from the north. Throughout this lake are scattered conical islets, wooded with maples, whose bright leaves at times fall on the water like flakes of fire. A township on the lower edge of Rice Lake has been aptly named Asphodel—no unfit designation for well watered meadows, where the shades of Indian heroes may still linger!

On Rice Lake the chief Indian settlement is Hiawatha—named after the hero of Ojibbeway mythology, whom Longfellow has immortalized in his melodious trochaics. Here you may still find, in the ordinary language of the Ojibbeway, fragments of fine imagery and picture-talk, often in the very words which the American poet has so happily woven together, while the scenery of this Trent Valley reproduces that of the Vale of Tawasentha. Here are "the wild rice of the river," and "the Indian village," and "the groves of singing pine trees, ever sighing, ever singing." At Fenelon Falls we have "Minnehaha"—"Laughing Water"—and not far below is Sturgeon lake, the realm of the "Kingly Fishes." Sturgeon of portentious size are yet met with, though falling somewhat short of the comprehensive fish sung by Longfellow, which swallowed Hiawatha, canoe and all.

Still retracing a new rondeau, and pursuing the course of our canoes, the Otonabee—"Mouthwater"—River was next entered, and the journey continued to Lakefield, a station on the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk system. The Otonabee here expands into Lake Katchewanook, the "Lake of the Rapids;" thence, between bold and rocky banks, it races, rather than flows, to Peterborough, the channel descending 150 feet in nine miles. Clear Lake, where the overflow of the whole lake chain is gathered into a crystal funnel, is next entered, and junction made with Stony Lake, which owes its wild beauty to the Laurentian formation, which often abruptly closes the vista with beetling crags of red or gray gneiss, and which here formed the islands, which, in the years above alluded to were whitened by the tents of the Canoe Association. Burleigh Falls, Love-Sick Lake, Fairy Lake, are all a continuation of this water system, and offer the canoeist an uninterrupted course of some 500 miles through a variety of scenery, which the world can nowhere excel for natural and picturesque beauty.

By the Trent Valley Canal the charming and romantic village of Bobcaygeon is reached. The steamer "Beaubocage," which plies between Lindsay and Bobcaygeon, would evidently associate the name with the French explorers, and to their outspoken admiration of the "lovely woodlan is" on these waters. Without doubt, the fishing in this neighborhood is the very finest to be had in the country. The village is surrounded by water on all sides, and the ripples of the falls can be plainly heard. There is excellent hunting to be had in these parts; deer abound, and guides are readily procured, the season lasting from October 15th to December 15th. Bobcaygeon was founded by the ancestors of Mr. Museum Boyd, a gentleman resident here, whose generous hospitality has been freely granted to many a seeker of sport in his locality. From this place a pleasant excursion by means of the Trent Valley Navigation Company may be made to Sturgeon Point, where is located one of the best summer hotels in Canada with capital fishing near by; thence through Sturgeon Lake and Scugog River to Lindsay.

Lindsay, charmingly situated on the Scugog River, is one of the pleasantest of the inland towns of Canada. It has a population of upwards of 5,000 inhabitants; is the county seat of Victoria County, contains the county buildings, and several fine churches and schools, while its river facilities offer many pleasant excursions by water.

North of Lindsay are Fenelon Falls, named after the early French missionary of Canada, who was a brother of the great archbishop. These falls enlist the admiration of all who see them. They are picturesquely situated where Lake Cameron empties itself into the Fenelon River; and the government has erected locks here, to complete this chain of inland communication. Progressing in a northerly direction Haliburton is reached, by a branch of the Grand Trunk, formerly known as the Victoria Railway. Here are to be found the great lumber regions of the English Colonization Company, where are numerous lakes and streams; where lovers of the gentle art can meet with the best of sport, while there is no section of country where deer are more plentiful. There are important stone quarries here, while Mount Snowden may be regarded as a solid mountain of iron. South of Lindsay is Port Perry, a prettily situated town of some 3,000 inhabitants, on the Scugog, possessing many attractions to the tourist.

Thirty miles north of Port Hope, and ninety miles northeast of Toronto, is the thriving town of Peterborough, which is now entering the dignity of a city, and whose growth and development have been rapid and well assured. No part of Canada owes more to its pioneers than this charming and most healthful lake-land. Some of the finest towns were, two generations ago, jungle reeking with malaria, and infested by wolves, black flies, black snakes and black bears. Now all is transformed. The history of Peterborough dates back to 1825, when Peter Robinson led thither his first band of Irish emigrants. The town has now a population of some 10,000 inhabitants, and is joined to the Village of Ashburnham, opposite, by a handsome bridge. There is good hotel accommodation, excellent fishing in the river, and no one making a tour in Midland Ontario should neglect to visit this place.

Further east, and a terminal point of the line, is Madoc, which can also be reached from Belleville, a distance of some thirty miles.

To the minor and metallurgist Madoc township became in the fall of 1880 an object of the keenest interest, from the discovery of gold on the upper course of the Moira.

Iron mining in this district has long been associated with the township of Marmora. This region affords some splendid scenery; there is capital hunting and good hotels, while Lake Moira, named after an early governor, the Earl of Moira, is without doubt one of the prettiest lakes in the world.

A two hours' trip from Toronto lands the tourist in the beautiful village of Sutton, chiefly populated by old English settlers, and which abounds in points of interest and picturesque scenery. At Jackson's Point, one mile from the village, has been erected, under the auspices of the citizens of Toronto and the residents of Sutton, on of the finest summer hotels in Canada, while capital fishing is to be had here, and from this point steamers ply across Lake Simcoe to Big Bay Point, thence to Barrie, to Orillia and to Lake Couchiching. Lake Simcoe is one of the most beautiful and favored lakes of Canada, and to those desiring a pleasant and cheap stay on its shores, Jackson's Point is strongly commended as a most charming summer resort.

Lake Simcoe is not wanting in historic interest, for in its neighborhood were enacted the dreadful tragedies of the Huron-Iroquois war. Here, were there space, could be narrated deeds of the loftiest heroism and of the most fiendish cruelty. In this corner of Ontario a nation was saved from utter extermination only by the intervention of the white strangers. Had the French arrived fifty years later the Huron nation would have disappeared as utterly as did the Mound-builders. Later on it became the scene of five great battles, in which the Missisaugas, an Ojibbeway tribe, overcame the Iroquois and drove them out of the country.

There are so many pleasant trips to be taken in connection with this Midland route, that only a personal visit can succinctly portray the beauties and infinite varieties of this region.

Another point interesting to the tourist is Chemong Lake, which may be reached from any of the frontier termini, via Peterborough, and a drive of six miles. In succession to this, a pleasant trip is to Stony and Clear Lakes, thence to Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Lake and Lindsay.

The Grand Trunk Compay have completed an extension of line from Peterborough to Bridgenorth, at the head of Chemong Lake, which obviates all necessity for staging.

The northern terminus of this division of the Grand Trunk is at Midland, a thriving and enterprising town, pleasantly situated on the Georgian Bay, and which possesses historical associations of interest, as having been one of the early settlements of Sebastian Cabot. There is an old fort here, the traces of which are yet to be seen, and old muskets and bayonets are often dug up. Strange as it may seem to any one studying the map of Canada, by Midland was the early route from east to west, prior to any knowledge of Lake Ontario, the path taken being by the Ottawa River, and thus to the Georgian Bay, from which a Government road led to Lake Simcoe, then by canoes to Beaverton, and by the Yonge-street road to Toronto.

From Midland, by the Muskoka & Georgian Bay Navigation Company, a daily service is given to Parry Sound, and a semi-weekly service to Byng Inlet. One of the greatest attractions afforded by this line are the facilities granted to camping expeditions. Annually several thousand families are carried to the various islands which dot the Georgian Bay, and which in number and variety surpass the Thousand Isles.

MUNCASTER'S

Ivy.

Thou art a friend for evil days, and show
Thyself most constantly when the summer crowd
That revels in the sun, dismayed and cowed,
Has shrunk away till colder breezes blow.
Exultingly thou shakest off the snow,
Emerging boldly from the cold white shroud,
With beauty unimpaired, a conqueror proud.
A daring climber thou, and yet the low
Unsightly things of earth thou seekest out
To weave thy graceful tendrils round about.
Brave, faithful ivy! I would learn from thee
Amid life's ills invincible to be;
And in this tangled coil where ill I see,
Be mine to veil it with sweet charity.

The Speculator and the Rustler.

The real-estate agent met the man at the depot who had invested in the new Dakota town by mail, and, after a twenty-mile ride across the prairie, he said to him:

"We are now exactly in the center of Metropolis City."

"What?" yelled the speculator, "I don't see but three houses!"

"Of course—I live in one, the newspaper is printed in another, and the postoffice is in the other."

"But where are all the railroads I saw on the map?"

"Coming, sir, all of them coming. No mistake about it because I am president of each company."

"But are those lots I bought right here by the postoffice?"

"Such questions make me tired. No, sir, those lots by the postoffice are for the chamber of commerce, and all the others around here are business lots. You bought residence lots: they are beyond the slough and over the hill, about a mile from here. You don't want to live right in the heart of a city, do you? By the way, I keep a hotel as well as a real-estate office—do you want to stay with me to-night, or will you lay out? If you want to stop with me you'll have to pay in advance—I don't like the looks of your baggage."—Dakota Bell.

The Sepulchre in Jerusalem.

You feel that if He neither suffered, was laid, nor rose here, yet that the power of His Cross, His Grave and His Resurrection has brought your fellows here for many years, and that they have gone back the stronger and the happier for the effort to know Him better, and to worship where they believe He suffered and conquered.

The sepulchre itself is in the center of the church, an oblong tomb, into which you pass through a low entrance, and you find that within it is divided into two chapels, the innermost being the spot where his body is supposed to have been laid. There I was one day when a Syrian woman came in and startled me into the knowledge of her presence by her bitter weeping. She had not noticed me in the dim light, and plainly thought herself alone. I could not pass her without disturbing her, and as I saw her standing before the altar, her white head-vail thrown back, in the simple Eastern dress which seems to have been handed down unchangingly, and beating her breast passionately, then throwing herself on the ground sobbing her lament, and offering an agonized prayer, I could not but think of the Mother of the Lord, of Mary Magdalene, and the daughters of Jerusalem. This was one of the many incidents which were perpetually recurring which made time disappear, made the past the present, and by which the dead still seemed to be living on this earth.—Sophia M. Palmer, in Quiver.

This is the story of Maharajah Holkar's sudden departure from London during the jubilee. It was arranged that he was to attend the Imperial Institute corner-stone laying, going in the procession just after a couple of German Princes. "What?" he cried, "I follow a brace of peddling Dutchmen? Not much!" "But you must," said Sir Lepel Griffin; "the Queen expects you and will be angry if you don't go." And he emphasized his remark by laying hold of Holkar's arm. "What," roared the Indian, "has the master become the slave? I will not go, I say!" In an hour he was on his way to Paris.

How to Bleach It.

The Standard is the gilt-edged club of the Hebrew element of the city, and an afternoon or evening there will repay any one who has the good fortune to be a guest. The Hebrews can give and take a joke about as gracefully as any nationality. Sidney Smith once said that it required a surgical operation to get a Scotchman to see a joke. The Hebrew is as unlike the Scot in this respect as a democrat is unlike a republican. I heard at the Standard the other evening a shot which would have lasted almost any other nationality. I do not vouch for its originality, but is was new to me. A merchant on Market street, who is quite frequent in his libations, and consequently carries a nose as rubicund as one of the danger lights on the north side, was playing cards. One of the party incidentally observed: "Isaac, you haf the most putiful hand I ever saw hung to a man. It is as soft and vite as a voomans."

"When I vas a poy, Shakup," returned Isaac, "I always slept vid my hand in shammy skin. Dot made 'em vite."

"You petter put dot nose of yours in a shammy skin for avhile, Isaac."

The retort broke up the game, but Isaac broke the necks from a half dozen of extra dry.—Chicago Mail.

The triumph of the quick-acting camera is complete. A successful photograph has been taken of a lady's features at the instant she was telling another lady of her trouble with the new girl. The outlines of the speaker's lips and chin were clearly defined, although the movement made by these must have been inconceivably rapid.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Mr. Hedrick, of Red Bank, Mon., recently discovered from the barking of his dog twenty-five large rattlesnakes, three of which he killed. The other twenty-two went into a cave near by.

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and,

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Both By-laws Carried.

The Verdict of the People Declares for the New Market Building And the Market Room on the Second Floor The Ontario Pump Factory Gratuity of $650 per Year Endorsed.

The voting on the two by-laws yesterday was conducted with little outward show of excitement, though there was considerable quiet and effective work done on both sides. The result was to many persons a surprise, showing, however, that the people are not by any means opposed to improvement, and that they favour the principle of building up the town by the establishment of industrial enterprises. The majorities in the market building vote—for the $25,000 debenture by-law, and the plebicite to decide as to the first or second floor for the market room—was very large, considering the number of votes polled. Post Office Savings Banks.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In your issue of the 29th instant you call attention to the recent defalcations in the Post Office Savings Bank in Kingston, and incidentally refer to the routine of the department. As one having had occasion to transact business with the Post Office Savings Banks and the Savings Banks of the chartered Banks, I should like, if you will kindly grant me space, to point out, by way of contrast, the cumbersome, inconvenient and unsatisfactory manner in which the former are carried on, as compared with the simple, convenient and efficient system of the savings banks of the latter.

In the former, each depositor's account is kept in the Postmaster General's office, in Ottawa. In addition to the local postmaster's receipt in the pass book, a direct acknowledgment from the Postmaster General for each sum paid in is sent to the depositor. This the depositor must receive within ten days, otherwise he has to write to the Postmaster General and inform him of its non-receipt, and if necessary write again, because the postmaster's receipt is not sufficient without the further receipt for the money from Ottawa.

The depositor is thus kept in a state of uncertainty for some days and may have to call at the post office again and again before he knows for a fact that the transaction is satisfactorily completed, and the government responsible for the money. This not only causes needless anxiety but much inconvenience and loss of time. Compare the foregoing roundabout way with the following simple and efficient system of the saving's bank departments of the chartered banks. The depositor goes to the bank, deposits the money, receives a pass book and the transaction is there and then completed. No needless delay. No waiting in a state of uncertainty for days. The entry in the pass book by the clerk makes the bank responsible.

Then with regard to the withdrawal of money, the cumbersome system of the government comes out in strong contrast with that of the banks. A post office depositor wishing to withdraw money, no matter how small the amount, goes to the post office, tells the postmaster what he requires, waits for days until the postmaster communicates with the postmaster general's department in Ottawa and receives instructions to pay the money. The depositor, having waited some days, possibly at much inconvenience, goes again to the post office, and, should the advice from Ottawa be received, obtains his money.

Now compare this with the expeditious and satisfactory system of the chartered banks.

The depositor goes to the bank, tells the clerk what amount is required and at once receives the money. The transaction is also, as in the case of depositing, there and then completed. No waiting at much inconvenience. No loss of time by having to call again and again for the money.

The bank's as a rule are solid institutions and it would be well for those having money to deposit to place it where the business is not carried on in so complicated a way as it is in the Post Office Savings Bank.

Yours,

DEPOSITOR.

An Important New Industry.

The Spiral Weld Steel Gas Main. Water Main and other Pipe to be Manufactured in Peterborough If our Capitalist Citizens Wish to Encourage An Important Industry.

The push, energy and enterprise of Mr. W. H. Law, the stirring and wide-awake originator and proprietor of the Central Iron Bridge Works, have found a new direction. For some time past, Mr. Law has been following the course of an important new invention, the manufacture of what is known as the spiral weld steel pipe, and this style of pipe having been thoroughly tested, is found to be of such practical utility that it will create a revolution in its branch of manufacture and so feasible that Mr. Law, who is quick to see such things in a practical light, took prompt steps to introduce the manufacture in Peterborough. Briefly described the manufacture of the pipe is as below. A ribbon of steel of from 1⅝ to 15 inches in width, according to the size of pipe, is inserted into a machine in a diagonal direction and roled in a spiral manner so that the edges of the ribbon, 1-16 of an inch in thickness overlap about ⅛ of an inch; at the same time a get of burning hydrogen gas is directed against the lapped edges and the intense heat brings the steel to a welding heat and an automatic trip hammer welds the two edges as firmly as the original plate, and as the process goes on a solid steel cylinder is formed of any length desired or practicable. The resulting pipe is practically of solid steel, perfectly true, very light and of great strength. The pipes made are tested up to 300 lbs to the square inch, whereas the test for ordinary cast iron pipe is only from 75 to 150 lbs to the square inch. The bursting pressure of the spiral weld steel pipe is 1300 lbs. This pipe is also very light as the following comparison with cast iron pipe will show:—Six-inch cast iron pipe 37 lbs to the foot. Spiral weld steel pipe 4 lbs to the foot. This new pipe is of almost universal adaptability. It can be used for water mains, gas mains, telegraph poles, gas lamp standards, furnace flues, etc. At present the minimum limit of diameter is 4 inches, and the maximum limit has not yet been reached. There is no practical reason why steam boilers may not be made in this way. They will be of superior strength to the riveted boiler.

The machinery required is exceedingly simple, and the cost of equipment therefore inconsiderable, but owing to the bulky nature of the pipe, large buildings will be required. Mr. Law at first proposed to himself amalgamating the business with his bridge works, but he has since decided, in view of his requiring larger premises for his bridge industry, to erect a separate establishment, and with this end in view he will try to organize a joint stock company with a capital stock of $50,000 and in case of success the new work will be proceeded with at once. It is to be hoped our property owners will take a practical view of the importance of adding an important industry to those already in the town, and give Mr. Law that assistance in the way of investment in a paying business which he requires. They should investigate the matter thoroughly, in which case there can be little fear of their not being favorably impressed. Samples of the spiral weld steel pipe may be seen at Mayor Stevenson's office, and the public are cordially invited to call and inspect them.

The Sawdust Cases.

Three Defendants Fined $20 and Costs—A Similar Charge Laid Again Against All Three Parties.

Police Magistrate Dumble this morning gave judgment in the three sawdust cases, in which the defendants were charged by Fishery Inspector Gilchrist with polluting the river with sawdust from their mills. The following are copies of the written judgments delivered:

GILCHRIST VS. IRWIN.

The complaint herein is that Mr. Irwin deposits sawdust and mill refuse in the Otonabee river.

Mr. Irwin is a lumberman operating a very extensive sawmill at Nassau on the Otonabee. The mill is run by water power. It contains numerous circular and several gang saws. The edgings, cuttings, slabs, etc., are, so far as practicable, gathered by a tram car, run down to a kiln and there consumed by fire. The sawdust, for the most part, goes into the river. It is contended that, owing to the construction of these large gang saw mills, the sawdust must drop freely from the saw through the pitman hole into the river. In fact from personal examination I find that the oscillating action of the pitman, one end of which is attached to a crank in the water and the other to the frame containing the gang saws, calls for and absolutely requires an open slot in which to work and it much facilitates the operation of sawing to allow the sawdust from these saws to drop clear through into the river through the open slot. The millers contend that more or less sawdust must inevitably enter the river, but in this mill practically no effort was made to prevent it entering the river. In fact, the river is used as the most effective means of getting rid of the sawdust.

It is not for me to regulate the situation of the mills, and there mode of construction. The problem of the disposal of the sawdust is a very difficult one. On the occasion of my visit the waters of the river were receiving sawdust from all the mills. It was permeated through and through with the sawdust. In early days all the slabs, edgings, bark, sawdust—all the refuse went out into the river—tens of thousands of tons are deposited in the Little Lake and river all the way to Rice Lake. Now only the sawdust enters, but, from a mill cutting eight or ten million of feet a year the sawdust is a vast quantity, and, though it is late in the day, the object of the prosecution is to compel the owners of these water powers to make all possible effort to keep the sawdust out. I am quite satisfied that in this mill little or no effort is made to obey the law in this respect. It will probably be a considerable expense and trouble to make the necessary changes, but the object to be accomplished is so important that I think the action of the government in directing the prosecution is none too early.

I do not find that Mr. Irwin has made reasonable and fair efforts to keep the sawdust out of the river. I therefore find him guilty of the charge as laid and adjudge that he do pay a fine of $20 and costs.

D. W. DUMBLE.

GILCHRIST VS. HAZLITT.

I find that Mr. Hazlitt has made a great effort to control the sawdust and remove it. I find that at the lower mill he keeps one cart engaged, at the old circular saw mill two carts and at the large mill two double teams engaged removing the sawdust. Yet I find a considerable quantity of sawdust entering the river from these mills. I think still further efforts may accomplish better results. The simple question before me is, is the law violated? It is not for me to control the prosecution. I assume that when the government is satisfied that all fair efforts to meet the difficulty have been made the prosecution will be relaxed. As I find the law is violated, I find Mr. Hazlitt guilty and adjudge that he pay a fine of $20 and costs.

D. W. DUMBLE.

GILCHRIST VS. HILLIARD.

In this case I find very little if any attempt to control and remove the sawdust. On the contrary I find many chutes made on purpose to lead sawdust and mill rubbish into the river. I find Mr. Hilliard guilty and adjudge that he pay a fine of $20 and costs.

D. W. DUMBLE.

July 30th.

The same charge was relaid against the above defendants, but the hearing was enlarged for a fortnight.

Judgment was further reserved in the case of Gilchrist vs. Strickland, charged with an offence similar to that of which the foregoing were convicted.

Christian Endeavor.

Interesting Regular Meeting of St. Paul's Endeavor Society.

At the regular meeting of this Society there was a large attendance, the ladies, however, rather surpassing their usual ratio of numerical superiority where good works are concerned, the young ladies numbering about ten to one compared to the young men.

Mr. R. McCollum, president of the Society occupied the chair, and after devotional exercises introduced the subject of Consecration in a practical pointed address.

This was followed by a very interesting address from Mr. W. J. Leslie, of Toronto, who had been a delegate to the general Convention of Christian Endeavor Societies of the United States and Canada, held at Philadelphia recently.

Mr. Leslie gave a brief report with running comment of the proceedings of the Convention, at which there was an attendance of between three and four thousand delegates. After devotional and routine exercises on Tuesday the convention sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Mills of Montreal; his subject was the Christian Soldier, and was a magnificent effort and placed Canadian oratorical ability in a highly creditable light before the convention. On Wednesday morning there was a prayer meeting at 6 o'clock which was attended by 3000 delegates. At nine o'clock and after the report of the treasurer a question drawer was opened.

In the afternoon were presented reports from state and provincial societies, and in the evening there was the annual address of the president—Rev. Dr. Clark of Boston; the originator of the Christian Endeavour Societies. Eight years ago, the membership of these societies was only 400; the number of members was now 500,000. On Thursday there was the ordinary routine and on Thursday night the closing exercises were concluded by a glorious consecration meeting, which would ever rest in the memory of all the representatives. The characteristic of all the meetings was whole-hearted enthusiasm and consecration—a perfect community of feeling and interest. Seventeen Christian denominations were represented, but there was no feeling of sect or doctrinal distinction. Among the things learned at this convention was the fact that the Christian Endeavor Society was of divine origin—a necessity for reaching the young people. The reports showed also that through its medium thousands and thousands had been converted. One object of the Christian Endeavor Society was to inculcate loyalty to the church, with which it formed a part, and not to disseminate the breaking down of denominational lines. The speaker read extracts from the reports of the meetings of the Convention to show the spirit that animated Christian Endeavor societies, and the work they were designed to accomplish. If Christian Endeavour societies were faithful to their duty, the result would be a revolution in Christian society and church work.

The next meeting of the local society will be on Tuesday evening next, when the subject will be "Steadfastness." The meeting was closed by prayers offered by Mr. Colville, Y.M.C.A. Secretary.

Children's tickets, half price.

The Vexed Question Settled.

Now that the market question is settled, all the councillors will be giving tea-parties to celebrate the event and they will all buy their tea at Hawley Bros, the great emporium of choice teas, pure fragrant coffees and fine glassware. Bear this in mind, and go to Hawley Bros., when you want the purest goods of the above classes.

Chemong Park.

Its Summer Aspect—Perfected and Pending Improvements.

The EXAMINER has more than once dealt elaborately with beauties and attractiveness of Chemong Park and its striking advantages as a summer resort, and the delightful features of the place are becoming every year better known, and, by natural consequence, better appreciated. A visit a day or two ago to Chemong Park revealed it in the highest flush of beauty and attractiveness The moment one enters the Park gates the fresh and invigorating air that sweeps upwards from placid Lake Chemong strikes the senses with an agreeable suggestiveness of health and comfort. This sensation a few moments later is accompanied with the delightful view that meets the eye. Glancing over the smooth sweep of sward, now at its richest hue of emerald freshness, the vistas formed by the openings of the interlacing branches of the giant oaks are closed by the bright sparkle of bright water with here and there a glimpse of tree-dotted meadow on the thither shore, or fields of waving grain decked in golden promise. Another point of view reveals the white shapes of the homes of summer campers and the widening cluster of neat, cheerful cottages placed in picturesque irregularity, their bright colours and picturesque gables, making a charming picture with the varying background of dark-hued green of pine or cedar, or shimmering water as the viewpoint may determine.

At present there are about fifteen cottages occupied, not to mention several more in course of construction. Some of these are tenanted by persons who have spent several summers at Chemong Park, and who would not forego the pleasure, health-gain and recreative enjoyment for any reasonable consideration. Those who are sojourning there this summer speak of the desirableness of Chemong Park as a summer home, not only in terms of praise, but with positive enthusiasm. Those with children, especially, cannot speak strongly enough of the great benefit derived by the youngsters. One fond father declares that "since we came to the park we can fairly see the children grow." And it is a children's paradize. Here, where fashion and frivolity and the elegant insanity of "seaside" toilets have not set their invading feet, there is pleasant unrestraint in the matter of dress, and children as well as adults are so attired as to take advantage of all the capabilities for muscular pleasure-seeking the place affords. There is boating and fishing, scrolls and scampers over thicket, grove and woodland, and bathing. As a bathing place especially for children, the shores of Chemong Lake at this point are unsurpassed; a smooth clean sandy beach, sloping so gradually, that a child can wade for scores of yards before "it's up to your chin, sir," in fact the only danger of drowning a child can encounter at Chemong Park, will arise from deliberate intentions of suicide.

The "settlement" so to speak of Chemong Park has only begun. There is ample room for hundreds of cottages, and it will not be long before the summer population of the park will be largly augmented. There is a growing demand for building sites, and to meet this the proprietors Messrs. Elliott & Forty are maturing schemes for important improvements. Several men are employed at present in cutting out streets through the growth of the newer portion, and thinning the thickets so that the full advantages of the lots can be seen. This operation will develop the natural beauty to a very striking extent. Incidental improvements of a semi-private character are also in progress. At the west end of the park is situated Solitaire Island a short distance from the main shore. The proprietors of the park and island have allowed a Boating Club formed of young gentlemen of Peterborough the use of this island. Upon this the club which will consist of twenty five members, will erect an elaborate boat house with accessories sufficient to entitle it to the name of a club house. Above the boat house will be sleeping rooms and around the outside a balcony will be extended. There will also be baths in connection. A rustic bridge is to be erected connecting the island with the shore.

The proprietors of the park also have in view extensive improvements. These include the erection of a new summer hotel with rooms for 200 guests. It is proposed to form a joint stock company for this purpose and in view of the fact that the presence of a large summer population, will be of direct advantage to the business men of the town, it is in order for the latter to assist the enterprise by subscribing generally and liberally. The presence of 150 or 200 guests at Chemong Park for the summer means the distribution of a large amount of money for supplies of various kinds, and the people of the town will find it to their interest to promote by practical means the erection of the hotel. The site of the hotel has been changed from that originally decided upon. It will be placed nearer the lake, just west of a valley running down to the beach. This valley will be widened into a roadway terminating at a wharf for steamers, which can reach the park when the swing in the floating bridge is completed. Further west on the shore a large boat house will be erected, and at the suitable points, bathing houses, &c.

It is expected that the G. T. R. will run a spur from the Chemong Valley line, from the nearest point, 2½ miles, direct to the gates of the Park. A petition, bearing a large number of influential signatures, is now under consideration of the railway company and it is probable the line will be built. If it should not be constructed, it is Mr. Elliott's intention to have built this winter a splendid coach, double-decked—capable of carrying 50 passengers. This will be drawn by a four-in-hand "team" driven by a liveried coachmen. In fact the coach will be a revival of the old coaching days, with which Dickens has made us familiar, and will be a decidedly dashing and no doubt popular outfit.

We have but little space to call attention again to the advantages of Chemong Park. It has a healthy, high, dry site, pleasant in every respect, splendid water and fishing, healthful and abundant shade, pure drinking water, spring water of crystal clearness welling up at dozens of points. There is an utter absence of insect pests—a mosquito found at the park would be caged as a curiosity; in fact, every advantage and few, if any, disadvantages possessed by other summer resorts, distinguish Chemong Park.

The Excursion Certain.

The excursion to Orillia under the joint auspices of the E. B. A. and C. M. B. A. announced for Civic holiday, which is said to be August 15th, will take place on the 15th for sure whether the Civic holiday is appointed for that day or not. This will be a delightful and enjoyable excursion, as the committee have made the most complete arrangements. The 15th is one of the big days of the Orillia races at which some of the best horses in the province will compete. The other advantages may be catalogued thus: Special train—no delay, no crowding; Fare for round trip only $1.00, children half price, tickets good for two days.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tufw

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchanics should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

PIANOS

ON THE

3 YEARS SYSTEM

A regular monthly, quarterly or half yearly payment (a slight advance on the rental rate) buys the instrument.

Any piano may be chosen out of a magnificent assortment of Uprights, Squares and Grands, unsurpassed in quality and value. Ministers, Teachers, Government Officers, and those in receipt of regular incomes, will find this a convenient and advantageous mode for securing a first class instrument. When the instrument is used for practice, our Soft Stop or Practice Pedal saves wear on the nerves, as well as preserves the tone of the Piano. Our Patent Foot Pedal Attachment for Pianos is invaluable to organists, students and teachers. Price on application. Inspection invited.

BERRIES

FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make th profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

It has been our aim for years to print store news that would be universally read. Our methods being right, have succeeded. Fresh items and true statements have won and held ready constituency, which goes to prove that in this age, as well as in the past, that people want is not fiction but facts. Therefore, when we say we are showing twenty-five new patterns of American Table Oil Cloths, people come for them and find them. We were too modest in our praise of these Goods last week. The patterns are very new and pretty. As for the Cloth, you will say honesty and durability are stamped on the face of it. They roll up like a piece of paper and do not crack.

Black Dress Goods in high weight are on the move now. We show a new cloth called the Viole, which has a ready demand. It is light, fine and looks well made up. We are showing Black Grenadine Stripes and Brocades. We have about one thousand yards of grey Cotton in ends of from 10 to 30 yards that are 10 per cent. under value. They are all prices, and ten per cent. is worth saving.

Jerseys at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 that have been from $1.00 to $5.00. Bargains like these go quickly. Plenty of other points of special interest.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. SIXTY DERVISHES SLAIN.

A SHARP SKIRMISH WITH THE EGYPTIAN PATROLS

The Royal Grants Bill Passes Its First Reading Without a Division—General Cable News.

CAIRO, July 30.—Advices from Assouan state that the advance of the dervishes is continuous, though slow.

A skirmish occurred yesterday between Egyptian patrols and dervish outposts, during which sixty dervishes were killed.

Gen. Grenfell, the commander of the Egyptians, is moving southward, and has reached Johki.

Killed by Insurrects

ZANZIBAR, July 30.—The insurgents have blocked the road to Mpwapwa. Three French mission runners were killed while trying to get through the rebel lines.

Italian Troops Ordered to Asmara.

ROME, July 30.—The Italian Government has directed that a battalion leave Massowah and occupy Asmara.

The Cretan Trouble.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30.—A Ministerial Council held here, over which the Sultan presided, resolved to send a new commission to Crete to endeavor to settle the difficulties there. It was also resolved to despatch eight battalions of troops to the island. Signor Crispi, the Italian Prime Minister, has advised the Turkish Government to conciliate the Cretans, and, if necessary, to resort to the mediation of a European Power. Italy, the Prime Minister says, in conjunction with the other Powers, will not assent to the annexation of the island by Greece.

Crete's Governor Recalled.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30.—The new commission which the ministerial council has decided to send to Crete will consist of two Mussulmans, two Christians—to represent the Christian majority in the Cretan Assembly—and two representatives of the insurgents.

M. Sartinsky, the Governor of Crete, has been recalled.

French Vessels Ordered to Crete.

PARIS, July 30.—Two French men-of-war have been ordered to proceed to the Island of Crete.

The General Elections in France.

PARIS, July 30.—It is stated that the general elections will not be held before September or October.

The Shah's Welcome in Paris.

PARIS, July 30.—The Shah of Persia arrived here from England to-day. He was received by President Carnot and was welcomed heartily by crowds of people.

The Anglo-Canadian Cable Company.

LONDON, July 30.—The Financial News states that the new Anglo-Canadian Cable Company applied to the Canadian Government for a guarantee of £100,000 on the proposed issue of its bonds. The News says that this guarantee would ensure the raising of the requisite capital.

The British Columbia Rivers Gold Dredging Company has been registered, with a capital of £40,000, in order to purchase Gibson's rights to dredge for gold in forty-five miles of the Fraser River and other kindred purposes.

Passed Its First Reading.

LONDON, July 30.—In the House of Commons to-day the Royal Grants Bill passed its first reading without a division. The result was greeted with cheers by the supporters of the bill.

The Parnell Indemnity Fund.

DUBLIN, July 30.—The Express (Independent Conservative) says: The surplus of the Parnell indemnity fund exceeds $200,000. The accounts show that $100,000 has been used for legal expenses in connection with the Special Commission. The remainder, The Express says, cannot be legally distributed among evicted tenants, and it therefore ought to be returned to the subscribers.

The Wesleyan Conference.

LONDON, July 30.—The Wesleyan Conference has appointed Rev. D. J. Mailer delegate to the American Episcopal Conference and Rev. W. M. Mullen delegate to the Canadian Methodist Conference.

ESQUIMALT NOT FOR SALE.

The San Francisco Story Denied by the Dominion Militia Authorities.

OTTAWA, July 30.—The militia authorities here deny the report from San Francisco to the effect that Thomas Cramp, Philadelphia, a well known builder, along with American capitalists are negotiating for the purchase of the dry dock at Esquimalt. The fact that the Dominion Government are the joint owners in the dry dock with the Imperial Government is sufficient reason that no transfer or abandonment of the dry dock as a naval station is contemplated.

Discredited at Home.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—The report that a syndicate of capitalists is negotiating for the purchase of the British navy yard at Esquimalt, Vancouver Island, is discredited by members of the firm of Cramp & Sons and of other shipbuilding firms said to be concerned in the project.

Uncle Sam's Oat Crop.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The Farmers' Review says: The oat crop of the present season will be the largest ever harvested in the United States, but the yield will not be as heavy as was at first anticipated owing to excessive wet weather and frequent windstorms that have lodged and rusted the straw on many fields. The estimates is that the crop will exceed last year's by 61,425,000 bushels.

Wrecked on the Alaskan Coast.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 30.—The whaling bark Ohio 2nd of this port was totally wrecked June 1 at the Island of Noonivak on the Alaskan coast. The crew were saved. The vessel was valued at $25,000

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

HAS THE JESUITS' ESTATES ACT BEEN REFERRED TO LONDON?

Burke's Release Denied by the Full Bench at Winnipeg—A Quarrel About a Girl—A Reprobate Flogged at Toronto.

TORONTO, July 31.—Michael J. Fenton, convicted at the recent St. Thomas Assizes of criminal assault upon a 9 year-old girl and sentenced to one year's imprisonment with 40 lashes, half within one month of his entry into prison and half within one month of the expiring of his term, was flogged at the Central Prison yesterday morning. The warrant committing the prisoner shows that he is 59 years of age, a carpenter by trade and a widower. He has served a seven year term in Kingston penitentiary. The flogging took place in the corridor in presence of Warden Massie, Prison Surgeon Aikins, several pressmen and prison officials. Fenton looked thoroughly vigorous and there was no hesitation in Dr. Aikins' voice when he said, after looking at the semi-nude form strapped firmly to the triangle, that the prisoner was quite able to bear the lashes demanded by the law. The Warder, read the sentence by virtue of which he acted and the guard in attendance drew forth from a bag the "cat" with its knotted tails of leather. "One," said the Deputy-Warden, and with a sharp swish the weapon descended. "Oh, Lord! Oh, Jesus, have mercy!" wailed the prisoner, and some such ejaculation was repeated after each stroke. The effect at the close was marked, the cat having been laid largely upon the space between the two shoulders. On only one small space, however, was the skin broken and that was by the eighth stroke which brought blood to the wound. When Fenton was unstrapped his face showed but little trace of the agony he must have felt, and he entered into conversation with the doctor before being taken back to his cell.

REFERRED TO LONDON.

It is Said the Jesuits' Act Has Been Submitted to the Imperial Law Officers.

MONTREAL, July 30.—This evening's Star is the authority for the following statement:

"The slowness of the Government in replying to the petition praying the Governor-General-in-Council to refer the question of the constitutionality of the Jesuits' Estates Act to the Supreme Court is due to the fact that the question has been referred to London.

"We are informed that the principal object of Hon. J. J. C. Abbott's visit to England is to consult the law officers of the Crown about the matter and that the Government are in communication by cable with the Home Government on the subject.

"The Government's ultimate reply to the petition to be presented to His Excellency will intimate that Sir John Macdonald has gone beyond the demands of the petitioners and that he has consulted the highest judicial authority in the Empire."

BURKE WILL REVISIT CHICAGO.

His Application for Release Dismissed by the Full Bench.

WINNIPEG, July 30.—The full court gave judgment to-day in the Burke case, dismissing the rule nisi obtained by the prisoner's counsel in the habeas corpus proceedings. The judges were unanimous in the decision. This settles the case here and the prisoner will be taken back to Chicago as soon as the formalities at Ottawa are completed, which will be a matter of only a few days.

To Take Good Care of Burke.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Chief of Police Hubbard, accompanied by Lieut. Alexander Ross, left for Winnipeg last night. The chief object in going to Winnipeg is to personally superintend the work of bringing the prisoner Burke and the witnesses Carlson and Martensen back to Chicago. So much has been said about assassinating them that the chief deems it good judgment to exercise every possible precaution.

A Quarrel About a Girl.

GUELPH, July 30.—This morning before Police Magistrate Saunders George Harwood charged Isaac Dyson with assault with intent to do bodily harm. Both the parties concerned are young men living on the 2d line of Eramosa. It would appear that as the result of a quarrel two years ago, some say over a girl, there has been a grudge between the two ever since and that Dyson had expressed his intention of getting even with the other. Last Friday night furnished the opportunity, and while Harwood and a young lady were driving along his rig was stopped by Dyson and two friends, whom he did not recognize. One held his horse while the other went on the left side of his buggy and Dyson on the right side. The girl jumped from the buggy and got out of the way. Harwood says Dyson hit him a vicious blow on the head with the whipsock, breaking it, and stunned him. He then abused him brutally, as his face, head and hands even now bear witness, and then left him. Harwood's brother corroborated his story as to his treatment, his face being covered with bruises and blood when he reached home. The magistrate committed Dyson to stand his trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. He accepted bail for his appearance, himself in $600 and two sureties, $300 each, which was furnished.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, July 30.—Detective William Humphrey, in the service of the Grand Trunk Railway, saved the lives of two boys who got beyond their depth while bathing in the canal yesterday. In one way or another Detective Humphrey has rescued thirteen persons from watery graves.

E. Martin, Q.C., will be the Hamilton representative on the Equal Rights deputation which will present the anti-Jesuit petitions to the Governor-General on Friday next at the Citadel, Quebec.

A largely attended meeting was held in the Town Hall at Dundas last evening for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for the formation of a Board of Trade. A committee was appointed to arrange the preliminaries of organization.

ARCHBISHOP CLEARY.

Kingston Raised to the Dignity of an Archiepiscopal See.

KINGSTON, July 30.—The special cable despatch from Rome to The Catholic News of New York announcing the appointment of Bishop Walsh of London to the Archbishopric of Toronto, through some inadvertence, was published in the Ontario papers only in part. The message read:

"Bishop Walsh of London has been made Archbishop of Toronto. Kingston, heretofore a suffragan diocese, has been made an archdiocese.

All the French papers down east have the message in full. The raising of Kingston to the dignity of an Archiepiscopal See gives the rank of Archbishop to Dr. Cleary.

A MILL IN THE TIFFT HOUSE.

Jackson and Tom Lees Fight in a Buffalo Hotel Corridor.

BUFFALO, July 30.—No little excitement was caused in the main corridor of the Tifft House this afternoon by a passage-at-arms between Jackson, the big colored prize fighter, and Tom Lees, the Australian pugilist, who has been a member of Jackson's traveling "combination." Lees asked Jackson for money, when the latter got angry and smashed Lees in the jaw, cutting his lip. The men clinched and there would probably have been serious trouble had not the hotel people interfered and threatened to call the police.

The New York Typos' Trouble Over.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The trouble between Typographical Union No. 6 and the three morning newspapers whose compositors struck last week has been settled, and no further difficulty is expected. The union made some concessions, and yesterday committees were sent to the representatives of the papers and the terms of the union were accepted. Last night all the committees met in joint conference and made their reports to the General Executive Committee, which expressed itself as satisfied. The concessions made by the union will cause a slight reduction of wages.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

The Princess' Marriage and the Royal Grants—A Row at Berlin.

LONDON, July 30.—When Her Majesty returned to Osborne on Saturday evening after the marriage of Princess Louise, passing through the yachts, guardship and German man-of-war lying off Cowes, she met with a most enthusiastic reception. All the yards were manned, but the heartiest and most lusty cheering came from the yards of the German man-of-war.

No mention is found among the presents given to Princess Louise of a gift from the Queen, and this has been much commented on. The inevitable Indian shawl, in this case arranged as a cloak, has been bestowed, but I hear of nothing else. I believe that the Queen has given her a present in a more useful and homely manner. She contributed largely to the expense of the Princess' trousseau, which cost nearly £4000.

The story that the Queen meditated a sea voyage is merely one of those rumors which from time to time find credence in society. The Queen has no intention of going anywhere out of the kingdom. After a visit to Wales she will go to Balmoral, where the Empress Frederick will join her later. She is very much better for the change to the Isle of Wight and has got rid of her rheumatism and sciatica. She will stay at Balmoral all the time she is in Scotland. Should her rheumatic affection return it is not unlikely that she will try baths at Strathpeffer, in Ross-shire. The Queen has decided that she will not go afloat on Saturday, and according to present arrangements Her Majesty will view the fleet from the pier at Osborne.

The German Emperor is to be elected a member of the Royal Yacht Squadron by acclamation on his visit to Cowes next Tuesday.

Lord Randolph Churchill's speech of Friday night is interesting from two points of view. It produced for a moment the effect of a complete reconciliation between him and the front treasury bench, and it must have gone far toward softening the irritation the Queen has always felt towards him since he resigned and wrote his unlucky letter of resignation on Windsor Castle writing paper. The Prince of Wales, with discretion, never recognizes political disputes, and has remained friends with Lord Randolph in all his misdeeds, but the Queen and the rest of the royal family feel very strongly on the question of his resignation. Still Lord Randolph has many circumstances to help him, and he availed himself of them and achieved a great success. He was grateful to the Prince for his constant friendship, is fond of the Duke of Fife, had a very good case to argue and argued it well. His figures and facts were overwhelming and he paid off many old scores. His attack on Mr. Bradlaugh was very good and effective. He had a go at Mr. Storey and Mr. Picton and reserving himself for a clever, witty attack on Mr. Labouchere at the end, sat down, having made one of the best speeches in his parliamentary career.

The first night of the debate on the grants was remarkable for the sudden reappearance of an illustrious and historic figure, long absent from the House of Commons, the Gladstone of a former day presented himself, the Gladstone as he was twenty years ago. It would have been satisfactory to have had even the Gladstone of four years back, and this recurrence to a yet nobler period of his career was still more welcome. If Pitt or Fox had re-entered the House the surprise could hardly have been greater.

I hear from Berlin that a conflict has taken place between Prince Bismarck and Count Waldersee which has ended as usual, in the complete triumph of the Chancellor, who has resolutely determined to do his best to preserve the peace. Count Waldersee has been compelled by Prince Bismarck to formally and publicly deny ever having sent to Emperor William that report on Russian armaments which caused such a ferment at Berlin, St. Petersburg and Vienna; but unluckily for the count, the existence of the report was first revealed to Europe by his own favorite newspaper. Prince Bismarck became alarmed, not without reason, at the ominous manner in which this straw was moving. The Emperor had the choice of either supporting the Chancellor's peace policy or accepting his resignation.

Prince Bismarck has exerted himself strenuously to induce the Czar to visit Emperor William. Whether this momentous imperial meeting takes place at Berlin or Kiel, it is certain that the German Chancellor will have an interview with the Czar, and they may ascertain what His Majesty really wishes to take place on the Danube quarter where danger to the peace of Europe lies.

The Shah's visit to Deeside wasn't altogether a success, although he was delighted with the scenery and greatly enjoyed the torch dances and highland balls at Glen-Muick and Invercauld, and he was perfectly enchanted by the reel of Tulloch and Ghillie Callum. He expressed his admiration for the Duff and Farquharson clansmen drawn up to receive him at Invercauld, accompanied by pipers. The disappointment was about the intended deer drive in the royal forests, which was given up as the weather wasn't favorable, and there were other obstacles. But on Sunday the Shah was most anxious to shoot some stags in the Invercauld forest, and reluctantly abandoned the project only on being informed that the laws of Scotland positively prohibited hunting on that day, and that any such Sabbath desecration would render the host liable to most severe penalties; so His Majesty consoled himself by driving. EDMUND YATES.

Frightened To Death By a Dead Cat.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The death of Mrs. Eidel Beck at No. 5 Hester-street under peculiar circumstances was reported to Coroner Levy yesterday. Mrs. Beck was a woman 75 years old. A week ago Abraham Adisky, living in the same house, in a spirit of malicious mischief threw a dead cat at her. She was prostrated with fright and one side of her body became paralyzed. She lingered until yesterday, when she died, apoplexy due to the shock being the cause. Coroner Levy issued a warrant for the arrest of the boy, who was taken to the coroner's office and committed for examination.

Killed by a Blow With a Tack Hammer.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Joseph M. Wallach, a lawyer of No. 290 Broadway, died suddenly in a chair at his residence, No. 420 East, 16th-street, at 5.30 yesterday morning. Last Wednesday he was struck with a tack hammer by his landlord, Ferdinand Hopp, who is a real estate speculator in Harlem. Hopp was twice arrested on complaint of Mr. Wallace and was under bonds to keep the peace and also for trial in the Court of Special Sessions. He was arrested again yesterday by order of Coroner Levy and held without bail on the charge of homicide.

A PRIEST FELLED AT THE ALTAR.

Struck Down by a Mysterious Stranger While Saying Mass.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 30.—Rev. Father Speyer, pastor of St. Philomena's German Catholic Church, was the victim of an outrageous assault while officiating yesterday morning at the children's mass. He was kneeling at the altar with his head bowed in prayer when a strange man holding a heavy stone in his hand crept stealthily toward him and felled him to the ground with a blow of the stone. Two ugly gashes, several inches in length, were cut in the priest's head, from which the blood flowed freely.

The affair created a profound sensation in the church and almost caused a panic, the children screaming at the top of their voices. During the excitement the man attempted to escape, but was captured and taken to the Twelfth Ward police station. Several of the Sisters present ran to the assistance of the priest, who had almost swooned. His wound was examined and dressed and, although very painful, it is not serious. Nearly all of the children ran out of the church and informed their parents, and in a few moments fully 500 grown persons had gathered around. The greatest indignation prevailed against the mysterious stranger. At the station house he gave the name of J. Manning, but this name is thought to be fictitious. The cause of his attack is unknown. Judge McKenna gave Manning a hearing, and in two hours after he had committed the assault upon Father Speyer he was on his way to the workhouse, where he will have to remain for four months, not being able to pay a fine of $100 and costs imposed upon him by the magistrate.

SHE RAN OUT HER GUNS.

HOW THE RUSH CAPTURED THE BLACK DIAMOND.

No Armed Resistance Offered—The Captain of the British Vessel Surrendered to Superior Numbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The steamer Dora, from Behring Sea, brings the first detailed news of the capture of the British sealer Black Diamond by the United States revenue cutter Richard Rush on July 11.

The Rush overtook the Black Diamond and ordered her to heave to. The captain of the Black Diamond refused. Thereupon the commander of the Rush ordered a lowering of ports and running out of guns, which caused the schooner to heave to.

Captain Shepard and Lieut. Tuttle boarded the English craft and asked for her papers. The officers of the Black Diamond offered no armed resistance but refused to deliver the papers.

Captain Shepard at once broke open the cabin and forced the hinges of the strong box and the captain's chest, thereby securing the papers.

A search of the vessel disclosed 10,300 sealskins, which had been taken in Behring Sea.

Captain Shepard placed a non-commissioned officer from the Rush in charge of the Black Diamond and ordered the vessel to be taken to Sitka to await further instructions.

The captain of the Black Diamond stated that when in Victoria he had been ordered to pay no attention in case he was overtaken by the Rush and requested to heave to. He said he would not have surrendered if the Rush had had an inferior force to his own.

On July 1 the schooner Triumph was also boarded by Captain Shepard, but no arrest was made, the skins on board having been captured in the Pacific.

A passenger who arrived on the Dora said: "On our way down from St. Paul's Island we saw six sealers and the Rush pursuing. Undoubtedly by this time the Rush has made additional captures."

Captain Shepard's Report.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—A telegram from Captain Shepard, commanding the revenue steamer Rush, states that he seized the British schooner Black Diamond for violation of section 1956 of the revised statutes. This section was incorporated in the President's proclamation of March 21 on the subject of seal fisheries. It forbids the killing by unauthorized persons of seal and other fur bearing animals within the limits of Alaska or in the waters thereof. The penalty provided is a fine of from $200 to $1000, or imprisonment for not exceeding six months, or both, and the forfeiture of the vessels violating the law.

CYCLONES AND FLOODS.

Disastrous Storms in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Elsewhere.

POUGHKEEPSIE, July 30.—About 7 a.m. a cyclone struck Ellis' Corners, four miles west of Highlands, which destroyed a large amount of property and injured a number of persons. Patrick McGowan was so badly injured that no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

New Jersey Flooded.

NEWARK, N.J., July 30.—The most disastrous storm that ever visited this vicinity occurred this afternoon and evening. A washout on the Morris and Essex Railway at South Orange delayed trains for hours. In South Orange several buildings were carried away. At Orange Valley on the line of the same brook the water was up to the second story windows. Bloomfield and Mountclair also report great damage to property. No lives are reported lost.

Collapse of a Dam.

PLAINFIELD, N.J., July 30.—The greatest flood ever known here followed the unusually heavy rainfall this afternoon. Washouts and broken dams are the result. Many wooden buildings were carried away.

Shortly after 6 o'clock the immense dam at Westfield back of Scotch Plains collapsed and an additional body of water was thrown into the valley below. Green Brook could not contain it and the water rushed across to Cedar Brook and thence through the finest residence portion of Plainfield. The damage here is very great, two or three square miles of thickly settled territory being submerged. There were many gallant rescues of life.

A Landmark Destroyed.

CONCORD, N.H., July 30.—A rain storm and high wind did much damage here this afternoon. Buildings were unroofed and barns razed to the ground. An elm tree 125 years old was torn up by the roots and blown across Main-street, impeding traffic several hours.

A Massachusetts Blow.

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 30.—The storm which visited here this afternoon came with the force of a cyclone. Its path was about half a mile wide, within which trees were uprooted, fences levelled, houses unroofed and wires blown down.

In Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—A very violent storm passed over New Madrid, Mo., and vicinity last evening doing great damage to the cotton and corn crops. Two little steamers lying at New Madrid were destroyed and other property damaged.

AN OXFORD COUNTY BLAZE.

Wood & Co.'s Sawmill at Nixon Burnt Together With 300,000 Feet of Lumber.

NIXON, July 30.—Early Sunday morning fire broke out in the sawmill of Wood & Co. of this place. The mill and machinery were completely destroyed as well as a cooper shop and about 300,000 feet of lumber. The cause is unknown. Loss $10,000, no insurance.

Sixty Houses Burnt.

HAVANA, July 30.—At San Luis, a village near Santiago de Cuba, sixty houses have been burned. Two children perished in the flames.

Death of a Watford Editor.

WATFORD, July 30.—James C. Tye, publisher and proprietor of The Watford Guide-Advocate, died at an early hour this morning from an affection of the heart, after a brief illness. The deceased was the second son of George Tye of The Brampton Times, and has published a newspaper here for the past 15 years. He was widely known in the West, and the news of his death at the early age of 38 will be learned with regret. Funeral on Wednesday afternoon.

THE LATE PROF. PHELPS.

The above is a portrait of the late Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College, He was a strong, able man, who stood high in the literary and scientific worlds. It is not generally known, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that Prof. Phelps was the discoverer of what is known to the Medical Profession and Chemists universally as Paine's Celery Compound, unquestionably one of the most valuable discoveries of this century. This remarkable compound is not a nostrum, an essence, a sarsaparilla or any devised article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous complications. It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the land, and also by the leading chemists and scientists, that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, debility, senility and even the dreaded and terrible Paresis, nothing has ever been discovered which reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps

Paine's Celery Compound is now being prepared in quantities, and can be procured at any reputable druggist. An attractive bunch of celery is to be found on every wrapper. It has become specially popular among professional men, mind workers, ladies burdened with exciting social duties and frequenters of the leading clubs.

Northwest Notes.

A Racy and Interesting Letter from Mr Hugh Davidson.

DEAR EXAMINER,—As I promised you I would give you a few jottings of my journeying through the great Northwest, I may be pardoned for being brief. On entering that land for the first time, one is struck with the extent of level country that lies out before you, and you begin to enquire why it is not occupied; but you soon find out that it is mostly all taken up by the land speculator, who either lives in some other country, or he is doing business in some of the towns or cities. It is the chief object of every man to get hold of a tract of land. There is surely something wrong in the system of land laws that allows so much land to be held by non-residents, to the great detriment of the development of the country. In every town that I visited I found the men who were doing business, from the lawyer down to the brick-yar, were all owners of land in the immediate vicinity of the town, who would go out and sleep one night in the week on the land, and employ someone to do enough breaking to fulfil the requirements of the law; then hold that land for higher prices.

To a man who has been living on a rough farm in Ontario, the country must seem a paradise, where he has neither to stump, stone, nor dig drains. There is no doubt that there are disadvantages to contend with, such as frosts and summer drought and occasionally a wet season, but where is the country without its drawbacks?

In going westward on the main line of the C.P.R. you come to Portage Laprairie a growing town in one of the finest wheat growing districts in Manitoba. I was shown land on which had been grown wheat for 25 years in succession, and this year had the appearance of yielding 30 bushels per acre. You need not to tell the people living there of the good quality of their land for they are asking 50 dollars per acre for farming lands, and I do not consider them dear even at those figures. As you go on west to Brandon the land becomes lighter. This is a town of seven years growth; It is like many of the other towns, it has hardly recovered from the effects of the boom. Immediately north of the town is the Dominion Experimental Farm, which I had the pleasure of visiting and being introduced to the manager, who, I think is the right man in the right place, a gentleman in the true sense of the word and one who is now afraid to take off his coat and go to work when required. Here they are experimenting with different varieties of trees and shrubs, with a view to their future planting in the prairie country, a thing which the government would do well to encourage in that treeless country. Not only would trees act as a wind break but they would have an'

EFFECT ON THE RAIN FALL.

Going on westward you come to Regina the capital of the N. W. Territories This is a town of considerable importance. Going south out of the town you pass the residence of the Lieut. Governor, a quaint old building which is soon to be replaced by a splendid new structure, costing $25,000. Here also are the Mounted Police barracks, within whose walls Louis Riel paid the penalty of the law. Through the courtesy of Dr. Willoughby I was driven through a good deal of the country around Regina, which is a deep rich clay loom and, although this is a very dry season, the crops were looking very well. In digging down below the roots of the crop and taking the clay up in your hand you can squeeze it into a paste. At Moose Jaw the land is of a similar nature. Here I saw splendid fields of wheat that were sown on the stubble and cultivated with the disc harrow. The farmers expect too much from the soil without expending much labor. There are hundreds of men farming in Manitoba who know nothing about the business. If the same men were farming in Ontario they would starve to death. Passing on to the west you come to several large farms of ten thousand acres each, where farming is carried on on a large scale. As yet

THEY ARE ONLY AN EXPERIMENT.

I do not think they will ever pay These farms are owned by Sir John Lester Keys, an English gentleman, who keeps a palace car for himself and family to travel in. These farms are managed by foremen, who also ride out in state. I understand he is going to settle these lands with English farmers and build them houses and supply them with teams, implements and seed, to be repaid on the instalment principle. In travelling over these lands you would be led to suppose they were very dry, but on being cultivated they retain a great deal of moisture. One gentleman on the train as we approached Maple Creek made the remark that these lands would not feed a goat. But here I had the pleasure of staying three days with the Dixon Bros., who, I might remark, are doing a very good business in a general store. They also keep the post office and a private bank, besides a cattle ranch. They have some cattle as fine as any I saw in the west—two years old steers that will weigh ten hundred on foot. Here also are kept two flocks of sheep, about 1,400 in each flock which is

A VERY PAYING INVESTMENT.

From there I went to Calgary, the most thriving town in the Northwest. It is being rapidly built up, having a fine freestone quarry convenient to the town, which is being well worked for building material. The Bank of Montreal is putting up a splendid building for their agency there. There are also some fine stores and a large hotel equal in size to the Oriental of the town, all built of the same material. I have seen no place in all my travels where I think would be a better investment for money than here. This is also the centre of the great ranching business. Here I was introduced to Mr. Stimson, of Toronto Bribery fame, from whom I learned a good deal about the cattle and horse business. He is manager of the Northwest Ranching Company. And here, I might say, is another great mistake in the government giving those men control of such tracts of the very best of agricultural lands, to the exclusion of the settler. There is a strong jealousy now existing between these two interests. This is another monopoly that will soon

HAVE TO BE FOUGHT OFF.

Now Mr. Editor I think I have taxed your space pretty fully but I would like to say a word in reference to the settlers of the Northwest. I have taken particular pains to find out their condition of life and I have, in almost every case, found them happy and contented and most hospitable and kind; in fact, I did not expect to find so much friendship, not only from those I knew but those I did not know. They have all a great hope in the future of their country. And now a word about the C. P. R. which is I think is the greatest corporation on earth; everything is carried on with a perfect system from the duties of the President down to the boy who sells apples and papers on the train. This company can either build up a town or pull it down at their will. Thanking you for space I remain yours,

Good Evening!

"Had any photos taken yet?"

"No."

"Why don't you? Everybody is taking advantage of the present low price."

"Oh, well, you don't get good pictures for a dollar a dozen."

"Yes you do. Just look at this one! What better would you want than that?"

"That is good. Who took it?"

"Mr. Sproule. I got a dozen just as good as that for a dollar.

"Why, that's as well taken as the cabinets they used to charge us $3.00 a dozen for."

"Every bit. Oh, Mr. Sproule has woke up the town. You see his new instruments are so perfect that one sitting is all that he requires from you now, so that he makes them ever so much quicker.

Further Great Cures of Skin Disease by the Cuticura Remedies.

Boy one year and a half old. Face and body in a terrible condition, being covered with sores Sulphur springs fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massaca Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES which I did. He took one and one half bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the CUTICURA on his sores and the CUTICURA SOAP in washing him. He is now five years of age and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the CUTICURA SOAP and rubbing in the CUTICURA, one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my experience, and I am ready to stand by my statement. JOHN R. HERO.

An Unbearable Skin Disease Cured.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended I concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

"Good-By."

We say it for an hour or for years:
We say it smiling, say it choked with tears
We say it coldly, say it with a kiss:
And yet we have no other word than this—
"Good-by."

We have no dearer word for our heart's friend,
For him who journeys to the world's far end
And scars our soul with going; thus we say,
As unto him who steps but o'er the way—
"Good bye."

Alike to those we love and those we hate,
We say no more in parting. At life's gate,
To him who passes out beyond earth's sight,
We cry, as to the wanderer for a night
"Good by."

—Grace Denio Litchfield.

Oh, That He Wear a Mouse!

Mrs. Jason—"What a poor spirited creature you are, Jehel. I wish you would be either a man or a mouse." Mr. Jason—"I wish I was a mouse. I'd make you climb the bedpost in a holy minute." Terre Haute Express.

In the Country.

Young Badger from New York on the first morning of his visit to his Uncle Abner's farm appears bright and early in a pair of white flannel trousers. Uncle Abner (taking him aside)—"Gee Whitaker, nephew, why in blazes didn't you tell me you was so poor. Here, boy, take this $3 and run down street to the store and buy you a pair of pants before the women folks get up."—Clothier and Furnisher.

A Controlling Feature.

Brown—"The facial features plainly indicate character and disposition. In selecting your wife were you governed by her chin?" Jones—"No, but I have been ever since we married."—Lawrence American.

"Fingers and Toes Couldn't Better It."

Florida girls are not like their Alabama sisters for the former abhor slang. But for downright emphasis of expression and that brevity which is the soul of wit they yield the palm to no other State. Several weeks ago a number of brave young men and beautiful women from the interior came in on an excursion. A small knot of the visitors were walking leisurely through the park, when the following conversation was overheard between two of the visitors. It is reported verbatim, though it is impossible to reproduce the drawling, earnest tone in which it was delivered. "Sal," asked one, displaying the folds of her new dress, and taking a sly hitch at her bustle, "Sal, how do my dress fit?" "Fingers and toes couldn't better it." "Do John seem ter notice it?" "Can't keep his eyes offen it." "Do my bustle shake about any?" "Shakes jess like jelly," replied Sal, as they proceeded on their way with an air of triumph indescribable.—Jacksonville (Fla.) Times Union.

A Suspicious Position.

Mother—"So that young man has proposed at last." Daughter—"Why, no, ma." "But I saw him on his knees before you." "Yes, I know, ma. He was tying my slipper."—St. Paul Globe.

Sam Jones and His Grandmother

A little incident which took place in Wesson is being told on every street corner here. It is about as follows. It seems that Sam Jones was trying to draw a line between the man that goes to heaven and hell, and in his remarks refers to his grandfather and grandmother in the following manner: "My grandfather was a good man as good as ever breathed the breath of life, and he went straight to heaven. My grandmother was a bad woman; she never attended church, and did not take any stock in the Bible, and I know she went to hell." About this time a young man left his seat and started toward the door. This did not please the reverend gentleman, and he remarked, "Yes, there is a man who is going to hell, too." This young man proved to be a commercial drummer, and, whirling around politely answered, "Well if that is the case, is there any message you wish to send to your grandmother?"—Summit Enterprise.

A Scandal at Long Branch.

Romantic Spinster—"Excuse me, sir, but is not this the spot where that beautiful girl fell into the water last summer, and was so gallantly rescued by the gentleman who afterward married her?" Practical Bachelor (giving her a penetrating glance)—"Yes, ma'am; but I can't swim."—Puck.

It Often Happens, Though.

"I saw a singular metamorphosis the other day," said Pippins. "Well, what was it?" asked Bilsby. "I saw a man turn into a saloon."—Munsey's Weekly.

Minus the Pigs.

A well-known member of the Crescent Club, who is the father of a promising 5-year-old, was sitting in the reading-room yesterday perusing a copy of a comic paper. When he ran across a joke on the proverbial "Farmer Haywood," he smiled quietly and then remarked: "That boy of mine is getting out of my class entirely. I took him out in the country this morning, and about 11 o'clock we were passing a big field of clover—see. Well, he asks me what it is. 'Why,' said I, 'That's clover, Bob.' 'Uh—uh,' he says. 'Why not?' says I. 'I don't see any pigs,' says he. 'Now, wouldn't that knock your eye out?'—St. Paul Globe.

Easy When You Know How.

She had purchased a hammock from a store on Woodward avenue, and as she received her change she asked: "Are there any printed instructions to go with it?" "No, ma'am," replied the clerk. "You swing it between two trees, wait for a dark night, and then go out and practice falling in and out. In a week, if you are persistent and don't mind the bruises, you can get to that point where you can fall in——"

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and,

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

The Market Building.

Last night the Market Committee met and opened tenders for the joists and timber for the new market building. The contract was awarded to Mr. T. Rutherford, his tender being practically the lowest.

Ashburnham Town Hall.

The time of receiving tenders for the new town hall, Ashburnham, has been enlarged till this evening. The tenders received on the first occasion were all much in excess of the architect's estimate—$4,500. The plans have been modified to admit of tenders being within the figures decided upon.

Civic Holliday.

At the meeting of the Town Council last night, Thursday, August 15th, was fixed as the date of the Civic Holiday. From the discussion arising over the matter it is to be inferred that Sept 2nd Labor Day, will also be declared a civic holiday—which is what ought to be done—the working men having been promised as much last year.

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

The Cheapest and Best of All.

That is the Foresters' Excursion (Court Peterborough, 92) to Toronto and Niagara Falls on Civic Holiday, August 15th. Just note the fares. Return tickets—to Toronto, only $1.75; to Niagara Falls, only $2.00. Excursionists go by C.P.R. and splendid steamers, Cibola and Chicora. This is a grand chance for a delightful excursion. Note the date and watch for posters giving full particulars. 1d

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c, and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested, d

The People Wonder

How it is W. J. Morrow sells Dingman's Electric Soap 5 bars for 25c. when all other houses give 4 for 25c. Well that is easily solved—we buy for cash and in larger quantities, getting special reductions as well as discounts. So we are prepared to give our customers better value. Ginger Ales, Mineral Waters of all kinds. Campers supplies. Ports and sherries 5, 6, 7, 8 and 10 years in wood. Brandies all ages. Whiskies all ages. Finest Canadian Ales, don't fail to call. Try Bajus' Lager, warranted to keep. W. J. MORROW, 340 George St.

The Vexed Question Settled

Now that the market question is settled, all the councillors will be giving tea-parties to celebrate the event and they will all buy their tea at Hawley Bros. the great emporium of choice teas, pure fragrant coffees and fine glassware. Bear this in mind, and go to Hawley Bros., when you want the purest goods of the above classes.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me."—James M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

Personal.

Dr. E. A. Spilsbury, of Toronto, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, August 10th, for consultation from 1 to 4 p.m. See card.

The Excelsior Excursion.

There was a large number availed themselves of the advantages of the Excelsior Excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls this morning. About fifty persons boarded the 4.56 C.P.R. train and at seven o'clock, enough more boarded the train to swell the total number of excursionists to over 200. The beginning of the excursion was very encouraging and the day being exceptionally pleasant, excursionists will pass a day of unusual enjoyment.

The Band in the Park.

There was a throng of visitors in the park last night, and the band performed an unusually liberal and unusually good programme of music. A set of waltzes played at sight without rehearsal, was well given by the band and highly enjoyed by the auditors. The park gardener says their was never a larger crowd in the park on band night, nor a better behaved one either. These concerts are delightful occasions and much more so when good order is preserved and the beauty of the park respected.

The Great Orillia Excursion.

Amongst all the other attractions in Orillia, to be found on the occasion of the joint occasion of the E.B.A and C.M.B.A. on civic holiday, August 15th, is the lacrosse match between the Riversides and Orillias and the races in which $1,500 will be offered in prizes to some of the best horses in the province. Remember also that the Orillia branch of the C.M.B.A., will meet excursionists at the station and conduct them to the Seperate school grounds, and this branch has also made arrangements for holders of excursion tickets to be admitted to the Driving Park at half price. Remember that the train, a special train—no delay or no crowding leaves the Midland station at 7 a. m. round trip tickets only $1.00, children half price.

To the Lakes.

This morning several more persons with holiday impedimenta left by train for the lakes for more or less protracted outings. Among those who went yesterday are Rev. Donald Grant of the Baptist church who went to Ivanhoe, Mr. Harry Grundy's Island. He will remain at the lakes a fortnight and will take part in the exercises of the Y.M.C.A. camp which opens to-morrow. Rev. Father Lynch, was accompanied by that veteran disciple of Izak Walton, Mr. T. Fitzgerald, who is the luckiest fisherman in Ontario. They staid over a day at Young's Point and then pointed for Burleigh Falls. Mr. T. S. Cole, travelling secretary of the Y.M.C.A. went up on a prospecting tour to look at a cottage of Mr. Barlee. Mr. John Hawkins and Henry Reynolds of Port Hope went out yesterday morning for a couple of weeks outing.

Court House Park.

This civic beauty-spot is now in the height of its beauty. The sward is as green as Ireland and as smooth as a carpet of velvet pile. The flowers are in the full flush of bloom, though the ravages of the ants in some of the lots detract from their beauty. Mr. McLennan has sought to impress two important maxims in permanent and living form. Upon the scarp of the fountain mound he has formed with alterananthera the letters of the words, "Keep out dogs," and "Keep of the grass." The one "f" in the word "off" is not an orthographical eccentricity but an expression of failure of the supply of plants. These two hints will continue to grow in point and importance, and their observance will much aid in keeping the park in its present condition of appearance, the best it has yet presented. Court House park is well looked after and tidily kept.

A Baptismal Ceremony.

The Port Hope Times says that the residents of Bewdley and the campers from Port Hope at Lee's Point, Rice Lake, were treated to a genuine innovation last Sunday afternoon at the head of the Lake. It was reported about the neighborhood that the Baptists from Ballieboro and vicinity would have a public immersion service on Sunday afternoon, and the rumor was sufficient to draw a big crowd to witness the ceremony. About two o'clock carriages began to arrive from all directions, and at 2.30 the shores of the lake were crowded with a long throng of spectators, eager to witness the novel proceeding. Two ministers officiated, and five young ladies, a man and a boy were baptised. The ceremony consisted of the ministers taking their charges into the lake where the water was about three feet deep, and while the baptismal formula was being repeated by the baptisor, the baptisee were gently plunged under the surface of the water. The ceremony was very novel and impressive, and the spectators say they never beheld a more beautiful ceremony of any kind in any church.

Peterborough's Fete Day.

It may seem quite distant, and yet still better take time by the forelock, and waken all our country cousins up to the fact that Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, is set down on the calendar for a red-letter day in the good old town of Peterborough. The "Old Man," Alex. Jacques, was registered at the Grand Central on Friday, and his visits at any time can be set down as a sort of premonition—a waker-up to all that ere long one of the big shows is coming. This time it is the Big Show—the greatest on earth—P. T. Barnum and Jas. A. Bailey's World's Congress of all Nations of People, and a museum and menagerie—larger and better than ever; a museum of startling and phenomenal, scientific, electric illusions and mechanical wonders. In the animal exhibit Mr. Barnum's aim has ever been to make it a great school—a school to educate the brute race, to learn them to submit to the will power of the master mind of man, and to teach the master mind the great truth that kindness can subdue and command the attention of almost every living thing on earth. Here is to be seen, from the monster elephant, the camel, lions, tigers, wolves, leopards, monkeys, dogs, goats, pigs, birds, and even seals, that are highly educated, and whose performances are of that nature to fill the intelligent mind of old and young alike with pleasant impulses.

"On the day the show comes," says the old man, "your business people will have a big day. Merchants, hotels, baker, butcher and grocer, all alike must receive some benefit. The young folks have worked for weeks for a holiday. They have got 50 cents for the show but they have got a whole dollar and more to spend in the city. Then the five hundred people with the show, they are good healthy eaters, and are well fed. For the stock—two and a half tons of hay, a ton of straw, 250 bushels of oats, vegetables, bread, milk, and meat for the animals, and all this has to be procured daily. Last but not least comes the livery hire and lot, and license." "Oh no, you're right, we don't carry all away—but we do put money in circulation." "By-bye," and off went the breezy old boy. His ideas are worthy of consideration, and our business people will be awake to their own interest to prepare for the advent—get up their advertisements early, and let the people from the country know just where the best and cheapest is to be had. That's a point worthy of attention.

Personal.

Miss Aggie Jackson, of Lindsay, is visiting in town, the guest of Miss Maud Bradburn.

Mr. Wm. Hart, of Perth, is in town for a few days. He purposes visiting our back waters for a few days before returning home.

Mr. Maurice Mullins, of Brooklyn, New York, formerly a resident of this vicinity, is home on a visit, and is at present at the back lakes.

Mr. Geo. W. Brillinger, of Montreal, a former Peterborough boy—with G. W. Morgan, druggist, is in town for a few days, en route to the Georgian Bay district.

Mr. D. C. Edwards leaves Peterborough this evening for Halifax, to assume the position of Secretary of the Eastern Assurance Company. Mr. Edwards retires from the position of Inspector of the Citizens' Insurance Company, which position he has occupied for the past three years. Mr. Edwards many friends in Peterborough will be pleased to hear of his advancement, and trust that he may find his new home a pleasant one.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.

When the matter of the Civic Holiday came up, Mr. Rutherford moved seconded by Mr. Kendry that the petition of the Firemen for Sept. 3rd as civic holiday be granted and that the third Thursday—August of each year hereafter be fixed as a civic holiday.

Mr. Rutherford, said that it had been customary to give the firemen the preference and he believed in adhering to it on this occasion.

Mr. Hall moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Kelly that the civic holiday this year be on the 15th of August.

Mr. Hall stated that Sept. 3rd was circus day and there would be a large crowd in town and merchants would not close their shops on that day.

Mr. Kelly said he believed in helping the firemen but he was in favour of having a civic holiday. Several societies have made arrangements for excursions on the 15th and their wishes should be repected.

After considerable talk Mr. Rutherford, withdrew his motion and the amendment was put and carried.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Kelly moved seconded by Mr. Hall that the council accept the 15 feet given to widen Gilmour street on South side and that the clerk be instructed to prepare a by law, to be submitted to the council as soon as a plan is filed.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Mr. Dawson that the Fire, Water and Light committee, be instructed to place electric lights on the corners of Brock and McDonel streets, McDonel and Park streets, and Park and Elm streets—Referred to the committee to report.

Mr. Kelly moved, seconded by Mr. Hall that the street inspector be instructed to grade Hunter street between George and Water streets and grade the north side be watertabled—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

Mr. Baptie moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford that the walk on the east side of Division street be continued to London street—Street and Bridge Committee.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the Fire, Water and Light Committee be instructed to place hydrants on the corner of McDonel and Donegal streets—Carried.

Mr. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that Mr. W. Croft be granted a billiard license on payment of $80 for two tables, and in the event of his taking out a license next year, he be granted a refund of 5 months fees.—Carried.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Hall, that the council recommend to future councils that the third Thursday in August be a civic holiday.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Kendry seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the Police Supervision Committee be instructed to procure three belts and pouches for the police.—Carried.

Mr. Davidson inquired if the committee had taken any action regarding the placing of gates at railway crossings.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the Market Committee be instructed to advertise again for tenders for the brick work and carpenter work of the new market building, tenders to be received up to August 8th.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Kendry, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the Chairman of the Police Supervision Committee be empowered to employ Mr. Gordon during the absence of any of the force.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

News Nuggets.

Rev. I. Campbell, of Listowell, is in town for a few days.

The Williams statue is to be placed on the east side of the market square in Port Hope.

—The members of the Canton will please meet to-night at the Peterborough Lodge room at 8 o'clock.

—Work was begun preparatory to placing the joists on the new market building foundations this morning.

—To-morrow is Oddfellows decoration day in Port Hope. A special chorus is rehearsing special music.

—A gang of men are engaged repairing and building the fences inclosing the railway from Peterborough to Belleville.

—The talk of some of the town councillors last night paved the way for free tickets to the circus when it comes.

—An "Equal Right's" association has been formed in Port Hope with Rev. D. Redick chairman and C. H. Scott secretary.

—Those intending to visit the Y.M.C.A. camp at Stoney Lake, can secure certificates for reduced fare from the general secretary.

—Specimens of the spral weld pipe were exhibited to the town councillors last night. A spiral course in even a pipe is, some of our solid citizens think, of interest to the city fathers.

—Mr. Walter Paterson & Son have joined the tall chimney brigade, and added 15 or 20 feet to the chimney of the tannery. It is not one of the Tilley tribe of chimneys—it stands without props—on its own bottom.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Finance Committee met last evening and transacted considerable business.

We are very anxious to meet all our obligations, and close our year clear of debt, and if the subscriptions promised by the members and other friends are sent in before the end of August to Mr. J. W. Bennett or General Secretary, this will be accomplished. Any other friends desiring to contribute to carry on our work, their donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged.

A merchant on George street, who has just returned from a visit to Toronto and Detroit, and saw for himself the work being done for young men in those cities by our associations, feels we ought to have a building in Peterborough which would be a home for our young men, and has promised, unsolicited, a handsome subscription towards such an object. Who will give us a suitable site for such a building? It would be the best investment possible for the extension of the Lord's work in our prosperous town.

Our camp commences to-morrow on Juniper Island, Stony Lake. We know it is going to be a time of refreshing, Oh that all our young men could be with us! Arrangements are being made so that a limited number may have meals at 25 cents. Those desiring this privilege will give their names to the General Secretary at once.

The Saturday and Sabbath evening services will be held as usual being conducted by those of our association who cannot get away to camp.

We have to thank kind friends in Toronto for placing in the reading room the following journals: "Faithful Witness," "Notes on Bible Study," "Baker and Confectioner," and "Shoe and Leather Dealer."

Benefort.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Messrs. Howden and Morris purchased a load of lambs on Wednesday 24th inst. To save time they made a portage near the proposed site of the new bridge.

Mr. Hamilton Lackey who recently returned from spending a long term in one of the Toronto hospitals through an attack of paralysis, has taken a agency in fruit trees. The people are glad to see him so far recovered and to know that he is doing a good business.

Dr. Soden, late of Baltimore, has returned to Baillieboro for the purpose of recruiting his health and resting a little. During his stay in Baltimore, he succeeded in working into a large and lucrative practice, and the people wish him a speedy return of his former energy.

Nearly half of those who were successful entrants at Millbrook are from South Monaghan. This year's consignment from No. 4 are about a quarter of the total number, and just half of those who were successful from the township.

A number of new reapers have been put in motion. The bulk of the grain is bulky enough this year to test them. Also a few new threshers are expected.

The holiday season is now fairly in, and is with few exceptions an enjoyable one. Even those whose custom is to be pretty busy making hay and attending to the ripening grain, must be somewhat jovial owing to the luxuriance of the latter. Owing to the natural warmth and richness of the soil, the cool damp weather of the spring and early summer has been well suited to warrant handsome returns. The wavy fields with few exceptions indicate a considerable increase over the yield of last year. Small fruits, including plums and cherries, are exceptionally good. Apples will probably be a little below the average in quantity.

A DYING WOMAN EVICTED.

Turned Out of Her House and Her Furniture Sold on the Sidewalk.

NEW YORK, July 30.—While the people all over the city are loudly expressing their sympathy for the evicted tenants in Ireland little do they imagine that evictions of the most brutal and heart-less nature are taking place right in the heart of their own city. Such was the case yesterday when a poor man and his wife, sick almost unto death, were dispossessed at No. 284 Mulberry-street.

March 1 Charles C. Underwood moved into the top floor of No. 284 with his wife, Delia, and three children, aged 3, 9 and 11 years respectively. Mr. Underwood lost his position in May, but by doing odd jobs managed to live until July 1, when he had a bitter struggle to keep himself and his family from starving. To add to his troubles Mrs. Underwood has been in a dangerous physical condition for the past three weeks. There was absolutely no extra money coming to the house and it has only been through the efforts of a charitable doctor and the neighbors that the woman has been kept alive.

July 1, when the rent was not forthcoming, F. A. Muller, the agent of the house, also a cigar manufacturer, of No. 220 Chrystie street, said that if the $10 was not paid quickly he would turn them out. True to his word, he appeared yesterday and ordered two of his men to clean out the apartments. There was very little furniture in them, as all their belongings had little by little been sold to keep the wolf from the door. What little there was left, however, was brought down to the sidewalk, even to the bed the dying woman was upon, and sold at auction. They brought $8. Mrs. Underwood was carried downstairs by Mrs. Ginler, the housekeeper, who placed her on her bed, and for this she was threatened with eviction. At a late hour last night the woman was still alive, but her condition was very precarious.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

The Upstairs Market.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—The market by-law has been voted upon.

The ratepayers say the market shall be up stairs by a majority of 255.

Will Mr. Dumble at his earliest convenience kindly inform the ratepayers where all the righteous indignation comes in towards the councillors for their "presemptions" in arranging that the market building should pay for itself.

Yours truly,
NOT JANE JONES.

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Klias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchanics should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

BERRIES FRUIT

These are subjects that are sure to occupy the mind and attention of the housekeepers, and make prominent their necessities at this season of the year. In anticipation of a rush for FRUIT JARS and TUMBLERS we have laid in a stock sufficient to meet a heavy demand. Reduced prices will prevail during the Canning and Preserving season as our sales will be large, we will make th profits smaller all round.

A PENNY SAVED.

Ben Franklin's favorite axiom that

"A pin a day 's a groat a year,
A penny saved is two pence clear,"

should impress us not alone with the value of saving small things, but the great advantage of saving where dollars take the place of cents. On this score the bargains that we have prepared in our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department, to last during midsummer, should appeal to the ladies of Peterborough and vicinity with particular emphasis. Each permits of the saving of several dollars over the prices usually charged or asked by other dealers. Look in and investigate for yourself.

ATTRACTION
TURNBULL'S

It has been our aim for years to print store news that would be universally read. Our methods being right, have succeeded. Fresh items and true statements have won and held ready constituency, which goes to prove that in this age, as well as in the past, that what people want is not fiction but facts. Therefore, when we say we are showing twenty-five new patterns of American Table Oil Cloths, people come for them and find them. We were too modest in our praise of these Goods last week. The patterns are very new and pretty. As for the Cloth, you will say honesty and durability are stamped on the face of it. They roll up like a piece of paper and do not crack.

Black Dress Goods in high weight are on the move now. We show a new cloth called the Viole, which has a ready demand. It is light, fine and looks well made up. We are showing Black Grenadine Stripes and Brocades. We have about one thousand yards of grey Cotton in ends of from 10 to 30 yards that are 10 per cent. under value. They are all prices, and ten per cent. is worth saving.

Jerseys at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 that have been from $1.00 to $5.00 Bargains like these go quickly. Plenty of other points of special interest.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be taken in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For circular and full particulars, address GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio. eoow

KNIFED AT A DANCE.

A GIRL BRUTALLY ATTACKED BY A JEALOUS ADMIRER.

Patrick Haley Stabs Miss Ellis at a Garafraxa Merrymaking—The Victim's Condition Precarious—Haley at Large.

FERGUS, July 31.—Particulars of the brutal stabbing of a girl by a jealous admirer last night in the township of Garafraxa have just reached here. During the afternoon there had been a barn raising at Elam Ellis', a few miles from here, and at night there was a dance and other amusements.

While walking in the grounds about the house at 11 o'clock Miss Ellis, the daughter of the host, was attacked by a young man named Patrick Haley, who stabbed her six or seven times with a knife.

Haley made his escape through the darkness and has not yet been captured although the country is being scoured by parties of indignant men and telegrams have been sent in all directions to intercept the miscreant.

There is great excitement in the neighborhood and it is feared if Haley is caught in this locality that he will be lynched.

To-night Miss Ellis' condition is very serious and it is feared her wounds may prove fatal.

FELL OFF UNOBSERVED.

Drowning of a 6-Year-Old Lad at a Port Hope Steamship Excursion.

PORT HOPE, July 31. Yesterday morning Mr. C. McGuire, proprietor of St. Lawrence Hall, his sister, Mrs. Macmahon of Pennyan, N.Y., her 6-year-old son Vincent and a party of ladies and gentlement went out to Gore's Landing for a day's outing, where they were met by another party from Cobourg. A steam yacht had been provided and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly until about 6 o'clock, when it was discovered that Vincent MacMahon was missing. He went up to the hurricane deck and must have fallen off unobserved. His cap was found floating on the water. Every effort was made to recover the body but without success.

The sad party then started home but the driver, not being acquainted with the road when near Cold Springs, on the gravel road, ran the wagon over the embankment, throwing out the occupants. Mr. Jeffrey was picked up insensible, Mrs. Tempest and Mrs. Sanders received slight injuries, and Mrs. Mackie was badly cut and bruised about the head and face.

NO REST FOR THE CROOK.

Hamilton Declines to Entertain Bill Hurley—Unambitious Horsemen.

HAMILTON, July 31.—Bill Hurley, alias Hickey, the crook who "moved on" from Toronto yesterday, reached Hamilton on the late train from Toronto and put up at a hotel where he told everybody who would listen to him about his adventures with the Toronto detectives, and seemed to feel important at having so much attention paid to him there. Detective Doyle interviewed him this morning and extended a pressing invitation to him to clear out.

Mr. Albert Verrall, late of the Terrapin, corner of Gerrard and Ontario-streets, Toronto, has taken the Walker House in this city and is now installed there.

A meet ng was held in the Board of Trade rooms last night to discuss the proposed scheme to build a mile race track in conjunction with the Hamilton athletic and bicycle track association. As the horsemen did not come forward and agree to take any stock the scheme fell through and the meeting adjourned.

William Hammead, who has been married only a short time, was sent to jail for two months by the Police Magistrate this morning for abusing his wife.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A Department Clerk Arrested on a Charge of Forgery.

OTTAWA, July 31.—L. Cornellier, an employe of the Public Works Department and brother to a well-known lawyer of Montreal of that name, was arrested to-day charged with forging an offici l check on the Bank of Montreal to the amount of $55. The clerk has been on a drunk for a long time past, and says he has no recollection of committing the forgery. He drew a salayr of $3 a day.

THE PROVINCE OF KINGSTON.

Divided Into Three Dioceses—Why the Changes Were Made.

ROME, July 31.—The diocese of Kingston, Canada, has been created a new province and has been detached from the jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Toronto.

The province will be divided into three dioceses.

The Bishops of two of these dioceses and the Bishop of Peterboro will be suffragans to the Bishop of Kingston.

The decree making these changes states they are due to the notable progress of Catholicism in Kingston.

THE SEALER'S SEIZURE.

INDIGNATION AND EXCITEMENT AT VICTORIA.

Vigorous Action by the Government Demanded—The Authorities at Ottawa Moving—What Blake Says.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 31.—Considerable excitement is felt here over the seizure of the Black Diamond in Behring Sea, and the public are bestirring themselves to their utmost in the matter.

Yesterday a body of influential citizens, all interested in the seal fisheries, visited Commander Sinclair of H.M.S. Champion and laid the case before him. His secretary took down all the statements, which were signed by those present. The visitors protested against the action of the revenue cruiser, and affirmed that if such proceedings were not stopped they would bring ruin to the sealing industry of Victoria.

Commander Sinclair promised to lay everything before Admiral Heneage on joining the fleet, and advised the deputation to push matters and send any further communications by the Sardonyx, a steamer leaving here to-morrow for Fort Simpson, where she meets the fleet.

The deputation then visited Senator Macdonald of Toronto, at present in this city, who at once went with them to Mr. E. Crow-Baker, M.P., and Mr. Robson, Provincial Secretary. Together they constructed a lengthy telegram which they despatched to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa. The despatch contained an urgent appeal for some action on the part of the authorities at once. An answer is anxiously awaited.

The Government's Action.

OTTAWA, July 31.—Considerable indignation is expressed here over the seizure of the Black Diamond in Behring Sea by the United States revenue cutter Rush. The report that the Canadian Government here urged the adoption of a retaliatory policy is untrue. The Cabinet, after discussing the matter, forwarded the two telegrams from the Victoria collector to the Governor-General with the request that they be forwarded to the Colonial office. It also requested that Her Majesty's Government should adopt prompt measures to protect British subjects on the high seas.

THE "WATERS OF ALASKA."

A Loose Term Loosely Used—No Definition Ever Attempted.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Herald's Washington special says: Section 1956 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, under which the Black Diamond was seized, denounces penalties of fine and imprisonment of persons and forfeiture of vessels and cargoes for unauthorized sealing "within the limits of Alaska Territory or the waters thereof."

No treaty statute, judicial decision or executive proclamation or communication has ever defined what waters are or are not "waters of Alaska." At the opening of every fishing season the Secretary of the Treasury sends revenue steamers to Behring Sea, with instructions to cruise therein and to enforce the laws prohibiting unlawful fishing "within the limits of Alaska Territory or in the waters thereof." The captain of each revenue vessel considers this to be an order to prevent any sealing in Behring Sea south of a line drawn southwesterly between St. Lawrence Island and the adjacent Siberian capes, because some years ago, upon a hypothetical case, the then Secretary of the Treasury expressed an opinion that the jurisdiction of the United States in Behring Sea was not, in view of the treaty of cession of Alaska, confined to a marine league from shore, as intimated by Secretary Boutwell, but included all the water on the American side of the boundary line drawn across the sea in the treaty of cession.

There is now no reason why the British Government, under the impulse of the Government of Canada, should not insist that the Department of State should state whether it claims that Behring is a closed sea or admits that it is an open one. In the former case Mr. Blaine will have to reconcile the apparently irreconcilable by maintaining his contention upon the authority of precedent and the recognized canons of international law, and in the latter there will be a nice bill to pay out of the treasury surplus for seizures and condemnations of British vessels and cargoes upon the high seas and fine and imprisonment of British subjects in lawful business there.

Blaine Talks.

BANGOR, Me., July 31.—Secretary Blaine here this evening denied the statement of a Boston paper that he had declared that Behring Sea is distinctly American water. Mr. Blaine further stated that everything done on the fur seal question since March 4 was in liberal compliance with the directions contained in the Act of Congress approved by President Cleveland on the last day of his term.

The Differential Dispute Settled.

CHICAGO, July 31.—At the meeting of the Transcontinental Association to-day the dispute between the Southern Pacific and the Canadian Pacific was compromised. The latter offered to reduce its differentials to the extent of 25 to 35 per cent. The Southern Pacific accepted the proposition on trial for 90 days, agreeing to suspend action on its notice of withdrawal during that time. It is not believed the quarrel will be revived. The Northern Pacific will hold its notice of withdrawal in abeyance, pending negotiations between the officials of the Northern and Union Pacific lines in New York.

A Victory for the Philadelphia Cricketers on an English Wicket.

LONDON, July 31.—The cricket match between the Gentlemen of Southampton and the Philadelphia team was concluded to-day, the home players finishing their second innings for 210 runs, making a total for the two innings of 318, against 329 for the Americans.

Death of Three Noted Horses.

JOLIET, Ill., July 31.—The fast trotting stallion Sir Thornton was found dead in his stall at the Joliet race track this morning. It is reported that the cause of his death was indigestion brought on by cooling off too soon after his remarkable performance at Aurora, where in the 2.43 pace he made a surprising record for a three-year-old stallion. There were twelve starters and he won straight heats distancing seven of his competitors.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., July 31.—Yesterday the fine stallion Paladine of the Sherman stock farm of New York, died of colic near here. Valued $12,000.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., July 31.—During the storm at Pelhamville yesterday Charles Barker's $5000 trotter standing in a group of 20 horses was killed by lightning.

THE FLOODS IN THE STATES.

Losses in New Jersey—A Paper Mill Demolished—Bridges Swept Away.

PLAINFIELD, N.J., July 31.—The damage by the floods here was greater than supposed. Eight dams were washed away near the city. The break of the Feltville dam carried away two smaller dams below. Seeley's paper mill at Scotch Plains was demolished, loss $10,000. Scotch Plains was entirely submerged but there was not much loss. The damage in the business portion of Plainfield caused by the breaking of Tier's dam was not less than $30,000. The loss to the county by the destruction of bridges will reach $40,000. No lives have been lost. It is believed the loss in and near Plainfield by this storm will reach $150,000. The water has entirely subsided.

Passaic City Submerged.

PATERSON, N.J., July 31.—Passaic City is a great sufferer for the storm. Numerous streets are flooded and others have deep trenches worn in them. The lower section of the city is partially submerged and several mills are threatened.

The Servian Dynastic Question.

BELGRADE, July 31.—Ex-King Milan and Regent Belimarkovish, Grujcs and Ristics are conferring together at Vranja on the dynastic question and King Alexander's relations to ex-Queen Natalie.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Punished for an Old Assault—Insurance Agent Brown Honorably Discharged.

TORONTO, Aug. 1.—After careful inquiry into the charges preferred against Hugh Brown, their agent here, by the Glasgow and London Insurance Co., the managers found that a mistake had been made in arresting Brown and withdrew the charges and the young man was consequently honorably discharged yesterday morning by the Police Magistrate.

The city's share of the cost of the King-street subway has been spent and the railways have been asked to pay up their share. The Canadian Pacific Railway don't want to pay until the work is completed and the Grand Trunk Railway have forwarded the application to headquarters. The executive has made an appropriation of $100,000 to carry the work to a conclusion, and will trust to chances to get the money back from the railways.

The Executive yesterday morning refused to concur in the proposed expenditure of $9000 to improve the sanitary condition of Ashbridge's Bay, consequently that scheme is knocked out.

William and Michael J. Spellman, before the Police Magistrate on remand charged with the larceny of stamps, were sent up for trial.

Harry William Adams, arrested on an old warrant charging him with sand-bagging Allan Trebilcock, was found guilty and the magistrate sentenced him to nine months in the Central Prison. The prisoner is the same man who, in October, 1885, committed a robbery in Hamilton and received a term in the Kingston Penitentiary for his crime.

While cleaning windows on the second story of the Christian Institute yesterday morning Watson Rieland, who lives at 92 Alexander-street, fell to the ground and it is feared has injured his spine.

Judge McDougall in chambers yesterday morning committed four lunatics to the asylum.

The Acting Mayor has presented the ferry boat Luella with a beautiful set of flags in recognition of her services in saving over 300 lives on the bay at different times.

On Tuesday last the detectives received a dispatch from North Bay that a store there had been burglarised and a number of rifles and revolvers stolen. Yesterday Detectives Davis and Alf Cuddy dropped across two individuals in Adelaide-street west, each carrying two rifles. They arrested them on suspicion, and on being taken to Headquarters, gave their names as James McLeod and Robert Duft. The rifles and other goods found, with the prisoners were identified as part of the North Bay stock, and subsequently Detective Slemin recovered the balance in the second-hand stores, where the prisoners had sold it.

THE CANADIAN CHAUTAUQUA.

Recognition Day Passes Off in a Highly Satisfactory Manner.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, July 31.—Recognition Day attracted large crowds of excursionists from Buffalo, Port Colborne, Toronto and other places. Commencement exercises began at 2.30 p.m. The graduates and undergraduates met at the Hall of Philosophy and marched in procession to the large amphitheatre, which was richly decorated for the occasion. Bishop Vincent took charge of the exercises, supported by Rev. Drs. Lockwood and Hunter, Rev. J. McEwen, L. C. Peake, the teachers of the several classes and the directors of the Niagara Assembly.

Bishop Vincent's oration was worthy of the man and the occasion, and was highly appreciated by the audience of three thousand persons. Mrs. Jennie Hall Wade of New York and the Chautauqua Orchestra discoursed sweet music. The diplomas were presented by the Bishop, who is chancellor of the Chautauqua University. The international character of the organization is seen in the fact that three out of the nineteen diplomas were given to graduates residents in the United States.

Dr. Lockwood's lecture for next Saturday on "The Problem of Capital and Labor" is looked forward to with interest. A large contingent of knights of labor is expected from Buffalo and Toronto.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Brandon's Ex-Registrar Arrested On a Charge of Taking the Office Books.

WINNIPEG, July 31.—Martin McDonald, ex-registrar of Brandon, has been arrested, charged with embezzling books belonging to the office. His office was closed last week, being superseded by the Torrens system. The case was remanded till Saturday.

A New Hamburg Blaze.

NEW HAMBURG, July 31.—At 6.10 this evening it was discovered that the brick stables in the rear of the Commercial Hotel were on fire. Before the fire brigade arrived the whole building was enveloped in flames, soon spreading to the roof of the hotel and the frame hall in rear of the stable. The stable and hall were totally destroyed, the hotel being slightly damaged. The damage on stocks contained in the two stores in the hotel building is only slight and is fully covered by insurance. Loss on stable $600, covered by $400 insurance in the Citizens' Insurance Company, loss on hall $600, covered by $400 insurance in the Huron & Middlesex Company

The Earthquake in Kiou-Siou.

YOKOHAMA, July 31.—Thirty persons were killed and eighty injured by the recent earthquake on the Island of Kiou-Siou.

[Kiou-Siou is the southernmost of the three great islands which constitute the Empire of Japan. It contains several important cities, including Nagasaki, Kagoshima and Kumamoto, the town just destroyed. The latter was one of the great centres of the ceramic industry, most of the white porcelain with white and dark blue decorations being produced in the vicinity.

Japan being of volcanic origin, earthquakes are of frequent occurrence. The most severe on record was that which almost entirely destroyed the metropolis, Tokio, in 1854, a cataclysm in which 15,000 houses disappeared and some 200,000 persons lost their lives. A year ago, in the month of July, a volcanic eruption and earthquake occurred some 170 miles to the north of Tokio by which 600 persons were killed]

Churchill's Plan.

BIRMINGHAM, July 31.—Lord Randolph Churchill in a speech here last night said the Conservative party in Birmingham ought to receive a larger recognition than the Dissidents appeared willing to accord. The Dissidents should define decisively their platform. If the Conservatives chose to exert themselves they would carry more than half the seats in Birmingham. Lord Randolph recommended as a final solution of the Irish question an Imperial loan of £100,000,000 to enable tenants to buy their holdings.

The Times and other papers ridicule the speech.

The Egyptian War.

CAIRO, July 31.—The advance of Nad-el-Jumi's forces, combined with the continual departure of British troops for the front, excites great uneasiness among the natives of the Delta, which region is almost completely denuded of troops. Only two battalions of infantry are left, while all the cavalry and artillery have departed.

Col. Wodehouse reports that the main body of the insurgents, under the command of Nad-el-Jumi, is encamped on the hills three miles north of Abu-Simbel. Nad-el-Jumi has formed water depots. Skirmishing still proceeds between the Egyptian patrols and Dervish outposts. The Dervishes who occupied the village of Toski were driven out by the Egyptians, leaving the bodies of 34 of their number. A number of the Dervishes were captured. Gen. Grenfell and his staff have left Korosko for Toski.

To Keep Up Passenger Rates.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Trunk line passenger agents to-day framed an agreement for maintaining rail rates in which they assure the steamship companies that they will give them as low rates on immigrant business as they could obtain from outside sources. The agreement after approval by the different lines will be sent to the steamship agents for acceptance or rejection.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD.

THE CONTEMPORARY'S ARTICLE ON THE PAPACY.

Inhuman Treatment of Aborigines in Australia—The Cretan Crisis—Failure of Boulanger's Meditated Coup.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Sir Charles Tupper has been elected a member of the Executive Council of the Imperial Federation League. This is Sir Charles' first direct association with the League, and it is regarded in Canadian circles here with considerable interest. Lord Salisbury's reply to the request of the League that the Ministers receive a deputation respecting Sir Charles Tupper's proposed Imperial Convention was not altogether favorable. Lord Salisbury would prefer entire Colonial initiative. The League decided to leave the matter in abeyance until after the holidays, when a deputation will wait on the ministers.

The Ontario Boundary Bill has finally passed in the Commons without discussion.

In Favor of an English-Speaking Pope.

LONDON, July 31.—The anonymous article on the Papacy in The Contemporary Review for August creates a decided sensation here. Besides his startling disclosures as to Mgr. Persico, the writer throws a flood of light upon the purpose of the recent secret consistory at Rome, regarding which speculation has been rampant, and his statements on this point are equally sensational. He asserts that the Pope at this consistory declared to the cardinals that he had received an autograph letter from Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, offering him an asylum in case it should become necessary for Austria to notify Italy that the latter's forcible seizure of the Papal palaces was regarded by Austria as a casus belli.

The Pall Mall Gazette comments upon this article at some length. Referring to the writer's evident conviction that an English-speaking Pope must be elected to succeed Leo XIII., The Gazette says: "If either Cardinal Gibbons or Cardinal Manning is elected, the Church will be in a position to make a gallant attempt to reconquer the world, but the leadership of mankind is beyond the reach of an Italian, pre-occupied with grievances over Italian domination."

Unfortunate Australian Aborigines.

LONDON, July 31.—The Society for the Protection of the Aborigines in Australia make public some startling facts concerning the treatment of their special wards by whites there. In a letter from a newly-discovered gold field the correspondents of the society says: "On arriving at Roeburn we saw gangs of unfortunate aborigines chained to wheelbarrows with bullock chains, making roads; others had the chains rolled round their necks and naked bodies. The effect of the chains may be imagined in a climate where the stones get so hot that they cannot be handled. The sight was too painful for most of us from a free land, and we were glad when our team started again."

O'Brien v. Salisbury.

LONDON, July 31.—William O'Brien, M.P. has applied for a new trial of his libel suit against Lord Salisbury for slander.

Mrs. Maybrick's Trial.

LIVERPOOL, July 31.—Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Maybrick was arraigned for trial to-day. The court room was crowded. The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Michael Maybrick, a brother of the deceased, was called, and admitted that certain bottles that he took from his brother's sick room did not contain arsenic. The contents of a bottle which was said to contain meat extract had not been given to his brother. There had been quarrels between his brother and his wife. A woman's name had been mentioned during the quarrels and Mrs. Maybrick had threatened to secure a separation from her husband.

Dr. Hopper testified that the deceased had shown him prescriptions for several nerve tonics which he had received from a New York physician. The prescriptions called for no arsenic.

Harrison's Letter.

LONDON, July 31.—Postmaster-General Raikes requested Mr. Sexton, Lord Mayor of Dublin, to forward to him the envelope which contained the letter of President Harrison to Mr. Sexton thanking him for the contributions made by Dublin citizens for the Johnstown sufferers, and which Mr. Sexton declares was tampered with by the postoffice authorities. Mr. Sexton in reply stated that he would show the envelope to the Postmaster-General, but he would be deceived if he should give it to the Post-office Department, as it had already proved unworthy of trust.

The Cretan Rebellion.

ATHENS, July 31.—Cretan Mussulmans have burned over a hundred houses in a village near Canea. The insurgent leaders have appealed to Greece for assistance.

France's Attitude.

LONDON, July 31.—The correspondent of The Times at Constantinople says M. Spuller, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, intimated to M. de Lyanne, Grecian Minister to France, that France is disposed to support a solution of the Cretan crisis in favor of Greece. The correspondent further says the King of Greece was partly induced by this attitude of the French Government to visit the Paris Exhibition.

Estimated Gain from Continental Free Trade.

In an article of July 10th the Globe set forth an estimate of the gains which would annually accrue to each county in Ontario from the abolition of United States Customs taxes on Canadian barley, wool, cattle and horses. Its calculation was based on the assertions of Sir John Macdonald and Sir David Macpherson that the Canadian farmer loses the United States duty when his cereals or animals are purchased for the United States market. This being premised, it is evident that the whole barley, wool, cattle and horse crop of Ontario would be raised in value by Unrestricted Reciprocity. For, were American buyers offering prices increased by the amount of the abolished duties, then buyers for the home or other markets would have to come up to those prices, and so the whole annual product of Ontario farmers would be increased in price as much as the portion of the crop sold to the United States. No Restrictionist journal has, so far as we know, denied the conclusion to be correctly reasoned from the premises supplied by Sir John Macdonald and Sir David Macpherson.

Now let us try to estimate how much the farm lands of each county in Ontario would be increased in value by Unrestricted Reciprocity. It will of course be acknowledged that the abolition of American duties would cause farmers to go much more extensively into the production of those cereal and animal crops which would be increased in value by the amount of the abolished duties. They would devote their land to the best paying crops of all kinds. For instance, if the price of barley, wool, horses and cattle were permanently increased and the price of other crops not permanently increased, they would neglect the latter to produce more of the former. And the certain effect of this process would soon be that the entire produce of each county would be increased in value by as great a percentage as though all its land were devoted to the cereals or animals specially increased in price by Unrestricted Reciprocity. By the inevitable limitation of the production of things not directly raised in price by freeing them from United States taxation, their price would be indirectly raised till it became as profitable to cultivate them as to cultivate the things directly raised in price. Hence, we may reasonably allege that the whole annual farm produce of Ontario would be raised in price about 15 per cent., which is an approximation to the average United States duty upon United States taxed imports of Canadian farm produce and animals.

Now everybody will acknowledge that if the annual income from land be permanently increased by 15 per cent., the capital value of the land will be similarly increased. Hence Essex, whose farm lands were valued at $15,379,951 in 1887, might reasonably expect their value to be 15 per cent., or $2,306,992 greater, or $17,686,943 in all, as soon as Essex agriculture had been fully adopted to the new conditions that Unrestricted Reciprocity would establish.

Upon the same reasoning Kent's farm lands, valued at $24,005,837 in 1887, would be increased by 15 per cent., or to a value of $27,606,701.

The following table will show the gain to each county from a fifteen per cent increase in the value of farm lands:—

	Farm Lands. Valuation of 1887.	Estimated gain in value by Unrestricted Reciprocity.

Parry Sound	1,142,481	1,713,721
Algoma	1,360,027	209,504
Totals	$636,383,755	$95,532,563

Thus we see that, according to the premises of Sir John Macdonald and Sir David Macpherson, Ontario's gain from Free Trade with the United States would be nearly $100,000,000 in capital value of farm lands alone. The sum is very large, but after all it amounts to a gain of but $1,500 on value for each $10,000 farm, or $750 for each farm of $5,000, or $300 for each farm of $2,000. The estimate takes no account of the additional value that Unrestricted Reciprocity would give to our wild, unoccupied lands, our forests, mines and fisheries. Nor has anything been said of the additional value and soundness that would be imparted to all manner of securities by such an increase in the capital value of farm lands. These considerations may be left over for detailed treatment in another article.

We stop now by asking Sir John Macdonald's friends, How can you imagine that Reconstructionism will be sustained at the next general elections against a fiscal policy which will give every farmer fifteen per cent. more income, fifteen per cent. more capital in land, and imported supplies cheapened by probably 20 per cent. all round? The Tories are in a very deep hole.

25 REASONS

FOR DRINKING

ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly,
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:

MUNCASTER'S

PRINCESS AND BANKER.

MACDUFF AS KING CONSORT AND LOUISE QUEEN REGNANT.

Lord Fife's Multifarious Occupations—His Visit to New York in 1876—An Imperial Princess.

For the first time in the history of Great Britain a Royal Princess in the direct line of succession to the throne is about to become the wife of a banker. Should any misfortune put an end to the lives of Prince Edward and Prince George of Wales their rights of succession to the Crown would fall to their eldest sister, Princess Louise, who, on the death of Queen Victoria and of the Prince of Wales, would become Queen Regnant of Great Britain and Ireland. In that case the junior partner in the the great London banking house of Scott & Co. would find himself in a position even more anomalous than that of the late Prince Albert—a position, in fact, to find a parallel for which it is necessary to go back to the days of Mary Queen of Scots and the Earl of Darnley.

THE EARL OF FIFE.

Lord Fife who, besides his income derived from his partnership in the bank and from his directorships in various railroads and industrial enterprises, enjoys the revenues of a vast estate of some three hundred thousand acres, is one of those fortunate men who, in high favor at Court and blessed munificently with rank, wealth and talents of every kind, had succeeded in achieving an immense popularity with all classes of people. He has never been known to do a mean, unchivalrous or in any way questionable action, and while by no means a saint by nature, and exposed to every kind of temptation, his private life has hitherto been without reproach.

The Prince of Wales has once more given an evidence of the tact for which he is renowned by selecting for his daughter a British husband in preference to one of those impecunious German Princelets who have done so much towards diminishing the popularity of royalty in England.

When the Earl of Fife occupied a seat in the House of Commons as Viscount Macduff great things were expected of him as a Radical politician. He was then a warm supporter of Mr. Gladstone, and used at times to appear on popular platforms. When the Social Science Congress visited Aberdeen he addressed a monster meeting of workingmen in the Music Hall there and created a very favorable impression. Years have since moderated his political ardor and he is now a strong Unionist.

The only recent occasion on which Lord Fife has made any political appearances was at the Unionist meeting at Her Majesty's in April, 1886. He then made a short and somewhat violent speech, in which he stigmatized his opponent on the Irish question as "lunatics," and said of himself that "he was one of these Liberals who from the first absolutely declined to support a Ministry, a distinguished member of which informed him that they were about to enter upon a policy of examination and inquiry into a matter upon which he (Lord Fife), was convinced that neither examination nor inquiry was wanted.

Old Mar Lodge, on the Earl's Deeside estate, a few miles from Balmoral, is one of the most picturesquely situated ruins in the North. It is here every year that the Braemar gathering is held. All the men on the Fife estates, attired in their clean tartan, then turn out to take part in the Highland games. The Earl is always present, clad in the kilt, and usually entertains in a princely style the royal and other leading visitors.

Lord Fife boasts of an ancient lineage, tracing his descent back to 1404. He was an only son and succeeded to the Earldom ten years ago. He was created an Earl of the United Kingdom as late as 1885. The Earl was for some time Captain of the corps of Gentlemen at Arms, and in 1892 he went on a special mission to the King of Saxony.

PRINCESS LOUISE OF WALES.

The Thane of Fife is no stranger to New York, for he paid a visit to this city in 1876, and so well did he use his time that he could even now give points to knowing New Yorkers. He was accompanied by Mr. Timpson, of the London Times, and was the guest of the popular Ned Sothern, the well-known actor, at the Gramercy.

Being an ardent follower of the turf, a pastime in which his immense fortune permits him to indulge with impunity, no visit to New York would have been complete without a trip to the Jerome Park races, whither he went on the box-seat of Col. Kane's tally-ho coach. The Scotchman has the reputation of being able to pick out winners on his native heath, but on this occasion his usual good fortune did not attend him, as he managed to drop a considerable sum by backing losers.

A yacht was placed at his disposal, in which he made excursions down the beautiful bay to the lightship and other places of interest, delighting the merry party on board with many reminiscences of royal adventures in which he had taken part. He excited considerable admiration by the skill he displayed in making mixed drinks. Some of his triumphs, it was said, were enough to make a Hoffman House bartender green with envy. Lord Fife, of whom it may be truly said, in the words of the Ploughman of Ayr, "he was a care defying blade as ever Bacchus listed," displayed the same love of adventure in New York that has characterized him in England.

Mr. Sothern was fulfilling a professional engagement at that time and much of the entertainment of the noble visitor devolved on a well-known journalist, who secured the services of Sergt. Kealy, under whose guidance the Thane saw the lights and shadows of New York. It must be admitted that the seamy side had much greater fascination for him than the golden, and that he infinitely preferred the dance-houses on Water street and certain exhibitions and concert saloons on the Bowery, to the attractions of Fifth avenue. Immense as is the city of London, New York can show varieties and phases of life that cannot be found in the larger city, and the young lord consequently enjoyed the pleasure of perpetually breaking new ground.

Mott street and the Chinese quarter delighted him hugely, London not being blessed or cursed with a Chinatown. He was permitted to gaze on the fascinating fan-tan and on the sickening opium joint, but it is not recorded that he "hit the pipe." The most interesting place, however, to the aristocratic slummer was the negro quarter. Knowing nothing of the colored race the negro at home was a refreshing novelty, and the dusky daughters of Africa a revelation. Is is not known whether the noble lord is a Wagnerian, but it is probable not, as he declared he had never been so touched by music as when he listened in Thompson street to a number of old-time darkies singing the pathetic songs of their race of "de days befo' de war." Under the care of the same able officer Macduff visited the haunts of the criminal classes, and had ample opportunity to compare the thorough knowledge possessed by the New York police of its worst criminals with that of the London and Paris detectives, with whom he had made tours. It is gratifying to add that he was strongly impressed by the astuteness of the New York body, to whom he was disposed to award the palm.

Of Princess Louise, the future Countess of Fife, and possibly Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, there is but little to say. She has been most carefully trained and brought up in the very simplest manner by her mother, the Princess of Wales. While neither so graceful nor so captivating as her mother the young Princess is much liked by all those who know her, her behavior being singularly simple, natural and unaffected. Many of the hats and dresses worn during the past three years by her two sisters and herself have been made entirely with their own hands.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers. C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and,

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

A Boon to Campers.

T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery has opened out a branch shop at Ice House Point on Juniper Island, Stoney Lake, for the convenience of campers and tourists. His stock will be found well assorted in staple groceries, canned fruit, meats, &c., and will be sold at town prices. This opportunity to obtain first class groceries and provisions, immediately in the vicinity of this popular summer resort, should be hailed with delight by all those interested. d

The Great Civic Holiday Attraction.

Amongst all the other attractions in Orillia, to be found on the occasion of the joint occasion of the E.B.A and C.M.B.A. on civic holiday, August 15th, is the lacrosse match between the Riversides and Orillia and the races in which $1,500 will be offered in prizes to some of the best horses in the provinces. Remember also that the Orillia branch of the C.M.B.A., will meet excursionists at the station and conduct them to the Separate school grounds, and this branch has also made arrangements for holders of excursion tickets to be admitted to the Driving Park at half price. Remember that the train, a special train—no delay or no crowding—leaves the Midland station at 7 a. m. Round trip tickets only $1.00, children half price.

The Vexed Question Settled

Now that the market question is settled, all the councillors will be giving tea-parties to celebrate the event and they will all buy their tea at Hawley Bros, the great emporium of choice teas, pure fragrant coffees and fine glassware. Bear this in mind, and go to Hawley Bros., when you want the purest goods of the above classes.

A FEW more crests of that choice Japan tea; 5 lbs. for $1, at M. R. KIDD'S.

Prentice Boys Abroad.

Jubilee Lodge of Prentice Boys will jubilate at Jacob's Island on Civic Holiday, and the occasion will be a most enjoyable one. The excursion also takes in Bobcaygeon and goes by Chemong Valley R.R., steamer Rosaboonga and palace barge Paloma. First class orchestra to furnish music for dancing. A delightful day's enjoyment for only 60 cents, the price of return tickets, children half price. Train leaves Midland station at 8.30.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tafw

Successful Fishing.

On Tuesday Rev. Father Lynch accompanied by Mr. T. Fitzgerald started for Burleigh for a little fishing. A stop was made at Young's Point and so successful was the attempt at the Point that Burleigh was not visited. During Wednesday there were 183 fine bass taken. Rev. Father Lynch is very expert with the rod. Perhaps his being in the same place, where he fulfils so efficiently the apostolic function of a "fisher of men" had some connection with his success as a fisher of bass.

Try Bajus' Lager, warranted to keep. W. J. MORROW, 340 George St.

The Market Building Bricks.

At a meeting of the Market Committee it was decided to use mould brick for the walls of the new market building, instead of pressed brick as the plan calls for. It was found that the local manufacturers could not make the pressed brick in time and it is undesirable to import them. Therefore good red mould brick will be used, a fact which tenderers should bear in mind in making their estimates on which to base their tenders. The time for receiving tenders for the brick work has been enlarged to July 8th.

At the head of the class stands M. R. KIDD in choice teas.

Chemong Park Notes.

A thirteen and a half pound maskinonge could be seen in the Palace grocery to-day. It was caught last evening at the park above the floating bridge.

The fishing at the park is unusually good this season.

Mr. Fred E. Bell has purchased two lots at the park opposite Cape Comfort and Mr. T. A. Hay two more a little further west. The lots are in brisk demand there being several others negotiating.

Workmen began this morning cutting out new avenues in the central portion of the park.

A fishing party composed of Messrs. E. Brown, R. Morrow, Geo. W. Hatton and A. Elliott went out to Chemong this afternoon on a fishing expedition, an Indian scout having sent in a message that this was a good day for fishing.

The Stony Lake Regira.

Considerable additions to the population of Stony Lake islands were taken out by the 8.45 train this morning. They were generally associated in parties. One party consisted of Mr. Jos. Craig, of the Inland Revenue office, Belleville, and six of a family and Miss Higginbottom of that city. There will also be others from Belleville join the party at the lakes on Monday. Another party organized by Mr. James H. Connal consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Stewart, Misses Paterson, Misses Bella and Jennie Mercer, Miss Cook, Miss White, Messrs. J. H. and Thos. Drowned in Rice Lake.

Sad Ending to a Port Hope Pleasure Party A Boy Falls Overboard a Moving Craft—Not Noticed for Ten Minutes—Difficulty of Finding the Body.

The Port Hope Times has the following respecting a sad drowning accident in Rice Lake on Tuesday:

Yesterday morning a jolly party of about twelve ladies and gentlemen drove out to Rice Lake, where they were met by a steam yacht and palace scow at Gore's Landing. Another lot of pic-nickers from Cobourg joined the party, and the day was joyously spent in coursing over the lake, and visiting points of interest.

Just at six o'clock in the evening, the pic-nickers were singing at the piano at one end of the palace scow, and little Vincent McMahon was playing around. He was seen to ascend to the roof of the scow, and there all trace of him ceases. About ten minutes after, his absence was noticed, and on enquiries being instituted, he was not to be found anywhere. The gladsome enjoyment at once gave way to a scene of chaos and dismay. The alarm was raised, and Mr. Foy, who was in the advance of the scow in a canoe, paddled back, and picked up the boy's hat. A grappling iron on the yacht was pressed into service immediately, but to no purpose. Assistance was brought from Gore's Landing, and the search was continued until late into the evening. A local professional diver rendered as much assistance as laid in his power, but the body could not be found. The search was then abandoned for the night, and a sorrowful return journey was commenced at one o'clock this morning.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

A feeling of gloom pervaded what had a few hours previously been as joyous and happy a picnic party as ever left Port Hope, and the journey home was being made amid silence, the darkness of the night assisting in making the time pass more melancholy than ever. The route home was not taken over the Rice Lake road, but over a side line terminating at the Cobourg road. When about half way to Port Hope, a washout was encountered. The wheels of the heavy waggon went into the excavation, and over went the load of human beings into the ditch. The scene can more readily be imagined than described, for a more confused crowd of people never picked themselves up after a tip-over. Some were hurt badly, others were badly shaken up, while some escaped injuries of any kind. Those who suffered injuries of a more serious nature are Mr. and Mrs. Tempest, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Mackie and Mr. Jeffrey.

THE SEARCH CONTINUED.

Wednesday morning, Mr. McGuire, assisted by some gentlemen, drove out to Rice Lake for the purpose of continuing the search for the body. Great difficulty will be found in locating the spot where the little fellow fell overboard, as the accident must have occurred ten minutes before the alarm was raised. The weeds and rice beds in the vicinity of the fatal spot will also prove a serious obstacle in the way of a successful search. The little fellow was a bright boy about 9 years of age. Mrs. McMahon is a sister of Mr. F. C. McGuire, and brought her little boy to Port Hope on a visit sometime ago.
